The wind blow furiously from the Northwest during the day, and interfered with the playing of the engines, breaking the streams and scattering spray over the eager spectators.

The hose furnished by the Odorless Rubber Company of Boston, of which Melendy, Dexter & Co., are Agents, burst in a defective place some 35 feet from the engine which was second on the list. This hose stood the test remarkably. It is manufactured at Middletown, Conn. Our neighboring towns, Amesbury and Salisbury, use it exclusively. The demand for its introduction is so great that the Company which a year ago ran but three looms now use thirty eight. It weighs 56 lbs. to 100 feet.

Mr. Fred Miller of New York tried to aid in making the New England Firemen's Muster a success; the Secretary received a letter stating that he would give a silver trumpet to the first Hand Engine at the day of the trial, but it arrived after the trial was over. The ladies of Lincoln Hill presented the Foreman of the winning Steamer with a beautiful bouquet, and Mrs. Mary R. Haley did the same for the winning Hand Engine.

About 4 o'clock a unique band passed our office. Seven or eight musicians, in the uniforms of several different bands, (one big man having his cap reversed,) made two ranks, followed by a dozen men in procession, and preceded by a drum and fife. Further still in front walked a man holding aloft a short broom, and the vanguard consisted of six others not in uniform. The performance of the band was as astonishing as its composition; first a strain of "Yankee Doodle" on the drum and fife, then "Pop goes the Weasel" as a cornet solo, followed by "Cheer, boys, cheer" on the trombone, and "Yankee Doodle" over again as a grand chorus by the full band. Much mirth was excited by this imposing procession, most of whose members were stout, patriarchal-looking old fellows, but evidently chock full of fun and frolic, notwithstanding the intense gravity of their countenances. The spectators enjoyed the fun as much as the performers did.

About 5 o'clock in the afternoon a "grand musical combination," consisting of the American Brass Band of Worcester, Mass., G. H. Southland leader, and the American Brass Band of Haverhill, Mass., Chas. E. York leader, making a united muster of some 45 instruments, halted in front of the Chronicle office and cheered the employees with excellent music, as correctly performed as though the two bands had been long accustomed to practice together, instead of having but just formed a transient combination for the purpose of paying a courtesy to the Press—a courtesy which the Press appreciated. The other newspaper offices received from the United Americans a like compliment with ourselves.

The regular evening trains in all directions were crowded, and the extra trains failed to take away half the crowd who were desirous to leave. Many of the companies and bands left behind paraded the streets far into the night, serenading in every quarter. The Tiger Company of Lynn passed our office in great hilarity, each member carrying a new broom over his left shoulder. All kinds of bands were made up and thousands of people enjoyed the fun. The liquor shops with few exceptions, were in full blast, and the result was a great increase of drunkenness. Of the firemen, we hear nothing but praise. At the largest Firemen's Muster ever held in the United States, they have been orderly and sober, seeming to evince a desire to aid in preserving order. No similar organization can boast of a better appearance.

The two days' muster closed with a most magnificent display of the Aurora Borealis.

Of all the fire companies present during the muster,—and there were some splendid bodies of men among them—none excelled Kearsarge Co., No. 3, of Concord, Capt. D. B. Newhall, who were accompanied by the Concord Brigade Band, John W. Odlin, leader, and by Messrs. Luther C. Newhall of Boston, Geo. H. Adams, Benj. Friend and others of Concord as guests of the company. At 6 o'clock Thursday morning the company with the band serenaded their guests at the Rockingham House, and their attentions were hospitably responded to by Messrs. Luther and Rufus Newhall.

And not a little of the splendid appearance of the Kearsarge, was due to the elegant and substantial set of gold-mounted harness presented to the Company by James R. Hill & Co., the famous harness-makers of Concord.—They were by far the richest and best accoutrements in the procession.

Union Hook and Ladder Co., No. 1 of Lawrence, Mass., 16 men, and their drum and flute corps of 16, were the guests of Garibaldi Hook and Ladder Co., No. 1, of this city, a committee of one from the latter company on Thursday morning proceeding to the Firemen's camp on Peirce's Island to conduct the Unions to their previously prepared quarters for the day. The drum corps of the Lawrence Company won general approbation during the procession on Wednesday, by the pleasing music they produced.

The William Penn Hose of Salem arrived from Bangor on Thursday and made a street parade before departing for home.

The music furnished during the two days' muster has been the subject of general remark. It has been a feast at which we can make no invidious distinction. Each member of every corps of musicians has done his share in regaling the ears of the music loving public—and good music it has been in every instance. In behalf of our fellow citizens, we tender the heartiest of hearty thanks for these manifold courtesies, and to the Firemen who made the New England Muster of 1871 a grand success.

TO-DAY'S EXCURSION.—Steamer Escort will leave Pier Wharf at 9.30 A. M. for a trip to Portland and return. The fare is but $1. The Escort is one of the best steamers running out of Boston, is commodious and safe. The proprietors will do their best to make the ocean trip a great success, and intend to arrive here early in the evening. See advertisement.

BOATS UPSET.— Mr. Place and Mr. James Boardman of Kittery, when returning from a sail on Wednesday evening, were capsized in the river above the Navy Yard, and drifted down through the Navy Yard bridge to Tripe's Point, where they were rescued by citizens. A young man, a fireman and stranger, fell overboard from the wharf at Kittery the same evening, but was pulled out of the water by Rev. Mr. Littlefield with no worse result than a thorough wetting.

A boat containing three young men capsized oft the point at Peirce's Island where young Moses was recently drowned, while the clam-bake was being disposed of, on Wednesday, but were rescued.

STEAMER ESCORT leaves Pier Wharf at 9.30 A M., to-day, for a trip to Portland; returning, will leave Portland at 3 P. M. Fare for the round trip, $1. A band of music will accompany the excursionists, and the trip should be a most enjoyable one, the Escort being a commodious and safe boat as well as a fast one. See adv't.

NAVAL.—U. S. S. Tallapoosa arrived at this station at noon on Thursday, from Boston, with stores for the Yard. She brought as passengers Senator Cattell of New Jersey and eleven ladies.

PLANTING FALL BULBS.—The Gardener's Monthly says:—As soon in the fall as bulbs can be obtained, they should be planted—though this will not generally be the case till October—but it is as well to bear in mind that the earlier they are planted the finer they will flower." The seedsmen will soon be on hand with their bulbs. There have been extensive arrangements made by them for the fall trade, and announcements will soon be in order.

The Germantown Telegraph says: "In setting out tulips be careful not to make the soil too rich. Hyacinths require heavy manuring—tulips not, or they will not thrive well and produce inferior flowers. The beginning of November is the best time to plant bulbs generally."

REMEDY FOR SCOURS.—Among the many remedies given for scouring in stock, I find none so good as strong coffee. We have saved the lives of colts, cows, calves and pigs. Make the coffee strong, and if they cannot be induced to drink, pour it in through a tunnel or from a bottle; but don't pull out the animal's tongue, as is recommended by some, because it is most sure to get into the windpipe. We saved a valuable cow by giving ground coffee in some bran, salted to suit the taste. We once bought a pair of Chester White pigs, and at six weeks old one of them commenced scouring, and I desparred of its life. All remedies failed to check it. We gave it a few spoonfuls of strong coffee, which effected a cure. This remedy is simple and always on hand, and can be given safely in quantities to effect a cure.—Rural N. Yorker.

HIGH PRICE OF HAY.—We can recall several instances in which there was a general alarm about a scarcity of fodder in hay time, which was followed later in the season by an abundance and at much lower prices; but we do not now remember a single instance in which unusual high prices thus early in the season were sustained throughout the year. These results are undoubtedly the effect of causes. In an apparent scarcity of fodder farmers save much that would not be saved in apparent plenty; they reduce their stock; perhaps small crops are more nutritive in proportion to bulk than large ones, perhaps, too, there is less difference than to our excited senses there appears to be; an unfavorable spring and summer may be followed by a favorable fall and winter, &c. Therefore, it would not surprise us if hay should prove to be more plenty later in the season than it appears to be now; nor that it should be cheaper in the winter than in the summer.—N. E. Farmer.

—A young Williamsburgher thought he would play a little with a shark. The shark also took a hand in the game—the young man's hand.

—The Titusville Herald's society notes describe a belle who "attracts much attention since she got in her new teeth. She sings divicely, and when vocalizing always puts her teeth on the piano."

—It is said that a reckless bug, having gone through the State of Rhode Island, was last seen on a wind mill by the seaside, wiping his eyes on the sails, and weeping because there were no fresh worlds to conquer.

—The operation of eating corn from the cob is much facilitated by drawing a sharp knife lengthwise of each row, in such a manner that the hull of each kernel will be split. When this is done the digestible nutritious contents of the kernels fall out and the hulls be left on the cob. Those whose teeth are sensitive or defective will find this a great help.

—An entirely new style of arranging the hair is to be adopted soon. The old French twist in the back is to be revived, but rendered more graceful by a plait or cable of hair surrounding it, dropping low on the nape of the neck. A coronet of hair is to take the place of the Pompadour roll, and from beneath the coronet light curls and frizetts are to fall on the forehead. Four long curls, two on each side, are to fall on the neck and shoulders from beneath the braid or cable. The temple hair is to be brushed high and smooth.

—Among the most interesting of the "relics of crime" garnered in New York city is a wire window ladder, the like of which has never before been seen. It is about ten feet long when stretched out, made of steel wire about a quarter of an inch thick, with cross steps of polished wood about six inches long. The burglar gets into the room over the one he wishes to enter, fastens the hooks to the window sill, drops the ladder outside, and runs to the window below. Having gone through the apartment, he runs up his ladder, pulls it in, and folds it up into such a compass that he can pack it in a small hand bag.

—A person walking into the counting room of the late Mr. C., a wealthy and shrewd merchant, inquired of the clerk the rent of a store which his employer wished to let. The inquirer being satisfied with the terms, said he would hire the store; but the clerk, knowing that he had recently failed for a large amount, declined closing the bargain until he saw Mr. C., who was then absent from the city, and desired the gentleman to call again. Upon Mr. C.'s return the clerk informed him of what has been related. "How much did he fail for?" asked Mr. C. "About $10,000," was the reply. And how did he pay? "Only ten per cent., sir." "Let him have the store, Sam, let him have the store—he's got money enough."

FREE LIBRARY IN LOUISVILLE, TO BE CALLED THE

PUBLIC LIBRARY OF KENTUCKY.

The Concert and Distribution will take place under the immediate supervision of the Trustees named in the act of incorporation.

The trustees will be assisted by prominent, well-known and eminent citizens of Kentucky, who have consented to be present at the concert and to superintend the drawing and distribution of gifts.

The holders of tickets to which gifts are awarded will be paid on presentation of them or their fraction, at the office in Louisville, the second day after drawing, and every business day for six months thereafter, and may be sent direct or through any Express Co., for collection. All orders accompanied by Drafts, Post Office Money Orders, or Greenbacks, will be promptly attended to and tickets returned by mail, registered or expressed, as desired.

Tickets are like Greenbacks—good only to the holder.

Buyers will note that there are only One Hundred Thousand Tickets, instead of Two Hundred Thousand, as in the San Francisco Gift Concert, and that the $550,000 more distributed, I sold that and made the awards in four months and paid $498 000 to ticket holders from November 2nd to 15th, 1870, and turned over $12,000 to the Secretary due tickets not presented.

It will be particularly noticed that it is a matter of impossibility for any one to know what numbers draw gifts, as it is not known what the gift of any number drawn from the first wheel will be, until the sealed box, with amount of the gift plainly printed, is taken from the other wheel and opened in full view of the audience. Therefore the larger gifts may not come out until towards last, or in the middle of the drawing. The $100,000 gift in the San Francisco Gift Concert under the management of C. R. PETERS, was the 50th number drawn, and was awarded and paid to a gentleman in New Orleans. 721 Gifts is all that can be drawn in one day.

☞ The Number and Gifts are drawn by blind children from 3 to 14 years of age.

The Drawing will be extensively published, and parties ordering Tickets will have printed lists sent them. Parties forming Clubs and desiring information will please address this office.

11 Tickets for $100; 28 Tickets, $255; 56 Tickets, $500; 113 Tickets, $1000.

The undersigned, late principal business manager of the very successful Mercantile Library Gift Concert at San Francisco, California, has been appointed agent and manager of the Gift Concert in aid of the Public Library of Kentucky.

The drawing will take place in public, and everything will be done to satisfy buyers of tickets that their interests will be as well protected as if they personally superintended the entire affair.

MANNER OF DRAWING.

There will be two glass wheels. One wheel will contain 100,000 numbers, plainly printed on leather tags. The other wheel will contain 721 boxes, each containing a gift. One tag or number will go in from the 100,000 wheel, and the first box drawn from the second or 721 box wheel will contain a gift, neatly printed and sealed up, and the gift so drawn from the second wheel will be the gift of the tag first drawn, whether $100, $1000, or $100,000.

14,364 Tickets Disposed of in July.

To insure ticket holders, the public are assured that if only 25,000 tickets are sold only 25,000 numbers go in the large wheel, the 721 gifts awarded will be diminished pro rata. In case 50,000 tickets only are sold, only numbers 1 to 50,000 go in the large wheel, and the 721 gifts diminished one-half; and in case only 85,000 tickets are sold the entire 721 gifts will be paid in full—it being intended that no unsold tickets shall participate.

The Manager has already paid into the Citizen's Bank $50,000 towards defraying the expenses, and does not depend on sales of tickets to pay his expenses of Printing, Advertising, &c. The public are invited to the utmost scrutiny as to the reliability of the entire affair.

Persons desirous of acting as agents for the sale of tickets in any city in United States or Canadas, address

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS.

Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,

Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Root and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, the Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases as are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yrdawfeb16

ARE YOU GOING TO PAINT?

—IF SO, USE THE—

AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT.

It is Cheaper, Handsomer and more durable than the best of other Paints. One Thousand Gallons of it were sold in this City, in the year 1870, and not one complaint has come from those who have used it; but all speak in its favor; it is mixed ready for application, and is much easier put on than any other Paint, making a smooth, glossy surface for years, that can be cleaned with hot suds without injuring it. It is excellent for walls inside, in the place of paper.

I shall keep this season a large stock of Chemical Paints of all shades on hand, to accommodate customers with any amount, without delay in ordering it. Those who want to use the Chemical Paints and have had them misrepresented by those who deal in Lead and Oil, are invited to call and examine my Paints that have been on Buildings two years, and you will find them as fresh as if laid but one month.

I am prepared to do Painting by Contract, or by the day, using the Chemical Paint, or furnishing good experienced workmen by the day at very low wages. B. NORTON, only Agent for selling the NEWSPAPERS FOR LADIES.—The Newport correspondent of the Boston Transcript gives this information regarding the literary tastes of the women of the period:

Sitting on the hotel piazza the other morning, watching a group of young ladies, I overheard a curly-headed little maiden who was frizzled and panniered and puffed in the height of the style, exclaim, "Oh, I like the Independent best!" A moment before I could have swore that la Petite never looked at a newspaper, and somewhat surprised, I took the liberty to listen further. "The Tribune suits me," said her black eyed companion. "I take the Evening Post," chimed in a stylish, saucy-looking girl who was petting somebody over the railing with bouquetlilies—a beautiful bunch, by the way, which five minutes before I had seen a gentleman carefully selecting for her from a little urchin's basket. And when, I wondered, do girls get time to read the newspapers? "Fold them four double, of course," was the next sentence I caught, and more puzzled than before, I very impolitely walked near the group, when everything was made clear to me by the blonde little one saying, "I had rather have a newspaper any day than the best pannier that was ever made in Paris." I fell back into my seat, uncertain whether to laugh or feel provoked with the chatterboxes, who had strolled off to lay seige to a party of gentlemen just from the beach. Think of it, Mr. Tilton! think of it, Mr. Greeley! did it ever occur to you what a bustle you make in fashionable circles?

—Some people say that dark-haired women marry soonest. We differ: it is the light-headed ones.

—An old bachelor in Indiana became so alarmed at the persistent efforts of a widow to marry him that he turned over all his property to her and then ran away, leaving word that he left her the property so she would not follow him.

—A quarrelsome couple were discussing the subject of epitaphs and tombstones, and the husband said: "My dear, what kind of a stone do you suppose they will give me when I die?" "Brimstone, my love!" was the affectionate reply.

This is indeed a book for every man. Price only $1.00. 285 pages, bound in cloth.

A Book for Every Woman,

Entitled SEXUAL PHYSIOLOGY OF WOMAN, AND HER DISEASES; or, WOMAN: A TREATISE OF PHYSIOLOGICALLY AND PATHOLOGICALLY, from INFANCY TO OLD AGE, with elegant ILLUSTRATIVE ENGRAVINGS. 350 pages, bound in beautiful French cloth. Price $2.00.

A Book for Everybody.

Flattered by the reception of, and great demand for, the above valuable and timely treatises, and also to meet a great need of the present age, the author has just published a new book, treating exclusively of NERVOUS AND MENTAL DISEASES. 150 pp. cloth. Price $1, or SENT FREE on receipt of $3 for the other two books, postpaid as a premium.

These are, beyond all comparison, the most extraordinary works on Physiology ever published. There is nothing whatever that the MARRIED OR SINGLE, of EITHER SEX, can either require or wish to know, but what is fully explained, and many matters of the most important and interesting character are introduced to which no allusion even can be found in any other works in our language. All the New DISCOVERIES of the author, whose experience is such as probably never before fell to the lot of any man, are given in full. No person should be without these valuable books.

"VALUABLE BOOKS.—We have received the valuable medical works published by the Peabody Medical Institute. These books are of actual merit, and should find a place in every intelligent family. They are not the cheap order of abominable trash, published by irresponsible parties, and purchased to gratify coarse tastes, but are written by a responsible professional gentleman of eminence, as a source of instruction on vital matters, concerning which lamentable ignorance exists. The important subjects presented are treated with delicacy, ability and care, and, as an appendix, many useful prescriptions for prevailing complaints are added."—Cape Republican, Lancaster, N. H.

"The author of these books is one of the most learned and popular physicians of the day, and is entitled to the gratitude of our race for these invaluable productions. It seems to be his aim to induce man and women to avoid the causes of those diseases to which they are subject, and he tells them just how and when to do it."—Chronicle, Farmington, Maine, Sept. 7, 1869.

Either book sent by mail on receipt of price.

N. B. The Author of the above-named medical works is the Chief Consulting Physician of the Peabody Medical Institute, and is so constantly employed in consultation with invalids from all parts of the country, that he has no time to attend to mere business details. Therefore all letters should be addressed to the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, or to Dr. W. H. PARKER, the Medical Assistant of the Author, and his Business Agent, who, as well as the Author himself, may be consulted on all diseases requiring skill, secrecy and experience. oct26 1yr

We urge upon capitalists and all having money to invest, the most careful investigation of these securities, believing them to combine more safety and profit than any Railroad Bonds now in the market. The Portland and Ogdensburg Railroad line will be the shortest route by more than fifty miles from the Lakes to the Atlantic.

The Road will have local business enough to pay all its running expenses and to insure the prompt and regular payment of interest on its small bonded debt. It will be the greatest pleasure thoroughfare in the Eastern States, uniting by the shortest route Saratoga and Lakes George and Champlain with the White Mountains, Lakes Memphremagog and Willoughby, Mount Mansfield and the celebrated Mineral Springs of Northern Vermont.

The Road is under the management of some of the most experienced, successful, and widly-known business men in the country, who will insist upon the closest economy and honesty in the administration of its affairs.

The managers of the Road have themselves invested largely in its capital stock, the cash subscriptions being nearly sufficient to complete the Road ready for iron, (thus showing their appreciation of the importance and value of this enterprise.) For convenience of investors of bonds (coupon or registered) are of the following denominations:—

and the semi-annually in Boston on the 1st of May and 1st of November. These bonds are offered, until further notice, at 90, and accrued interest in currency.

Consumption,

ITS CURE AND ITS PREVENTIVE,

By J. H. SCHENCK, M. D.

Many a human being has passed away, for whose death there was no other reason than the neglect of known and indisputably proved means of cure. These near and dear to family and friends are sleeping the dreamless slumber into which, had they calmly adopted and availed themselves of his wonderfully efficacious medicines, they would not have fallen.

Dr Schenck has in his own case proven that wherever a patient vitality remains, and is healthy, by his medicines and his directions for their use, is quickened into healthful vigor.

In this statement there is nothing presumptious. To the faith of the invalid is made no representation that is not a thousand times substantiated by living and visible works. The theory of the cure by Dr. Schenck's medicines is as simple as it is unfailing. Its philosophy requires no argument. It is self assuring, self-convincing.

The Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are the first two weapons with which the citadel of the malady is assailed. Two-thirds of the cases of consumption originate in the Pulmonary and Bronchial disordered liver. With this condition the bronchial tubes "sympathize" with the stomach. They respond to the morbific action of the liver. Here, then comes the culminating result, and the setting in, with all its distressing symptoms, of

CONSUMPTION.

The Mandrake Pills are composed of one of Nature's noblest gifts—the Podophyllon Peltatum. They possess all the blood-purifying, alterative properties of calomel, but unlike calomel, they

"LEAVE NO STING BEHIND."

The work of cure is now beginning. The vitiated and mucous deposits in the bowels and in the alimentary canal are collected. The liver, like a clock, is wound up. It arouses from its torpidity. The stomach acts responsively, and the patient begins to feel that he is going to get well.

A SUPPLY OF GOOD BLOOD.

The Seaweed Tonic, in conjunction with the Pills, permeates and assimilates with the food. Chylification is now progressing, without its previous tortures. Digestion becomes painless, and the one is seen to be at hand. There is no more flatulence, no painful distention of the stomach. An appetite sets in.

Now comes the greatest Blood Purifier ever yet given by an indulgent father to suffering man. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup is now to perform its functions and to hasten and complete the cure. It enters at once upon its work. Nature cannot be cheated. It detects and ripens the impaired and diseased portions of the lungs. In the form of gulberina it expectorates them for expectoration, and lo! in a very short time the malady is vanquished, the rotten throne that it occupied is renovated and made new, and the patient, in all the dignity of regained vigor, steps forth to enjoy the manhood or womanhood that was GIVEN UP AS LOST.

The second thing is, the patients must stay in a warm room, until they get well; it is almost impossible to prevent taking cold when the lungs are diseased, but it is needed for a cure and must not be effected. Fresh air and riding out, especially in this section of the country in the fall and winter seasons, are all very dangerous. Any man who recommends that course lose their patients, if their lungs are badly diseased; and, because they are in the house they must not sit down quiet; they must walk about the room as much and as fast as the strength will bear, to get up a good circulation of blood. The patients must keep in good spirits—be cheerful and hopeful. This has a great deal to do with the appetite, and is the great point to gain.

To demand of cure after such evidence of its possibility, is weak and unnecessary, and certainly unjust to ourselves. Dr. Schenck's personal statement of the Faculty of his own cure was in these modest words:

"Many years ago I was in the last stages of consumption; confined to my bed, and at one time my physicians thought that I could not live a week; then like a drowning man catching at straws, I heard of, and obtained the preparations which I now offer to the public, and they made a perfect cure of me. It seemed to me that I could feel them penetrate my whole system. They soon ripened the matter in my lungs, and I would spit up more than a pint of offensive yellow matter every morning for a long time. As soon as that began to subside, my cough, fever, pains and night sweats all began to leave me, and my appetite became so great that it was with difficulty that I could keep from eating too much. I soon gained my strength, and have grown in flesh ever since.

"I was weighed a short time after my recovery," added the Doctor, "then looking like a mere skeleton; my weight was only ninety-seven pounds; my present weight is two hundred and twenty-five (225) pounds, and for years I have enjoyed uninterrupted health."

Dr. Schenck has discontinued his professional visits to New York and Boston. He or his son, Dr. J. H. Schenck, Jr., still continue to see patients at their office, No. 15 North Sixth street, Philadelphia, every Saturday, from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M. Those who wish a thorough examination with the Respirometer will be charged $5. The Respirometer declares the exact condition of the lungs, and patients can readily learn whether they are curable or not.

The directions for taking the medicines are simple, adapted to the intelligence even of a child. Follow these directions, and kind Nature will do the rest, accepting the help some case the Mandrake Pills are to be taken in increased doses; the three medicines need no other accompaniment than the simple directions that accompany them: First, create appetite. Of returning health hunger is the most unerring symptom. When this comes it will come, let the despairing at once be of good cheer. Good blood at once follows, the cough lessens, the night sweats abated, the patient feels that both of these most vital symptoms are gone forever.

Dr. Schenck's medicines are constantly kept in tens of thousands of families. As a laxative or purgative, the Mandrake Pills are a standard preparation; as a tonic, the Pulmonic Syrup, as a cure of coughs and colds, may be regarded as a prophylactic against consumption. When these are in the house, let the despairing at once be of good cheer. Good blood at once follows, the cough lessens, the night sweats abated, the patient feels that both of these most vital symptoms are gone forever.

THE

NOVELTY CLOTHES WRINGER.

Nothing, except the Sewing Machine, has ever been invented which so much relieves the labor of the household as the Wringer. But its usefulness does not end here. The saving of clothing is of much greater importance. It is often remarked that articles of fine texture, last twice as long when wrung in a Wringer as when wrung by hand. The NOVELTY has Cog-wheels on both ends. * * The rolls are allowed to separate at either end. These, besides other advantages which it contains, seem to be indispensable to a practical wringer.—New York Independent.

The Novelty Wringer has become an indispensable institution in thousands of families. And we believe its great and increasing popularity is fully merited—for the Novelty evidently possesses all the requisites of a first-class, practical machine. Indeed, after using one for many months in our own family, we are prepared to indorse the Novelty as unsurpassed (the laundress says unequaled,) by any of the several wringers previously tried.—Moore's Rural New Yorker.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 9, 1871.

CALIFORNIA ELECTION.

A San Francisco despatch, dated Sept. 7, says California has gone republican by from three to five thousand majority. The entire State ticket is elected. The result in San Francisco is in doubt as to the mayor, but the prospect now is strong that Alvord, the candidate of the tax-payers, is elected. The returns come in slowly. Returns give the following as the result of the vote in different counties: Solana county gives a republican majority of 900; San Joaquin, 350 rep.; Santa Clara, 400 rep.; San Mateo, 200 rep.; Santa Cruz, 250 rep.; Alameda (Haight's home), 600 rep.; San Jose city, 200 rep.; Oakland, 500 rep.; Sacramento city and county, 600 rep. maj.; Nevada county, 200 rep. maj.; Yuba county, 75 rep. maj. 25,112 votes have been polled in San Francisco against 21,691 the last election.

A later despatch says that the Republican majority in San Francisco is from two to three thousand, and in the State at least six thousand. Hon. Aaron A. Sargent, republican, is re-elected to Congress from the 2d District; and the republicans gain a Congressman in each of the other two Districts. The legislature is republican, which secures the election of a proper U. S. Senator. Tidal Wave!

MAINE POLITICS.—A great excitement has been developed in Maine by the discovery of a secret letter from the democratic candidate for governor, Charles P. Kimball, with an additional letter from James H. Butler, chairman of the democratic State committee, giving minute instructions as to how it should be distributed in the night time, beginning with Thursday evening, after all the weekly papers of the State had gone to press and detection and exposure were thus presumed to be guarded against. The trick is universally regarded as an unworthy one, and is undoubtedly proving a serious injury to Mr. Kimball, who in his letter says:

My Dear Sir,—All with whom I have consulted fully agree that with the general apathy everywhere prevailing in the ranks of the radical party in Maine, it is safe to assume they will not throw more than forty-five to forty-seven thousand votes this fall. In 1868 we threw between fifty-six and fifty-seven thousand votes, hence it is plain to see that we have only to quietly bring out our own vote this year to secure a brilliant triumph. Victory is certainly within our reach, and I appeal to you personally, in behalf of the democracy of Maine (as I shall to active and energetic democrats in every town in the State) to quietly and cautiously adopt means at once to make sure that every democrat in your town is at the polls. I need not remind you that a victory in Maine at this time would send great joy to the friends of constitutional liberty all over our beloved country and insure us Pennsylvania and Ohio in October, as well as a glorious national victory in 1872.

BAD WORK.—Jesse Zimmerman killed his wife, 70 years old, at Rochford, Ill., Sept. 5, by stabbing her twelve times with a carpenter's awl. He then attempted suicide by taking laudanum. On the 6th, a widow murdered her three children near Wabash, Indiana, and a young man was murdered by a crowd of ruffians for trying to protect a young girl from their insults, at Jones' Wood, New York. On the 7th, John Gemal murdered his cousin near Buffalo, N. Y., and a German lad was murdered in the street by a New York 4th Ward rough. In addition to all of which a pleasure yacht sank in Halifax harbor on the 6th, by which accident two men were drowned; three men were killed and three dangerously injured by a boiler explosion at New Haven, Indiana, on the morning of the 7th, and Mrs. Alpheus Bull, widely known in California and Nevada, committed suicide by hanging herself while laboring under temporary insanity, on the same day.

THE NEW ENGLAND FAIR, at Lowell, Mass., was attended by 20,000 persons on Thursday, the third day. In the first race, for 3-minute horses, for a purse of $250, seven horses started, but six of them were distanced on the first heat by "Frank Palmer," who won in 2:33. The second race was for pacing horses, purse $100, and was won by "Gen. Grant," with "No Name" second. In the running race for a purse of $75, four horses started; the race was won by "Lady Gibbons," in 2:13. Friday, the last day, was the grand day of the Fair. The schools and mills of Lowell were closed, and 15,000 persons were present. There was a procession, balloon ascension and regatta; and they and the whole Fair were a decided success.

THE NEWPORT correspondent of the Boston Advertiser, writing from that place on Thursday, Sept. 7, says "the Roman Catholic Church was crowded to repletion at an early hour this morning, on the occasion of the marriage of Jerome Bonaparte with the widow of the late Newbold Edgar. The marriage took place by special dispensation of the bishop, the bride being a Protestant. Charles Bonaparte of Baltimore, a brother of the bridegroom, officiated as groomsman, and Mrs. Julia M. Armsteadt, a sister of the bride, as bridesmaid. The bride was given away by her uncle, Mr. Appleton of Boston. The bride, it is hardly necessary to add, is a grand-daugater of Daniel Webster. The officiating priest was Rev. Philip Grace, pastor of St. Marie's, assisted by Fathers Finnegan and Hughes."

BROOKS, of the N. Y. Express, is astonished at what he sees in Japan. He says: "There are no people, only millions and millions of human beings that we, at home, call people. No Maine Yankee, on first entering into the Hub of the Universe (Boston), ever stared more than I do, 'pumped' more than I do, or is learning more than I am."

DONN PIATT, of the Washington Capital, says: 'For our part, we would rather our daughters, if we had any, would shine in the caucus than scrub in the kitchen. And we have a suspicion that if they were permitted to vote there would be better wages and less abuse;" which is one of the most sensible things we ever knew him to say.

—Western Conversation.—Stranger: "How did he die?" Resident: "Hung." S.: "Hung! Ah, hung himself?" R.: "No, he was hung by Vigilantes." S.: "Why?" R.: "He had been notified to leave the town, and he came back." S.: "When a man has been notified to leave can't he never come back here again and stay?" R.: "Yes." S.: "Then how is this?" R.: "Well he came back, and,"—pointing to the coffin—"you see he 'stayed.'" —In the course of an Illinois discussion, a man is said to have "had a ravine built in the back of his head with a pop-bottle."

BUSINESS NOTICES.

FAMILIES may secure elegant suites of rooms while travelling, either by mail or telegraph, replete with all comforts and luxuries, at the AMERICAN HOUSE, Boston. The Messrs. Rice are widely known as among the most popular and successful of American landlords.

We would not recommend the frequent or constant use of any medicine. It is important to take even a good article judiciously. Parson's Purgative Pills are safe, prompt, and reliable as a laxative or cathartic.

Base Ball is undoubtedly good exercise and capital amusement, but it often occasions blanged eyes, broken shins and blistered hands. We can tell you that in all such cases if Johnson's Anodyne Liniment is resorted to, it will reduce the swelling and stop the pain.

THE ROAR OF CANNONS!

Across the Atlantic affects not Uncle Samuel. He attends to his toilet as usual. Spying a few gray hairs on his venerable caput, what does he do? He resorts at once to the only article of its kind in the wide world, which is at the same time SAFE and PERFECT, in other words, to guaranteed harmless by Professor CHILTON and other distinguished chemists, and the most popular dye in America, because it imparts the most natural shades of color with the greatest certainty and in the shortest space of time. This famous article has

Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye,

of all its would-be rivals, and is now master of the situation. As a dressing after dyeing, use

CRISTADORO'S HAIR PRESERVATIVE

Influence of Temperature on Health.

In the fall the difference between the temperature of night and day is greater than at any other time of the year. In the early autumn the quicksilver sometimes rises as high during the day as in the most fervid summer weather; while at night it often sinks to an almost wintry point. The human body not being made of steel or India rubber, sensibly feels these tremendous changes. To fortify the system against them, a genuine tonic is required; and the public has long since discovered that among this description of medicine Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is infinitely the best. It gently quickens the circulation, regulates the bowels, tones the liver, braces the nerves, and thus puts the whole physique on its defence against the vicissitude of temperature in our climate. Few, if any cases of epidemic fever are heard of in localities where it is in common use. As it becomes more and more widely known, and the demand for it increases, chills and fever, and the bilious remittent seem to recede before it, and if ever it should come into universal use, these diseases would cease to be known as the scourges of our low-lying and marshy districts. That homely bit of proverbial philosophy, that "prevention is better than cure," should be especially borne in mind in the autumn months: and indeed in all seasons, together with the fact, that among all the preventatives of malarious diseases, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is the most safe and potent.

Be certain, however, to obtain the genuine article, as countless imitations of a pernicious character are abroad. See that the externals are all right, and remember that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is sold in bottles alone.

Why, at Garrety's, on Daniel Street,
He's such a jolly fellow;
His LAGER is always fresh and prime,
It never wants a "head" and is

You're thin, and meagre-looking;

His BEER has made of flesh no want,
Go thou and drink likewise.

A LADY WRITES:—"About six months ago my hair was coming out so badly that every dressing I used to get a handful, which, not wishing to throw away, I laid by in a box. I think every lady ought to know what a remarkable Hair Preserver you make."

Piscataqua Fair.
Found—A Forte Monnaie.
Excursion to Portland.

A MEETING of the Piscataqua Agricultural Society will be held at the office of the President, on Market Street, this (Saturday) evening.

—The steamer Enterprise has been doing so well on the route between this city, Portsmouth and Boston, that the managers contemplate putting on another steamer next season. At times freight enough has been on hand to more than load two vessels.—Biddeford Journal.

STEAMER ESCORT will make a trip to the Shoals on Sunday, the 10th, leaving Rollins' wharf at 11 o'clock A. M. She will also make the Excursion to Portland, which was postponed (so far as Portsmouth is concerned) on Friday on account of the immense crowd who got on board at Newburyport, on Monday, the 11th. We are requested to assure our readers that there will be no disappointment this time. See advertisement.

MISS KATE REIGNOLDS, supported by Leslie's Boston Comedy Company, will commence a series of theatrical entertainments in this city on Wednesday, Sept. 13th, on which occasion two new pieces will be presented—a stage version of Mrs. Stowe's "Pink and White Tyranny" and Charles Reade's "Terrible Temptation"—both dramatized expressly for Miss Reignolds, whose ability as an actress is too well known to leave any doubt of her drawing large audiences and giving perfect satisfaction.

On Thursday morning, the Great Falls Cornet Band gave Capt. J. G. Moses, at his residence on Elm Street, a most agreeable surprise in the shape of a delightful serenade, which was doubly acceptable from the unexpected courtesy and the excellent quality of the music.

The Lawrence Drum and Flute corps, which attracted such general attention during the Muster, serenaded Ex-Gov. Goodwin and Mayor Fernald on Thursday and were presented with beautiful bouquets. Our citizens would like to hear them again.

THE POLICE DUTY required to preserve order in this city during the two days of the Firemen's Muster was immense, and the City Marshal, Assistant Marshals and members of the Police force showed evident traces of the arduous duty they had performed on the day following the Muster, in a general used-up sort of look. From the time the visitors commenced to arrive until Friday forenoon saw the last of them away, the police had absolutely no rest, day or night; and how well their duty was done is evidenced by the fact that notwithstanding the thousands of firemen and country visitors (and the thieves and roughs who always follow such crowds,) with which the city swarmed, no extensive theft or gross outrage has been reported. Noise there was in plenty, (as well as music,) and a few slight disturbances; but the noise was mostly due to the singing of good natured roysterers, and none of the few disturbances arrived at the dignity of a "row." We have not heard of a dozen panes of glass being broken in the city, nor of any burglaries, thefts, knock-down-and-drag-outs or cleanings out, or tearings down of saloons or buildings.

To so well repress and keep down the turbulent element among the crowd of fifteen or twenty thousand visitors and the ten thousand of our own population, it is evident must have kept the hands of thirty-seven policeman reasonably full of business. The City Marshal and two Assistant Marshals, with four Night Watchmen, twenty-three Special Police, Detective Dearborn and five others of Boston and Detective Burleigh of New York, (the Detectives all volunteered their services, and rendered invaluable assistance to the Portsmouth officers by "spotting" thieves from Boston and New York,) comprised the entire force.

The Firemen and other visitors have been highly commended for their orderly behavior, and deserved it; but among so many men there must have been a large number of lawless ones, (that such was the case was shown by their actions in towns along the line of the Eastern Railroad, while on their way here,) and that nothing serious occurred to mar the general pleasure of the affair reflects great credit on the City Marshal and Assistants, the small regular Watch of the city and the Special Police and Detectives,—but a handful all put together, in such a crowd.

THE MANCHESTER MIRROR says "Portsmouth folks are all right on the feed question."

A WELL-DESERVED TRIBUTE.—Gen. Butler, in a recent speech, speaking of the late Revere catastrophe, paid the following just tribute to a deserving man: "The brakeman here at Revere, on the Eastern road, Jefferson Rowe, who when jammed with factured limbs amid the debris of his train made answer to those that came to rescue him—"There are others more hurt than I; attend to them first'—gave evidence of manhood and devotion to duty worthy of the highest rewards and honors paid for any service to any man on earth. Here was true, self-sacrificing manhood."

THE ROCKINGHAM UNIVERSALIST Association met in Kensington, Aug. 30 and 31. The first day was showery and the attendance was not so large as it would otherwise have been. Rev. Mr. Weaver of Lawrence preached in the morning, and Rev. Mr. Bicknell of Portsmouth in the afternoon of the first day, and there was a conference in the evening. On the second day, (after a conference meeting,) Rev. Mr. Wright of Amesbury preached in the morning and Mrs. Roberts of East Northwood in the evening. Though there is only one Universalist Society in the county large enough to sustain a settled minister, there are quite a number of towns where services are held for a few months or a few days in the summer. It was proposed to hold conferences occasionally to awaken new interest in the cause. It was also suggested that it might be well to procure ministers who would take charge of several small societies and visit a large number of families, that are separated from churches of their own faith. The discourse by Mr. Bicknell was so fresh, vigorous and manly that it was seriously regretted that he is to leave the Association. Rev. Mr. Borden of Manchester, Rev. Mr. Morse of Lowell and Fletcher of Exeter were present. We missed the presence of Rev. T. H. Miller, who for so many years was one of the most active and prominent members of this Association. G. O.

—As a party of ladies were eating an out-door lunch in the vicinity of the White Mountains, they were joined by a small but sociable and lively bear. The ladies showed their delicate politeness by surrendering the whole of the lunch to the new-comer.

—An old bachelor in Indiana became so alarmed at the persistent efforts of a widow to marry him, that he turned over all his property to her and then ran away, leaving word that he left her the property so she would not follow him.

—A gentleman having a horse that ran away and broke his wife's neck, a neighbor sought to buy the animal, as a means of divorce. "No, no," said his owner; "I intend to marry again before long myself."

—To illustrate the correctness of his opinion in a dispute, a Texan thrust his pistol down a Kansas's throat and threatened to fire. The Kansan admitted the truth of the Texan's statement immediately.

—A Philadelphian presented a neighbor with a piece of plate—a stove-plate—on the funeral of the late Walter Montgomery took place on Tuesday, in London.

—Nine miles were run in seven minutes by a train between Macon and Columbus, Ga.

—An Alabamian broke a rare and costly pitcher on his mother-in-law's head.

Morning Chronicle.

—Unitarians generally believe in the divinity but not in the deity of Christ. It is said that on one occasion a couple of Evangelical ladies went to labor with Rev. Samuel J. May on his heresy in that particular. He met them very kindly, and his beaming face and cordial manner quite confused them. At last one of them said, "We have come to you with a message from the Lord!" He blandly replied, "There is no one from whom I should be so glad to hear. Do tell what it is." After a long pause, one of them began with, "Mr. May, I have heard that you do not believe in the divinity of Jesus Christ." Mr. May immediately responded, "You never heard that from the Lord, for the Lord knows I do." The excellent ladies found they had mistaken their mission.

Go Two.—"Young man, do you believe in the future state?"

"In course I does; and what's more, I intend to enter it as soon as Betsey gets her wedding things ready."

"I mean do you believe in a future state of reward and punishments?"

"Most assuredly. If I should cut mugs with a red-headed women, I should expect to get my hat indented by the first broom-stick she could lay her hands on."

"Go to, young man: you are incorrigible. Go to."

"Go two. If it wasn't for the law agin bigamy, blessed if I wouldn't go a dozen. But who supposed, deacon, that a man of your years would give such advice to a person just starting in life?"

This took the deacon down.

Wintering Calves.—"I commenced last fall a new extravagance," says the writer of the Ogden Farm Papers, in the Agriculturist; "and I am satisfied that it pays well. I had hitherto wintered my young calves on the same food with the yearlings, and always succeeded in bringing them through the winter in tolerable condition—quite as good as the average. This winter I have given to each from half a pint to a a pint a day of whole oats, and I am satisfied that they have grown as fast as they would have done on summer pasture. The growth too, is of the right character—in the bones; they are thrifty and lusty, without being at all fat, and I think have a better chance of becoming copious, bony cows and good milkers then if they had received only the usual rations. Some of my neighbors feed corn meal to their calves, and I observe the effect is very different from that of oats, producing less developement of bone and more of fat—the opposite of what we want in milking stock."

All's Fair in Love and War.—Our friend Blucher, up at Virginia, is smart. Finding, as he suspected, that he had sundry rivals in a certain young lady's affections, he concluded to free them out at one fell swoop. So a few days ago, when Yellow Jacket stock was up to $90 per share, he visited the fair one and delegated her with the generous present of ten shares of that stock, confidentially remarking to her as follows; "Now, darling, you just hold on to this a few days. It's now up, and it's going up to a big figure. I'm on the inside and know all about it. Hold on to it and it will make your fortune." Just exactly as he expected, she told her friends—his rivals. They got excited and all went in for Yellow Jacket. They even pawned their watches and jewelry, and borrowed all they could, buying Yellow Jacket at 30 days' margin, and having to put up 25 per cent. of course. Jacket is now down below their margin, and those rivals are now all busted out. No show for them now, and Blucher enjoys love and revenge alone.—Gold Hill (Cal.) News.

Death A Lifting Up.—I love to think that what seems to be the mystery of the silence of death, which envelopes so many that we loved on earth, is not really a mystery. Our friends are separated from us because they are lifted up higher than our faculties can go. Our child dies. It is the last that we see of him here. He is lifted so far above us that we cannot follow him. He was our child; he was cradled in our arms; but instantly, in the twinkling of an eye, God took him, and lifted him up into his own sphere. And we see him not. But it is because we are not yet developed enough. We cannot see things spiritual with carnal eyes. But they who have walked with us here, who have gone beyond us, and whom we cannot see are still ours. They are more ours than they ever were before. We cannot commune with them as we once could, because they are infinitely lifted above those conditions in which we are able to commune. We remain here, and are subject to the laws of this realm. They have gone where they speak a higher language and live in a higher sphere. But this silence is not the silence of vacuity, and this mystery is not the mystery of darkness and death. Theirs is the glory; ours is the waiting for it. Theirs is the realization; ours is the immaturity striving to be ripe. And when the day comes that we shall disappear from these earthly scenes, we shall be joined to them again; not as we were—for we shall not then be as we were but as they are, with God. We shall be like them and Him.—Beecher.

The KING of MINERAL SPRINGS is the German Seltzer; and

is its duplicate. Letters attesting its wonderful Tonic Aperient and Anti-Bilious qualities swarm in from every source. The question has been settled whether artificially medicated waters may not be equal to those which burst sparkling from the earth itself. They can; and the Seltzer Aperient, when unfoundedly pure and genuine, proves the fact.

Be cautious. Accept none other.

PUBLIC LIBRARY OF KENTUCKY.

The Concert and Distribution will take place under the immediate supervision of the Trustees named in the act of incorporation.

The trustees will be assisted by prominent, well-known and eminent citizens of Kentucky, who have consented to be present at the concert and to superintend the drawing and distribution of gifts.

The holders of tickets to which gifts are awarded will be paid on presentation of them or their fraction, at the office in Louisville, the second day after drawing, and every business day for six months thereafter, and may be sent direct or through any Bank or Express Co. for collection. All orders accompanied by Drafts, Post Office Money orders, or Greenbacks, will be promptly attended to and tickets returned by mail, registered or expressed, as desired.

Tickets are like Greenbacks—good only to the holder.

Buyers will note that there are only One Hundred Thousand Tickets, instead of Two Hundred Thousand, as in the San Francisco Gift Concert, and that there is $50,000 more distributed. I sold that and made the awards in four months and paid $488 600 to ticket holders from November 2nd to 15th, 1870, and turned over $12,000 to the Secretary due tickets not presented.

It will be particularly noticed that it is a matter of impossibility for any one to know what numbers draw gifts, as it is not known what the gift of any number drawn from the first wheel will be, until the second box, with amount of the gift plainly printed, is taken from the other wheel and opened in full view of the audience. Therefore the larger gifts may not come out until towards last, or in the middle of the drawing. The $100,000 gift in the San Francisco Gift Concert under the management of C. R. Peters, was the 2000th number, and was awarded and paid to a gentleman in New Orleans. 721 Gifts is all that can be drawn in one day.

☞ The Number and Gifts are drawn by blind children, to prove to all there is no chance.

The Drawing will be extensively published, and parties ordering Tickets will have printed lists sent them. Parties forming Clubs and desiring information will please address this office.

11 Tickets for $100; 28 Tickets, $255; 56 Tickets, $500; 113 Tickets, $1000.

The undersigned, late principal business manager of the very successful Mercantile Library Gift Concert at San Francisco, California, has been appointed agent and manager of the Gift Concert in aid of the Public Library of Kentucky.

The drawing will take place in public, and everything will be done to satisfy buyers of tickets that their interests will be as well protected as if they personally superintended the entire affair.

MANNER OF DRAWING.

There will be two glass wheels. One wheel will contain 100,000 numbers, plainly printed on leather tags. The other wheel will contain 721 boxes, each containing a gift. One tag or number will be drawn from the 100,000 wheel, and the first box drawn from the second or 721 box wheel will contain a gift, neatly printed and sealed up, and the gift so drawn from the second wheel will be the gift of the tag first drawn, whether $100, $1000, or $100,000.

14,364 Tickets Disposed of in July.

To insure ticket holders, the public are assured that if only 25,000 tickets are sold only 25,000 numbers go in the large wheel, the 721 gifts awarded but diminished pro rata. In case 50,000 tickets only are sold, only numbers 1 to 50,000 go in the large wheel, and the 721 gifts diminished one-half; and in case only 85,000 tickets are sold the entire 721 gifts will be paid in full—it being intended that no unsold ticket shall participate.

The Manager has already paid into the Citizen's Bank $50,000 towards defraying the expenses, and does not depend on sales of tickets to pay his expenses of Printing, Advertising, &c. The public are invited to the utmost scrutiny as to the reliability of the entire affair.

Persons desirous of acting as agents for the sale of tickets in any city in United States or Canadas, address

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

Vinegar Bitters,

Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,

Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Rootand Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yrdawf&b15

ARE YOU GOING TO PAINT?

—IF SO, USE THE—

AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT.

It is Cheaper, Handsomer and more durable than the best of other Paints. One Thousand Gallons of it were sold in this City, in the year 1870, and not one complaint has come from those who have used it; but all speak in its favor; it is mixed ready for application, and is much easier put on than any other Paint, making a smooth, glossy surface for years, that can be cleaned with hot suds without injuring it. It is excellent for walls inside, in the place of paper.

I shall keep this season a large stock of Chemical Paints of all shades on hand, to accommodate customers with any amount, without delay in ordering it. Those who want to use the Chemical Paints and have had them misrepresented by those who deal in Lead and Oil, are invited to call and examine my Paints that have been on Buildings two years, and you will find them as fresh as if laid but one month.

I am prepared to do Painting by Contract, or by the day, using the Chemical Paint, or furnishing good experienced workmen by the day at very low wages. B. NORTON, only Agent for selling the Flattered by the reception of, and great demand for, the above valuable and timely treatises, the author has just published a new book, treating exclusively of NERVOUS AND MENTAL DISEASES. 150 pp. cloth. Price $1, or SENT FREE on receipt of $3 for the other two books, postpage paid.

These are, beyond all comparison, the most extraordinary works on Physiology ever published. There is nothing whatever that the MARRIED OR SINGLE, of EITHER SEX, can wish, or know, but what is fully explained, and many matters of the most important and interesting character are introduced to which no allusion even can be found in any other works in our language. All the NEW DISCOVERIES of the author, whose experience is such as probably never before fell to the lot of any man, are given in full. No person should be without these valuable books.

"VALUABLE BOOKS.—We have received the valuable medical works published by the Peabody Medical Institute. These books are of actual merit, and should find a place in every intelligent family. They are not the cheap order of abominable trash, published by irresponsible parties, and purchased to gratify coarse tastes, but are written by a responsible professional gentleman of eminence, as a source of in-truction on vital matters, concerning which lamentable ignorance exists. The important subjects presented are treated with delicacy, ability and care, and, as an appendix, many useful prescriptions for prevailing complaints are added."—Coos Republican, Lancaster, N. H.

"The author of those books is one of the most learned and popular physicians of the day, and is entitled to the gratitude of our race for these invaluable productions. It seems to be his aim to induce men and women to avoid the cause of those diseases to which they are subject, and he tells them just how and when to do it."—Chronicle, Farmington, Maine, Sept. 7, 1869.

Either book sent by mail on receipt of price.

N. B. The Author of the above-named medical works is the Chief Consulting Physician of the Peabody Medical Institute, and is so constantly employed in consultation with invalids from all parts of the country, that he has no time to attend to mere business details. Therefore all letters should be addressed to the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, or to DR. W. H. PARKER, the Medical Assistant of the Author, and his Business Agent, who, as well as the Author himself, may be consulted on all diseases requiring skill, secrecy and experience. o13t&1yr

VERMONT DIVISION

OF THE

TRUNK R. R. LINE.

We urge upon capitalists and all having money to invest, the most careful investigation of these securities, believing them to combine more safety and profit than any Railroad Bond now in the market. The Portland and Ogdensburg Railroad line will be the shortest route by more than fifty miles from the Lakes to the Atlantic.

The Road will have local business enough to pay all its running expenses and to insure the prompt and regular payment of interest on its small bonded debt. It will be the greatest pleasure thoroughfare in the Eastern States, uniting by the shortest route Saratoga and Lakes George and Champlain with the White Mountains, Lakes Memphremagog and Willoughby, Mount Mansfield and the celebrated Mineral Springs of Northern Vermont.

The Road is under the management of some of the most experienced, successful, and widely-known business men in the country, who will insist upon the closest economy and honesty in the administration of its affairs.

The managers of the Road have themselves invested largely in its capital stock, the cash subscriptions being nearly sufficient to complete the Road ready for iron, (thus showing their appreciation of the importance and value of this enterprise.) For convenience of investors the bonds (coupon or registered) are of the following denominations:—

and the interest, six per cent., gold, is payable semi-annually in Boston on the 1st of May and 1st of November. These bonds are offered, until further notice, at 90, and accrued interest in currency.

Consumption,

ITS CURE AND ITS PREVENTIVE,

By J. H. SCHENCK, M. D.

Many a human being has passed away, for whose death there was no other reason than the neglect of known and indisputably proved means of cure. Those now sinking into the tomb, and friends are sleeping the dreamless slumber into which, had they calmly adopted and swalled themselves of his wonderfully efficacious medicines, they would not have fallen.

Dr Schenck has in his own case proven that wherever sufficient vitality remains, that vitality, by his medicines and his directions for their use, is quickened into healthful vigor.

In this statement there is nothing presumptuous. To the faith of the invalid is made no representation that is not a thousand times substantiated by live and visible works. The theory of the cure by Dr. Schenck's medicines is as simple as it is unfailing. Its philosophy requires no argument. It is self-assuring, self-convincing.

The Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are the first two weapons with which the citadel of the unhealthy is assaulted. Dyspepsia, the great source of consumption originate in dyspepsia and a functionally disordered liver. With this condition the bronchial tubes "sympathize" with the stomach, they respond to the morbific action of the liver. Here, then comes the culminating result, and the setting in, with all its distressing symptoms, of

CONSUMPTION.

The Mandrake Pills are composed of one of Nature's noblest gifts—the Podophillum Peltatum. They possess all the blood-searching, alterative properties of calomel, but unlike calomel, they

"LEAVE NO STING BEHIND."

The work of cure is now beginning. The vitiated and mucous deposits in the bowels and in the alimentary canal are cleansed. The liver, thus aroused, is wound up. It arouses from its torpidity. The stomach acts responsively and the patient begins to feel that he is getting, at last,

A SUPPLY OF GOOD BLOOD.

The Seaweed Tonic, in conjunction with the Pills, permeates and assimilates with the food. Chylification is now perfected without its previous tortures. Digestion becomes painless, and the cure is seen to be at hand. There is no more flatulence, no exacerbation of the stomach. An appetite arises.

Now comes the greatest Blood Purifier ever yet given by an inspired father to suffering man. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup comes in to perform its functions and to hasten and complete the cure. It enters at once upon its work. Nature cannot be cheated. It collects and ripens the impaired and diseased portions of the lungs. In the form of gatherings it prepares them for expectoration, and lo! in a very short time the malady is vanquished, the rotten tissue that it occupied is scraped and made new, and the patient, in all the dignity of regained vigor, steps forth to enjoy the manhood or womanhood that was GIVEN UP AS LOST.

The second thing is, the patients must stay in a warm room, until they get well; it is almost impossible to prevent taking cold when the lungs are diseased, but it must be guarded against or a cure cannot be effected. Fresh air and riding out, especially in this section of the country in the fall and winter season, are all wrong. Physicians who recommend that course lose their patients, if their lungs are badly diseased and yet, because they are in the house they must not sit down quiet; they must walk about from room as much and as fast as the strength will bear, to get up a good circulation of blood. The patients must keep in good spirits—be determined to get well. This has a great deal to do with the appetite, and is the great point to gain.

To despair of cure after such evidence of its possibility in the worst cases, and natural certainty in all others, is sinful. Dr. Schenck's personal statement to the Faculty of his own cure was in these modest words:

"Many years ago I was in the last stages of consumption: confined to my bed, and at one time my physicians thought that I could not live a week; heard of, and obtained the preparations which I now offer to the public, and they made a perfect cure of me. It seemed to me that I could feel them penetrate my whole system. They soon ripened the matter in my lungs, and I would spit up more than a pint of offensive yellow matter every morning for a long time. As soon as that began to subside, my cough, fever, pains and night sweats all began to leave, and my appetite became so great that it was with difficulty that I could keep from eating too much. I soon gained my strength, and have grown in flesh ever since.

"I was weighed shortly after my recovery," added the Doctor, "that weighed down a mere skeleton; my weight was only ninety-seven pounds; my present weight is two hundred and twenty-five (225) pounds, and I have ever enjoyed uninterrupted health."

Dr. Schenck has discontinued his professional visits to New York and Boston. He or his son, Dr. J. H. Schenck, Jr., still continue to see patients at their office, No. 15 North Fifth street, Philadelphia, every Saturday from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M. Those who wish a thorough examination with the Respirometer will be charged $5. The Respirometer declares the exact condition of the lungs, and patients can readily learn whether they are curable or not.

The directions for taking the medicines are adapted to the intelligence even of a child. Follow these directions, and the medicines will do the rest, excepting that in some cases the Mandrake Pills are to be taken in increased doses, the first medicines need no other accompaniments than the ample instructions that accompany them: First, crude opinions. Of returning health they give the most welcome symptoms. When it comes, as it will come, let the despairing at once be of good cheer. As good blood at once follows, the cough loosens, the night sweat is abated. In a short time both of these morbid symptoms are gone forever.

Dr. Schenck's medicines are constantly kept in store of thousands of families. As a laxative or purgative, the Mandrake Pills are a standard preparation; while the Pulmonic Syrup, as a cure of coughs and colds, may be regarded as a prophylactic against consumption in any of its forms. Price of the Mandrake Pills, Seaweed Tonic, $1.50, a bottle, or $7.50 a half dozen. Mandrake Pills, 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists and dealers.

THE NOVELTY CLOTHES WRINGER.

Nothing, except the Sewing Machine, has ever been invented which so much relieves the labor of the household as the Wringer. But its usefulness does not end here. The saving of clothing is of much greater importance. It is often remarked that articles of fine texture, last twice as long when wrung in a Wringer as when wrung by hand. The NOVELTY has Cog-wheels on both ends. The rolls are allowed to separate at either end. These, besides other advantages which it contains, seem to be indispensable to a practical wringer.—New York Independent.

The Novelty Wringer has become an indispensable institution in thousands of families. And we believe its great and increasing popularity is fully merited—for the Novelty evidently possesses all the requisites of a first-class, practical machine. Indeed, after using one for many months in our own family, we are prepared to indorse the Novelty as unsurpassed (like Isinglass says unequaled,) by any of the several wringers previously tried.—Moore's Rural New Yorker.

ELECTION in Maine to-day.

THE TAMMANY WAR.—The citizens' committee are holding secret meetings to further the closing of the Treasury doors against the Tammany thieves. Judge Barnard's action in granting the injunction against Tammany delights all honest men. The following card was published Thursday morning:

As there are two committees of eminent citizens now seeking common objects, viz., unraveling the accounts of the comptroller's office, I beg leave to make the following offer:—If the authorities will submit the books, pay roll vouchers and returned checks to one or both of these committees, I will engage to point out, in less than a half an hour, a sufficient number of entries, indorsements and receipts for moneys paid out to prove all that has been charged.

Respectfully,
[Signed] MATTHEW J. O'ROURKE,
Late of the Comptroller's office.

MODEL RAILROAD MANAGEMENT.—On the Michigan Central road, for over sixteen years past, not a drop of blood has been drawn from man, woman or child inside the cars, and just now the modus operandi is especially important. At all hours of the day and night there sits an operator in the Kalamazoo station (midway of the line), who receives telegrams from every train on the road the instant they enter or leave a station, so that he holds or starts them at will. His eye is literally on the entire line continually, making collisions next to an impossibility, and its immense single track is quite equivalent, so far as safety is concerned, to the best double-track roads. Its twelve and sixteen-wheel coaches, admitting of the breaking of almost any one of the wheels without disabling the truck, constitutes one also no small item in this aggregate of immunity from peril.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

The Great Falls Journal says it is proposed to build a branch railroad from Sanborn's Station, on the Portsmouth, Great Falls and Conway road, to Wolfeboro.

The house of Rufus Walker, at Great Loss $1000—insured for $900.

During the rain of the 30th ult., in Dover, water ran into the stable cellar of Mr. W. H. Smith so fast that half a dozen pigs were drowned before they could be saved.

The government has secured the Prospect House, Manchester, on the summit of Moosehillauk mountain, for the use of the signal service. Meteorological observations will be taken at that point during the next seven months. Fuel and other supplies are now being taken to the mountain. Telegraphic communication will be established between the line at Warren and the summit. The top of Moosehillauk is 5050 feet high, being about 1200 feet lower than the top of Mount Washington.

The committee to whom was referred the subject of the union of the republican papers in Concord held an adjourned meeting in that city on Tuesday evening. Senators Cragin and Patterson and other prominent republicans were present. The further organization of the Republican Press Association, which has purchased the Weekly Independent, the Daily Monitor and the Weekly Statesman, was proceeded with, and articles of agreement and by-laws were adopted. The stockholders chose a board of directors, consisting of Hon. Asa Fowler of Concord, Hon. A. H. Cragin of Lebanon, Hon. Samuel W. Hale of Keene, P. B. Cogswell of Concord, Major Henry McFarland of Concord, P. C. Cheney of Manchester, and Daniel Hall of Dover. The board organized by electing Judge Fowler president. The meeting was an earnest and harmonious one.

A QUEER LAWSUIT has arisen near Oshkosh, Wis., between a couple of Germans, growing out of the late storm. It seems that such was the force of the gale that whole shocks of wheat were taken up bodily and carried into an adjoining field. The owner of the field claims the wheat by right of possession, while the loser of the wheat claims that he is short a number of shocks. Neither one knows definitely the number of shocks he had standing in the field prior to the storm, but the loser thinks he has not so many by six or eight, and sues for that amount.

UNDER THE KU-KLUX LAW the grand jury in North Carolina has presented over three hundred indictments. Most of those indicted have been arrested and are in custody or under bonds. Their trials will begin in October.

NEW PUBLICATIONS RECEIVED.

Johnson's Musical Monthly, A Monthly Musical Magazine; John Church & Co., Publishers, 66 West Fourth St., Cincinnati, Ohio. 50 cts. per annum.

Fifty-first Annual Circular and Catalogue of the Medical College of Ohio. The Faculty of some of the most prominent medical men of the State, and the catalogue of the Alumni embraces names from thirty States, including our own.

Ballou's Monthly for October contains one hundred pages of reading and twenty or thirty engravings. The Rowtor Rocks. Chased by Wolves. Pyramid Rock. Strange Animals. Adrift. Big Nicky. Sketches of Travel in California. The Unwilling Benedict. Semiramis. Leila's Governess, and many other articles are in this number. Thomes & Talbot, 63 Congress Street, Boston, $1.50 per year.

Last October, Hearth and Home passed into the hands of Messrs. Orange Judd & Co., of 245 Broadway, New York, the well known publishers of the American Agriculturist—a journal long without a rival in sterling value and circulation. The marked improvements then expected to appear in Hearth and Home have been fully realized, and it is now one of the choicest illustrated journals anywhere issued for the family circle—adapted to both the juvenile and adult people, and meeting the special wants of the housekeeper. Besides, it supplies very useful chapters for the garden and farm, and an important news sheet giving a valuable resume of the news for a week, up to the moment of issue. From $500 to $800 worth of fine engravings beautify each weekly number. The publishers have secured the exclusive editorial services of Edward Eggleston, widely and favorably known by his writings in Scribner's Monthly and as the chief superintending Editor of the New York Independent for some time past. With this addition to the editorial force, Hearth and Home can not fail to merit and command a prominent place in every household, at $3 a year.

IN THE PRESS OF OTHER MATTER we have neglected to notice the enterprise of Mr. T. J. Lasier of the National Eagle, Claremont, by which that thriving town is furnished with one of the best Weeklies in the State. Its enlively appreciation of its worth by its patrons. May the Eagle's course ever be onward and upward.

AMONG THE QUEER THINGS at Nantucket is the meat auction, which is held on some street corner nearly every day. Meat is not kept until it spoils, but what the butchers have left over night is auctioned the next day, the farmers adding to the stock the remnants left in their carts after supplying their customers.

ACCIDENTS.—Three men were killed, three seriously injured, and several cars smashed by the carelessness of a Delaware, Lackawan and Western brakeman on the night of the 7th, at Bridgeville. Several persons were injured—three fatally, by a collision on the Louisville and Nashville Railroad.

A CHERUB of a paper is The Cherub, printed at Boston and edited by Ed. P. Ackerman, who can be traced by his contributions of spice where'er his footsteps turn. The Cherub is so welcome at this office that we wish it to become a Daily that its visits may be more frequent.

HON. ALEXANDER H. RICE of Boston seems to be the most available and popular candidate for the Republican nomination for candidate for governor of Massachusetts, being highly esteemed and generally respected by the masses of the party throughout the State and the Union.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

We would not recommend the frequent or constant use of any medicine. It is important to take even a good article judiciously. Parson's Purgative Pills are safe, prompt, and reliable as a laxative or cathartic.

Base Ball is undoubtedly good exercise and capital amusement, but it often occasions bunged eyes, broken shins and blistered hands. We can tell you that in all such cases if Johnson's Anodyne Liniment is resorted to, it will reduce the swelling and stop the pain.

Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye,

guaranteed harmless by Professor CHILTON and other distinguished chemists, and the most popular dye in America, because it imparts the most natural shades of color with the greatest certainty and in the shortest space of time. This famous article has

of all its would-be rivals, and is now master of the situation. As a dressing after dyeing, use

Influence of Temperature on Health.

In the fall the difference between the temperature of night and day is greater than at any other time of the year. In the early autumn the quicksilver sometimes rises as high during the day as in the most fervid summer weather; while at night it often sinks to an almost wintry point. The human body not being made of steel or India rubber, sensibly feels these tremendous changes. To fortify the system against them, a genuine tonic is required; and the public has long since discovered that among this description of medicines Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is infinitely the best. It gently quickens the circulation, regulates the bowels, tones the liver, braces the nerves, and thus puts the whole physique on its defence against the vicissitude of temperature in are heard or felt either chills, fever and ague, or fever and ague. As it becomes more and more widely known, and the demand for it increases, chills and fever, and the bilious remittent seem to recede before it, and if ever it should come into universal use, these diseases would cease to be known as the scourges of our low-lying and marshy districts. That homely bit of proverbial philosophy, that "prevention is better than cure," should be especially borne in mind in the autumn months; and indeed in all seasons, together with the fact, that among all the preventatives of malarious diseases, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is the most safe and potent.

Be certain, however, to obtain the genuine article, as countless imitations of a pernicious character are abroad. See that the externals are all right, and remember that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is sold in bottles alone.

Communicated.

Shall this City build the Portsmouth & Dover Railroad—or the major part of it?

Messrs Editors:—On the day preceding the Citizens' meeting at the Aldermen's rooms to consider the question of building by the City of the railroad, one of our oldest lawyers and citizens—one who would be supposed to feel an interest in and to know all that was going on of a public nature in the city—expressed his utter ignorance upon all relating to the momentous question; giving as a reason for not having looked into it, his belief "that there were not fools enough in this city, to cause fear of the passage of the resolutions now before the councils." Had he attended that meeting his views as to that might have been modified, and the apprehension that others may be resting in this fancied security at a time of imminent danger to the best interest of this city, induces this article, in the hope that it will arouse attention before the time of action shall have passed; the door must be locked before the steed is stolen; the danger is imminent, for the advocates of the building of this road by the City show great determination, great industry, and great skill in selecting their officers from among those holding influential positions, for forcing its passage and blinding the public to the inevitable consequences. For instance; the president is a man whose influence, from his enormous income, is very great. One of the directors is the Senator from this district, who was largely instrumental in getting the Act for this road through the legislature, thereby belying his whole political life and the creed of his party; he must have a strong motive thus to go back upon himself and the doctrine the advocacy of which (and the free use of his money) gave him his political elevation; he, however, is more likely to have been used as the cat's paw by his more astute associates. Another of the directors is one of the Board of Aldermen before whom this question is now pending; another Alderman is a director in the bank whose president is treasurer of the road, and whose brother directors are the most loud spoken and prominent for this measure—men who will have the fingering of the half-million which they fondly hope will be put into their hands.

Now we repeat, the selections of these men shows great skill; it shows the same good judgment as is shown by their refusal to put their own money into this road; just what might be expected from men who have the City's good so much at heart that they won't risk a dollar to advance it; won't move a peg, until they have a perpetual guarantee of seven per cent. dividends. To be sure, they loudly proclaim their belief that the road will pay 10 per cent. dividends. Why don't they put their money into it then? Why so unblushingly demand that the City shall build it, taking all the risk, while they take all the profit? The very great profit these Corporators promise themselves has warped their judgment; they can see the forty or fifty thousand dollars advance which this stock will instantly put into their pockets, with other great collateral profit and emoluments; they already have heard its jingle, but they utterly ignore those other pockets out of which it is to be taken; and to which, Gentlemen of the City Council, your attention for a single moment is most respectfully asked.

The shipping interest owned here has been one great source of our prosperity, the building and equipment of which has given us life and employment. A large amount is still owned by our citizens and pays a tax upon its full value; they know, if you don't, that they do not and have not for a long time received from their investments, a new dollar for an old one. So with the Kearsarge Mills; some of us invested in that,—it pays the city some five thousand dollars a year taxes, but to its stockholders, never a cent! Now, in making their investments in these two interests, taken for example, the investors of course hoped for a profitable return; they are men who had the good of the city quite as much at heart as these railroad corporators, thought they did not prate so much about it, neither did they go whining to you to guarantee them seven per cent. perpetual dividends. If they had you would have laughed them to scorn, or should have.—Where is the difference? Now, if you give this guarantee to the railroad, whose benefit many of us think would be infinitesimal, why not now give it to the others? Admit the principal and it logically follows. Do you suppose that a dollar would have been invested in these if it had been supposed they would ever be taxed to pay railroads dividends? Do you suppose that another dollar would be placed here in any enterprise if this new and monstrous doctrine is to be sanctioned and engrafted upon us? Nay, will not all who can withdraw their means, aye, and themselves, from a community which should show so little regard for the right, and in which confiscation is only a question for the majority? No! our growth and prosperity, our safety even, require that this proposition should receive so effectual a quietus that no fear of its resurrection or the birth of any similar project need be felt; it is simply suicidal. But enough.—Even the writer begins to think that the old citizen whose casual remark is accountable for this article, was right, and that fools enough to do this thing can't be found AMONG US.

THE TOMB OF THE PEPPERELLS.—A DEATH.—On the 29th of August, the tomb of this once prominent and influential family was opened to receive the last lineal descendant. This tomb was erected by the elder Pepperell, who was placed therein in 1764, and is the last resting place of Sir William Pepperell, as well as "a great part of his family," as the inscription thereon indicates. The marble structure which stands over the vault was erected by the Baronet about the year 1736. It is situated in what was formerly the "Great Orchard" of the Pepperells, about twenty rods in the rear of the mansion. There is nothing in the surroundings which to most persons would make it an attractive place, compared with many others which might have been selected on his estate at Kittery Point; although the lands on the west, where was formerly a swamp, have been filled in within the last twenty years, making the place much more attractive than formerly. The arch of the tomb is of brick, resting upon a base of stonework,—is in perfect condition, and as regular in shape as when first built. About twenty-five years ago the tomb was repaired by the last representative of the family, by providing a granite base for the support of the marble structure above the vault, a slab of granite at the entrance, a brick floor and a special receptacle for the remains which through lapse of time could not be identified by any surroundings.

The strip of land known as the "tomb lot," containing less than an acre, is the only piece of real estate, of the vast domain owned by the Pepperells, which has not passed into other hands. The mansions once occupied by them are still tolerably well preserved, but from them comes no relative to drop the tear of farewell at this departure. All the provisions that human foresight could make for the continuation of Pepperell's property in the family were made in his will, but there comes from these mansions none but strangers, to gaze with deep veneration upon the last link that connected a prominent family of the past with the living present. Mr. Brown, the present proprietor of the "Sparhawk Place," had his flag at half-mast over the home of the grandfather of Miss Sparhawk, the descendant referred to, in token of regard for the occasion, and we noticed that gentleman and his lady in attendance at the services at the tomb.

The person whose death ended the line of the Pepperell's was Miss HARRIOT HIRST SPARHAWK, daughter of Samuel Hirst Sparhawk, the third son of Col. Nathaniel Sparhawk, who married Elizabeth, the only daughter of Sir William Pepperell, Baronet. Her father graduated at Harvard College in 1771, afterward resided for a time in England, and died at this place, August 29, 1789, aged 38. Sir William had but one son, Andrew, who died March 7, 1751, in the 26th year of his age, without issue; consequently the Pepperell blood has been in the Sparhawk name only, since the decease of the Baronet.

Kittery Point, Sept. 5, 1871. M.

THE EASTERN RAILROAD CORPORATION have decided to place men in the depot at Boston to answer questions and direct passenger to the trains; to have placards placed on each car of a train, indicating the stations at which it is to stop; to supply additional cars, sufficient to seat all passengers and obviate delay in making up trains; to adopt modern brakes to stop a train as quickly as possible and within the shortest space, and such other approved appliances to secure safety as are in use upon first-class roads; to put in a side track at Saugus Branch Junction; to offer no encouragement to excursionists; and to use no inflammable liquid in lighting the cars.

WE WONDER if the new law in relation to schools has been, or will be heeded by our School Committee. We have not yet seen the "Notices" required, posted in "conspicuous" places. The law is a good one, and although it may require some trouble to enforce it, the future benefit which the city will receive from its strict enforcement will more than pay for the trouble.

THE EXCURSION to Portland in Steamer Escort, postponed from Friday, will come off to-day, if the weather is favorable. The steamer will leave Pier Wharf at 9 o'clock, A. M., and leave Portland at 3 o'clock, P. M., arriving here early in the evening. The Escort is a commodious boat and will doubtless carry a large number of excursionists to the Forest City.

THE FIREMEN'S MUSTER.—The Lynn Little Giant says "the parade at Portsmouth will long be remembered as the largest and handsomest of the kind ever seen in New England, and we doubt if an occasion of the kind ever occurred in this country where so much to praise and so little to condemn was apparent."

WILLIS L. HIDDEN, Esq., the efficient Secretary of the Committee of Arrangements of the Firemen's Muster, won golden opinions by his prompt attention to the details of the business, and on the two days of the Muster seemed ubiquitous, being everywhere just when wanted.

—The Firemen's Jubilee, at Portsmouth, was a brilliant affair, and reflects the utmost credit on all who had part in it. The men who managed it made a pleasure of business, and so their business was a pleasure to themselves, and productive of pleasure to others.—Boston Traveller.

THE BOSTON ADVERTISER says the blame for the existence of the fact that there has been insufficient accommodation for travel on the Eastern Railroad lies at the door of President Browne.

—The members of the Nashua Fire Department, who visited the Portsmouth muster, returned home last evening, and are unanimously agreed that the muster was a great success and that they had a fine time.—Telegraph.

JAMES FISK'S 9th Regiment Band, which is to be here on the 23d, is composed of 30 musicians, led by Major Downey, and has Levy for a cornetist.

THE GREAT FALLS BAND furnished the music for the Shoals steamer during the muster.

JOB AND CARD PRINTING.—We have made great additions to our jobbing facilities—a mammoth Hand Press (the largest in Portsmouth,) new Display Type, Borders of various styles, &c. —and are prepared to execute with neatness and dispatch, all orders for FULL SHEET POSTERS, DATE SLIPS, PAMPHLETS, SERMONS, ADDRESSES, AUCTION BILLS, CONSTITUTIONS, BY LAWS, PROGRAMMES, HANDBILLS, CIRCULARS, ORDERS DANCES, BLANKS, BILL HEADS, RECEIPTS, TICKETS, BUSINESS, MARRIAGE, ADDRESS AND VISITING CARDS, LABELS, TAGS, and in fact PRINTING OF ANY DESCRIPTION, at SATISFACTORY PRICES. Orders received by mail, express, or at the CHRONICLE OFFICE will be promptly filled.

Morning Chronicle.

IN THE WOODS.—The following conversation, or colloquy, occurred between a 'cute New York "perforator" in real estate, travelling by pocket-compass in one of the very last sections opened in the government-land region between Gotham and Alaska. His interlocutor was a woman, standing in scanty but airy raiment, at the door of a log shanty; to whom he thus addressed himself:

"Do you like to live here in the woods, these distant woods, so far from any other human habitations?"

"Woods!—like to live in the woods!" she echoed and repeated; "bless your lawful sakes, you don't call this woods, do ye? There are no bears, nor wolves, nor catamounts, nor mass-saugers around here—not within twenty miles! Why, we've got bedsteads in this cabin; we don't sleep in big hollow logs, as we used to. The stumps are out of the middle of the road, most of 'em; and, bless you, don't you see we've got some fences? Look over there! We raise our own good-sized pork; we lay our own eggs; we have tame hens and roosters, and pumpkin pies, and twisted-necked squashes, and appetizin' cookin'. Woods!" she repeated again —"live in the woods!"

HE THOUGHT HE'D WADE.—It was an election day, and Grimes, having assisted on the occasion by the deposit of his vote and absorption of as much rye as he could walk under, started with two of his neighbors, who were in the same state of elevation, to make their homes. They had to cross the Wissahickon Creek by a foot bridge constructed of a single log thrown across, and without any hand-rail to aid in the transit. There would have been no difficulty with a clear head and steady legs in crossing, but with our party it was found to be not without difficulty under their existing circumstances. However, the creek must be crossed. Grimes' turned to face the music, and making a bold start he succeeded in getting about one third of the way over, when a loud splash announced to his friends that he was overboard. Emerging from the water, it being about up to his breast, he quietly said, as if his course was the result of mature deliberation, "I guess I'll wade."

—The Government contractors are nearly through with the bulk of their contract for blowing out the Cocbecho river at the "Narrows," and Mr. Floyd informs us that he hopes to pull the last obstruction in about ten days. For the last few days they have blasted in low water, (four feet in depth,) and the powerful dualine has given them showers of ugly, sharp-pointed granite rocks to dodge at nearly every explosion. When the job is finished the "floating scow" will be hauled up and moored at the mouth of Trickey's brook, where the officers of "Uncle Samuel" are now busy surveying for an improvement, which will be effected ere the present season is over. At the next session of Congress $20,000 more will be asked for, which if granted and used as discreetly as the first sum of $7,000 at Cushing's Steam Mill, will serve to make the river navigable for crafts drawing from 12 to 14 feet of water up to our very wharves.—Dover Gazette.

TARRANT'S SELTZER APERIENT.

FREE LIBRARY IN LOUISVILLE, TO BE CALLED THE

PUBLIC LIBRARY OF KENTUCKY.

The Concert and Distribution will take place under the immediate supervision of the Trustees named in the act of incorporation.

The trustees will be assisted by prominent, well-known and eminent citizens of Kentucky, who have consented to be present at the concert and to superintend the drawing and distribution of gifts.

The holders of tickets to which gifts are awarded will be paid on presentation of them or their fraction, at the office in Louisville, the second day after drawing, and every business day for six months thereafter, and may be sent direct or through any Bank or Express Co., for collection. All orders accompanied by Drafts, Post Office Money Orders, or Greenbacks, will be promptly attended to and tickets returned by mail, registered or express, as desired.

Tickets are like Greenbacks—good only to the holder.

Buyers will note that there are only One Hundred Thousand Tickets, instead of Two Hundred Thousand, as in the San Francisco Gift Concert, and that there is $50,000 more distributed. I sold that and made the awards in four months and paid $488,000 to ticket holders from November 2nd to 15th, 1870, and turned over $12,000 to the Secretary for the tickets not presented.

It will be particularly noticed that it is a matter of impossibility for any one to know what numbers draw gifts, as it is not known what the gift of any number drawn from the first wheel will be, until the sealed box, with amount of the gift plainly printed, is taken from the other wheel and opened in full view of the audience. Therefore the larger gifts may not come out until towards last, or in the middle of the drawing. The $100,000 gift in the San Francisco Gift Concert under the management or C. R. PETERS, was the 200th number drawn, and was awarded and paid to a gentleman in New Orleans. 721 Gifts is all that can be drawn in one day.

The Number and Gifts are drawn by blind children from 8 to 14 years of age.

The Drawing will be extensively published, and parties ordering Tickets will have printed lists sent them. Parties forming Clubs and desiring information will please address this office.

11 Tickets for $100; 28 Tickets, $235; 56 Tickets, $360; 113 Tickets, $1000.

The undersigned, late principal business manager of the very successful Mercantile Library Gift Concert at San Francisco, California, has been appointed agent and manager of the Gift Concert in aid of the Public Library of Kentucky.

The Drawing will take place in public, and everything will be done to satisfy buyers of tickets that their interests will be as well protected as if they personally superintended the entire affair.

MANNER OF DRAWING.

There will be two glass wheels. One wheel will contain 100,000 numbers, plainly printed on leather tags. The other wheel will contain 721 boxes, each containing a gift. One tag or number will be drawn from the 100,000 wheel, and the first box drawn from the second or 721 box wheel will contain a gift, neatly printed and sealed up, and the gift so drawn, from the second wheel will be the gift of the tag first drawn, whether $100, $1000, or $100,000.

14,364 Tickets Disposed of in July.

To insure ticket holders, the public are assured that if only 25,000 tickets are sold only 25,000 numbers go in the large wheel, the 721 gifts awarded but diminished pro rata. In case 50,000 tickets only are sold, only numbers 1 to 50,000 go in the large wheel, and the 721 gifts diminished one-half; and in case only 75,000 tickets are sold the entire 721 gifts will be paid in full—it being intended that no unsold tickets shall participate.

The Manager has already paid into the Citizen's Bank $30,000 towards defraying the expenses, and does not depend on sales of tickets to pay his expenses of Printing, Advertising, &c. The public are invited to the utmost scrutiny as to the responsibility of the entire affair.

Persons desirous of acting as agents for the sale of tickets in any city in United States or Canadas, address

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS.

Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK, Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. Send for a circular.

These are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yrdawebd

ARE YOU GOING TO PAINT?

—IF SO, USE THE—

AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT.

It is Cheaper, Handsomer and more durable than the best of other Paints. One Thousand Gallons of it were sold in this City, in the year 1870, and not one complaint has come from those who have used it; but all speak in its favor; it is mixed ready for application, and is much easier put on than any other Paint, making a smooth, glossy surface for years, that can be cleaned with hot suds without injuring it. It is excellent for wash inside, in the place of paper.

I shall keep this season a large stock of Chemical Paints of all shades on hand, to accommodate customers with any amount, without delay in ordering it. Those who want to use the Chemical Paints and have had them misrepresented by those who deal in Lead and Oil, are invited to call and examine my Paints that have been on Buildings two years, and you will find them as fresh as if laid but one month.

I am prepared to do Painting by Contract, or by the day, using the Chemical Paint, or furnishing good experienced workmen by the day at very low wages. B. NORTON, only Agent for selling the

WILL YOU NEVER GO TO SLEEP? Returning home late the other night, a gentleman living on Mission street disrobed without lighting the gas, and lay peacefully down beside the partner of his joys. Sinking back upon the pillow, he straightway raised himself up again and remarked: "I say, wife! how's your pillow?—Warm?" "Why, what a foolish question," returned she, "my pillow is all right." "Is it real warm?" he asked. "Certainly it is; I've had my head on it for three hours." Apparently satisfied, he lay down, and was silent for some time, when a vigorous nudging in the side of his wife proved that he had another idea. "I say, wife!" "For goodness' sake, what do you want?" petulantly answered that sleepy dame. "I say! you don't use hair oil, do you?" "Of course not. You know that as well as anybody. Do for mercy's sake go to sleep." Another half hour passed in silence, broken only by the solemn ticking of the clock in the darkness. Then there was another spasmodic nudging; "I say—wife? you didn't put the calf under this bed to night, did you?" "Gracious me!" returned the matron, "what is the matter with you? Of course the calf is not under the bed. Will you never go to sleep?" "Well," continued her lord, sliding his legs sideways out of the bed, "I'm d—d if there ain't something live under here!" There was the sound of a scrabbling round, a partial upheaval of the couch, the quick gleam of a white garment making for the open window, through which it disappeared, a thrashing round in the rose bushes outside—and all again was still. The custody of the children has been awarded to the husband.—S. F. News Letter.

THE REVERE VERDICT.—The decision of the coroner's jury at Revere was made up at a late hour Saturday night. The direct cause of the collision is charged to the negligence of the conductor of the Beverly train and the engineer of the Pullman train,—the conductor in failing to notify the engineer by a signal or otherwise that his train had lost time on the road, when he should have known that the Pullman [illegible] engineer in failing to take notice of the signal-lights at the rear of the Beverly train as it stood at the Revere station just before the collision, having there an unobstructed view of at least a half a mile. The station-master in Boston is held to have been remiss in duty in not correctly transmitting the order of the superintendent to the engineer of the Pullman train—"to look out for trains ahead." The jury further find that for the gross inadequacy of accommodations and equipment the president and directors of the corporation are to a great extent responsible for the loss of life.

THE STRUGGLE FOR THE BASE BALL CHAMPIONSHIP is drawing to a close. The fourth game between the Boston Red Stockings and the Philadelphia Athletics came off on Saturday on the Union Grounds, Boston, and was won by the Reds in the 9th inning by a score of 17 to 14, deciding the series in their favor. The first game was won by the Bostons, 12 to 8; the second by the Athletics 20 to 8; and the third by the Bostons 23 to 7. The score for the series is in favor of the Bostons, 60 to 49.

THE BOAT RACE AT SARATOGA.—America had a great triumph, Monday, the Ward Brothers winning the four-oared race by six boat lengths, and astonishing everybody by their completely magnificent rowing. The Biglin crew, too, did wonders, coming in third after many tight pulls with the English crew. The Renforth crew were completely broken in appearance when they arrived, though coming in second. The Wards won the race in 24 minutes, 24 seconds.

FIRST MORTGAGE JOINT BONDS OF

Three New England Railroads,

Principle and Interest Payable in Gold,

FREE FROM GOVERNMENT TAX,

Styled the

VERMONT DIVISION

OF THE

TRUNK R. R. LINE.

We urge upon capitalists and all having money to invest, the most careful investigation of these securities, believing them to combine more safety and profit than any Railroad Bond now in the market. The Portland and Ogdensburg Railroad line will be the shortest route by more than fifty miles from the Lakes to the Atlantic.

The Road will have local business enough to pay all its running expenses and to insure the prompt and regular payment of interest on its small bonded debt. It will be the greatest pleasure thoroughfare in the Eastern States, uniting by the shortest route Saratoga and Lakes George and Champlain with the White Mountains, Lake Memphremagog and Willoughby, Mount Mansfield and the celebrated Mineral Springs of Northern Vermont.

The Road is under the management of some of the most experienced, successful, and widely-known business men in the country, who will insist upon the closest economy and honesty in the administration of its affairs.

The managers of the Road have themselves invested largely in its capital stock, the cash subscriptions being nearly sufficient to complete the Road ready for iron, (thus showing their appreciation of the importance and value of this enterprise.) For convenience of investors the bonds (coupon or registered) are of the following denominations:—

and the interest, six per cent., gold, is payable semi-annually in Boston on the 1st of May and 1st of November. These bonds are offered, until further notice, at 90, and accrued interest in currency.

IT IS NOT A PHYSIC—It is NOT what is popularly called a BITTERS, nor is it intended as such. THE NOVELTY CLOTHES WRINGER.

Nothing, except the Sewing Machine, has ever been invented which so much relieves the labor of the household as the Wringer. But its usefulness does not end here. The saving of clothing is of much greater importance. It is often remarked that articles of fine texture, last twice as long when wrung in a Wringer as when wrung by hand. The NOVELTY has Cog-wheels on both ends. * * The rolls are allowed to separate at either end. These, besides other advantages which it contains, seem to be indispensable to a practical wringer.—New York Independent.

The Novelty Wringer has become an indispensable institution in thousands of families. And we believe its great and increasing popularity is fully merited—for the Novelty evidently possesses all the requisites of a first-class, practical machine. Indeed, after using one for many months in our own family, we are prepared to inform the Novelty as unsurpassed (the laundress says unequaled,) by any of the several wringers previously tried.—Moore's Rural New Yorker.

PORTLAND, Midnight.

127 cities and towns give Perham 28,908, Kimball 23,405, a Republican gain of 1728. The Republicans have gained Lincoln County and lost Washington County. The chairman of the Republican State Committee estimates Perham's majority at 10,000.

BIDDEFORD, 10:30, P. M.

Seventeen towns in York county give Perham 227 majority.

The town voted in favor of a jail, 246 to 55.

A GOLDEN VICTORY.

Great satisfaction is manifested at the result of the recent election, which is conceded on all sides to be a glorious Republican triumph. The Republicans are jubilant over their well-earned success, while the Democratic oracles are silent and despondent.

Compared with Grant's majority, Booth, Republican candidate for Governor, gains 4,000 in ten counties. Soloro County, which formerly gave Seymour 73 majority, gives Booth 900.

At the last general election, Sacramento gave the Democrats a majority of 464, and now gives Booth, Republican, 700.

The Evening Bulletin, (Independent) after summing up the result says: "The Democrats of California have met their 'Sedan.' Their utter discomfiture will have an unfortunate bearing upon the Eastern Fall elections. Fifteen hundred colored men voted for the party that 'enfranchised them.'"

The San Francisco Examiner (Democratic organ) makes the following mournful wail: "The election of yesterday is the talk of to-day. It seems to be generally conceded that the Radicals have gotten away with us. We are sorry for it, and we are an ill-used community."

Senator Cole telegraphed the President: "California is fully righted up and is in line for next year with all sails set."

Alvord, the tax-payers' candidate was elected mayor of San Francisco by 2000. Booth's majority in the city was 2500. Booth, Republican, has 7000 majority in the State.

One hundred guns were fired at the Battery, New York, on Saturday, in honor of the Republican victory in California.

WILLIAM M. TWEED of New York has been interviewed and is represented to have said that "the slanders of the New York Times have wounded him to the heart. Were it not for his professional and official obligations he would have the editor's heart's-blood." To which the Boston Advertiser says:—"This is very violent language, and the hired ruffians of Tammany Hall know just what it requires of them. But Mr. Tweed is treading on dangerous ground. The honest people of New York are now in no mood for trifling, and while they prefer to conduct their campaign in the forum of the courts, they are certainly prepared for any emergency. If we read correctly the public sentiment of the city, it means that on the first show of violence by Tammany every member of that body will be held to answer to a power above the law within twenty-four hours."

The New York Citizen, edited by a Tammany democrat, but one who has openly and strongly condemned the frauds of the ring, says:—"We hear rumors which come to us in such a shape we cannot disbelieve them, that municipal matters are much worse even than have been supposed, and that our city debt instead of being $125,000,000, as we stated, is not less than $200,000,000.

Another movement against Tammany has been started. Certain prominent bankers have associated themselves together with the determination to ferret out on their own account as tax-payers, and also for the benefit of the public, all the property of whatever nature in the name and under the control of the members of the ring, intending to put the whole of the claims into one immense suit and force the thieves to disgorge their ill-gotten gains.

BOILER EXPLOSION AT NEWBURYPORT.—An explosion of the boiler of the Curtis Hat Factory occurred Monday morning at ten minutes to seven o'clock. The boiler house was shattered completely, and the main building very much damaged. Six men were taken from the ruins, killed. The names of the killed, so far as known, are: Charles Boyle, 30 years old, leaves a wife and two children; Nicholas Purcell, 22 years old; Reuben Mace, about 30 years, single; William Perkins, died of his injuries about 2 o'clock; Albert L. Page; James L. Jackson, 19 years old, all of Newburyport; George Etheridge of Lawrence, who leaves a wife. Page was to have been married on Wednesday.

Fortunately the mill had not started up at the time of the explosion, or the loss of life would have been much greater. The fireman commenced firing up at 6 o'clock, and had just left the engine room when the explosion took place. When he left the boiler house there was a pressure of but 70 pounds of steam on the boiler.

The boiler burst nearly at one-third its length, separating where the sheets of iron were riveted together as cleanly as though they had been cut with a cold chisel. The roof of the building, followed by an immense mass of brick, was blown into the air some eighty feet; one man named Boyle, blown up, fell across the collar factory, landing upward of 150 feet from the hat factory.

Charles Randall was badly scalded, but it is not thought that he is fatally injured.

The loss of the company will probably exceed $5000. The boiler was a tubular one, built at the Atlantic Works, East Boston, and has been in use 14 months. It had a guaranty of 150 pounds pressure, and has not been run at much above 90 pounds on the average. The fireman says there were two gauges of water in the boiler a moment before the explosion.

—Rats killed a Detroit dog.

—Leavenworth is now connected with Chicago by rail. A large party of Leavenworthians went for divorces by the first train.

—Stern parient—"Leave off that noise directly, Jack, you naughty boy. It's all over now, and Bertha's left off crying these ten minutes." —Jack —"B—B—Bertha began crying before I did. Boo hoo!"

NAVAL.—U. S. S. Kansas arrived at Philadelphia last week, from this port. She is to obtain recruits there and an improved instrument for deep-sea soundings, and will then sail for Central America.

The Secretary of the Navy has issued the following judicious order:—

General Order No. 159, for a more economical administration of the naval service, dated August 29, 1870, having been from various causes relaxed to some extent during the past year, is hereby renewed, and will be hereafter conformed to with modifications as follows:—

From and after the 1st of October next, no retired officer of the navy, above the rank of lieutenant-commander, except naval constructors, shall be assigned or remain upon regular active duty except as a member of the lighthouse board and at the naval asylum, and the regular term of duty for retired officers ordered to or remaining upon duty on said board or at the asylum, or at the navy-yards or stations, who will be relieved upon the reporting of officers for their relief.

The boards for examination of officers for promotion and for the retired list are hereby consolidated into one, and will hereafter consist of not more than five members.

No more officers shall be ordered to the several navy-yards and stations than will be necessary to discharge the duties required there, unless when they are ordered for the purpose of exercise and instruction.

This order is made after careful considerations, and it is believed to be in accordance with the spirit of existing laws and necessary for the welfare of the service, and it will not be relaxed in any instance.

THE DALLAS (TEXAS) HERALD of the 26th of August reports that the Indians who, with hostile intent, left their reservation on the northern frontier when their two chiefs, Santana and Big Tree, were arrested by Gen. Sherman's order, have returned and express a great desire to keep the peace hereafter. They are held in check by a fear that the chiefs' lives are in danger. The chiefs have been sent to the Texas State Penitentiary for life.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

We would not recommend the frequent or constant use of any medicine. It is important to take even a good article judiciously. Parson's Purgative Pills are safe, prompt, and reliable as a laxative or cathartic.

Base Ball is undoubtedly good exercise and capital amusement, but it often occasions bruises, sprains, lameness and wounded hands. We can tell you that in all such cases if Johnson's Anodyne Liniment is resorted to, it will reduce the swelling and stop the pain.

Influence of Temperature on Health.

In the fall the difference between the temperature of night and day is greater than at any other time of the year. In the early autumn the quicksilver sometimes rises as high during the day as in the most fervid summer weather; while at night it often sinks to an almost wintry point. The human body not being made of steel or India rubber, sensibly feels these tremendous changes. To fortify the system against them, a genuine tonic is required; and the public has long since discovered that among this description of medicines Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is infinitely the best. It gently quickens the circulation, regulates the bowels, tones the liver, braces the nerves, and thus puts the whole physique on its defence against the vicissitude of temperature in our climate. Few, if any cases of epidemic fever are heard of in localities where it is in common use. As it becomes more and more widely known, and the demand for it increases, chills and fever, and the bilious remittent seem to recede before it, and if ever it should come into universal use, these diseases would cease to be known as the scourges of our low-lying and marshy districts. That homely bit of proverbial philosophy, that "prevention is better than cure," should be especially borne in mind in the autumn months: and indeed in all seasons, together with the fact, that among all the preventatives of malarious diseases, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is the most safe and potent.

Be certain, however, to obtain the genuine article, as countless imitations of a pernicious character are abroad. See that the externals are all right, and remember that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is sold in bottles alone.

THE PORTSMOUTH & DOVER RAILROAD.—There may very reasonably be differences of opinion relative to the proposed mode of granting City aid to the Dover Railroad. The motives of those wide-awake business men of Portsmouth who urge the plan should not be attacked; they are not even open to suspicion. They earnestly desire the construction of the road; they believe it will create much business here; they think it is important enough to warrant almost any sacrifice; and they are acting in accordance with their opinions and convictions. Praise and not censure should be given them for this; yet the people may well hesitate before agreeing to the proposal, and ask whether a smaller sum or an easier mode may not be sufficient for the purpose? whether it is necessary to bind the people of this city for a hundred years to pay a large sum yearly for the construction of the road? In a hundred years what changes may well take place? Three generations will live and die before the year 1971 shall pass. But it is not for those who follow us alone that I speak, though the burden may bear hard upon them; I look at the interests of the present as well.

It is said that the stock in the Dover Road cannot be taken without a guaranty of dividends, because of course no one believes it will pay; if it be urged that the road will not pay, it must be for lack of business, and therefore the city should not do what capitalists will not. We are told that the road will pay if run in connection with other roads; that it will be so run; that some other road will hire it for a long term at a high rate of interest, and that therefore the City will soon be released from all responsibility for its guaranty. I propose now to look only at the first of these positions, which is that the road will not pay if run by itself, ignoring entirely all collateral questions.

The road may never pay, because the sum guaranteed by the two cities may not be sufficient to build it, and it will have to be mortgaged to finish it, and the shares guaranteed thus become worthless. This was the case with the Concord and many other roads. Or it may never pay because the business is insufficient. At present we suppose it will not pay, and the city will be required to perform its full guarantee. Then this city will bind itself to pay $21,483 per year for one hundred years amounting in the whole to $2,148,300. It will impose a tax equal to one-third of one per cent. on the present valuation of all the property in Portsmouth. It will burden business to that extent. It will embarrass trust funds, and the estates of widows and orphans to that extent. It will prevent new enterprises to that extent. Will it pay?

Suppose this city should issue bonds for $306,900 at 6 per cent., payable in one hundred years, should pay the interest each year, and in one hundred years pay the principal, we should have paid only the sum we shall have to pay on this guaranty; that is to say, we are asked to give this road $306,900 and to pay dividends of six per cent. on the gift for one hundred years. Is the risk a safe one?

Suppose the road should pay in fifty years, the dividends paid by the city will amount to $1,074,150. This would be equal to $306,900 of 6 per cent. bonds for over forty-one years, the principal payable at that time, or it will be equal to City six per cent. bonds for $268,537,50, the interest payable for fifty years and the principal at the end.

Suppose the road should pay in twenty-five years, the dividends paid by the City will amount to $537,075, a sum equal to $214,830 in City 6 per cent. bonds, interest paid for 25 years and the principal paid at the end. Even this last is a great sum; we can buy Newcastle bridge and rebuild it at a cost of $40,000; we can pay $60,000 for Portsmouth bridge and free both bridges; build a City Hall at a cost of $114,000; and hire the money to do all these things at 6 per cent., and by paying $21,483 per year we shall in twenty-five years pay the whole cost with interest.

We can build a City Hall at a cost of $134,000 and pay for it principal and interest by ten annual payments equal to the dividends we are asked to guaranty. At the end of ten years we shall have our City Hall paid for. We shall have something for our money.

These estimates will give an idea of the enormous sum we bind ourselves to pay for the building of the Dover Railroad. There is no compounding of interest; the sums given are simply the sums required to be paid added together. I say, then, that the city will save by giving the sum of $300,000 for the construction of the road and paying interest for that sum at 6 per cent. for any less time than one hundred years; and of course any less sum or less time will be a greater saving; that the city can hire one hundred and thirty thousand dollars and give it to the road, hiring the money and paying principal and interest in ten years, and the whole amount will be less than the payment of ten years' guaranty by the plan proposed. P.

Seabrook and Kittery.

Two items in the management of the CHRONICLE weigh very heavily on the soul of that paper whose daily mission it is to enlighten the Democracy of Portsmouth and regulate the affairs of the Republican press in this and other cities; one is, that we have never seen fit to correct an alleged "mistake" regarding the political complexion of a certain school-district meeting in the neighboring town of Kittery—O! wondrously important affair! The other is that we still decline to fall down in adoration of the architectural glories of the habitations of "Byfield" and of the moral character of the inhabitants thereof. We would gladly lift the weight from our cotemporary's soul if we could; but as we cannot do this, we owe an explanation of the causes which prevent. The Kittery grievance being the oldest, we will deal with that first, as follows:

Once upon a time the world was convulsed by a meeting of the inhabitants of a certain school district in Kittery; this meeting voted to sell a certain schoolhouse; and in our report of this meeting we stated that it was largely Democratic. This statement was made on the strength of information furnished by a correspondent who had often before given us items, which we had always found to be correct; and in this particular case there has been no contradiction by any reliable authority. Had there been, we would never have allowed Christendom to rest in the damaging belief that the meeting which voted to sell the schoolhouse was Democratic, if such was not the case. To be sure, our Democratic cotemporary did say that the Republicans outnumbered the Democrats in that meeting, ten to one; but it is a mere matter of statistics, and we need not say that a paper which credits a manufacturer with building boots having 390 lbs. of sole leather to the pair, and then "corrects" it to 39 lbs. per pair,—which gravely charges the Republican leaders with stealing $16,666,666,666 a year, and proves by the census returns that there are only 500,000 native born inhabitants in the United States, can scarcely be relied on in a matter of statistics.

Now as to South Seabrook, or rather "Byfield," a district of South Seabrook, for to speak of Byfield and then include the whole of Seabrook or even South Seabrook in a description of it and its people, is like promising a description of the Five Points in New York city and then including Fifth Avenue in the account. The description would be unjustly favorable in exactly so much as it was Jesuitical and false. We quote from our cotemporary's last article on Seabrook:—

We thought we had disposed of the cruel slanders upon the people of Seabrook, but our cotemporaries in this city have been repeating them and the people of that much-abused town request us to reiterate the facts which prove how Rev. Mr. Rand and his friends have misrepresented the condition of that people. They furnish us certain facts to publish in relation to the "Algerines" of Byfield and the "Seabrook Heathen" which are conclusive. Among them are the following statistics of the town:

	Population.	Families.	Houses
1858	416	101	90

Of the children between the ages of four and sixteen there were attending school last year, 168; out of school, 17. The average school terms were fourteen weeks in summer and fourteen in winter. The studies required were the same as in other schools of the same grade. And the record of the past year is no better than that of four and five years ago, before the "missionary work" was begun. How many towns in this State, or how many wards in our cities, can be named where out of 185 children between the ages of four and sixteen, only 17 are found who do not attend school?

The above table professes to give the "statistics of the town;" the editor evidently needs more light on the subject, so we will tell him that the table does not include the people of "the town" at all, but does group together Byfield and the Boyd district, which are quite distinct,—and gives the statistics incorrectly, even at that. As to the character of the schools, which he says were as good four or five years ago as they are now, the following extract from the official report of the Superintending School Committee for the year 1867-68 may be of interest; and possibly Rev. Mr. Rand will not be charged with having instigated this statement regarding the schools of the whole town of Seabrook, seeing that the Supt. School Committee was a Democrat and appointed by a Democratic Board of Selectmen:—

We may have the best teachers that natural abilities and experience can make, but until parents will learn and do their duties, our schools will fail in many important respects, and will be no credit to the town. What is learned by the different studies is profitable, but is by no means all that should be learned. Most of our schools are in a condition where no manners, self-respect, or any moral or religious influences can be brought to bear on the scholars with any lasting impression. We repeat, the teachers, whatever their qualifications, cannot help it. The fault belongs to parents and citizens—those who are alone responsible for the character of the town and its schools.

The editor who so ably champions Seabrook vouches for one "C.," who recently wrote to the Boston Advertiser on the subject, by terming him "this well informed gentleman." He may deserve the term, but if so we would not vouch for his veracity; and we question if the editor who endorses his statements ever saw the place he describes—in fact we are sure he never did, or he would have been in less haste to vouch for the truth of such a ridiculous mass of misrepresentation and distorted facts as was the Advertiser's communication.

As there has been so much disputing concerning Byfield we concluded to visit it ourself, and recently did so; we propose to state what we saw in a future article, as this one is already longer than we can well admit,—and the matter will keep.

HISTORY OF THE WAR IN EUROPE. The National Publishing Co., of Philadelphia, has just issued a very valuable history of the late war between Germany and France, from the pen of one of our most popular writers, Mr. James D. McCabe, Jr. In a large volume of 700 octavo pages, the author tells a wonderful story—all the stranger because of its truth. He tells of battles which have shaken Europe to its centre, and the consequences of which, even we of the western world must feel; of patriotism, heroism, military skill and statesmanship, never surpassed in history. The author writes with the weight and force of truth, and the great merits of his book are its reliability and impartiality.

The book is complete in every particular. It describes the causes of the war, and the events which preceded it; the opening campaign, the first reverses of the French, their effect, the frantic effort to rescue the beaten army, and the terrible disaster of Sedan; the capture of the Emperor Napoleon, and an entire army; the Revolution in Paris; the rise and formation of the Republic; the flight of the Empress from Paris; the seige of Strasbourg and the frontier fortresses of France; the triumphal advance of the German armies to Paris; the efforts of Bazaine to escape from Metz, and the final surrender of his army; the investment and seige of Paris; the detailed history of this great seige; its plans, sorties, battles, successes and failures; the course of events in the beleagured city, given in the form of a full diary of the events of the siege; the campaigns on the Loire, and in other portions of France, the peace negotiations, the surrender of Paris, and the treaty; the naval history of the war; the diplomatic history on both the German and French sides; the history of the formation of the great German Empire; the proclaiming of King William Emperor, and the realization of German unity; the events of the civil war and second siege of Paris, its terrible scenes of bloodshed and vandalism, with a minuteness, graphicness and brilliancy, which leaves nothing to be desired. No intelligent person can afford to be uninformed as to these events which have left so deep an impression on the world's history, and few will fail to read this splendid work; or, having read it, to endorse it as the Standard American History of the War.

In this age of sensational literature, we cannot too highly commend this brilliant and thoughtful narrative to our readers. The book is handsomely bound, and illustrated with 150 maps, portraits, battle scenes, and views of the principal localities connected with the war. No expense has been spared by the publishers to make it worthy of the support of the public, and we predict for it an immense sale, especially as its low price brings it within the reach of all. It is for sale by subscription only, and Mr. C. A. Bosworth, who is the authorized agent for this section, is now canvassing for it.

A NARROW ESCAPE.—At the Eastern depot, Monday morning, a young lady of this city endeavored to get on the 8.25 train for Boston while it was in motion. A passenger on the platform took her by the hand but she was thrown down about two feet from the wheels, fortunately falling away from the car instead of towards it. She was assisted in rising by the bystanders, being unhurt but much frightened—and probably will be less willing to risk her life carelessly again.

AT THE LAST SESSION of the Board of Aldermen, the committee who were directed to ascertain the cause of the stench from the North Mill Pond contented themselves by reporting that "inadequate sewerage" was the cause.

Correspondence.

KITTERY ME., Sept. 11.

THE PRAISE MEETINGS carried on by the union of the three religious Societies of Kittery at their several churches alternately, are becoming very enjoyable features of public worship and are attended by very large congregations, one being held on the last Sabbath evening of each month. The one in August was to have been with the Universalist Society, but was postponed till last evening, when their new chapel was crowded; Rev. Messrs. Bicknell of the Universalist and Hutchinson of the Christian Societies led in the Scripture selections, and Rev. A. W. Pottle of the M. E. Church in the singing, the whole being extremely interesting and inspiring. The next Praise meeting will be with the M. E. Society, on the last Sunday of this month.

WM. HORACE LINGARD, the original "Captain Jinks," will give an entertainment at the Temple on Wednesday evening, Sept. 20, assisted by a select Comedy Company, including the charming actress and vocalist, Miss Alice Dunning, and Miss Dickie Lingard. Morning Chronicle.

AN OLD CRIME UNEARTHED.—A skeleton has been found in Unionville, on the Harlem Railroad, under the site of a house formerly occupied by Ephraim Jones, shoemaker, one of whose apprentices, named Brown, mysteriously disappeared about 20 years ago. The remains are supposed to be those of Brown. A coroner's inquest has been held and Jones examined. Several admissions made by him are regarded as strongly confirmatory of the suspicions entertained against him. When the skeleton was disinterred Jones was asked to look at it, but no persuasion could induce him to do so. Mr. Jones is now upwards of 70 years old.

POLITICAL.

The Boston Times is out square for General Butler. Witness the following: "Butler is a good enough Christian for us. He will return good for evil when he is elected, for he is as sure to be governor as election day comes round. The 'cliques' and 'rings' and 'clubs' refuse to go for Butler now, but when he is elected he will go for them. They are all afraid of this muscular Christian for that very reason."

NO ONE TO COMPLAIN.—A portable engine situated outside of the main building of the Cincinnati Water Works exploded Sunday morning, instantly killing the engineer. There were 121 pounds of steam on at the time and the engineer had been admonished not to put on more than 90 pounds.

MR. SAMPSON reports that his Chinese shoemakers at North Adams, Mass. have saved him $40,000 in the year he has given to experiment in Celestial labor.

THE FUNERAL of the late James Renforth at Newcastle-on-Tyne was attended by nearly 100,000 people, Sunday.

PUBLIC LIBRARY OF KENTUCKY.

The Concert and Distribution will take place under the immediate supervision of the Trustees named in the act of incorporation.

The trustees will be assisted by prominent, well-known and eminent citizens of Kentucky, who have consented to be present at the concert and to superintend the drawing and distribution of gifts.

The holders of tickets to which gifts are awarded will be paid on presentation of them or their fraction, at the office in Louisville, the second day after drawing, and every business day for six months thereafter, and may be sent direct or through any Bank or Express Co., for collection. All orders accompanied by Drafts, Post Office Money Orders, or Greenbacks, will be promptly attended to and tickets returned by mail, registered or expressed, as desired.

Tickets are like Greenbacks—good only to the holder.

Buyers will note that there are only One Hundred Thousand Tickets, instead of Two Hundred Thousand, as in the San Francisco Gift Concert; and that there is $550,000 more distributed. I sold that and made the awards in four months and paid $488 000 to ticket holders from November 2nd to 15th, 1870, and turned over $12,000 to the Secretary due tickets not presented.

It will be particularly noticed that it is a matter of impossibility for any one to know what numbers draw gifts, as it is not known what the gift of any number drawn from the first wheel will be, until the sealed box, with amount of the gift plainly printed, is taken from the other wheel and opened in full view of the audience. Therefore the larger gifts may not come out until towards last, or in the middle of the drawing. The $100,000 gift in the San Francisco Gift Concert under the management of C. E. PETERS, was the 260th number drawn, and was awarded and paid to a gentleman in New Orleans. 721 Gifts is all that can be drawn on any day.

☞ The Number and Gifts are drawn by blind children from 8 to 14 years of age.

The Drawing will be extensively published, and parties ordering Tickets will have printed lists sent them. Parties forming Clubs and desiring information will please address this office.

11 Tickets for $100; 28 Tickets, $255; 56 Tickets, $500; 113 Tickets, $1000.

The undersigned, late principal business manager of the very successful Mercantile Library Gift Concert at San Francisco, California, has been appointed agent and manager of the Gift Concert in aid of the Public Library of Kentucky.

The drawing will take place in public, and everything will be managed in the interest of those that their interests will be as well protected as if they personally superintended the entire affair.

BANNER OF DRAWING.

There will be two glass wheels. One wheel will contain 100,000 numbers, plainly printed on leather tags. The other wheel will contain 721 boxes, each containing a gift. One tag in number will be drawn from the 100,000 wheel, and the first box drawn from the second or 721 box wheel will contain a gift, usually printed and sealed up, and the gift so drawn from the second wheel will be the gift of the tag first drawn, whether $100, $1000, or $100,000.

14,364 Tickets Disposed of in July.

To insure ticket holders, the public are assured that if only 50,000 tickets are sold only 25,000 numbers go in the large wheel, the 721 gifts awarded but diminished pro rata. In case 75,000 tickets only are sold, only numbers 1 to 50,000 go in the large wheel, and the 721 gifts diminished one-half; and in case only 85,000 tickets are sold the entire 721 gifts will be paid in full—it being intended that no unsold tickets shall participate.

The Manager has already paid into the Citizen's Bank $50,000 towards defraying the expenses, and does not depend on sale of tickets to pay his expenses of Printing, Advertising, &c. The public are invited to the utmost scrutiny as to the reliability of the entire affair.

Persons desirous of acting as agents for the sale of tickets in any city in United States or Canadas, address

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS,

Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,

Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Root and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. lyrdawfeb16

ARE YOU GOING TO PAINT?

—IF SO, USE THE—

AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT.

It is Cheaper, Handsomer and more durable than the best of other Paints. One Thousand gallons of it were sold in this City, in the year 1870, and not one complaint has come from those who have used it; but all speak in its favor; it is mixed ready for application, and is much easier put on than any other Paint, making a smooth, glossy surface for years, that can be cleaned with hot suds without injuring it. It is excellent for walls inside, in the place of paper.

I shall keep this season a large stock of Chemical Paints of all shades on hand, to accommodate customers with any amount, without delay in ordering it. Those who want to use the Chemical Paints and have had them misrepresented by those who deal in Lead and Oil, are invited to call and examine my Paints that have been on Buildings two years, and you will find them as fresh as if laid but one month.

I am prepared to do Painting by Contract, or by the day, using the Chemical Paint, or furnishing good experienced workmen by the day at very low wages. B. NORTON, only Agent for selling the

A MODERN RIP VAN WINKLE.—The days of romance are not quite departed. Now and then incidents are brought to light rivalling the labored fabrications of the novelists, possessing the additional element of truth, and giving in a dozen lines or so the pith of a regular-built novel.

We are informed that a man named David Hilliard mysteriously disappeared from this vicinity about fifty years ago, and notwithstanding diligent effort were for a time made by his relatives to ascertain his whereabouts, no trace of him could be found. After a while his strange disappearance was accepted as a matter of fact, and thought not entirely forgotten, yet his friends ceased to expect his return. Judge, then, of their surprise when a man claiming to be David Hilliard presented himself a few days since. It seems that all this long time he has been engaged in the occupation of farming, no farther off than the State of Maine, from whence he came to "make a visit to his old home." He had never seen a railroad until about a year ago, having lived in a part of the State not penetrated by the iron horse. When he left this place he also left a little child, and returns to find that child a grandmother. In the long interval between his going and returning, what changes have taken place in his native town! The railroad, telegraph, steamships, lightning printing press, all were unknown fifty years ago.

The little town of Pittsfield has made great progress since David Hilliard turned his back upon home and friends, half a century ago.—Pittsfield Times.

WENT FOR HIM.—A rough-looking specimen of humanity was recently promenading up Chatham street, New York, when a Jew, a specimen of his race, about whom there is no mistake. Without a word of warning, the rough knocked him sprawling into the gutter. Picking himself up, and taking his bleeding nose between his finger and thumb, he demanded an explanation.

"Shut up; I'll bust yer agin?" shouted the aggressor, approaching him again.

"I have never done notings mit you, and what for you mash me in the nose?" asked Abraham.

"Yes yer have; yer Jews crusified Jesus Christ, and I have a mind to go for you agin."

"But mine Cott, dat vash eighteen hundred years ago," said the Jew.

"Well, I don't care if it was; I only heard it [illegible] yesterday," and he went for him again.

NOVELTY CLOTHES WRINGER.

Nothing, except the Sewing Machine, has ever been invented which so much relieves the labor of the household as the Wringer. But its usefulness does not end here. The saving of clothing is of much greater importance. It is often remarked that articles of fine texture, last twice as long when wrung in a Wringer as when wrung by hand. The NOVELTY has Cog-wheels on both ends. * * The rolls are allowed to separate at either end. These, besides other advantages which it contains, seem to be indispensable to a practical wringer.—New York Independent.

The Novelty Wringer has become an indispensable institution in thousands of families. And we believe its great and increasing popularity is fully merited—for the Novelty evidently possesses all the requisites of a first-class, practical machine.—Indeed, after using one for many months in our own family, we are prepared to indorse the Novelty as unsurpassed (the laundress says unequalled) by any of the several wringers previously tried.—Moore's Rural New Yorker.

PSYCHOMANCY is derived from the Greek, signifying the power of the soul, spirit or mind, and is the basis of all human knowledge. Psychomancy is the title of a new work of 400 pages, by HERBERT HAMILTON, B. A., giving full instruction in the science of Soul Charming and Psychologic Fascination; how to exert this wonderful power over men or animals instantaneously, at will. It teaches Mesmerism, how to become Trance or Writing Mediums, Divination, Spiritualism, Alchemy, Philosophy of omens and Dreams, Brigham Young's Harem, Guide to Marriage, &c. This is the only book in the English language professing to teach this occult power, and is of immense advantage to the Merchants, Lawyers, Physicians, and especially to Lovers, in securing the affections of the opposite sex, and all seeking riches or happiness. WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 13, 1871.

MAINE ELECTION.

Gov. Perham's majority will be nearly 11,000—a gain of 2500 from last year.

We regret to learn that John E. Butler, Esq., of the Biddeford Journal is defeated for Senator. In accordance with suggestions from Portland, an organization of the toadies of Congressman John Lynch, who ran more than 500 votes behind his ticket at the last election, was perfected throughout York county. The plan was for the leaders to work slyly and vote the straight ticket, but to secure the cutting of Mr. Butler's name from the rest of the ticket by ten persons in each town except Biddeford, Saco and South Berwick. The result is that although the Republican county ticket has 300 majority, Mr. Butler loses 450 votes, and the legislature will choose between the two higher candidates, Messrs. Cole and Thompson, copperheads. We presume the factions will now quit their strife if they desire the Republican party to continue its triumphs, nominate Gen. M. F. Wentworth for the next candidate for Congress, and unite in giving him a rousing majority.

We are glad to chronicle the election of Capt. John H. Burleigh as Representative for South Berwick, elected by the towns of South Berwick and Eliot. Capt. B. was in his earlier days known as a shipmaster from this port. He has before represented these towns ably in the Legislature, and they have done themselves credit in again returning him.

POLITICAL.

The Jackson Pilot says the Republican party of Mississippi is to-day stronger than ever before, more compact, more determined and better organized, and that its success in the coming campaign is certain beyond all contingency.

Senator Cameron is in Washington and gives most favorable accounts of Republican prospects in Pennsylvania. There are some differences there now, but he thinks all will be reconciled long before the election. Having looked carefully into political matters in that State, he is confident of a great victory next fall.

"The silk stocking party" is the name given by the Washington Republican to those who oppose General Butler for Governor of Massachusetts.

Judge Chase is in perfect health. But the party to which he looks for promotion is very sick.

The Louisville Courier-Journal says of Caldwell, the leader of the Louisville Bourbons: "He plays an uncommon square, close game of draw poker, settles promptly and seldom swears or bluffs."

Two Young Scoundrels.—William Carroll and John Harrington, the two Boston boys who tried to throw the Erie express train off the track last month, attempted on Wednesday to break jail at Milford, Penn. They were unsuccessful, and the sheriff shackled them together and chained them to the floor. Friday morning the jailer entered their cell and found Carroll gone and the shackles of Harrington nearly filed off. The latter said his companion had taken the damper off the stove in the cell and with its rough edge and powdered brick-dust succeeded, after working steadily until 3 A. M., in cutting the iron that bound him. He then began to free Harrington, but found that he could not accomplished that task before morning, and was urged by the latter to make his own escape. He crawled through the opening they had made in the window on Wednesday, and has not since been heard of. He is only 14 years old.

A Real Horror.—A farmer named Shannon was locked up at Amboy, Illinois, on the 2d inst., on a charge of contempt of court. That night the jail took fire and as the forked flames neared the cell of the imprisoned man, he implored to be let out, but the inexorable turnkey was deaf to his cries, and heeded not the entreaties of the multitude, but actually stood by and saw the man roasted to death. Such a man as that should be rammed in a Rodman gun and shot into the hottest corner lot of Hades.

The Directors of the Republican Press Association held a meeting at Concord, Monday. Hon. George G. Fogg was chosen political editor, and Rossitor Johnson and P. B. Cogswell associate editors. The weekly paper will be called the Independent Statesman, while the daily paper will continue the name of the Concord Daily Monitor. The association will go into operation the first of October.

BASE BALL.

In the Red-Stocking-Athletic game on Saturday, McVey, catcher of the Bostons, was badly hurt in the first inning by a sharp foul tip from Reach's bat, which split his left eye-brow and caused the suspension of the game for about fifteen minutes. McVey, however, pluckily resumed his place, amid the applause of the crowd and with a bandage over his eye.

At the end of the fifth inning, the game stood eleven to five in the favor of the Athletics. The sixth inning was a very exciting one. Before the Bostons were put out they had made six runs, tieing the game. The Athletics made three, however, and kept in the van, 14 to 11.

No runs were made on either side in the seventh and eighth innings, and the Bostons were to the bat for the last time with three to tie. Harry was first, and for the fifth time was given his base on called balls. George got a safe one, and Barnes was to first on called balls, Harry coming in on a passed ball. Birdsall and McVey were out on foul bounds, and Spalding got his first on a muff by Radcliff. Three bases full and Gould to the bat. Tremendous cheers from the crowd. Gould got a safe one, and as Schafer followed him with two bases, George, Barnes and Spalding came in, putting the Bostons ahead. Cheers and embraces. Barrows made his first safe hit, bringing in Gould and Schafer, and Harry got first on a muff. George came up and hit to Meyerle, who put Barrows out, at third. The Bostons were now three ahead, and the crowd was uproarious and could be hardly restrained from crowding the players. Cuthbert was first to the bat and expired at left to Barrows, and Malone was captured by Birdsall on a difficult foul. Radcliff had a life given him by Schafer on a foul bound, but bit high to Barrows and wheeled out in good style. The crowd were frantic and surrounded the victors so that they could hardly move to the house. The umpire was partial to the Athletics in many instances.

	Games. Lost.	Games. Won.	Series. Lost.	Series. Won.
Chicago,	8	17	0	3
Boston,	9	15	0	3
Athletic,	9	17	1	3

Rockford,	18	10	3	0
Keokoups,	13	6	0	1

A week ago the Bostons were fourth on the list, but are now second.

Harpers Mayazine for October contains contributions from Bayard Taylor, Petroleum V. Nasby, R. H. Horne, General R. B. Marcy, Eugene Lawrence, Prof. James De Mille, author of "The Dodge Club," and Colonel Thorpe. "The Yale College Expedition of 1870," by C. A. Betts—another illustrated paper—gives an example of the character of College Scientific Explorations when conducted under the best auspices. In "Hannah Jane," Petroleum V. Nasby appears in a new role, as a poet. The poem, in which "Abel Merriweather, Representative in Congress from the Thirty-third District in Indiana—Lawyer, Writer, Orator—solves one Social Problem," is characteristic, and full of feeling. It is accompanied by four excellent illustrations. "The American Baron" is continued, and two excellent short stories are given—"Teddy's Triumph," by Mrs. Mary T. Waggaman, and "Faint Heart," by Mary N. Prescott. The Easy Chair comments on the character and writings of Sir Walter Scott, and gives a humorous description of "The New Traveling Panorama in Arcadia." The Scientific Record, in addition to numerous valuable articles, contains a concise Summary of Scientific Progress since June 1. For sale by Wm. B. Lowd, Jos. H. Foster, Foster Shores & Co., E. G. Adams.

A Washington Correspondent relates the particulars of a recent discovery that relieves Vermont of the odium of having been a slaveholding commonwealth. In the original census returns of 1790 sixteen colored persons were mentioned as free blacks; but the clerk in transcribing the census for the printer put them under the head of slaves, and the error has been repeated in all the following histories.

Horace Greeley is reported to have said at Chicago: "If we nominate Grant, we shall certainly be defeated."

If we nominate Greeley we certainly deserve to be defeated. How high is that, Horace?

The Springfield Republican compares Butler to Barnum. There is this resemblance—that both have stirred up the wild beasts; both have exposed to view arrant humbugs — Barnum the wooly horse, and Butler the Springfield Republican.—Boston News.

Naval.—U. S. S. Kansas arrived at Philadelphia last week, from this port. She is to obtain recruits there and an improved instrument for deep-sea soundings, and will then sail for Central America.

The Secretary of the Navy has issued the following judicious order:—

General Order No. 159. For a more economical administration of the naval service, dated August 29, 1870, having been from various causes relaxed to some extent during the past year, is hereby renewed, and will be hereafter conformed to with modifications as follows:—

From and after the 1st of October next, no retired officer of the navy, above the rank of lieutenant-commander, except naval constructors, shall be assigned or remain upon regular active duty except as a member of the light-house board and at the naval asylum, and the regular term of duty for retired officers ordered to or remaining upon duty on said board or at the asylum, shall not be held to exceed two years without special orders therefor. All officers coming within the above provisions, now on active duty, are relieved from the 1st day of October next, except those on the Light House Board or in command at the naval asylum or of navy-yards or stations, who will be relieved upon the reporting of the officers ordered for their relief. The second section of General Order No. 159 is hereby rescinded. The third section of General Order No. 159 will remain in force.

The boards for examination of officers for promotion and for the retired list are hereby consolidated into one, and will hereafter consist of not more than five members.

No more officers shall be ordered to the several navy-yards and stations than will be necessary to discharge the duties required there, unless when they are ordered for the purpose of exercise and instruction.

This order is made after careful considerations, and it is believed to be in accordance with the spirit of existing laws and necessary for the welfare of the service, and it will not be relaxed in any instance.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

We would not recommend the frequent or constant use of any medicine. It is important to take even a good article judiciously. Parson's Purgative Pills are safe, prompt, and reliable as a laxative or cathartic.

Base Ball is undoubtedly good exercise and capital amusement, but it often occasions bunged eyes, broken shins and blistered hands. We can tell you that in all such cases if Johnson's Anodyne Liniment is resorted to, it will reduce the swelling and stop the pain.

Influence of Temperature on Health.

In the fall the difference between the temperature of night and day is greater than at any other time of the year. In the early autumn the quicksilver sometimes rises as high during the day as in the most fervid summer weather; while at night it often sinks to an almost wintry point. The human body not being made of steel or India rubber, sensibly feels these tremendous changes. To fortify the system against them, a genuine tonic is required; and the public has long since discovered that among this description of medicines Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is infinitely the best. It gently quickens the circulation, regulates the bowels, tones the liver, braces the nerves, and thus puts the whole physique on its defence against the vicissitude of temperature in our climate. Few, if any cases of epidemic fever are heard of in localities where it is in common use. As it becomes more and more widely known, and the demand for it increases, chills and fever, and the bilious remittent seem to recede before it, and if ever it should come into universal use, these diseases would cease to be known as the scourges of our low-lying and marshy districts. That homely bit of proverbial philosophy, that "prevention is better than cure," should be especially borne in mind in the autumn months: and indeed in all seasons, together with the fact, that among all the preventatives of malarious diseases, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is the most safe and potent.

Be certain, however, to obtain the genuine article, as countless imitations of a pernicious character are abroad. See that the externals are all right, and remember that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is sold in bottles alone.

The Cause and Cure of Consumption.

The primary cause of Consumption is derangement of the digestive organs. The derangement produces deficient nutrition and assimilation. By assimilation I mean that process by which the nutriment of the food is converted into blood, and thence into the solids of the body. Persons with digestion thus impaired, having the slightest predispposition to pulmonary disease, or if they take cold, will be very liable to have Consumption of the Lungs in some or its forms; and I hold that it will be impossible to cure any case of Consumption without first restoring a good digestion and healthy assimilation. The very first thing to be done is to cleanse the stomach and bowels from all diseased mucous and slime which is clogging these organs so that they cannot perform their functions, and then rouse up and restore the liver to a healthy action. For this purpose, the surest and best remedy is SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS. These Pills cleanse the stomach and bowels of all the dead and morbid slime that is causing disease and decay in the whole system. They will clear out the liver of all diseased bile that has accumulated there, and arouse it up to a new and healthy action, by which natural and healthy bile is secreted.

The stomach, bowels and liver are thus cleansed by the use of Schenck's Mandrake Pills; but there remains in the stomach an excess of acid, the organ is torpid, and the appetite is poor. In the bowels, the lacteals are weak, and requiring strength and support. It is in a condition like this that Schenck's Seaweed Tonic proves to be the most valuable remedy ever discovered. It is alkaline, and its use will neutralize all excess of acid, making the stomach sweet and fresh; it will give permanent tone to the important organ, and create a good, hearty appetite, and prepare the system for the first process of a good digestion, and ultimately make good, healthy, living blood. After this preparatory treatment, what remains to cure most cases of consumption is the free and persevering use of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup. The Pulmonic Syrup nourishes the system, purifies the blood, and is readily absorbed into the circulation, and thence distributed to the diseased lungs. There it ripens all morbid matters, whether in the form of abscesses or tubercles, and then assists Nature to expel all the diseased matter in the form of free expectoration, when once it ripens. It is then, by the great healing and purifying properties of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, that all ulcers and cavities are healed up sound, and my patient is cured.

The essential thing to be done in curing Consumption is to get up a good appetite and a good digestion, so that the body will grow in flesh and get strong. If a person has diseased lungs, a cavity or abscess there, the cavity cannot heal, the matter cannot ripen, so long as the system is below par. What is necessary to cure is a new order of things; a good appetite, a good nutrition, the body to grow in flesh and get fat; then Nature is helped, the cavities will heal, the matter will ripen and be thrown off in large quantities, and the person regains health and strength. This is the true and only plan to cure Consumption, and if a person is very bad, it the lungs are not entirely destroyed, or even if one lung is entirely gone, if there is enough vitality left in the other to heal up, there is hope.

I have seen many persons cured with only one sound lung, live and enjoy life as a good old age. This is what Schenck's medicines will do to cure Consumption. They will clean out the stomach, sweeten and strengthen it, get up a good digestion, and give Nature the assistance she needs to cure the system of all the disease that is in the lungs, whatever the form may be.

It is important that, while using Schenck's medicines, care should be exercised not to take cold; keep in-doors in cold and damp weather; avoid night air, and take out-door exercise only in a genial and warm sunshine.

I wish it distinctly understood that when I recommend a patient to be careful in regard to taking cold while using my medicines, I do so for a special reason. A man who has but partially recovered from the effects of a bad cold is far more liable to a relapse than one who has been entirely cured, and it is precisely the same in regard to consumption. So long as the lungs are not perfectly healed, just so long is there imminent danger of a full return of the disease. Hence it is that I so strenuously caution pulmonary patients against exposing themselves to an atmosphere that is not genial and pleasant. Confirmed consumptives' lungs are a mass of sores, which the least change of atmosphere will inflame. The grand secret of my success with my medicines consists in my ability to subdue inflammation instead of provoking it, as many of the faculty do. An inflamed lung cannot with safety to life, allow to be exposed to the biting blasts of winter or the chilling winds of spring or autumn. It should be carefully shielded from all irritating influence. The utmost caution should be observed in this particular, and yet there is a cure under almost any circumstances is an impossibility.

The person should be kept on a wholesome and nutricious diet, and all the medicines administered until the body has restored to it the natural quantity of flesh and strength.

I was myself cured by this treatment of the worst kind of Consumption, and have lived to get fat and hearty these many years, with one lung and one shade of color with the greatest certainty and in the shortest space of time. This famous article has

Influence of Temperature on Health.

In the fall the difference between the temperature of night and day is greater than at any other time of the year. In the early autumn the quicksilver sometimes rises as high during the day as in the most fervid summer weather; while at night it often sinks to an almost wintry point. The human body not being made of steel or India rubber, sensibly feels these tremendous changes. To fortify the system against them, a genuine tonic is required; and the public has long since discovered that among this description of medicines Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is infinitely the best. It gently quickens the circulation, regulates the bowels, tones the liver, braces the nerves, and thus puts the whole physique on its defence against the vicissitude of temperature in our climate. Few, if any cases of epidemic fever are heard of in localities where it is in common use. As it becomes more and more widely known, and the demand for it increases, chills and fever, and the bilious remittent seem to recede before it, and if ever it should come into universal use, these diseases would cease to be known as the scourges of our low-lying and marshy districts. That homely bit of proverbial philosophy, that "prevention is better than cure," should be especially borne in mind in the autumn months: and indeed in all seasons, together with the fact, that among all the preventatives of malarious diseases, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is the most safe and potent.

Be certain, however, to obtain the genuine article, as countless imitations of a pernicious character are abroad. See that the externals are all right, and remember that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is sold in bottles alone.

THEATRE.—Our citizens are offered a nice entertainment for this evening by the Boston Comedy Company, Miss Kate Reignolds appearing as Lillie Ayers in "Pink and White Tyranny." The following letter from the authoress tells its own story:—

To Miss KATE REIGNOLDS:

Dear Madam,—

I was delighted and surprised to see how much your adaptation had made of it. All along are points that could be made so very effective, and the admixture of the playful and pathetic is so skillful. Your management of the character of Lillie is that of a master. By the subtile sympathy of woman with woman, you have divined the almost hidden capacity of good in her, and her interview with Harry and the way she turns the tables on him is magnificent. I may safely say this, for that is your blossom from my seed.

The last scene, as you have arranged it, is quite overcoming, and you will have a telling effect.

Yours cordially, H. B. STOWE.

THE SECRETARY OF THE NAVY had a reception at the Navy Yard, Tuesday morning, the marine corps turning out in full ranks, marching to the music of Harlow's Band, which the people pay $8500 for to amuse the Naval Officers over the river, annually. The officers on duty at the Station were present in uniform, and the Department foremen and clerks were duly presented to Secretary Robeson, who seems to be a favorite among all classes, Republicans not forgetting that through his exertions the State of New Jersey last year wheeled into line as a member of the Republican phalanx.

Senator Patterson, New Hampshire's favorite orator, and Senator Cattell, of New Jersey, Gouverner Kimball of West Point, and many other notables were present, and the guests of Commodore Pennock had a joyous time. A salute of fifteen guns was fired in honor of the distinguished visitor.

You require, my boy, some filling out,
You're thin, and meagre-looking;
Lager would give you the proper size.
Look at the host, he once was scant,
His BEER has made of flesh no want,
Go thou and drink likewise.

TRAVELLING EXPERIENCE.

BY DONN PIATT.

I never left a depot yet that somebody was not put under my care. I don't know why this is; I suppose it is something in my countenance; if I knew what, I would have it extracted. I don't like having unprotected females and school boys and girls turned over to me. It's a little hard on a man. And what is the good of it! Nobody needs protection; if any one does, it is a benevolent, good-looking, innocent sort of man—such as the writer of this.

I was leaving on the morning train once from Philadelphia, when a respectable looking old scoundrel in gold-rimmed glasses asked me to take charge of his daughter. She could have taken charge of me. She was thirty if a day, with a face that had been on the offensive for ten years. I'd like to see any man attack that woman; I'd go odds ten to one on the scratch.

The old fellow seemed to be in a great hurry, and thrusting the lady under my arm left the cars and drove off. In a thin, angular voice, that was meant to be very sweet and was not, she asked me to take her pocket-book and get the necessary ticket. I left the car for that purpose, but when I approached the opening where the ticket agent, kept in solitary confinement, snaps at the world outside, I found that I had left my pocket-book under my pillow at the hotel, and what was worse, my watch with it. I had about twenty minutes, and jumping into a hack I promised the driver ten dollars if he would get to the hotel and back in time for the train. He started off at a furious rate, ran over an apple stand, crippled a venerable gentleman on the corner opposite, and in less than the time stated I and the driver found ourselves marched off to the station in the hands of the police. We were taken before a corpulent Justice of the Peace, who had as much adipose in his head as most men carry about their muscles, and it took the old fellow just two hours to try, reprimand and fine us for our drunken and disorderly conduct. Of course the train went off with my charmer. It went off without her pocket-book. I never saw her again, although I made diligent search and advertised in the daily papers. But one unfortunate day, some months after, I encountered a male member of her family, who made some serious charges against me connected with the desertion of a lady and stealing her pocket-book. I tried to explain, but, failing to get my words in satisfactorily, was forced to make an assault on this member of her family, that ended in some black eyes and bloody noses.

Now what was the good of putting that aged female under my care? It only led to her giving me that pocket-book and the catastrophe that followed. She could just as well have gone off on the Pennsylvania Central without as with me.—The thing is an outrage. If people want to put their females under the care of anybody, let them try the conductors—they are hired for such purposes—and not impose upon innocent passengers.

I was reminded of this by an adventure that happened to me the other night in New York. I was about leaving on the 9 o'clock train for Washington, when a man who was in search of me approached. I know he was in search of me. He was in search of some respectable, benevolent individual to put a woman under his care. And he did. She happened to be rather good-looking, and I didn't object in a violent way, but I was neither very graceful or gracious over the compliment. When I came to secure sections in the sleeping car, I found that a delegation of pious people were going to Washington on some charitable business, and had taken nearly all the berths. I procured two—at least I thought I had—and marched my female with her two carpet-sacks, strap-satchel, a mocking bird, and a silk umbrella, with a waterproof and two shawls done up in straps, into 161. When we arrived inside, I learned for the first time that my unprotected female could not abide the sleeping-cars. She said she felt like suffocating, and I wished secretly she would suffocate; but when we came to occupy our berths I made two disagreeable discoveries. The first was that the two tickets called for the same berth; the other, that this was the upper one. My female friend said positively that she could not get into that berth. I informed her that it was her only chance to sleep, and she told me that she would rather sit up. I then gave her the further information that was very well, but in a sleeping-car there was no place to sit except on a wash-basin, and that I thought would be rather inconvenient. At last, with the aid of a step-ladder, and the steward, and two pious old Pomps, my unprotected female was boosted into her roost, and the curtains drawn over her for the night.

Then came the question as to what had become of the undersigned. I consulted the conductor and the steward, and had the satisfaction of hearing the fact stated that if I had told them earlier the blunder might have been remedied. But, as I was, the pious delegation had retired for the night, and all the berths were occupied. The conductor, however, told me that he would try and make some arrangement, and then went off about his business.

A drunken man had been captured on the platform as we started, where he was found addressing the stars in a vociferous way, the sleeping-car ticket fished out of his pocket, and the inebriate fellow chucked into an upper berth. I was leaning against the wash-stand of the car in a very melancholy way some time after, when this intoxicated fellow stuck his head out and, addressing me, said:

"I would like to have a drink."

"Water?" said I.

"No, curse it, darn water! I want some whiskey; I am dry as a chip."

"Well," I responded, "I am sorry to say that I have none about me."

"Ain't you the conductor?"

"No," I responded, "I don't believe I am."

"Nor do I. If you were the conductor you would have something to drink. Where is the conductor?"

I told him he was in the other car.

"Well," he said, "I have a great mind to get up and hustle around till I get a drink."

"My Christian friend," I said, "there is nothing in the constitution nor the sixteen amendments that prohibits you from getting up and hunting a drink, if you want it."

Whereupon the inebriated individual rolled out of the berth. He rolled into several others and was promptly ejected, and at last, getting his legs, disappeared at the further end of the car.

I took in the situation at a glance.—Here was a berth vacant. Above it was a white hat. I immediately removed that white hat. I carried it further along and put it over a Christian association, who was lost in the sleep of innocence and peace, and then returning I ensconced myself in the berth vacated by the man who had a constitutional right to a drink. I was dropping into a slumber, for I always sleep on a car devoted to that business and invented by Mr. Pullman; the motion has the same effect upon my brain that rocking has upon a child, and I not only sleep easily but profoundly. In a few moments I should have been beyond all disturbances, but it happened I was awakened out of my first wink by a row in an adjoining section. There seemed to be a pitched battle going on between one of the delegates and a man who claimed the berth to be the one he just vacated. I heard him say, "Now get out of that;" and he called the good man the offspring of a female dog, adding thereto some very profane language. The conductor came to the rescue of the weary delegate, and when the man called attention to the fact of the white hat, he puzzled him sorely by showing him two or three white hats further along in the same car. At this the inebriate passenger desisted, but as the conductor's back was turned renewed the fight with the next white hat, insisting just as positively that that was his berth, and with the same profane and violent language and scuffle. He was repulsed only to begin again, and he kept fighting these good Christian gentlemen who were so unfortunate as to have white hats, until I fell asleep and dreamed till morning of my earlier youth—of the church not round the corner but in the glen, where the forest trees brushed against the windows, and the sunlight came down as if in response to the prayers of the beautiful maidens, and snowy headed fathers of the land. I only awoke when entering the sinful city of Washington.

721 Prizes in all	$550,000

After paying the expenses of the enterprise and making the distribution of the Gifts, the balance of the proceeds arising from the sale of tickets will be appropriated to the establishment of a

FREE LIBRARY IN LOUISVILLE, TO BE CALLED THE

PUBLIC LIBRARY OF KENTUCKY.

The Concert and Distribution will take place under the immediate supervision of the Trustees named in the act of incorporation.

The trustees will be assisted by prominent, well-known and eminent citizens of Kentucky, who have consented to be present at the concert and to superintend the drawing and distribution of gifts.

The holders of tickets to which gifts are awarded will be paid on presentation of them or their fraction, at the office in Louisville, the second day after drawing, and the business day for six months thereafter, and may be sent direct or through any Bank or Express Co., for collection. All orders accompanied by Drafts, Post Office Money Orders, or Greenbacks, will be promptly attended to and tickets returned by mail, registered or expressed, as desired.

Tickets are like Greenbacks—good only to the holder.

Buyers will note that there are only One Hundred Thousand Tickets, instead of Two Hundred Thousand, as in the San Francisco Gift Concert, and that there is $50,000 more distributed. I sold that and made the awards in five months and paid $488 000 to ticket holders from November 2nd to 15th, 1870, and turned over $12,000 to the Secretary due tickets not presented.

It will be particularly noticed that it is a matter of impossibility for any one to know what number been drawn prize, as it is not known what the gift or any number drawn from the first wheel will be, until the sealed box, with amount of the gift plainly printed, is taken from the other wheel and opened in full view of the audience. Therefore the larger gifts may not come out until towards last, or in the middle of the drawing. The $100,000 gift in the San Francisco Gift Concert under the management of C. R. PETERS, was the 20th number drawn, and was awarded and paid to a gentleman in New Orleans. 721 Gifts is all that can be drawn in one day.

☞ The Number and Gifts are drawn by blind children from 8 to 14 years of age.

The Drawing will be extensively published, and parties entering Tickets will have printed lists sent them. Parties forming Clubs and desiring information will please address this office.

11 Tickets for $100; 28 Tickets, $255; 56 Tickets, $500; 113 Tickets, $1000.

The undersigned, late principal business manager of the very successful Mercantile Library Gift Concert at San Francisco, California, has been appointed agent and manager of the Gift Concert in aid of the Public Library of Kentucky.

The drawing will take place in public, and everything will be done to satisfy buyers of tickets that their interests will be as well protected as if they personally superintended the entire affair.

MANNER OF DRAWING.

There will be two glass wheels. One wheel will contain 100,000 numbers, plainly printed on large blank tickets. The other wheel will contain 721 boxes, each containing a gift. One tag or number will be drawn from the 100,000 wheel, and the first box drawn from the second or 721 box wheel will contain a gift, neatly printed and sealed up, and the gift so drawn from the second wheel will be the gift of the tag first drawn, whether $100, $1000, or $100,000.

14,364 Tickets Disposed of in July.

To insure ticket holders, the public are assured that if only 25,000 tickets are sold only 25,000 numbers go in the large wheel, the 721 gifts awarded, but diminished pro rata. In case 50,000 tickets only are sold, only numbers 1 to 50,000 go in the large wheel, and the 721 gifts diminished one-half; and in case only 25,000 tickets are sold the entire 721 gifts will be paid in full—it being intended that no unsold tickets shall participate.

The Manager has already paid into the Citizen's Bank $30,000 towards defraying the expenses, and does not depend on sales of tickets to pay his expenses of Printing, Advertising, &c. The public are invited to the utmost scrutiny as to the reliability of the entire affair.

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS.

Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,

Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Root and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yrdawfeb16

ARE YOU GOING TO PAINT?

—IF SO, USE THE—

AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT.

It is Cheaper, Handsomer and more durable than the best of other Paints. One Thousand Gallons of it were sold in this City, in the year 1870, and not one complaint has come from those who have used it; but all speak in its favor; it is mixed ready for application, and is much easier put on than any other Paint, making a smooth, glossy surface for years, that can be cleaned with hot suds without injuring it. It is excellent for walls inside, in the place of paper.

I shall keep this season a large stock of Chemical Paints of all shades on hand, to accommodate customers with any amount, without delay in ordering it. Those who want to use the Chemical Paints and have had them misrepresented by those who deal in Lead and Oil, are invited to call and examine my Paints that have been on Buildings two years, and you will find them as fresh as if laid but one month.

I am prepared to do Painting by Contract, or by the day, using the Chemical Paint, or furnishing good experienced workmen by the day at very low wages. R. NORTON, only Agent for selling the

The Milwaukee track is under the supervision of the National Trotting Association, and any decision made there is binding on all the members of the association. If Mr. Bonner is an honorable man he will either pay the owner of Goldsmith Maid $50,000 for his animal, or else give the same amount for the relief of those poor chambermaids who have lost their reason by reading Cobb Jr.'s stories and are now spending their time in lunatic asylums.—New York Standard.

THE NOVELTY CLOTHES WRINGER.

Nothing, except the Sewing Machine, has ever been invented which so much relieves the labor of the household as the Wringer. But its usefulness does not end here. The saving of clothing is of much greater importance. It is often remarked that articles of fine texture, last twice as long when wrung in a Wringer as when wrung by hand. The NOVELTY has Cog-wheels on both ends. * * The rolls are allowed to separate at either end. These, besides other advantages which it contains, seem to be indispensable to a practical wringer.—New York Independent.

The Novelty Wringer has become an indispensable institution in thousands of families. And we believe its great and increasing popularity is fully merited—for the Novelty evidently possesses all the requisites of a first-class, practical machine. Indeed, after using one for many months in our own family, we are prepared to indorse the Novelty as unsurpassed (the laundress says unequalled,) by any of the several wringers previously tried.—Moore's Rural New Yorker.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 14, 1871.

TAMMANY'S TACTICS.—Referring to the astonishing "burglary" by which the records which are just now most wanted were stolen from Comptroller Connolly's office, the New York Standard says:—

The case against Tammany is becoming dramatic. At the time when the select committee of councils and the courts are about to examine the accounts of the Controller's office they are suddenly stolen by a gang of burglars. This crime is a singular evidence of the great law of coincidences, so acutely treated by Mr. Buckle in his great book. Mr. Buckle however, never had so remarkable an illustration of this law as this extraordinary burglary.

Now that Tammany is in court we feel delicate about saying anything that may seem to be an effort to unduly affect the course of justice. At the same time it is very odd that burglars should make a robbery where they were sure to find nothing of any value, running the risk to be slain by the watchman and inspectors on duty. It is very odd that these armed guardians should have been absent. It is extraordinary that so much risk should have been taken to obtain documents and papers of absolutely no marketable value, necessary only to the city which owned them. These burglars must belong to an unusually innocent and simple-minded class of thieves.

In the meantime the hearing goes on before Judge Barnard. Mr. Tweed appears through Mr. Bartlett, a reporter for a daily newspaper of questionable character. As a writer of trotting matches Mr. Bartlett has made a reputation among stable-people, but he is no lawyer, and his appearance in a case of this importance shows the spirit of utter madness which has crept into the councils of the Ring. There is to our mind no more significant evidence of its violent and speedy dissolution.

The general feeling in New York is that the infamous ring are much harder pressed than has been supposed, when they have to commit burglary to cover their previous swindling thefts. A remarkable fact regarding the burglary in Connolley's office is that the vouchers and receipts which were stolen on Sunday were to have been submitted to the citizen's committee on Monday, to prove how innocent Hall, Tweed and Sweeney are;—how very unfortunate that such precious vouchers should have been stolen. Connolly says he won't resign, and Hall's request for him to do so excites contemptuous laughter and queries as to "Who shall now ask Hall to resign?" The abstraction of the papers and the request to resign are regarded as stupid blunders on the part of the ring, or the terrified scrabbling of individual members of it to save themselves in the coming crash; and in either case the effect is disastrous to the now divided ring. N. Y. Times stock is much higher than Tammany's.

Connolly's wife having denied the story that she recently presented her son-in-law with $500,000 and has $4,000,000 more in registered U. S. bonds, the Tribune repeats the statement, asserting that the Treasury records prove it to be true.

POLITICAL.

The California assembly will stand 57 republicans and 22 democrats, and the republicans have a majority of one in the senate; majority in the State, 5400. All the republican congressmen have large majorities.

The Maryland republicans on Tuesday nominated Jacob Tome of Cecil for governor, advocated the renomination of President Grant, and refused to advocate the annexation of San Domingo. Maryland is now the most thoroughly copperhead State in the Union. There is not a republican in the legislature nor a single republican county officer. The democratic majority last year was over 18,000.

TIMOTHY LYNCH, a young Irishman and one of the worst characters of one of the worst districts of East Boston, was some months ago arrested by the police and taken to the lockup, followed by the scum of the back slums endeavoring to rescue the prisoner. Lynch was beaten by the police, and died during the night, but his death in nowise resulted from the beating. Much excitement was caused at the time, but the Committee on Police of the Boston city government, who investigated the affair, have just reported, fully exonerating all but one of the officers, and recommending that he be only reprimanded and fined. From the evidence of numerous witnesses before the Committee, we should say that if the whole vile mob who followed the police when Lynch was arrested had been killed, East Boston and the world at large would have made a great gain.

EPHRAIM JONES, suspected of having murdered the man whose skeleton was discovered recently at Unionville, N. Y., died suddenly Sunday of heart disease.

THE MONT CENIS TUNNEL has been successfully opened, and trains are now passing through it without delay.

THE GERMAN TROOPS have withdrawn from fort Charenton, near Paris, and the others will soon be evacuated.

FOUR DAY'S RACING is to come off at the Lowell Trotting Park the second week in October. $10,000 is the sum of the purses to be offered.

THE INQUEST on the victims of the boiler explosion at Newburyport commenced on Wednesday. The dead were buried the same day.

CAPTAIN JOHN LOVELL of the yacht Fearless, suspected of the murder of his wife, whose dead body was found on Cold Spring (L. I.) beach, surrendered himself but was discharged, and the case is generally believed to be suicide.

— Grace Greenwood writes from Denver, "natured antelopes an ill turn originally, in affixing to them a mark by which they can be seen and 'a bead drawn on them' at a great distance. It renders them especially liable to attacks in the rear; which reminds me of a little story. A small Colorado boy, who had been out playing, ran into the house in a state of great excitement, saying he had seen some antelopes in a gulch near by. At his entreaty his mother went out to look at them, but nothing of the kind was to be found. She became incredulous, and said at last: 'I don't believe you saw any antelopes; it must have been your imagination, my child?' To this the little mountaineer indignantly responded: 'Humph! I guess my imagination isn't white behind!'"

ATTEMPT AT A CLAM BAKE IN CONNECTICUT.—Since Mr. Squier, who has had the advantage of Rhode Island training, attained so great success in a clam-bake, on the western shore of Long Island Sound, the ambition and presumption of the people of Connecticut have surpassed all bounds, and some uncommonly self sufficient men announced a "Rhode Island clam bake" at Boardman's Grove, in or near Hartford. How they succeeded appears by the following paragraph from the Hartford Courant:

"A proper bed of stone was heated and the clams put on; then by way of relish a few ears of green corn, four bluefish, and a lot of crabs, were added to the pile, and the whole was covered with seaweed. There was a savory smell and a two hours' roast, and when it was believed that the cook's work was completed, the seaweed was removed, when suddenly the crabs walked off the funeral pile, and there was amazement on every countenance. After some skirmishing the crabs were got into hot water, and different arrangements were made to dispose of the clams."

Think of laying seaweed, instead of rockweed, next to the poor clams, and baking them two hours and not cooking them at that! No wonder the crabs walked off disgusted. The clams would have gone if they had had any legs. Are there no schools in Connecticut, that such ignorance prevails? Is there no law, that such things go unpunished?—Prov. Journal.

SCENES ON RAILWAY CARS.—Mr. Howells, in his genial half-story and half-essay, "Their Wedding Journey," in the September Atlantic, sketches as follows the every-day scenes on the cars, which everybody will recognize:

"Yes, it is a very amusing world, if you do not refuse to be amused; and our friends were very willing to be entertained. They delighted in the very precise, thick-fingered old ladies who bought apples of the boys who came aboard with baskets, and who were so long in finding the right change that our travellers leaping in thought with the boys from the moving train, felt they did so at the peril of their lives. Then they were interested in people who went out and found their friends waiting for them, or else did not find them and wandered disconsolately up and down before the country stations, carpet-bag in hand; in women who came aboard, and were awkwardly shaken hands with or sheepishly kissed by those who hastily got seats for them, and placed their bags or their babies in their laps, and turned for a nod at the door; in young ladies who were seen to places by young men (the latter seemed not to care if the train did go off with them), and threw up their windows and talked with girl-friends on the platform without till the train began to move, and at last turned with gleaming eyes and moist red lips, and panted hard in the excitement of thinking about it, and could not calm themselves to the dull level of the travel around them; in the conductor, coldly and inaccessibly vigilant as he went his rounds reaching blandly for the tickets with one hand, while he bent his head from time to time and listened with a faint, sarcastic smile to the questions of passengers who supposed they were going to get information out of him; in the train-boy, who passed through on his many errands with prize-candies, gum-drops, pop-corn, papers and magazines, and distributed books and the police journals with a blind impartiality or a prodigious ignorance or a supernatural perception of character in those who received them.

—Is there anything true but heaven? Can there be the least security for the actions of a man who is a professed politician? Take James R. Doolittle, for instance—first a bitter Democrat, then an equally bitter Republican, then a Conservative Republican, and now a bitter Democrat again—each change apparently having an office in view. And now take Ignatius Donnelly, of Minnesota, elected for three terms to Congress as a Republican, achieving defeat last year as a Democratic candidate for the same position, and now concluding that after all the Republican side is at present most popular in Minnesota, coming out in a letter laying his defeat "to want of Democratic support," and announcing his return to the Republican party! Doolittle and Donnelly—proud pillars of political perpendicularity! Though again separated by party walls they are equally conscientious and in heart they are one. They both want office and one flops to the Democratic side to get it. It may be that they are one or both honestly mistaken as to the result, but shall we not admit that they are both sincere—in their desire to mount the winning horse.—Chicago Mail.

FERNANDO WOOD—In these troublous times it is pleasant to see the entire retirement which has come on upon Hon. Fernando Wood. This old war-horse of many Tammany and anti-Tammany strifes has withdrawn from the arena. He no longers paws the unyielding earth and terrifies his enemies by his neighing. He quietly continues agricultural pursuits and preserves himself for the gentle pursuits of Congress life.

The veteran was seen on Broadway recently as trim and neat and calm as ever. His face showed peace with all mankind and his presence exhaled the odors of Summer meadows.

"Well, Mayor," said a curious friend, "what do you think of affairs in Tammany? What is your view of the situation?"

Fernando gently stroked his white mustache and bent his eye upon the topmost gable of Trinity. And over his face there came a smile like the flush of an aurora borealis or a summer sun about to leap out of the crested wave as he coyly said, "Well, New York politics are improving. In my time people used to say there were forty thieves; now there are only four."

BUSINESS NOTICES.

We would not recommend the frequent or constant use of any medicine. It is important to take even a good article judiciously. Parson's Purgative Pills are safe, prompt, and reliable as a laxative or cathartic.

Base Ball is undoubtedly good exercise and capital amusement, but it often occasions bunged eyes, broken shins and blistered hands. We can tell you that in all such cases if Johnson's Anodyne Liniment is resorted to, it will reduce the swelling and stop the pain.

Influence of Temperature on Health.

In the fall the difference between the temperature of night and day is greater than at any other time of the year. In the early autumn the quicksilver sometimes rises as high during the day as in the most fervid summer weather; while at night it often sinks to an almost wintry point. The human body not being made of steel or India rubber, sensibly feels these tremendous changes. To fortify the system against them, a genuine tonic is required; and the public has long since discovered that among this description of medicines Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is infinitely the best. It gently quickens the circulation, regulates the bowels, tones the liver, braces the nerves, and thus puts the whole physique on its defence against the vicissitude of temperature in our climate. Few, if any cases of epidemic fever are heard of in localities where it is in common use. As it becomes more and more widely known, and the demand for it increases, chills and fever, and the bilious remittent seem to recede before it, and if ever it should come into universal use, these diseases would cease to be known as the scourges of our low-lying and marshy districts. That homely bit of proverbial philosophy, that "prevention is better than cure," should be especially borne in mind in the autumn months: and indeed in all seasons, together with the fact, that among all the preventatives of malarious diseases, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is the most safe and potent.

Be certain, however, to obtain the genuine article, as countless imitations of a pernicious character are abroad. See that the externals are all right, and remember that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is sold in bottles alone.

ROUGH AND READY, JR.—This miniature steam fire engine, which attracted so much attention in the procession and at the trial of engines during the firemen's muster, was built by Geo. H. Webb of Pawtucket, R. I., and is a working model of a Cole & Brother machine. The steam cylinder is 2 1-4 inches in diameter and the pump 1 1-4, with a stroke of 2 1-2 inches, the weight of the steamer being 150 pounds. At the trial the Rough and Ready, Jr., threw a stream of water 3-16ths of an inch in diameter a distance of 49 feet 2 inches, notwithstanding the high wind.

EDITORS are as hard-worked a class as can be found, though some people labor under the hallucination that conducting a paper is only fun; but there are bright spots in the life even of an editor, and a knowledge that his efforts to serve the community are duly appreciated by a portion thereof is to him as fuel to the steam engine—lends him energy to work, and sometimes to "blow up" all around him. We regard the splendid bouquet sent us on Wednesday as a token of commendation, and tender our earnest thanks to the fair donors and messenger.

THE COD LIVER OIL manufactured by Marvin Bros. & Bartlett is steadily gaining in popular favor wherever it is introduced. Some time ago a sample of this oil was left with a druggist of Syracuse, N. Y., and recently the manufacturers received a letter from Dr. R. W. Pease, a prominent medical man of that city, in which he says that since the oil was introduced there "I have used your preparation entirely, and am greatly pleased with it. It seems to be pure and fresh, and is more palatable than any specimen I have ever seen of this valuable medicine." This testimony to the value of the preparation, from a high medical authority, is however not any more flattering a recognition of its merits than is the fact that it is almost universally used in this immediate vicinity, where it is manufactured—the people knowing that it is made with the utmost care from the best and freshest cod livers, only.

PISCATAQUA FAIR.—The arrangements are nearly completed for this exhibition, which opens in this city next Tuesday, for three days. Among the other attractions the three-mile trot and twenty-mile saddle race will be novelties. Mr. Edward D. Coffin is to be Chief Marshal,—a capital selection; and the old and excellent Cornet Band is to furnish the music.

The Fair Grounds, which are among the best arranged and most beautiful in the country, have been put in fine order; and no effort will be spared to render this, the fifth annual exhibition, pleasant and successful.

Parties desiring to lease positions on the grounds, for victualling or other tents, &c., should apply to Mr. Haven L. Scott, one of the Directors. The Railroads will afford the usual accommodations; and trains on both the Concord and Eastern stop near the Grounds. It should not be overlooked or forgotten by persons living in other counties, that all the entries are open to the world.

Communicated.

P. & D. RAILROAD.—Messrs. Editors: A writer who from some cause or other don't want the Portsmouth & Dover Railroad built, in a long communication to the CHRONICLE of Sept. 11th cites as authority "one of our oldest lawyers" who "expressed his utter ignorance upon all relating to the momentous question." Well! other men and old women who don't know anything about it, talk and write just as though they could tell something important. We have heard nothing from young lawyers or active business men opposing it; they know better; the wide awake men of Portsmouth desire railroad facilities for the transaction of business with other live fellows up country. The income from twenty thousand dollars (the legacy of a deceased lady) is to be expended on the Avenue leading to the South Burying Ground. Some of us want to travel a little in the other direction before we go down there to stay. If this city wants to live it must not spend all its time in quiet contemplation of ancient cemeteries, nor in listening to reminiscences of its past grandeur, as related by its oldest inhabitants.

No sober man doubts that the building of a railroad from here to Dover would lead to a great increase of business prosperity. But some of the men who are trying to block the wheels of progress say, "wait until the business is secured, then build the road!" Reminding one of the story of the old farmer who advised his enterprising son to wait until his grass was cut and sold before buying a mowing machine. The son listened respectfully, took the next train for town and bought a machine, went home, cut and cured his own grass and then went and helped the old man through haying; saving enough the first year in time and wages to pay for his mower and buy his wife a new piano and sewing machine.

So it will be with the railroad; the young men intend to build; they will finish the road, make business increase the area and value of the city, have a line of steamboats to Boston and Portland, build a new City Hall, buy and free the toll-bridges and—help the old gents pay the TAXES.

RAILROAD COLLISION. — A collision between a passenger express train and a freight train occurred at North Andover, on the Boston & Maine Railroad, Tuesday afternoon. The express train had the right of way, and when it arrived in sight of the freight train it was too late to avoid their meeting. The engineers and firemen of both locomotives jumped, and Charles Pemberton, the engineer of the express train, who received a slight cut on the forehead and sprained his shoulder, was the only one that was hurt. The engines came in collision, and that on the express train was disabled for immediate use, but the other was not much injured. There were eight cars on the passenger train, and the platforms of all of them were more or less damaged. Some of them overlapped, but the concussion was not sufficient to cause telescoping. The passengers were well shaken up, but none were hurt. After some delay another engine was substituted, and the express train continued on to Boston. The blame for the accident rested with the engineer and conductor of the freight train, who knew that the express was due, and both of them have been discharged.

HOW THEY WORK.—The practical working of the United States maritime laws are again illustrated by brutality and homicide at sea. The American ship Nightingale, of Boston, A. Cutter, master, bound from New York on the 8th of August, having in a storm started her outwater and bowsprit, and got leaking in her topsides. The iron about her yards was loosened, and the ship was generally shaken in her topsides. On the 18th of July, the chief mate, Edmund B. Hunt, died of wounds inflicted on him upon the 11th of July, by seamen Edward Barnes. The mate is said to have been a rough man in his treatment of the crew, and on the 11th of July attacked Barnes with a belaying pin, and struck him heavily several times. Barnes turned on him, and drawing a knife stabbed Hunt in the belly so badly that he died in eight days. Barnes was confined in jail in Rio, and sent home by the United States Vice Consul, in the American packet leaving for New York on the 28th of August. By-and-bye people will weary of these constant tales of brutal oppression on one side and murderous violence on the other; and when they do, our seamen will soon be set free,—for in no other way can such hideous work be stopped. The laws make shipmasters and mates slave-drivers; and when, as is too often the case, they are inhuman in their slave-driving, the enslaved and degraded seamen sometimes turn on their oppressors and a "tragedy" results. Better officers and better men for the merchant service can only be obtained by so remodelling the laws as to encourage such men to enter it. Why not try the experiment of setting sailors free, and putting them on a level with other working men and skilled laborers? At present they are slaves, and as such are not a success.

Morning Chronicle.

To Go Through Life in the easiest manner is a great object to most persons. This is illustrated by the action of an enterprising Indiana couple who waited till their parents died and then married without their consent. The groom was 91 years old and the bride 106.

A marriage by matchlight was recently consummated in Kansas City. The Squire was in a hurry and so was the couple, and neither would wait until the lamp could be illumined. The fee was paid under a neighboring gas lamp.

But a newly-married couple in Cleveland did better. They took as their bridal tour a voyage on an elevator to the fourth story of a mill and back again.

It is easier for some people to vociferate than control their feelings, but a lady in a Kentucky prayer meeting fell dead while shouting—and so did a Missouri septuagenarian, whose decease was wrought by a base ball. He saved time by being in the way.

The foregoing statements only illustrate the forthcoming incidents, as in the case of a cowed Cairo editor who did not like trouble and reports a case as follows:—"A lady whose husband is in the city jail gave us fair warning that if we mentioned his name she would tear our eyes out—crush us—grind us into the dust. We are therefore mum."

Then there were a hundred or more passengers on a Georgia train who were afraid of danger because two Africans had placed obstacles on the track. The engineer slacked up, the passengers got out and organized a syndicate, and thrashed the villains within an inch of their lives.

Some people in Pittsfield, Mass., thought it easier to invite cholera infantum than to raise their children to be men and women; so they had an out-of-door baby party, at which a guest of nine days appeared.

A school of rats in Indiana had more sense than that. They were poisoned and felt a warmth in their stomachs and rushed for a well for water and revenge. The family they were driven from were poisoned in consequence.

When they fall in Old Virginia from a bridge 60 feet high, the fallee selects soft mud to save his life in.

And when editors and other quid nunc wish to be thought knowing or sentimental, they quote these lines—"15,000 will do it within three weeks:—"The melancholy days are come—the saddest of the year."

Foreign-born Population.—The total population of New England is 3,487,924. Of this number, 648,001, or almost one-fifth, are foreign-born. The four States, Alabama, Florida, Georgia and North Carolina together have a total population of 3,440,212, or not quite 50,000 less than New England. In those four States the foreign-born population number 29,085, or not one-hundredth of the whole. Illinois and Wisconsin together have about 100,000 greater population than New England, and the foreign element is nearly one-fourth of the total, or about five per cent. more than in New England. California and Nevada have the largest proportionate foreign population, the former having about thirty-seven per cent. and the latter above forty-four. North Carolina has less than one-third as great foreign population as Delaware; it has the smallest foreign population, absolutely and proportionally, of any State, or 329 out of 1,071,361.

Burleigh, the Boston Journal's Washington correspondent, writes to that paper as follows:—

On Friday the new fall costume was donned by the ladies of the city. No caterpillar doffs his garb with more celerity than do our belles. Those who saw the promenaders on Thursday would not have known them the next day. The material, color, hats, trimmings, all were changed. The style is bias, silk or alpaca, heavily trimmed, and the walk is the union of the Grecian bend and the Boston dip. The hats are velvet, or straw trimmed with velvet, with stiff, wing-shaped feathers, white or scarlet, or both. The promenade dresses are very stylish.

"Ain't Got 'em!"—Three of the dirtiest, most ragged little ragamuffins in this city entered one of the magnificent drug stores in our place. Marching up to the counter one said:

"I want a cent's worth of rock candy."

"Get out, you ragamuffin! we don't sell a cents' worth of rock candy."

Slowly and sadly they filed out of the store. On the sidewalk a consultation took place. They re-entered the store.

"Mister, do you sell three cent's worth of rock candy?"

"Yes."

"Well, we ain't got em;" and the procession moved out again.

—Several men were recently poisoned in Nevada, by drinking from a spring whose waters appeared perfectly clear. Analysis showed that they were strongly impregnated with arsenic.

TARRANT'S SELTZER APERIENT.

The Cause and Cure of Consumption.

The primary cause of Consumption is derangement of the digestive organs. The derangement produces deficient nutrition and assimilation. By assimilation I mean that process by which the nutriment of the food is converted into blood, and thence into the solids of the body. Persons with digestion thus impaired, having the slightest predisposition to pulmonary disease, or if they take cold, will be very liable to have Consumption of the Lungs in some of its forms; and I hold that it will be impossible to cure any case of Consumption without first restoring a good digestion and healthy assimilation. The very first thing to be done is to cleanse the stomach and bowels from all diseased mucous and slime which is clogging these organs so that they cannot perform their functions, and then rouse up and restore the liver to a healthy action. For this purpose, the surest and best remedy is SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS. These Pills cleanse the stomach and bowels of all the diseased and morbid slime that is causing disease and decay in the whole system. They will clear out the liver of all diseased bile that has accumulated there, and arouse it up to a new and healthy action, by which natural and healthy bile is secreted.

The stomach, bowels and liver are thus cleansed by the use of Schenck's Mandrake Pills; but there remains in the stomach an excess of acid, the organ is torpid, and the appetite is poor. In the bowels the intestinals are weak, and requiring strength and support. It is in a condition like this that Schenck's Seaweed Tonic proves to be the most valuable remedy ever discovered. It is alkaline, and its use will neutralize all excess of acid, making the stomach sweet and fresh; it will give permanent tone to this important organ, and cause it to feel hearty appetite, and prepare the system for the first process of a good digestion, and ultimately make good, healthy, living blood. After this preparatory treatment, what remains to cure most cases of consumption is the free and persevering use of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup. The Pulmonic Syrup nourishes the system, purifies the blood, and is readily absorbed into the circulation, and thence distributed to the diseased lungs. There it ripens all morbid matter, whether in the form of abscesses or tubercles, and then assists Nature to expel all the diseased matter in the form of free expectoration. As soon as it ripens. It is then, by the great healing and purifying properties of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, that all ulcers and cavities are healed up sound, and my patient is cured.

The essential thing to be done in curing Consumption is to get up a good appetite and a good digestion, so that the body will grow in flesh and get strong. If a person has diseased lungs in a cavity or abscess there, the cavity cannot heal, the matter cannot ripen, so long as the system is below par. What is necessary to cure is a new order of things, a good appetite, a good digestion, the body to grow in flesh and get fat; then Nature is helped, the cavities will heal, the matter will ripen and be thrown off in large quantities, and the person regains health and strength. This is the true and only plan to cure Consumption, and if a person is very bad, if cavities are not entirely destroyed, or even if one lung is entirely gone, if there is enough vitality left in the other to build up, there is hope.

I have seen many persons cured with only one sound lung, live and enjoy life to a good old age. This is what Schenck's medicines will do to cure Consumption. They will clean out the stomach, sweeten and strengthen it, get up a good digestion, and give Nature the assistance she needs to clear the system of all the disease that is in the lungs, whatever the form may be.

It is important that, while using Schenck's medicines, care should be exercised not to take cold; keep in-doors in cold and damp weather; avoid night air, and take out-door exercise only in a genial and warm condition.

I wish it distinctly understood that when I recommend a patient to be careful in regard to taking cold while using my medicines, I do so for special reasons. A man who has just partially recovered from the effects of a bad cold is far more liable to a relapse than one who has been long in health, and it is precisely the same in regard to consumption. If a person has lungs that not perfectly healed, just so long is there imminent danger of a full return of the disease. Hence it is that I so strenuously caution my pulmonary patients against exposing themselves to an atmosphere that is not genial and pleasant. Confined in close, cold, damp cellars, in a mass of sores, which the least change or atmosphere will inflame. The grand secret of my success with my medicines consists in my ability to subdue inflammation instead of provoking it, as many of the faculty do. An inflamed lung cannot with safety to the patient be exposed to the biting blasts of winter or the chilling winds of spring or autumn. It should be carefully shielded from all irritating influences. The same caution should be observed in this particular, or, without it a cure under almost any circumstances is an impossibility.

The person should be kept on a wholesome and nutricious diet, and all the medicines consumed until the body has restored to it the natural quantity of flesh and strength.

I was myself cured by this treatment of the worst kind of Consumption, and have lived to get fat and hearty these many years, with one lung nearly gone. I have cured thousands since, and very many have been cured by this treatment whom I have never seen.

About the first of October I expect to take possession of my new building at the northeast corner of Sixth and Arch Streets, where I shall be pleased to give advice to all who may require it.

Full directions accompany all my remedies, so that a person in any part of the world can be readily cured by a strict observance of the same.

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS.

Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,

Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health or the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood, or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yrdawfeb16

AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT.

It is Cheaper, Handsomer and more durable than the best of other Paints. One Thousand Gallons of it were sold in this City, in the year 1870, and not one complaint has come from those who have used it; but all speak in its favor; it is mixed ready for application, and is much easier put on than any other Paint, making a smooth, glossy surface for years, that can be cleaned with hot suds without injuring it. It is excellent for walls inside, in the place of paper.

I shall keep this season a large stock of Chemical Paints of all shades on hand, to accommodate customers with any amount, without delay in ordering it. Those who want to use the Chemical Paints and have had them misrepresented by those who deal in Lead and Oil, are invited to call and examine my Paints that have been on Buildings two years, and you will find them as fresh as if laid but one month.

I am prepared to do Painting by Contract, or by the day, using the Chemical Paint, or furnishing good experienced workmen by the day at very low wages. B. NORTON, only Agent for selling the

"Offis ov Josh Billings Farmers Allmanax for 1872."

Mi Dear Mr. Editor: Sum men are born grate, sum git grate after they are born, and sum men have grateness hove upon them.

It seems tew me that I am all 8 of these men hove into one.

At a mass meeting lately held in Pordunk county (mi natiff village) the inhabitants past the following preamble and resolutes:

Whereaz, It is hily good that a Farmer's Allminax should be born for the year 1872.

Resoluted, That Josh Billings should be sot apart, (and hereby is expressly sot apart) tew beget the job.

Resoluted, That this Allminax shall be begotten on the fust ov nex Oktober, wet or dry.

Resoluted, That this Allminax shall kontain milk for babes, meat for elders and crumbs for all.

Resoluted, That Knower bilt the ark, and Joner waz the fust man who went a whaleing, but Josh Billings has the right ingredients for a Farmers' Allmanax.

Resoluted, That Faith wins the battles of life, Hope beautifys them, and Charity makes them immortal.

Resoluted, That more dogs than a man wants are a nuisance, and less than he haz got, iz positively no loss.

Resoluted, That we fully believe that man cum from the monkey, but whare the monkey cum from, we dont seem to kno.

Resoluted, That the thanks ov this meeting be sent to Darwin (or tew the monkey) we dont kare which.

Resoluted, That all the nuzepapers in our beloved land (without distinction ov color) be allowed to print these Resolutes.

Resoluted, That this meeting now unanimously bursts quietly, sinun di.

Ditto, Allmanacker.

P. S. The meeting did bust quiet.

TWENTY MINUTES FOR REFRESHMENTS.—The following experience of a humorous traveler who attempted to get dinner at Xenia, on the little Miami Railroad, is worth reading by those who have had a similar experience without a little good humor.

"Twenty minutes for dinner!" shouted the brakesman as we aproached Xenia.

Arrived there I entered the dining-room and inquired of the waiter:—

"What do you have for dinner?"

"Twenty minutes," was the hurried reply.

I told him I would try half a dozen minutes raw, on the half-shell. Told him to write it down. He scratched his head, trying to comprehend the order, but at last gave up and went to another.

I asked a man near the door with a roll of bills in his hand—

"What do you have for dinner?"

"A half-a-dollar," he said.

I said I'd have a half-dollar, well done. I told him to send me, in addition, a boiled wallet, stuffed with greenbacks and seven-thirties, garnished with ten cent scrip and postage stamps. Also a confederate bond with lettuce alone (let us alone.) I would like to wash my dinner down with national bank notes on "draft."

He said they were out of everything but the bank notes, and he then ordered the waiter to go to the bank and draw some.

—A rich Philadelphian, at Cape May, donned his suit and talked gallantly into the surf, intending to show people how it was done. He had not been there long, however, before his keen eye espied a charming girl struggling all alone in the breakers and, with the gallantry that distinguishes him, he essayed to teach her to swim. She very thankfully accepted the offer, and the result was quite a flirtation ensued. Quoth our Philadelphia friend: "Are you staying at the Stockton, Miss—?" "Murphy," with sly glance upward. "Miss Murphy—ah! You are stopping at the—?" "Stockton; yes, sir." "Ah! Are your parents with you?" "No, sir." "Your brother possibly!" "No, sir." "Ah! I have it; you are with your friends?" "No, sir;" a very perceptible smile breaking over her countenance. "Excuse my seeming impertinence, Miss Murphy; but I am extremely anxious to know in what capacity you are here." "I am in the bakehouse sir!"

—When Rev. R. H. Barham, the author of the Ingoldsby Regens, was at college, his tutor reprimanded him for his constant absence from morning chapel. Barham urged as his excuse that the hour was too late for him. "Too late!" exclaimed the tutor in astonishment. "Yes, sir, too late," replied Barnum; "I cannot sit up till seven o'clock in the morning. I am a man of regular habits, and unless I get to bed by four or five at least, I am really fit for nothing next morning."

—A Domestic Revolution.—Nice Boy—"I'm jolly glad you're going to stop with us." Vistor—"Are you, darling? Why so?" Nice Boy—"Cause we shall have nice dinners now."—Judy.

THE NOVELTY CLOTHES WRINGER.

Nothing, except the Sewing Machine, has ever been invented which so much relieves the labor of the household as the Wringer. But its usefulness does not end here. The saving of clothing is of much greater importance. It is often remarked that articles of fine texture, last twice as long when wrung in a Wringer as when wrung by hand. The NOVELTY has Cog-wheels on both ends. * * The rolls are allowed to separate at either end. These, besides other advantages which it contains, seem to be indispensable to a practical wringer.—New York Independent.

The Novelty Wringer has become an indispensable institution in thousands of families. And we believe its great and increasing popularity is fully merited—for the Novelty evidently possesses all the requisites of a first-class, practical machine. Indeed, after using one for many months in our own family, we are prepared to indorse the Novelty as unsurpassed (the hamdress says unequalled,) by any of the several wringers previously tried.—Moore's Rural New Yorker.

Portsmouth, N. H.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 15, 1871.

RAILROAD MURDERS.—The recent terrible accident at Revere has thoroughly aroused the people of a portion of New England to a realizing sense of a fact which has been either unknown or generally ignored, viz., that none of our New England railroads have been managed with that regard for safety which the public have a right to demand, and that the accommodation and safety of the travelling public have been but secondary affairs with railroad corporations, the payment of large dividends on stock having been the first consideration. That mankind was created for the benefit of railroads seems to have been a prevalent idea, instead of the railroads having been created and granted great privileges solely that they might benefit the people at large. But the people have a right to demand that every possible safeguard for their lives be at once introduced on every railroad; and until this demand is made and complied with the sad lesson of the Revere disaster will have failed to have its due effect, and every life lost through a want of any such safeguard on any railroad will be a murder,—and not a murder by a parsimonious or careless railroad management alone but by the public as well, who can force the adoption of any and every life-protecting appliance simply by expressing their will that it be done.

We do not refer to the Eastern Railroad alone, by any means; we believe that road, in its care for the safety and convenience of its patrons, in the intelligence, strict sobriety and trustworthiness demanded in its servants, and in its adoption of improvements, stands higher than most other New England railroads. Its long immunity from serious accident and the general complacency with which it was spoken of previous to the Revere disaster, we think proves this. But the road has been short of cars; in common with every other New England railroad (with one exception only) the old hand brake has been retained to the exclusion of the Westinghaus brake; and time-tables have regulated the running of trains which could not run on time, instead of the telegraph being used. All this is to be remedied, at once, on this road; but the sacrifice at Revere will remain a nearly useless sacrifice, if the Eastern Railroad—previously better managed than most others—is the only one to profit by it in the prompt adoption of those life-protecting improvements. If we are ever to be killed by railroad blundering or indifference, we have no local preferences; the Eastern Railroad may as well kill us as any other.

That the entire railroad management of New England needs to feel the force of public opinion was illustrated on the Boston & Maine Railroad a few days since, when an express passenger train and a freight train met, wrecking one engine, smashing car-platforms and shaking up passengers. Had these trains met on a dark night as those did at Revere, instead of in the broad light of day, the Revere accident would very probably have been thrown in the shade and a storm of popular wrath swept down on the Boston & Maine management; instead of which the collision is lightly dismissed by the newspapers, in a small paragraph tucked away in an obscure corner, the announcement is made that the engineer and conductor of the freight train were to blame and were at once discharged, and an accident which accidentally was not appalling for loss of life is forgotten by the same public which so sternly denounces the management which led to the slaughter on the Eastern Railroad. The customary criminal indifference of the public regarding railroad management is poorly atoned for by a burst of indignation when that indifference leads to its legitimate result, death by wholesale. Let the Eastern Railroad answer for its faults; but let the public guard against future railroad murders by insisting that every railroad adopt all improvements tending to insure the safety of their patrons.

THE DOVER ENQUIRER says the employes of the Boston & Maine corporation are very careless in that city. A few days ago the freight train at the Third street crossing put several carriages with their passengers in imminent danger by crossing at a rapid speed with scarcely a moment's warning. We do not believe there is another instance in the State where so many lives are periled by carelessness and unlawful speed as at these crossings.

The Rochester Courier says "the 5 1-2 P. M. express Wednesday on the B. & M. R. R. on reaching Dover was twenty minutes late, and in making up time ran at a fearful rate. At Dover they couldn't brake up and went through the depot at thirty miles an hour, and only could be stopped on arriving at the bridge. The depot was crowded with people, a number of whom had to jump for their lives; a lady had her dress hit as she sprang up the platform on the opposite side, and a team in crossing the track was just saved by the great efforts of the driver."

SET 'EM UP AGAIN!

The election in Colorado on Tuesday went republican by an increased majority. The legislature is almost unanimously republican.

The election in New Mexico on Monday resulted in a republican victory. The republicans elected their delegates to Congress, and will have a majority in the legislature.

POLITICAL.

The Biddeford Democrat says:—By way of progress, California took a new departure, without exactly knowing its destiny, and Maine has followed suit.

Hon. Joel Parker is the Democratic candidate for Governor of New Jersey.

Ex-Governor Holden of North Carolina has become one of the editors and proprietors of the Washington Daily Chronicle.

Winthrop Young is the democrat who would like to be Governor of Minnesota, but can't get votes enough.

The prohibitory State central committee of New Hampshire has ordered a State convention to be called on the first Wednesday in December.

In one of the counties in Wyoming, at the election last week, one-sixth of the votes were cast by women.

THE TAMMANY WAR.—The New York Sun (not the best authority, certainly,) says that Mayor Hall intends to impeach Connolly, his word to the contrary notwithstanding. The democratic party in New York seems to be turning against Tammany. R. B. Roosevelt, ex-Judge Barrett and ex-Sheriff O'Brien addressed a mass meeting in the 21st Ward, Wednesday night. All the speakers spoke against the Tammany ring, and the following resolution was passed unanimously:

Resolved, That the recent exposure of gross financial corruption existing in our City Government having brought shame and disgrace upon the Democratic party, we call upon Governor Hoffman to suspend from office Hall, Connolly, Tweed and Sweeney, pending the official investigation into the alleged charges; and if found guilty to punish them to the utmost extent of the law.

A committee to wait upon Governor Hoffman, to ask his aid and that of the attorney-general in prosecuting the plunderers of the city treasury, has been appointed by the New York citizen's committee of seventy.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

The State Agricultural Society has offered premiums amounting to about $2000, in various purses, for the fast-trotting and running horses to be exhibited at the State Fair at Dover, beginning Tuesday, September 26.

The new dam which the Amoskeag Manufacturing Co. have been building at Amoskeag Falls in Manchester, the present season, is completed. The main dam is eight feet wide on the top, and is 410 feet long. It is nearly in the form of an arc of a circle. The principal stones are bound together with iron bolts, and laid in cement. The whole structure and guard gates cost about $50,000.

On the 8th, in Nashua, an eleven-year old boy named Frankie Clement died with all the appearances of consumption, caused, it would seem, by swallowing a tin whistle some three years ago.

NEW PUBLICATIONS RECEIVED.

The September number of The Galaxy is an excellent one. The article of interest to politicians is Horace Greeley's on "The One Term Principle," applied to the office of President. Edward A. Pollard contributes a paper entitled "The Romance of the Negro," opening with the announcement that there has been a lost theory as well as a "lost cause" for the South, in the late war. Carl Benson exposes some popular fallacies of controversial talk and writing on political questions. Liberal instalments of Anthony Trollope's and Mrs. Edward's serials are given, and there are short stories by Ivan Turgeneff and Lucy H. Hooper. The poetry is by William Winter and F. W. Webber. All the editorial departments are well sustained. The club-room is better than usual.

ABOUT 12,000 people were at Salisbury Beach, Wednesday. Gen. Butler and Wendell Philips made speeches, the latter indorsing the general.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

We would not recommend the frequent or constant use of any medicine. It is important to take even a good article judiciously. Parson's Purgative Pills are safe, prompt, and reliable as a laxative or cathartic.

Base Ball is undoubtedly good exercise and capital amusement, but it often occasions bunged eyes, broken shins and blistered hands. We can tell you that in all such cases if Johnson's Anodyne Liniment is resorted to, it will reduce the swelling and stop the pain.

THE ROAR OF CANNONS!

Across the Atlantic affects not Uncle Samuel. He attends to his toilet as usual. Spying a few gray hairs on his venerable caput, what does he do? He resorts at once to the only article of its kind in the wide world, which is at the same time SAFE AND PERFECT, in other words, to

Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye,

guaranteed harmless by Professor CHILTON and other distinguished chemists, and the most popular dye in America, because it imparts the most natural shades of color with the greatest certainty and in the shortest space of time. This famous article has

of all its would-be rivals, and is now master of the situation. As a dressing after dyeing, use

CRISTADORO'S HAIR PRESERVATIVE

Influence of Temperature on Health.

In the fall the difference between the temperature of night and day is greater than at any other time of the year. In the early autumn the quicksilver sometimes rises as high during the day as in the most fervid summer weather; while at night it often sinks to an almost wintry point. The human body not being made of steel or India rubber, sensibly feels these tremendous changes. To fortify the system against them, a genuine tonic is required; and the public has long since discovered that among this description of medicines Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is infinitely the best. It gently quickens the circulation, regulates the bowels, tones the liver, braces the nerves, and thus puts the whole physique on its defence against the vicissitude of temperature in our climate. Few, if any cases of epidemic fever are heard of in localities where it is in common use. As it becomes more and more widely known, and the demand for it increases, chills and fever, and the bilious remittent seem to recede before it, and if ever it should come into universal use, these diseases would cease to be known as the scourges of our low-lying and marshy districts. That homely bit of proverbial philosophy, that "prevention is better than cure," should be especially borne in mind in the autumn months: and indeed in all seasons, together with the fact, that among all the preventatives of malarious diseases, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is the most safe and potent.

Be certain, however, to obtain the genuine article, as countless imitations of a pernicious character are abroad. See that the externals are all right, and remember that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is sold in bottles alone.

FOR SALE! FOR SALE!

THAT DELIGHTFUL SEASIDE retreat known as the WOODMAN FARM, containing forty acres of land, a commodious, new and imposing house and convenient outbuildings, situated on the easterly side of Great Island, (Newcastle,) within a stone's throw of the ocean, and in full view of the "Isles of Shoals."

Also adjoining the same, "POINT JERRY," embracing ten acres of arable land extending far out into the sea, being the nearest point of land to the "Isles of Shoals," and forming the outside boundary of what is known as Little Harbor.

This is the most desirable spot on the seacoast for summer residences, possessing all the advantages of the world-renowned "Isles of Shoals," in bracing atmosphere, deep sea fishing and surf-bathing on one side, while on the other is a smooth, hard beach and still water. There is also upon it a never failing pond of fresh water, an old battery, and a light-house beacon. Roads always good and scenery unsurpassable.

THE ALDERMEN will have a hearing on the question of the extension of Wibird Street, at 3 o'clock this afternoon, in the City Rooms.

BASE BALL. — The Kearsarge club will go to West Epping and play a match game with the Independents of that town, Saturday.

MEETING of Piscataqua Agricultural Society this (Friday) evening, at the office of the President, 83 Market Street, at half past 7 o'clock.

WE REGRET TO LEARN that the excellent Superintendent of the County Farm, Mr William L. Philbrick, has been removed by the County Commissioners, that one of their number, Mr. Frank D. Pollard, may hold the position.

THE REUNION of the 13th Regiment, N. H. Volunteers, brought together about fifty members, including the old regimental Band, re-organized for the occasion. The dinner was served at the Appledore House, Isles of Shoals, on Thursday.

KATE REIGNOLDS and Leslie's Dramatic Company drew a full house at the Temple, Wednesday evening, and "Pink and White Tyranny" satisfied everybody. The company is one of the best, and well sustained its previous reputation.

THE GREENHOUSES AND GARDENS of Mr. John Rogers, at Kittery, are now better supplied than ever before with rare and beautiful flowering plants, which with flower seeds, he has of late years made his specialities. Calling there, a day or two since, we found a superb show of gladioli, lillies, asters and the other bright summer flowers, including a large bed of the regal gold banded lily, and some of the richest fuschias we ever saw. It will richly repay any lover of flowers to make a visit to Rogers' ere the frost nips the beautiful display.

MANCHESTER is to be no longer adjectiveless. Manchester is to have a new Democratic weekly, to be called "The Public Forum" and to be edited by that true representative of Democracy, J. L. Foster, recently of this city. We welcome the old reptile once more to the ranks of the party press which he sickened so thoroughly while here that it had scarcely strength to rally. To the Republicans of Manchester we send greeting and congratulations. Manchester will never again give Gov. Weston or any other Democrat a majority of its votes while Joshua's speaking trumpet is in tune.

IN THE POLICE COURT, on Thursday, Joseph Williams, a resident of Gosport, was sent to the County Farm at Brentwood to help Mr. Philbrick in his harvesting, and also to replenish the exchequer of the State $5.76, for assaulting Sheriff Morse while attempting to arrest another party.

Mary Estabrook, a lewd and shameless girl, was sentenced to House of Correction for 6 months and to pay costs, $5.39, on a warrant for vagrancy.

William Hayes, drunk, fined $3 and costs $5.76.

Four sailors on board the Tallapoosa, named Michael McGawley, William Riley, Joseph Farron and James McLanney, concluded to have a little bit of a time while in port, and it cost them, after paying for the drinks and the and-so-forths, $8.76 apiece, to square accounts and place themselves in an honorable standing with the civil authorities of this city.

Richard Townsend is the dirtiest drunkard that we ever saw. He should be thoroughly cleansed with carbolic acid or some other disinfectant, and then buried while he is clean. He can be found by any philanthropist who wishes to undertake the task, at the House of Correction, where he has been sent for three months for being a common drunkard. He is also desired to contribute the sum of $7.30 for thus imposing on the lenity of the public.

Disgusted with a life on the ocean wave, or with matters and things connected with the Tallapoosa, James Barry, James Hatter, William McGrath, Henry L. Scott and Robert Staples concluded to quietly slip out, leaving the vessel minus five men, but the police of this city interfered with some of their plans and returned them to the ship.

Joseph Fleming and George O'Donald, sailors on board the Speedwell, tried on the same thing and were equally unsuccessful, they being caught and returned to the above named vessel.

A MACKEREL FLEET of 350 sail came into the lower harbor and left again on Thursday.

NAVAL.—Lieut. George R. Durand has been detached from the command of the tug Speedwell, at this Station, and ordered to the Nipsic. Assistant Paymaster John W. Gordon has been detached from the Speedwell and ordered to settle his accounts.

Commodore Case, Chief of the Bureau of Ordnance, visited this Navy Yard, Wednesday.

The levee to Secretary Robeson at the Navy Yard Wednesday evening was a brilliant affair. The house and grounds of Commandant Pennock were beautifully decorated and illuminated, and a large party of naval officers and citizens were in attendance.

FIRE.—At 5 minutes after 1 o'clock this (Friday) morning fire broke out in a barn in the rear of the Wardwell property on Bridge Street. On account of the lack of rain of late the barn was thoroughly dry and burned rapidly, and the fire soon extended to the house, which was occupied by Mr. Thomas Hones as a dwelling house and rum shop. Mr. Hones' stock of liquors was saved, but he lost about half his furniture. A shed south of the barn was partially burned and was pulled down. The house on the corner of Hill and Bridge Streets, owned by Mr. William D. Fernald and occupied by Messrs. Nathaniel Pender and George Brooks, was much damaged by fire and thoroughly drenched with water; furniture saved. Both houses were well insured, and neither was worth much after the fire was put out. We hear the loss estimated at less than $5000. Engine No. 6 was on the ground in a very short time after the alarm was given, and kept the fire under control until the steamers put on their powerful streams. Sagamore No. 2 was located at the School Street reservoir, and Dearborn No. 1 and Kearsarge No. 3 at the reservoir on Haymarket Square.

City Council, Thursday, Sept. 14th.

In Board of Alderman, the question of widening Pleasant Street was referred to a special committee, Ald. Hatch and Wendell.

John E. Cook and Thomas Waldron were appointed special police without pay.

The Firemen's Muster Committee asked that the city would take the funds raised for the Muster, and assume the liabilities. Referred to a special committee, Ald. Mendum and Marvin.

The bond of Jos. P. Morse, as constable, was accepted.

Committee on School-houses were authorized to fit Hanover Street schoolhouse for accommodation of Miss Fitts' school,—expenses not to exceed $200.

The special committee on Portsmouth and Dover Railroad, Ald. Marvin and Mendum, reported that the proposed route of the road was from Noble's Island to Freeman's Point, thence to Nancy Drew's house, across the Cocheco river to Dover Point and thence along the river to Dover.

A new resolution was introduced providing for the issuing of 6 per cent. bonds by the city, to be exchanged for stock after a certain number of shares are subscribed for by private parties.

A motion to indefinitely postpone the original resolution was defeated, 5 to 3.

The whole matter was then laid on the table, in order that it may be further considered by the citizens.

On motion of Ald. Mendum the Mayor was requested to call a meeting of citizens at the Court House on Saturday evening, Sept. 23.

On motion of Ald. Wendell, it was ordered that the new resolution be printed in the local papers.

Say, old boy, where shall we meet?
Why, at Garrett's, on Daniel Street,
He's such a jolly fellow;
His LAGER is always fresh and prime,
It never wants a "head" and is
Refreshing, cool and mellow!
You require, my boy, some filling out,
You're thin, and meagre-looking;
Lager would give you the proper size.
Look at the host, he ones was scant,
His BEER has made of flesh no want,
Go thou and drink likewise.

Morning Chronicle.

What are we Coming to?

In the course of a remarkably able article on our social condition, the Irish Republic says of the great "Trunk Murder:"

The abortionists of New York have had a carnival of crime for years. So common had their murders become, and so callous had the public sentiment been rendered, that the murderers—those worse than common murderers—published their calling in the newspapers, and offered "relief and safety from exposure" to those who had fallen. Many and many a delicate woman, whom passion or promise had led astray, turned to these dens to save themselves and their families from scandal. This was but piling one greater crime upon a lesser. Yet the public encouraged these things by tolerating in their midst the male and female vampires who practice murder under the title of physicians in New York. How many hundreds of women have been murdered by these hounds within the last year? How many thousands of children, matured or immatured, have been strangled? God alone can tell.

Here was a fair young girl, who left her mother's home on Wednesday afternoon. She is packed in a trunk, naked, jammed in most brutally, and festering in the sun, on Saturday. Great God! that such a thing could happen in a civilized community is enough to make us doubt the possibility of driving the fiend of barbarism out of the human heart. The arrest of the scoundrel Rosenzwieg, and the horror excited in the community by the whole affair startled every villain who plied the nefarious trade of "murder" in New York. It was as though vengeance stalked into their dens and called them to immediate judgment. While poor Alice Bowlsby was festering in the trunk a poor girl named Emily Post was suffering the pains of labor in a "hospital" kept by a Madame Van Buskirk. The brother (?) of Miss Post arranged with a Dr. Perry to see her safely through, and so save the family from disgrace. The villains became alarmed, and Dr. Perry and Madame Van Buskirk forced poor Miss Post out of her sick bed—actually forced her against her protestations of inability to move—put her in a carriage and drove her to Brooklyn.

The girl died in the City Hospital after giving birth to a dead child. The two inhuman wretches, Perry and Van Buskirk, are in prison.

The fearful increase of this species of murder should arouse the whole country. New York alone is not to blame, for all the victims are from abroad, and come here to hide their shame.

Alas! There is no such thing as hiding crime. You can kill, and bury the dead, but you cannot keep them in their graves. Sometimes a hand will reach out of the grave here, and another there, and the murderers cannot escape. As with the dead so with our sins. Men and women think they can leave their sins behind them; think they can cover one sin by a greater, and so hide their shame; but these sins become sleuth-hounds, and hunt the sinners down in the end. Poor Alice Bowlsby came to the great city of New York to hide her shame. She little thought she was leaving the eyes of her neighbors to expose her shame to the eyes of the world. She wished to save her mother and sisters from shame, and she overwhelmed them in grief and shame. She wished to save the author of her misery, and she succeeded in killing him, for he could not meet the eyes of the indignant world, and so he blew out his brains.

There is matter in these horrible explosions worth ten thousand sermons. It must strike a lesson deep into every heart. The great fact meets us face to face that the public conscience was corrupt. That the crime was not in the committal of forbidden deeds so much as having these deeds exposed. Girls and their accomplices did not fear the eye of God, but they feared the public eye, and so after violating the Divine law, they sought to avoid the sin by offending God more grievously a second time. Had they succeeded, they would have passed through the world as though they were clean-handed.

The great bold truth that one crime cannot be condoned by the committal of a greater, should be preached from every pulpit. The spirit of this truth should be practiced by the people. Now the world looks with such brutal eye on the woman who falls, that the victims prefer to risk death than exposure. Rather let the unfortunate who will not kill her offspring, or risk death herself—death of soul and body—be treated with kindness and pity, for the fact that she does not follow up her first crime with another and a greater one, is proof that heaven has still a place in her heart.

The wretches who practice "killing" and who are caught red-handed, should be hung, for they are worse than the mere vulgar murderers in our midst.

—Will people ever learn that death lurks in kerosene oil—even of "proof" quality—and govern themselves in the use of it with reasonable care? The other day, in this city, a girl was killed by the explosion of a kerosene lamp—not as the result of filling it when lighted; not because the oil was impure; but because the lamp was large and the oil was allowed to get low, so that a quantity of gas was collected sufficient to cause the explosion. The foolish virgin, having no oil in her lamp, met with a dreadful punishment. —Chicago Mail.

—"Papa, ought a teacher to flog me for what I did not do?" "Certainly not, my boy," replied the father. "Well," said the little fellow, "he did to-day when I didn't do my sum."

The Cause and Cure of Consumption.

The primary cause of Consumption is derangement of the digestive organs. The derangement produces deficient nutrition and assimilation. By assimilation I mean that process by which the nutriment of the food is converted into blood, and thence into the solids of the body. Persons with digestion thus impaired, having the slightest predisposition to pulmonary disease, or if they take cold, will be very liable to have Consumption of the Lungs in some of its forms; and I hold that it will be impossible to cure any case of Consumption without first restoring a good digestion and healthy assimilation. The very first thing to be done is to cleanse the stomach and bowels from all diseased mucous and alimes which is clogging these organs so that they cannot perform their functions, and then rouse up and restore the liver to a healthy action. For this purpose, I know of no better remedy than SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS. These Pills cleanse the stomach and bowels of all the dead and morbid slime that is causing disease and decay in the whole system. They will clear out the liver of all diseased bile that has accumulated there, and arouse it up to a healthy action, by which natural and healthy bile is secreted.

The stomach, bowels and liver are thus cleansed by the use of Schenck's Mandrake Pills; but there remains in the stomach an excess of acid, the organ is torpid, and the appetite is poor. In the bowels, the lacteals are weak, and requiring strength and support. It is in a condition like this that Schenck's Seaweed Tonic proves to be the most valuable remedy ever discovered. It is alkaline, and its use will neutralize all excess of acid, making the stomach sweet and fresh; it will give permanent tone to this important organ, and create a good, hearty appetite, and prepare the system for the first process of a good digestion, and ultimately make good healthy, living blood. After this preparatory treatment, what remains to cure most cases of consumption is the free and persevering use of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup. The Pulmonic Syrup nourishes the system, purifies the blood, and is readily absorbed into the circulation, and thence distributed to the diseased lungs. There it ripens all morbid matters, whether in the form of abscess or tubercules, and then assists Nature to expel all the diseased matter in the form of free expectoration, when once it ripens. It is then, by the great healing and purifying properties of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, that all ulcers and cavities are healed up sound, and my patient is cured.

The essential thing to be done in curing Consumption is to get up a good appetite and a good digestion, so that the body will grow in flesh and get strong. If a person has diseased lungs, a cavity or abscess there, the cavity cannot heal, the matter cannot ripen, so long as the system is below par. What is necessary to cure is a new order of things, a good appetite, a good digestion, the body to grow in flesh and get fat; then Nature is helped, the cavities will heal, the matter will ripen and be thrown off in large quantities, and then the person regains health and strength. This is the true and only plan to cure Consumption, and if a person is very bad, if the lungs are not entirely destroyed, or even if one lung is entirely gone, if there is enough vitality left in the other to heal up, there is hope.

I have seen many persons cured with only one sound lung, live and enjoy life to a good old age. This is what Schenck's medicines will do to cure Consumption. They will clean out the stomach, sweeten and strengthen it, get up a good digestion, and give Nature the assistance she needs to clear the system of all the disease that is in the lungs, whatever the form may be.

It is important that, while using Schenck's medicines, care should be exercised not to take cold, or to be down in cold and damp weather; avoid night air, and take out-door exercise only in a genial and warm sunshine.

I wish it distinctly understood that when I recommend a patient to be careful to avoid taking cold while using my medicines, I do so for a special reason. A man who has but partially recovered from the effects of a bad cold is far more liable to a relapse than one who has been entirely cured, and it is precisely the same in regard to consumption. So long as the lungs are not perfectly healed, just so long is there imminent danger of a full return of the disease. Hence it is that I so strenuously caution pulmonary patients against exposing themselves to an atmosphere that is not genial and pleasant. Confirmed consumptives' lungs are a mass of sores, which the change of atmosphere will inflame. The grand secret of my success with my medicines consists in my ability to subdue inflammation, and prevent relapses in so many of the faculty do. An inflamed lung cannot with safety to the patient be exposed to the biting blasts of winter or the chilling winds of spring or autumn. It should be carefully shielded from all irritating influence. The utmost caution should be observed in this particular, as without it a cure under almost any circumstances is an impossibility.

The person should be kept on a wholesome and nutritious diet, and all the medicines continued until the body has recovered its full vigor and vitality of flesh and strength.

I was myself cured by this treatment of the worst kind of Consumption, and have had to get fat and hearty these many years, with one lung mostly gone. I have cured thousands since, and very many have been cured by this treatment whom I have never seen.

About the first of October I expect to take possession of my new building at the northeast corner of Sixth and Arch Streets, where I shall be pleased to give advice to all who may require it.

Full directions accompany all my remedies, so that a person in any part of the world can be readily cured by a strict observance of the same.

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS.

WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK, Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Root and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. lyrdawfeb16

One Thousand Gallons of it were sold in this City, in the year 1870, and not one complaint has come from those who have used it; but all speak in its favor; it is mixed ready for application, and is much easier put on than any other Paint, making a smooth, glossy surface for years, that can be cleaned with hot suds without injuring it. It is excellent for walls inside, in the place of paper.

I shall keep this season a large stock of Chemical Paints of all shades on hand, to accommodate customers with any amount, without delay in ordering it. TAMING OF THE BRIDEGROOM.—Mr. Spillman had just married a second wife. On the day after the wedding Mr. S. remarked:

"I intend, Mrs. Spillman, to enlarge my dairy."

"You mean our diary, my dear," replied Mrs. Spillman.

"No," quoth Mr. Spillman, "I intend to enlarge my dairy."

"Say our dairy, Mr. Spillman."

"No, my dairy."

"Say our dairy say our—," screamed she, seizing the poker.

"My dairy! my dairy!" yelled the husband.

"Our dairy! our dairy!" screeched the wife, emphasizing each word with a blow on the back of her cringing spouse.

Mr. Spillman retreated under the bed. In passing under the bedclothes his hat was brushed off. He remained under cover for several minutes, waiting for a lull in the storm. At last his wife saw him thrusting his head out at the foot of the bed, much like turtle from its shell.

"What are you looking for?" exclaimed the lady.

"I am looking for our hat" says he.

EVERY TOOTH IS WORTH A DIAMOND. Feats of strength performed with the teeth are absurd; those who indulge in them ought to be punished like that youth who says Dr. Lamartie, broke all his front teeth, who bet that he would throw over his head a chair which he held with his teeth by the upper part of the back-board to achieve that noble feat. Another fellow more imprudent, caused himself to be hoisted up from the ground to a window by a rope, which he held in his teeth. When he reached a certain height he lost his four incisors, and broke his leg in the fall. Some others, says the doctor, find pleasure in grinding drinking-glasses between their teeth, and wounding their mouths grievously in the attempt. One would suppose that the life of these maniacs is a perpetual challenge to the Almighty, who gave it to them. The loss of a tooth is a real misfortune, since it cannot be repaired. A tooth is worth a diamond, says one of our authors. Remember these few words, and try and put them in practice.

—A citizen of New Orleans has recently been so successful in experimenting with fluid gas of ammonia as a motive power, that he claims that there is a probability that it may supercede horse power on street railroads. Liquefied ammonia, when subjected to a heat of sixty degrees Fahrenheit, turns to a vapor which produces a pressure of sixty pounds to the square inch. This pressure is applied like steam, and is subject to the same controlling influences. When intended to be used for the purpose of propulsion, the ammonia is poured into a system of tubes, deposited in a tank of water in such a way that the gas which passes through the cylinder, instead of escaping into the open air, may be carried through the exhaust pipe, and be absorbed by the water. In this manner the ammoniated water is preserved, and being re-distilled, is capable of being used over again several thousand times, wearing out only at the rate of twenty-five per cent. per annum. The gas is so readily absorbed by the water that it prevents any disagreeable smell or noise of concussion with the air. At the end of each trip, the tubes are refilled from a stationary reservoir of liquid ammonia, and during the journey the heat lost by the tubes is acquired by the water in the tank, which reimparts it, and prevents the ammonia from falling below the boiling temperature.

—On the authority of two persons of veracity, a correspondent of the Albany Journal tells this: They saw a wasp riding on a green worm one and a half inches long. How far he had ridden they did not know, but after they saw him they watched him until he had ridden all of twenty-five feet. Occasionally the worm would stop, lie motionless as though he was dead, when the wasp, after a little, would spur him up, and then the worm would go on. The wasp would keep the worm in as direct a course as he could. After a while the worm stopped, and the wasp dimounted and quickly ran and removed a little stone or piece of ground about two inches from where he lay, and then seizing the worm by the head drew it into the hole. Presently the wasp came out, put on the gravel top over the hole, covered the stone over, and seemed to be getting ready to fly, when they killed him, and then dug down about two inches and dug out the worm, who was dead.

—Our spiritualist friends must rally the unseen powers for the devices of skeptics are setting their reputation at naught. In Louisville, yesterday, a trial of skill was made between a female medium of note and an unbelieving professor, and the latter not only did everything that the "spirits" did, but did it, so to speak, even more spiritually. Where now are the profits—and where soon will be the profits—if this sort of thing goes on?—Chicago Mail.

THE NOVELTY CLOTHES WRINGER.

Nothing, except the Sewing Machine, has ever been invented which so much relieves the labor of the household as the Wringer. But its usefulness does not end here. The saving of clothing is of much greater importance. It is often remarked that articles of fine texture, last twice as long when wrung in a Wringer as when wrung by hand. The NOVELTY has Cog-wheels on both ends. * * The rolls are allowed to separate at either end. These, besides other advantages which it contains, seem to be indispensable to a practical wringer.—New York Independent.

The Novelty Wringer has become an indispensable institution in thousands of families. And we believe its great and increasing popularity is fully merited—for the Novelty evidently possesses all the requisites of a first-class, practical machine. Indeed, after using one for many months in our own family, we are prepared to indorse the Novelty as unsurpassed (the laundress says unequaled,) by any of the several wringers previously tried.—Moore's Rural New Yorker.

Portsmouth, N. H.

WENDELL PHILLIPS in his speech at Salisbury Beach, on the 14th, said if he didn't tread on somebody's toes he should regret that he went there. He said that in the past 20 years "Massachusetts has conferred honor when she conferred office. But she has not received any. At Fitchburg General Butler said that I let the papers run over me, but he chose to fight them. Well, we have got good authority, both, for our courses. The wise King of Israel left maxims which covered both methods. We both had divine authority. Solomon said: 'Answer not a fool according to his folly, lest thou also be like unto him.' I was afraid of that, and so I did not answer. But Solomon also says in the next verse: 'Answer thou a fool according to his folly, lest he be wise in his own conceit.' Well, Mr. Butler has taken this last advice, and has taken the conceit out. I don't know which way is the better, but I don't believe that both united will annihilate the fools of this Commonwealth. I am satisfied with my experience, for I didn't go into the State house.

I am here to say that I hope General Butler will be governor because he represents the great labor element, and the moment he don't I hope the great labor element will trample him into dust under their feet. Governments are tested by protection to men, not to money. The question has been delayed here. It is twenty years later than in England. The slave question drove it out of consideration. And now it is the duty of politicians to let the great question of man come to the front. It is rare that you can find a leader willing to risk his reputation by coming out with a new idea. What does he want by this disturbance? Does any one doubt if he only waited he would not have much trouble in getting into the United States Senate whenever there was a vacancy? Why, I envy Benjamin Butler. I am willing the world should weave into his chaplet the word "contraband" which he coined; willing he should stand as the only statesman who hung a traitor. History needs its brightest pen and keenest point with which to record the fact that twenty millions rebelled, and one great iron right hand alone dared to hang a traitor to a gibbet in the face of the Messiah. I am willing he should go down to that fame. But there is one hour I envy Benjamin Butler. It was when Johnson was impeached—when the traitor President was arraigned. He summoned to his side five great lawyers, but when General Butler objected so cogently and so unanswerably to their course of procedure they sat down and debated by what subtlety of law they could put him back. Had I continued at the bar I would have swapped New Orleans and Mumford for that half hour in the Senate.

What is General Butler's offense? When over the stagnant waters of office-holding he warred a new idea, every man started up. I would not give a sixpence for him if the newspapers let him alone. If I go into an orchard for pears I select the tree that has been pelted the most. Give me man who has made enemies by hundreds every time he puts his foot down. If you can find a man in politics of whom every one speaks well, I'll tell you what his soul is made of—soft soap.

People say that Mr. Butler is not a temperance man, that he drinks his champagne; and that Mr. Claflin is a temperance man. I know that, and that cause nearest my heart is temperance, and yet I tell you that I would rather General Butler would be governor with a bottle of champagne in his right hand than Mr. Claflin without. I'll tell you why. I'd rather have a man who does drink and and one who will execute the prohibitory law than one who does not drink, and does not execute the law. New I'd rather have a prohibitionist; I'd rather have Pitman than Butler. But there rises up a man and he says, 'I'll shut up every groggshop in Boston, and my motive shall be to kill the prohibitory law.' Thank you, sir. The other day I read the ten commandments—I really did read them. In the last six weeks General Butler has committed all the sins there named. But he never has been charged since 1861 with not doing what he said he'd do. He has done many things which I would not ask him to do differently. But if I was Pope there is not one among the candidates I would make a saint of. Saint's don't come very often, and it is hard to get them into politics, and I don't believe if you should import one bran new from Heaven that he could get a majority in Massachusetts."

TAMMANY'S WOES.—A stormy conference between Hall, Sweeney and Tweed on Thursday, resulted, it is said, in Tweed's dissolving partnership with Hall and Sweeney, and informing them that for the future they must look out for themselves unless they would consent to be governed by him. This they refused to do. The trio then separated, Tweed to conduct the Tammany campaign without calling any more councils of war, and Hall and Sweeney to outgeneral him, if possible, by raising a rebellion in the ranks and cashiering Connolly who, it is claimed, Tweed now fully supports in his refusal to resign. It is also said that Hall and Sweeney held a secret meeting to devise means of fighting this grand sachem, and that Ex-Sheriff O'Brien has positively withdrawn from the ring and bidden defiance to it. Several prominent democrats from the interior of the State were in town, and declared that the course pursued by the ring was injuring the party greatly, and that something must be done before the meeting of the State convention. Connolly's removal was strongly urged.

POLITICAL.

The Massachusetts Democrats have renominated John Quincy Adams as candidate for Governor, and have chosen three departurists and one anti as delegates to the National convention.

The Baltimore American mocks the miseries of democracy. It calls the anti-departurists "the men who heroically stick in the mud." The Commercial Advertiser suggests they are not much worse off than those newly risen from the mire, since the latter refuse to change their garments and yet cannot wash out the mud stains upon them.

JOHN E. BUTLER, ESQ., of the Biddeford Journal, good humoredly remarks of the election in York County:

In this county the smoke of battle has sufficiently cleared away to ascertain that none are dead and none but ourself wounded. The day was very fine, the republican vote very small and democrats active, consequently the republican majority in the county is quite small, being about 375. All the county officers are elected, except ourself, by majorities varying in some degree from the above figures.

While the result as to ourself is undesirable, it is not unexpected. When the matter of bringing our name before the convention was first mentioned we suggested that the personal hostilities entertained by some of the friends of Mr. Lynch would endanger our election, if the republican majority was small in the county. Our friends replied that those men who had been so loud in denouncing bolters would not themselves from mere personal feeling bolt a nomination openly and fairly made in a convention of which they were members, and faith (unfounded as it proves) was put by them in the sincerity of certain individuals who denounced all those who did not vote for Mr. Lynch. That our friends were sincere in their belief we have no doubt, but we did not credit them with so much principle and devotion to party as they professed. We knew they were urging Mr. Lynch from mere personal consideration at the sacrifice of principle and harmony in the party, and what they had done, we thought might well be expected of them again; consequently when a few days before election we learned of an organized opposition to be clandestinely executed we were not so much surprised as many others.

These bolters did not by any means embrace all the friends of Mr. Lynch, for there were many of those who supported us both in convention and at the polls. Here and now we tender to all those who gave us their support our sincere thanks; and those who wear the name of Republicans and have exerted themselves to elect a Democrat, may take to themselves all the credit and comfort they can from their success. To this may be added the cheering intelligence that they have done that which the instigators dared not do; for they, while inciting the movement, have, to preserve their own record, secured the chestnuts without burning their paws.

This result neither shakes our confidence in the principles of the Republican party or daunts us in the fearless performance of our duty as the publisher of a public journal. We have no complaints to make or tears to shed. Our duty in the future must be done as in the past, in the light of our own judgment and convictions of right.

—The strongest enemies of Controller Connolly must commend the spirit in which he met Mayor Hall's demand for his resignation. He saw at once that he was treated as the predestined Jonah of the Tammany craft, and declined to complete the parallel. There is something almost admirable in the impudent assurance of his letter to the mayor. Knowing well that the ring dare not provoke a conflict with him, he refuses to be made a vicarious sacrifice for his confederates, and snaps his fingers at their impotence. He insists that they must fall together, and if he can insure that result by keeping his present position for a few days, honest citizens will advise him to "stick."—Boston Advertiser.

THE NEW RAILROAD. — Says the Rochester Courier: There are three routes surveyed for the Rochester & Nashua Railroad, with lines nowhere more than five miles apart, running through good farming towns. Starting from Rochester the line runs down by the Dover & Winnepesaukee Railroad to Gonic, and from thence to Lee the line is common to all the surveys.

Eastern Line.—Through Barrington, crossing the Portsmouth & Concord road at Epping station; through Fremont, the north-west corner of Danville, Sandown, Hampstead, to Derry, crossing the Manchester & Lawrence railroad at Windham station; through Hudson to Nashua.

Western Line.—From Lee through Barrington, Nottingham, crossing the Portsmouth & Concord railroad midway or nearly so between West Epping and Raymond stations; through Raymond and Chester, joining the middle line in Chester near the crossing of the Exeter River.

L. L. WEIR of Limestone county, Alabama, was taken from his house a few days ago by five masked men. His captors, after whipping him, nearly drowned him in a stream of water, and tied him to a tree and left him to starve. Two of the desperadoes have been arrested.

—Lookout Mountain is to have a railroad, and then lookout for accidents.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

BILLIARDS have won a high rank as a recreation, in America. Appreciating this, Messrs. Rice, of the AMERICAN HOUSE, Boston, have two billiard halls, with all the appurtenances. Guests will find that every provision has been made for their needs and pleasures while sojourning at this favorite hotel.

There is no disease flesh is heir to more troublesome to manage than rheumatism. It comes when you least expect it, and generally remains till it gets ready to go away. The most conspicuous remedy for this complaint is Johnson's Anodyne Liniment.

Two or three doses of Sweldan's Cavalry Condition Powders will cure a horse of any common cold or cough, and the very worst cases may be cured in a few weeks. We know this from experience.

Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye,

guaranteed harmless by Professor CHILTON and other distinguished chemists, and the most popular dye in America, because it imparts the most natural shades of color with the greatest certainty and in the shortest space of time. This famous article has

CRISTADORO'S HAIR PRESERVATIVE

Over-Doctored!

Without any disrespect to the members of the medical profession, a profession honored by all thinking men, it is only just to say that they are too thick on the ground. The consequence is that the community is doctored over much. When nature needs only the gentle stimulant and alterative, which has become famous throughout the country as a reliable medicine, under the name of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, she is not unfrequently dosed with a dozen prescriptions, all experimental, from the Pharmacopoia. This is in evil, and proves that the practice of medicine is far from being at all times a healing art. At this period of the year, when the fall of the leaf indicates that decay has seized upon the vegetable kingdom, many harassing diseases are prevalent. Chief among these may be mentioned intermittent fever and bilious remittent. The exhalations rising from decomposing vegetation, and the heavy dews and fogs, are very apt to generate these complaints. The wisest policy is to protect the system by a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters at the commencement of the fall. Much suffering may thereby be avoided. But if the disease has already begun, its periodical visitations may readily be checked and broken up by this active, yet harmless, vegetable tonic.

But be on your guard against the charlatans who are attempting to palm off, under various names, unwholesome compounds, which they pretend to compare favorably with the great national elixir, which has long since swept more formidable opposition from the field. Bear in mind that every bottle of genuine Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is authenticated by a splendidly engraved label, and a fac simile of the sign manual of the firm. Put up in bottles only, and cannot be obtained in bulk.

Messrs. Editors:—The Portsmouth Journal states that an injunction against the P. & D. Railway was procured through the "instrumentality of citizens of Dover," which is utterly untrue; not a citizen of Dover having been cognisant of the application for, or the granting of that injunction; the party who did apply for it were, however, informed by the highest municipal authority in Dover, that the taxpayers of that city were almost to a man opposed to giving any aid to that road. ONE WHO KNOWS.

WM. HORACE LINGARD AT THE TEMPLE.—Our citizens have in store for them a fresh treat in the first appearance before a Portsmouth audience of Mr. Lingard with his entire company next Wednesday evening. Included in the company is the charming Miss Alice Dunning and that pretty little soubrette, Dickie Lingard. The performance will commence with that fine old English comedy entitled Naval Engagements, in which the whole company appear, to be followed by the celebrated William Horace himself in 20 of his original sketches, songs and dances. The performance will conclude with the beautiful and most pleasing little comedietta entitled "Married at any Price." In this we are to be introduced to Dickie Lingard. We predict for this entertainment a crowded house. Preston has tickets now on sale.

PORTSMOUTH & DOVER RAILROAD. The candid and fair action of the City Council on Thursday evening ought to satisfy all parties as appears to me. I have not at command any term comporting with decency which would be characteristic of the "First set of Resolutions" in the guaranty problem. Suffice it to say that the second set give the gratifying assurance of some soundness of mind, inasmuch as they allow the city to own and control the evidences of the payment of the three, four, five or more hundred thousands of dollars which the enterprise may finally demand. And the question is now narrowed down to the point of government ownership, taking these enterprises out of the hands of individuals. Also the item of the Committee of three, opens points too grave for a hasty discussion.
A. J. PENHALLOW.

WIBIRD STREET.—At the special meeting of the Board of Aldermen, Friday afternoon, a hearing was had on the petition of Simon Marston and others, for the the extension of Wibird Street to South Road. W. H. Y. Hackett appeared as counsel for the petitioners, and urged the laying out of the road as a public improvement and as demanded by the public convenience. Messrs. Simon Marsten, John L. Downs, Newton Johnston and Oliver Ayers testified as to the necessity of the proposed new highway; and the Board sent out and invited Mr. Frank W. Miller, the owner of the land, to appear before them, and state what amount of land damages he would ask, and he replied that the land cost him $600 or more, but he would accept $400 if the road should be extended. Mayor Fernald and Alderman Hatch were appointed a committee to visit the premises and report on the matter to the Board at next meeting.

THE COMING STATE FAIR.—A meeting of the board of officers of the New Hampshire State Fair was held at Dover, Thursday evening. All arrangements are progressing finely, and a grand display is expected. Thursday, Sept. 28th, was decided upon as the day for the oration of J. Stanton Gould of New York, and the society's dinner, etc. A large amount of live stock will be sent from this city and vicinity, with the expectation that the fair will be held in Portsmouth next year.

....The rooms of the Young People's Christian Union opened on Friday evening for the Fall and Winter. Arrangements are perfecting for the improvement, interest and amusement of the members and those who desire to join. The reading room is to be kept regularly supplied with daily, weekly and illustrated papers, and the library will be open Saturday nights, for those who desire to take out books. Classes for instruction we learn, will be formed at an early day by the benefit of the members, and such action taken as may from time to time be necessary for the general good of the youth of our city. The Union, and the Young Men's Christian Association re-open under most favorable auspices, and the small sum charged for membership cards, which give the holder free access to all privileges, commends itself to the consideration of parents who desire to place their children under the influence of pure morals and christian effort.

Portsmouth & Dover Railroad.

CITY OF PORTSMOUTH:
IN MAYOR AND ALDERMEN, Sept. 14, 1871.

ORDERED, That the "Joint Resolution authorizing City Aid in the construction of the Portsmouth & Dover Railroad," presented this evening, be printed one time in the Portsmouth Journal, Daily Chronicle and Daily Times.

MARCELLUS BUFFORD, Clerk.

Authorizing City Aid in the Construction of the Portsmouth & Dover Railroad.

WHEREAS, There exists no sufficient, direct and convenient route of travel and transportation between Portsmouth and the City of Dover, and the places lying in that direction; and whereas the best interests of the City of Portsmouth, and the convenience and necessity of the people, as well of Portsmouth as of other parts of the State, require additional and better means of public communication between Portsmouth and Dover, and from the interior of the intervening country a suitable road cannot be constructed in the ordinary method, nor by private enterprise without public and municipal aid; And whereas the construction of said road will increase the prosperity and valuation of the City, and will afford the public facilities for travel and transportation which the good of this City and the necessities of the State require;

RESOLVED BY THE CITY COUNCILS, That the City of Portsmouth, by authority of the Statutes of our State, will consult with the Portsmouth & Dover Railroad, for the purpose of aiding the construction of said Railroad, to issue bonds to an amount not exceeding, as from time to time may be needed, Two Hundred and Six Thousand Nine Hundred Dollars, to be exchanged for the stock of the Portsmouth and Dover Railroad, of the same par value, upon the conditions following:

First, Stock of said Railroad, not less than four thousand and not exceeding seven thousand dollars, the par value of one hundred dollars each, shall be subscribed for in good faith, by responsible persons, or by some town or city aiding the construction of said Railroad, to be paid for at its par value in money, or in the bonds of said town or city, issued for that purpose. Said subscription list having been examined shall be approved by a committee of the Aldermen of this City, to be appointed for that purpose, and a copy of the subscription list shall be lodged with the City Clerk.

This City will, upon the conditions of this resolution, subscribe for Three Thousand and Sixty-nine shares of said stock, to be paid for in its bonds, as hereafter mentioned, provided the City of Dover shall, upon substantially the same terms, subscribe for Two Thousand Three Hundred and Ninety-nine shares thereof; but if said Railroad, shall, for any reasons, deem it inexpedient to issue so large a number of shares, then this City will subscribe for a like proportion of the shares issued by said Road, provided the City of Dover shall make the same proportional subscription and provided the whole number of shares subscribed for shall not be less than Four Thousand.

The said Railroad shall issue and deliver to the City, proper certificates of the stock for which the City has subscribed, which said certificates shall be numbered, signed by the President and Treasurer of said Road, and entered upon the books of said corporation.

Second. The City will pay for said stock so issued to it by the Railroad, by its bonds, at the times, in the manner and upon the terms following:

The construction of said Road shall be commenced immediately and completed with all reasonable economy and dispatch. As soon as the construction of said road shall be commenced in good faith, or a contract be made therefor with some responsible party, and said certificates of Railroad stock delivered to the City, the City will issue and deliver to said Railroad at least Fifty Thousand Dollars of its bonds, of the denomination and value of One Hundred, Five Hundred, and One Thousand Dollars each, (as said Railroad may elect) payable in twenty years, with coupons attached, bearing interest to the bearer at the rate of six per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually upon the first days of every and thereafter succeeding. Said bonds shall be numbered, signed by the Mayor and City Clerk, and shall have printed upon the back thereof, the words and figures following:

Issued by the City of Portsmouth in aid of the construction of the Portsmouth and Dover Railroad, agreeably to the terms of a contact between said City and said Railroad dated 187.

The City will also issue and deliver to said Railroad, from time to time as the same may be required and demanded by said Road to complete the construction and equipment thereof, further bonds of the same description, to an amount equal to the total par value of the stock in aid of said Road received by the City, but not exceeding in all the sum of Three Hundred and Six Thousand Nine Hundred Dollars, in exchange for stock or in payment of said Railroad stock.

Third, By the exchange of bonds of the City for the stock of said Road, the City shall become absolute owner of said stock, and shall be invested in addition to the rights reserved in any contract with said Road, to all the rights and privileges incident to such ownership; and said Railroad shall take and hold said bonds of the City with full power to sell and dispose of the same, to its own use, but the proceeds of such sale shall be applied solely to the construction and equipment of said Road and the expenses necessarily connected therewith.

Fourth, The Railroad, or its franchise shall not be sold, let or leased, to any person or corporation without the consent of the City expressed by a vote of the City Council.

Fifth, A committee of three citizens of Portsmouth shall be appointed annually by the Board of Aldermen of the City, to act in conjunction with similar committees of any other towns or cities subscribing for and taking the stock of said Road. It shall be the duty of the Committee to advise with the Directors of the Railroad in the construction, equipment and running of said Railroad, and in all the financial affairs thereof. All contracts relating to the Railroads shall be submitted to the Committee for their advice and approval. All books, accounts and vouchers of the Railroad shall at all times be open and subject to the inspection of the Committee or their Agent. Once every six months the Committee shall make careful examination of the affairs, resources and condition of the said Railroad Corporation and shall report the same to the Mayor and Aldermen of this City. And if at any time the money or property of the Railroad shall be diverted from its proper use, or the terms and conditions of the compact with the City shall be violated, or if the Directors of the Railroad shall fail to build the same within a reasonable time, or to make the best practical use of the same, so that the largest possible dividends may accrue to the City, it shall be the duty of the Committee to apply to the Supreme Court or legislature for relief.

Sixth, This City in conjunction with any other town or city, that may subscribe for and take stock in said Road, shall take security by mortgage of said Railroad for the faithful division of the net earnings of said Road among the stockholders, in a dividend of profits, and for the due performance of all the other terms and conditions of the compact between said Railroad and the said towns and cities including the stock. And it shall be the duty of the Committee appointed by the Aldermen, as aforesaid, upon the breach of any of the conditions contained in the compact, in addition to any other remedies they may see fit to pursue, to proceed without delay to foreclose said mortgage by legal process.

Seventh, This Committee shall cause to be drawn up in writing a contract with said Railroad agreeable to the terms of this resolution, which contract being signed by the President and Directors of said Corporation duly authorized, and the Mayor of the City of Portsmouth, and recorded in the records of the City, shall be valid and binding upon the city.

GOLD WATCH FOUND ON SALISBURY BEACH.—One day last week a young daughter of George Currier, Esq., while walking on the beach, discovered in the surf, and in shallow water, a gold watch of the hunter pattern. Hesitating to go into the water, she called a woman near the spot, who immediately waded in, secured the watch and carried it away. How the watch came there, and who was the person that took it from the water, is not known. Taken in connection with the washing ashore, near the same place, of a sealed glass jar, filled with snakes, it is reasonable to suppose that they both came from a wrecked vessel on the coast.—Amesbury Villager.

CIDER GONE.—The Rochester Courier tells of a man living in Milton who was told that by sinking a barrel of cider into the pond and letting it remain till spring he could preserve it sweet and pure. He did so, and in the spring, in trying to pry it from the mud, ran an iron bar into the barrel and his sweet cider passed out upon the water of the pond. A gentleman says that early the next morning six men were seen at the dam three miles below, down upon their knees to get a taste of the cider upon the top of the water.

DOUBTFUL AND HOPEFUL.—California was one of the certain States, in the infallible calculations of the Democrats. Maine was doubtful and hopeful. She was to show large Democratic gains this year, preparatory to a complete victory in 1872. By and by the conceded Republican States will come in. We believe that there are only five or six of them, but considering the way that the Democratic and the doubtful are tumbling along, they are likely to prove sufficient for all practical purposes.—Prov. Jour.

A MUTUAL MISTAKE.—The Telegraph reports that the Nashua police were out rather late one night, watching an expected customer from Lowell. By-and-by they espied and hailed a pedestrian who, not answering, they pursued. After a vigorous pursuit and a pitched battle they caught a very respectable citizen who had been to see his girl, and who thought he was escaping from ruffians.

A SACRIFICE.—Hearth and Home for Sept. 23 has a cartoon representing a carpet salesman exhibiting his goods to a lady, who appears to be remonstrating with him on some point. The salesman exclaims; "High, madam! Why, those carpets are sacrificed at three dollars a yard. Tweed & Co. paid us more than a thousand dollars a yard for just such carpet."

HALL TO CONNOLLY.—The muse of the Tribune is responsible for the following:—

It's "too thin," Dick; you've got to go,
The voucher trick was quite a shameless deed.
Blunders in politics are crimes, you know;
So be resigned, and save poor me and Tweed.

CONNOLLY TO HALL.

That voucher business, as you say, is queer,
But surely I alone am not suspected.
Besides, dear Oakey, just look here,
If I resign, we'll all soon be detected.

Great Falls saw the big bon-fire on the top of Mount Washington, Thursday evening, between 8 and 9 o'clock—and is happy.

The Alton camp meeting is at its height.

The next elections of importance will be those of Ohio, Iowa and Pennsylvania, all of which occur on the 10th of October.

—It is an exploded theory that women dress to please the men. They dress to please to spite the other. Any girl of sense and experience knows that it is just as easy to break a man's heart in a two-dollar muslin, neatly made up, as it is in a five hundred dollar silk costume made by a man milliner.

TARRANT'S SELTZER APERIENT.

Tarrant's Effervescent Seltzer Aperient

is its duplicate. Letters attesting its wonderful Tonic Aperient and Anti-Bilious qualities swarm in from every source. The question has been settled whether artificially medicated waters may not be equal to those which burst sparkling from the earth itself. They can; and the Seltzer Aperient, when undoubtedly pure and genuine, proves the fact.

FREE LIBRARY IN LOUISVILLE, TO BE CALLED THE

PUBLIC LIBRARY OF KENTUCKY.

The Concert and Distribution will take place under the immediate supervision of the Trustees named in the act of incorporation.

The trustees will be assisted by prominent, well-known and eminent citizens of Kentucky, who have consented to be present at the concert and to superintend the drawing and distribution of gifts.

The holders of tickets to which gifts are awarded will be paid on presentation of them or their fraction, at the office in Louisville, the second day after drawing, and every business day for six months thereafter, and may be sent direct or through any Bank or Express Co., for collection. All orders accompanied by Drafts, Post Office Money Orders, or Greenbacks, will be promptly attended to and tickets returned by mail, registered or expressed, as desired.

Tickets are like Greenbacks—good only to the holder.

Buyers will note that there are only One Hundred Thousand Tickets, instead of Two Hundred Thousand, as in the San Francisco Gift Concert, and that there is $550,000 more distributed. I sold that and made the awards in four months and paid $468,000 to ticket holders from November 2nd to 15th, 1870, and turned over $12,000 to the Secretary due tickets not presented.

It will be particularly noticed that it is a matter of impossibility for any one to know what numbers draw gifts, as it is not known what the gift or any number drawn from the first wheel will be, until the sealed box, with amount of the gift plainly printed, is taken from the other wheel and opened in full view of the audience. Therefore the larger gifts may not come out until towards last, or in the middle of the drawing. The $100,000 gift in the San Francisco Gift Concert under the management of C. R. PETERS, was the 20th number drawn, and was awarded and paid to a gentleman in New Orleans. 721 Gifts is all that can be drawn in one day.

☞ The Number and Gifts are drawn by blind children from 5 to 14 years of age.

The Drawing will be extensively published, and parties ordering Tickets will have printed lists sent them. Parties forming Clubs and desiring information will please address the office.

11 Tickets for $100; 28 Tickets, $255; 56 Tickets, $500; 113 Tickets, $1000.

The undersigned, late principal business manager of the very successful Mercantile Library Gift Concert at San Francisco, California, has been appointed agent and manager of the Gift Concert in aid of the Public Library of Kentucky.

The drawing will take place in public, and everything will be done to satisfy buyers of tickets that their interests will be as well protected as if they personally superintended the entire affair.

MANNER OF DRAWING.

There will be two glass wheels. One wheel will contain 100,000 numbers, plainly printed on leather tags. The other wheel will contain 721 boxes, each containing a gift. One tag or number will be drawn from the 100,000 wheel, and the first box drawn from the second or 721 box wheel will contain a gift, neatly printed and sealed up, and the gift so drawn from the second wheel will be the gift of the tag first drawn, whether $100, $1000, or $100,000.

14,364 Tickets Disposed of in July.

To insure ticket holders, the public are assured that if only 25,000 tickets are sold only 25,000 numbers go in the large wheel, the 721 gifts awarded but diminished pro rata. In case 50,000 tickets only are sold, only numbers 1 to 50,000 go in the large wheel, and the 721 gifts diminished one-half; and in case only 85,000 tickets are sold the entire 721 gifts will be paid in full—it being intended that no unsold tickets shall participate.

The Manager has already paid into the Citizen's Bank $50,000 towards defraying the expenses, and does not depend on sales of tickets to pay the expenses of Printing, Advertising, &c. The public are invited to the utmost scrutiny as to the reliability of the entire affair.

Persons desirous of acting as agents for the sale of tickets in any city in United States or Canadas, address

"STICK TO THE FENCE."—For fifteen years daily, at Stamford, Connecticut, a man has sat on a fence and watched every railroad train as it passed—Exchange.

He is probably trying to make up his mind if it would be safe to ride in the cars. Old fellow, you stick to that fence! If the top rail is sharp, turn it over or put a cushion on it. Fit up a smoking apartment on the next panel, if you like, and rig a luxurious coach on the next one to that. Bring out your baggage, take a check for it, and hang it on a post. Buy a ticket, and punch it for yourself. Ask yourself the distance to the next station, and get insulted. Secure, as your means will permit, all the luxuries of railroad travel, but don't get off that fence to enjoy them. So shall you die a natural death, and the good wife shall not expend the farm fighting the life insurance companies over your cold corpse. You're in the right o'this thing, old rooster!—San Fran. News Letter.

—A somewhat eccentric lawyer being engaged in defending a hard case, and not being altogether pleased with the rulings of the presiding Judge, remarked that he believed the whole court could be bought with a peck of beans. Judge, of course, took his remark in high dudgeon, and ordered the lawyer to sit down, and demanded of him an apology for this contempt of court, threatening him with commitment for the offence if he did not apologize. The lawyer, after a little reflection, remarked that he said he believed the court could be bought with a peck of beans; that he said without reflection, and wished to take it back. "But," said he, "If I had put it at half a bushel, I never would have taken it back in the world."

—A genuine down-easter was lately essaying to appropriate a square of exceedingly tough beef at a dinner in a Wisconsin hotel. His convulsive efforts with a knife and fork attracted the smiles of the rest in the same predicament as himself. At last Jonathan's patience vanished under ill success, when laying down his utensils, he burst out with:

"Strangers you needn't laugh; if you haint got any regard for the landlord's feelings, you ought to have some respect for the old bull."

This sally brought down the house.

—It is said of Isaac Newton that he often forgot to eat his dinner, which his house-keeper was accustomed to leave in a closet near his study. His head was too much in the heavens to mind the earth, so a friend knowing his peculiarity, one day slipped his dinner out of the basket and ate it. When at last the philosopher came out and greeted his friend, he asked to be excused till he took his lunch. On looking into his basket and finding it gone, he simply exclaimed, much to his friend's amusement, "O, I forgot I had eaten my dinner!"

—A man was brought before an Illinois magistrate an dfined $6.50 for being drunk. He smiled blandly, and drawing out a dollar bill said, "All right, Mister Magistrate. I suppose you remember when I sold out my saloon in Pekin I had $5.50 on the slate against you. With this dollar that will exactly pay my fine. You must excuse me, 'squire for this little spree of mine; but I didn't see any other way of collecting my bill against you than this." Exit inebriate. Audible smiles among the audience.

—The Titusville Herald says that "a man at Lawrenceburg, who had recently put up a fine stone chimney in his new house, was astonished after a two days' rain to find a hole in his roof and about two wagon-loads of slacked lime on his hearth stone. The material was limestone, and between the fire and the rain the old flue turned into dust, and he now proposes to discard fires and set a barrel of whiskey in each room as a heat generator."

—When a case of small-pox occurs at Cadiz, Ohio (so reported), they hire negroes to lower the victim out of a back window, then burn down the house, and when the colored myrmidons return, after depositing their charge at a safe distance, amuse themselves by shooting at them. It is calculated these rigorous measures will render it unnecessary to resort to the usual disinfectants.

— The Louisville Courier Journal says: "The report that a Georgian is suspected of cannibalism springs from the fact, we presume, that Mr. Stephens has been trying to chaw us up." Whereupon the Chicago Post retorts with the following: "We submit that this effort does not prove that Stephens is a cannibal. It only proves that he is not a Jew."

—A fall bearded young grandfather recently had his hirsute appendage shaved off, showing a clean face for the first time in a number of years. At the dinner table his three years old granddaughter noticed it, "gazed long with wondering eye," and finally ejaculated; "Grandfather, whose head you got on?"

—A Michigan doctor, who was arrested because his patient died, has been acquitted on the ground that he did the best he could, giving all the medicines he knew the names of.

THE NOVELTY CLOTHES WRINGER.

Nothing, except the Sewing Machine, has ever been invented which so much relieves the labor of the household as the Wringer. But its usefulness does not end here. The saving of clothing is of much greater importance. It is often remarked that articles of fine texture, last twice as long when wrung in a Wringer as when wrung by hand. The NOVELTY has Cog-wheels on both ends. * * The rolls are allowed to separate at either end. These, besides other advantages which it contains, seem to be indispensable to a practical wringer.—New York Independent.

The Novelty Wringer has become an indispensable institution in thousands of families. And we believe its great and increasing popularity is fully merited—for the Novelty evidently possesses all the requisites of a first-class, practical machine. Indeed, after using one for many months in our own family, we are prepared to indorse the Novelty as unsurpassed (the laundress says unequalled,) by any of the several wringers previously tried.—Moore's Rural New Yorker.

Portsmouth, N. H.

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 18, 1871.

THE STATISTICIAN of the local Democratic daily paper, commenting on our last little mention of that part of South Seabrook known as "Byfield," says that, though we question the correctness of his statistics we fail to give any of our own in support of our position. In the first place we didn't regard the questioned statistics as being his at all, as we saw them (and the major part of the "original" article accompanying them in the statistical sheet,) previously in the columns of the Boston Advertiser; if they are his it is only by adoption. As to statistics of our own, we have none to give just yet; but the official report of Mr. A. J. Sanborn, the Superintending School Committee of Seabrook, for the year ending March 1, 1871, may possibly satisfy our cotemporary as well as though we followed his example and made positive assertions with no proofs to support them. In the article on South Seabrook, which the statistician blames us for doubting yet not disproving, he says:

"Of the children between the ages of four and sixteen there were attending school last year, 168; out of school, 17. And the record of the past year is no better than that of four and five years ago, before the "missionary work" was began. How many towns in this State, or how many wards in our cities, can be named where out of 185 children between the ages of four and sixteen, only 17 are found who do not attend school."

That's what the editor says,—or what somebody else says for him; now comes what Mr. Sanborn says in his official report:—

The summer term in this district [District No. 5, or "Byfield,"] was taught by Miss Caroline A. Perkins, of Seabrook. This is the largest school in town, numbering 113 scholars. No one can expect a teacher to do justice with so large a number. The winter term was taught by Miss Martha P. Perkins, of Hampton. This was Miss Perkins' second year of teaching in this district, and she sustained her reputation as a successful teacher. There are forty-five scholars reported in this district between 4 and 14 as not attending school this winter.

There appears to be a little discrepancy here. The editor, who of course knows all about it, asserts that of 185 children between the ages of 4 and 16, only 17 were out of school; the Supt. School Committee, who might also be supposed to know something about it, reports the number of scholars at 113, and of those between 4 and 14 who did not attend at forty-five; but our friend got much nearer the truth than he generally does when he gets to fooling 'round with figures. But possibly he won't be satisfied, now; we quoted a pretty severe rebuke to the parents of Seabrook, from a previous school report, in a former article, and the statistician said it referred to the schoolhouses! These, we do not question, are bad enough; but as the rebuke (in the report now before us) is prefaced by the statement that "to do justice to the teachers, it is necessary to take into account the training that most of the scholars receive at home," and the question, "Ought we to expect schools with good order where scholars are not taught at home that they must be obedient in school?" we decline to adopt the schoolhouse theory, not being able to see what bad schoolhouses have to do with the home training of the pupils. But concerning the schoolhouses we give a paragraph from the report for 1870-71:—

We have some school-houses in town unworthy of the name; they are miserable old hovels, totally unfit for the purposes designed and hardly up to the level of second-class pig-pens. There are but few schools-rooms to be found anywhere so mean and dirty.

We are satisfied that the last paragraph does refer to the schoolhouses; the following one, from the same report, our statistical cotemporary may apply to either the schoolhouses, parents or pupils, just as he chooses:—

It needs no private acquaintance with individual families to know that a large majority of parents exert over their children no controlling influence in regard to their general conduct at school, or the respect and obedience they owe their teacher, or that they must be regular and punctual at school. During the past year there have been 843 instances of tardiness; this, together with a reduced average attendance, are disgraceful facts and need no comment. They too plainly indicate neglect and indifference on the part of many parents, and are strong arguments for advocates of compulsory attendance. Another evil, of like tendency, is the continual faultfinding of outside parties who never visit schools, and who, consequently, are entirely ignorant of their practical workings.

N. B. Rev. Wm. A. Rand is not the author or "instigator" of this article, nor (so far as we know,) of either of the school reports from which we have quoted.

POLITICAL.

Delegates elected to the Massachusetts Republican State Convention from 41 cities and towns are classed as follows; for Butler 89, Washburn 52, Rice 26, Loring 24, Jewell 4.

JUDGE BARNARD of New York has granted the motion to make the injunction against Hall, Sweeney and Connolly permanent. He has also charged the grand jury that there is a grand conspiracy in Wall Street to lock up gold.

PATENT ELECTRICAL BRAKES saved an Erie express train from being thrown from the track a few nights since. Some one had fastened a bar of iron on the track, but only one car was thrown off and no one was seriously injured.

PARTICULARS of the attack on the barque Brothers in Santa Anna Bay show that the attacking party of eleven were all killed but two, and the only injury sustained by the crew was the loss of four teeth by the steward.

HANNAH ROBERTS, a colored woman believed to be nearly 130 years old, was burned to death in Philadelphia on Thursday night, her clothes accidentally taking fire from a candle.

THE MEN attached to O'Brien's circus nearly cleaned out the village of Pawling, N. Y., killed one man and wounding others.

A SUBMARINE CABLE has been laid from Nagasski, Japan, to Rossiette, the Russian naval station on the sea of Japan.

SMALL POX is on the increase in Lowell. There were eleven new cases reported on Friday.

THE CALIFORNIA ELECTION.—We remarked the other day upon the uncommon reticence of the Democratic papers touching the California election. The New York Journal of Commerce, however, offers some explanations that must be regarded as highly satisfactory to inquiring minds. The popularity of the Republican candidate for Governor, and the unpopularity of the Democratic, are obvious reasons, so far as they go, but these will hardly cover the election of a Republican Legislature and of three members of Congress, the entire delegation. The Journal of Commerce is quite right in blaming both parties for their treatment of the poor Chinese, a treatment that is as bad in policy as it is wicked in morals; but as the blame of this rests equally on both parties, it cannot be adduced as a reason for the triumph of one of them.

But the Journal of Commerce naively hits upon the real difference when it says "Except that the Republican platform sustained President Grant's administration and the Democratic one opposed it, there was not much difference between the two." That is all; just the trifling difference between supporting and opposing the administration; this it is which has rolled up a majority of six thousand on the popular vote, has sent three Republicans to the House of Representatives, and secured a U. S. Senator in favor of the administration, under which the debt and the taxes are reduced together, peace secured at home and abroad and the government administered with honesty, economy and fidelity. It is just the difference between that and an administration composed of such men as the Tammany ring, which the Democratic party holds out to the electors of the country, and begs them to substitute for the one now in power. The difference, small as it appears, is quite sufficient to work in other States the change that it has worked in California. The people are not going to change Grant and Fish and Boutwell, for Hoffman, Tweed and Connolly. The difference may be very small, but, like Mercutio's wound, although "not so deep as a well, nor so wide as a church door, 'tis enough, 'twill serve."—Prov. Jour.

THE EDITOR of the Nevada (Cal.) Independent, a Democrat, relieves his pent up feelings over the recent election as follows:—

In the very nature of things, party success in California carries with it the seeds of its own ultimate defeat. The hope of office bands these political Bedouins together for a general assault on the "ins." The moment the victory is won another war inevitably breaks out among the victors in the distribution of the spoils, whether they be Democrats or Republicans. "Let him laugh who wins." Kentucky has always had its own predominant politics; Massachusetts could always be found when looked for; but California is an Arab in the political world, destitute of principle, shifting and uncertain as a woman deciding between a dozen lovers—true only to those mercenary advantages and personal considerations which are the emanations of an absolute selfishness. As to the politics of California, it virtually has none. Whichever party wins at one election is pretty certain to be defeated at the next. Whether the poison of dissatisfaction will have time to fully work out its usual result by the next Presidential election, or not, we shall not venture to predict; but if the next gubernatorial election does not result in breaking down the party now successful, it will be because some new and extraordinary saving element has preserved it from decomposition.

—The democratic delegate to Congress is elected in New Mexico through a republican split.

The October number of the Atlantic Monthly has a paper by Lydia Maria Childs on "The Intermingling of Religions." Mr. Fields contributes another interesting instalment of reminiscences of Charles Dickens, with several letters. Part III. of Mr. H. James' story, "Watch and Ward," and a chapter of Mr. J. W. De Forest's story are given. Mr. T. W. Higginson contributes two papers, one of which is entitled "An Evening with Mrs. Hawthorne." Clarence King contributes a sketch of frontier experience. H. H. writes of "June Days in Venice." The number is especially rich in poetry, the contributors being Whittier, Bret Harte, T. B. Aldrich, Mrs. S. M. B. Piatt and Burr G. Hosmer.

—A St. Louis man, who believes in St. Louis and its beer, visited Dubuque recently, and being thirsty called for a glass of lager beer. After drinking, he remarked, with an indescribable gusto, "A-h-h! that's splendid! St. Louis beer, is it not?"

"St Louis?" reiterated the Teuton, "no-sir-ee! dot ish Topook peer!"

"What, have you a brewery here? queried surprised St. Louis.

"A prewery! Seffen tousant Chermans, unt one prewery! Where you was leef when you was home?" and this dispenser of fluids, impressed by the absurdity of the idea as he placed the glasses on the bar, continues to exclaim, sotto voce, "seffen tousant Chermans, unt one prewery!"

—A pension which Edward O. Sargent's father, down in Maine, has been drawing under the supposition that he was killed in the war, has been stopped, he having recently returned from Australia, whither he went without informing the old folks at home.

—A fortune seeker at the Forest Hill Claim, California, abstractedly picked up a grimy lump interfering with his operations, and casually glancing at it, found it to be a solid nugget of gold, which, when tested, weighed 921 ounces, of which 700 are pure gold.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

There is no disease flesh is heir to more troublesome to manage than rheumatism. It comes when you least expect it, and generally remains till it gets ready to go away. The most conspicuous remedy for this complaint is Johnson's Anodyne Liniment.

Two or three doses of Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders will cure a horse of any common cold or cough, and the very worst cases may be cured in a few weeks. We know this from experience.

THE ROAR OF CANNONS!

Across the Atlantic affects not Uncle Samuel. He attends to his toilet as usual. Spying a few gray hairs on his venerable caput, what does he do? He resorts at once to the only article of its kind in the wide world, which is at the same time SAFE and PERFECT, in other words, to

Crisindoro's Excelsior Hair Dye,

guaranteed harmless by Professor CHILTON and other distinguished chemists, and the most popular dye in America, because it imparts the most natural shades of color with the greatest certainty and in the shortest space of time. This famous article has

of all its would-be rivals, and is now master of the situation. As a dressing after dyeing, use

CRISTADORO'S HAIR PRESERVATIVE

Over-Doctored!

Without any disrespect to the members of the medical profession, a profession honored by all thinking men, it is only just to say that they are too thick on the ground. The consequence is that the community is doctored over much. When nature needs only the gentle stimulant and alterative, which has become famous throughout the country as a reliable medicine, under the name of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, she is not unfrequently dosed with a dozen prescriptions, all experimental, from the Pharmacopœia. This is in evil, and proves that the practice of medicine is far from being at all times a healing art. At this period of the year, when the fall of the leaf indicates that decay has seized upon the vegetable kingdom, many harassing diseases are prevalent. Chief among these may be mentioned intermittent fever and bilious remittent. The exhalations rising from decomposing vegetation, and the heavy dews and fogs, are very apt to generate these complaints. The wisest policy is to protect the system by a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters at the commencement of the fall. Much suffering may thereby be avoided. But if the disease has already begun, its periodical visitations may readily be checked and broken up by this active, yet harmless, vegetable tonic.

But be on your guard against the charlatans who are attempting to palm off, under various names, unwholesome compounds, which they pretend to compare favorably with the great national elixir, which has long since swept more formidable opposition from the field. Bear in mind that every bottle of genuine Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is authenticated by a splendidly engraved label, and a fac simile of the signature of the firm. Put up in bottles only, and cannot be obtained in bulk.

ARITHMETICAL.—Messrs. Editors:—A few days since I had the following hog problem sent to me:—A had a hog that weighed 400 pounds, B had one weighing 300 pounds; total, 700 pounds. They sold them together for 4 cents a pound; but the man who bought, said A's hog was worth one-half cent per pound more than B's. What is each one's just proportion of the money?

THE PISCATAQUA FAIR opens tomorrow, Tuesday, Sept. 19th. The Town Ox Teams will appear Wednesday, and probably the three-mile trot will come off first day,—the twenty-mile saddle race, (if it fills, as is confidently expected,) on Thursday. The North Hampton troop of about fifty horsemen are expected to be in attendance. It has been usual to close the schools and business places during one day of the Fair, and Wednesday is suggested as the day.

THEATRE. — Francis and Sawyer's Company from the New York theatres open their first entertainment in this city this evening, with "Lucretia Borgia." Our exchanges say that Miss Clara Norris' dramatic talent are of the highest order, and her acting shows earnest study and intelligent conception. Mr. John S. Norton's creations are startling. His voice is full of pathos and under perfect control, while his gestures speak a silent language without apparent effort.

ONE of John Lynch's little puppies writes an abusive letter to a paper down East from Kittery about political matters in York county, Maine, and this vicinity, and characteristically covers his cowardice by a nom de plume. As a specimen of spleen, ill temper, misrepresentation and idiocy it has no equal in the records of "York County" literature. The writer will be blowing hot where he is blowing cold, a year from now, and his warming pan will then be in possession of a gentleman.

Communicated.

Messrs. Editors:—There have been already so many arguments for and against building a railroad from Portsmouth to Dover, I hope the public and our City authorities are fully enlightened on the subject. I hope our good City Fathers will not be guilty of committing this great error of bringing distress and bankruptcy on our good city, by burdening us with this heavy burden of $21,000 per annum for one hundred years. At the end of that period, the rails would be taken up and sold for old iron, and we would be a laughing stock to the world. We are told that old lawyers and other men, also old women are opposed to the building of said road, who know nothing about the business, talk and write just as if they could tell something about this momentous question, but the wide awake men of Portsmouth and the live fellows up country know all about financiering and want a railroad to make business; no doubt it would be lively times with interested parties while they had the city's money to expend and no longer.

But I am in favor of as many railroads as we can possibly have, for the benefit of our people, and I will take the liberty of submitting a plan for the building of a railroad to Dover. I propose that the wide awake men of Portsmouth and the live fellows up country and all others who feel interested in this Road open a subscription list immediately, invite all to fall in and take stock and when you get $300,000 spend it judiciously. In the meantime I propose that the city corporations pledge the balance and receive preferred stock as security for their money, and a controlling influence in the road equal to the amount invested by the city. The old lawyers and other men, together with the old women, will encourage the enterprise when the $300,000 is subscribed as before mentioned, otherwise we differ and solemnly protest against putting a spade in the ground at city expense.

OLD WOMAN.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

The hornpouts of Goose Pond, Keene, are now enjoying comparative immunity from the late pestilence that has scourged them.

James R. Kendrick, formerly superintendent of the Concord Railroad, has resigned the same position upon the New Orleans and Mobile road.

The following post-offices in the State have been designated as money-order offices for the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland; Concord Claremont, Dover, Exeter, Hanover, Hinsdale, Keene, Manchester, Nashua and Portsmouth.

On the 9th, in Keene, John Bryant of Richmond and Otis Starkweather of Walpole were taking something in a saloon, and the latter suddenly went for Bryant, chasing and hitting him with a mop handle. One blow broke a rib, the end of which punctured a lung. Bryant is now confined to his bed. Starkweather is thought to have been rum crazy, as there was no cause for a row other than that.

The Cause and Cure of Consumption.

The primary cause of Consumption is derangement of the digestive organs. The derangement produces deficient nutrition and assimilation. By assimilation is meant that process by which the nutriment of the food is converted into blood, and thence into the solids of the body. Persons with digestion thus impaired, having the slightest predisposition to pulmonary disease, or if they take cold, will be very liable to have Consumption of the Lungs in some of its forms; and I hold that it will be impossible to cure any case of Consumption without first restoring a good digestion and healthy assimilation. The very first thing to be done is to cleanse the stomach and bowels from all diseased mucous and slime which is clogging these organs so that they cannot perform their functions, and then rouse up and restore the liver to a healthy action. For this purpose, the surest and best remedy is SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS. These Pills cleanse the stomach and bowels of all the dead and morbid slime that is causing disease and decay in the whole system. They will clear out the liver of all diseased bile that has accumulated there, and arouse it up to a new and healthy action, by which natural and healthy bile is secreted.

The stomach, bowels and liver are thus cleansed by the use of Schenck's Mandrake Pills; but there remains in the stomach an excess of acid, the organ is torpid, and the appetite is poor. In the bowels, the lacteals are weak, and requiring strength and support. It is in a condition like this that Schenck's Seaweed Tonic proves to be the most valuable remedy ever discovered. It is alkaline, and its use will neutralize the excess of acid, making the stomach sweet and fresh; it will give permanent tone to this important organ, and create a good, hearty appetite, and prepare the system for the full process of a good digestion, which ultimately will give good, healthy, living blood. After this preparatory treatment, what remains to cure most cases of consumption is the free and persevering use of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup. The Pulmonic Syrup purifies the system, purifies the blood, and is readily absorbed into the free circulation, and thence distributed to the diseased lungs. There it ripens all morbid matters, whether in the form of abscesses or tubercles, and then assists Nature to expel all the diseased matter in the form of free expectoration, when once it ripens. It is then, by the combined alterative and purifying properties of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, that all ulcers and cavities are healed up sound, and my patient is cured.

The essential thing to be done in curing Consumption is to get up a good appetite and a good digestion, so that the body will grow in flesh and get strong. If a person has diseased lungs, a cavity or abscess there, the cavity cannot heal, the matter cannot ripen, so long as the system is below par. What is necessary to cure is a new order of things, a good appetite, a good nutrition, the body to grow in flesh and get fat; then Nature is helped, the cavities will heal, the matter will ripen and be thrown out by large quantities, and the person regains health and strength. This is the true and only plan to cure Consumption, and if a person is very bad, it may be not entirely destroyed, or even if one lung is entirely gone, if there is enough vitality left in the other to heal up, there is hope.

I have seen many persons cured with only one sound lung, live and enjoy life to a good old age. This is what Schenck's medicines will do to cure Consumption. They will clean out the stomach, sweeten and strengthen it, get up a good digestion, and give Nature the assistance she needs to clear the system of all the obstructions that lie in the lungs, whatever the form may be.

It is important that, while using Schenck's medicines, care should be taken not to take cold; keep in-doors in cold and damp weather; avoid night air, and take out-door exercise only in a genial and warm sunshine.

I wish it distinctly understood that when I recommend a patient to be careful in regard to taking cold while using my medicines, I do so for a special reason. A man who has just partially recovered from the effects of a bad cold is far more liable to a relapse than one who has been entirely cured, and it is precisely the same in regard to consumption. So long as the lungs are not perfectly healed, just so long is there imminent danger of a full return of the disease. Hence it is that I so strenuously caution pulmonary patients against exposing themselves to an atmosphere that is not perfectly warm and quiet. Confirmed consumptives' lungs are a mass of sores, which the least change of atmosphere will inflame. The great secret of my success with my medicines consists in my ability to subdue inflammation instead of provoking it, as many of the healing medicines of the day cannot with safety to the patient be employed. During the blasts of winter or the chilling winds of spring or autumn. It should be carefully shielded from all irritating influences, and the greatest precaution should be observed in this particular, as without it a cure under almost any circumstances is an impossibility.

The person should be kept on a wholesome and nutricious diet, and all the medicines continued until the body has restored to it the natural quantity of flesh and strength.

I was myself cured by this treatment of the worst kind of Consumption, and have lived to get fat and hearty these many years, with one lung mostly gone. I have cured thousands since, and very many have been cured by this treatment whom I have never seen.

About the first of October I expect to take possession of my new building at the northeast corner of Sixth and Arch Streets, where I shall be pleased to give advice to all who may require it.

Full directions accompany all my remedies, so that a person in any part of the world can be readily cured by a strict observance of the same.

NUMBER SEVEN.

BY ANNIE L. RUTH.

Well, yes! Number seven's gone up, sir—
She's the one that they brought in last night,
With both of her eyes in mourning,
And her cheek cut up in a fight.
They pat her down "drunk and disorderly;"
Well, maybe she was, I don't know,
But those little thin hands o' hers, sir,
In a row wouldn't make much show.

She was still for a quite a good while, sir,
When they'd put her into the cell;
And as I looked in through the grating,
At first I couldn't just tell—
As she lay on that bench in the corner,
In a lump, doubled-up sort o' way,
With her hair all streaming around her—
But what she had fainted away.

But after a while—towards morning,
She began for to mutter and moure—
I'll just tell you what, it ain't pleasant
To be pacing this beat all alone,
When there's two or three vi'lent cases
A raving and cursing away—
Not that this one did any cursing;
No, sir, she seemed more times, to pray.

She said—for I couldn't help hearing,
Each time I'd be passing the door,
Some words—"O, Jimmy! my darlint,
Don't strike me agi'n, any more!
Don't kick me, your poor little Mary!
Your wife that is lovin' ye so!
For the sake of the little dead childer—
They're watchin' from Heaven, I know!"

Then sudden her voice it grew fiercer,
"And what are ye's wantin', now?
Shure it wasn't himself at all, sirs,
It's me that made all the row!
Drunk? No; but a hurt on my side, sirs,
No—no! 'twasn't him—it was I—
I slipped on a peelin' an' struck me,
(Blessed Virgin! forgive me the lie!)

The station! O, mister, have pity!
See the little one there on the bed.
What! one of us must—he or I, sir?
Well, thin, ye can take me instead.
It's wake from the fever he is, sirs,
'Twould kill him, a night on the stone,
Don't touch me! I'll walk—kiss your mammie—
Howly Mother! To die here alone!

O, the pain in my side's grewin' stronger!
'Twas a cruel, bad blow! Whist! Be still
It wasn't himself! Would you have him
Arrested for thryin' to kill?
It's cowid—bither cowid, in this place, here,
Thank God it's me an' not him!
O, the pain! Thin it's dyin' I am, shures!
God take care of the baby—and Jim!"

It was just after that I went in, sir;
She had dropped from the bench to the floor
On her knees; and I saw all was over
The moment I opened the door.
Dead? Yes—and, thank God! For I tell you,
When I think of that drunken brute, Jim,
I know that God lored her, in taking
The life she gave freely for him!

PAYMASTER HODGE'S DEFALCATION amounts to $471,000. The following is his letter of confession:—

WASHINGTON, Sunday, P.M., Sept. 10.
General B. W. Brice:—

Sir,—I have to inform you that I am unable to close my account, and I owe the frightful amount of about four hundred and fifty thousand dollars, which sum I have lost during the last years in stock speculation, going deeper and deeper, in the hope of retrieving myself. I have no excuse or mitigation of my course to offer, and propose to take the consequences of my sin. I thought a week of escaping from New York, but I believe I have done better in returning to deliver myself up, as I felt I was bound to do. I can, of course, make no pretension of excuse for the systematic deceit I have practised on you and the advantage I have taken of the special position I have held, and feel that you especially have cause to be justly inexorable against me. I have been led on by the infatuation which always attends the course I entered on, hoping always to recover my loss and conceal my crime. I believe it is really a relief to be discovered, for I believe I have been in a hell on earth for years, and the alternations of hope and fear I have gone through, and constant care to avoid detection, are becoming too strong. I desire to turn over any property I have as a small set-off against my deficiency, and after giving any information that will assist in settling my accounts, or, if possible, in recovering a portion of what I have lost. I expect to take the full punishment awarded for my offence. In justice to two parties in this city, through whom I have made some speculations, I wish to say that they are perfectly innocent of any knowledge that I was using public funds. There are small balances with each of these parties to my credit whenever the accounts are closed. The losses I made almost entirely in New York, with one house there, whose accounts I hold subject to your order. I endeavored to induce them to make good the amount lost with them, which they knew was public money, but they have refused. I have been trying to make up my mind to this confession for some days, and was on the point of doing so this morning in your office, but I could not bring myself to say it, and wanted time to write to my innocent wife, whom this frightful information will kill. God forgive me for what I have done to her and my children. All I ask from you or the authorities is if possible a small sum may be left her. I enclose the keys of my safe and a box containing all my old accounts, &c. My present vouchers, receipts, &c., are in the hands of my clerks, who are all of them perfectly innocent of any knowledge of my deficiency. I shall remain at the house No. 1425 K street till informed what action you have taken concerning me. There is no fear that I will go away now.

[Signed] J. LEDYARD HODGE.

TARRANT'S SELTZER APERIENT.

Tarrant's Effervescent Seltzer Aperient

is its duplicate. Letters attesting its wonderful Tonic Aperient and Anti-Bilious qualities swarm in from every source. The question has been settled whether artificially medicated waters may not be equal to those which burst sparkling from the earth itself. They can; and the Seltzer Aperient, when undoubtedly pure and genuine, proves the fact.

Say, old boy, where shall we meet?
Why, at Garrety's, on Daniel Street,
We's such a jolly fellow;
His LAGER is always fresh and prime,
It never wants a "head" and is
Refreshing, cool and mellow!
You require, my boy, some filling out,
You're thin, and meagre-looking;
Lager would give you the proper size.
Look at the host, he ones was scant,
His BEER has made of flesh no want,
Go thou and drink likewise.

FREE LIBRARY IN LOUISVILLE, TO BE CALLED THE

PUBLIC LIBRARY OF KENTUCKY.

The Concert and Distribution will take place under the immediate supervision of the Trustees named in the act of incorporation.

The trustees will be assisted by prominent, well-known and eminent citizens of Kentucky, who have consented to be present at the concert and to superintend the drawing and distribution of gifts.

The holders of tickets to which gifts are awarded will be paid on presentation of them or their fraction, at the office in Louisville, the second day after drawing, and every business day for six months thereafter, and may be sent direct or through any Bank or Express Co., for collection. All orders accompanied by Post Office Money Orders, or Greenbacks, will be promptly attended to and tickets returned by mail, registered or expressed, as desired.

Tickets are like Greenbacks—good only to the holder.

Buyers will note that there are only One Hundred Thousand Tickets, instead of Two Hundred Thousand, as in the San Francisco Gift Concert, and that there is $50,000 more distributed. I sold that and made the awards in four months and paid $488,000 to ticket holders from November 2nd to 15th, 1870, and turned over $12,000 to the Secretary due tickets not presented.

It will be particularly noticed that it is a matter of impossibility for any one to know what numbers draw gifts, as it is not known what the gift of any number drawn from the first wheel will be, until the sealed box, with amount of the gift plainly printed, is taken from the other wheel and opened in full view of the audience. Therefore the larger gifts may not come out until towards last, or in the middle of the drawing. The $100,000 gift in the San Francisco Gift Concert under the management of C. R. PETERS, was the 200th number drawn, and was awarded and paid to a gentleman in New Orleans. 721 Gifts is all that can be drawn in one day.

☞ The Number and Gifts are drawn by blind children from 8 to 12 years of age.

The drawing will be extensively published, and parties ordering Tickets will have printed lists sent them. Parties forming Clubs and desiring information will please address this office.

11 Tickets for $100; 28 Tickets, $255; 56 Tickets, $500; 113 Tickets, $1000.

The undersigned, late principal business manager of the very successful Brooklyn Library Gift Concert at San Francisco, California, has been appointed agent and manager of the Gift Concert in aid of the Public Library of Kentucky.

The drawing will take place in public, and everything will be done to satisfy buyers of tickets that their interests will be as well protected as if they personally superintended the entire affair.

MANNER OF DRAWING.

There will be two glass wheels. One wheel will contain 100,000 numbers, plainly printed on leather tags. The other wheel will contain 721 boxes, each containing a gift. One tag or number will be drawn from the 100,000 wheel, and the first box drawn from the second or 721 box wheel will contain a gift, neatly printed and sealed up, and the gift so drawn from the second wheel will be the gift of the tag first drawn, whether $100, $1000, or $100,000.

14,364 Tickets Disposed of in July.

To insure ticket holders, the public are assured that if only 25,000 tickets are sold only 25,000 numbers go in the large wheel, the 721 gifts awarded, but diminished pro rata. In case 50,000 tickets only are sold, only numbers 1 to 50,000 go in the large wheel, and the 721 gifts diminished one-half; and in case only 50,000 tickets are sold the entire 721 gifts will be paid in full—it being intended that no unsold tickets shall participate.

The Manager has already paid into the Citizen's Bank $50,000 towards defraying the expenses, and does not depend on sales of tickets to pay his expenses of Printing, Advertising, &c. The public are invited to the utmost scrutiny as to the reliability of the entire affair.

Persons desirous of acting as agents for the sale of tickets in any city in United States or Canadas, address

The Chronicle.

A NEW ORLEANS CORONER has arrested the United States boiler inspector and the owners of the steamer Ocean Wave, which recently exploded her boiler, killing sixty persons at Mobile.

A SUIT has been instituted against Kleneber and Goldschmidt, the New York torpedo manufacturers, for carrying on an illegal business. Two of the men injured in the late explosion will probably die.

Edward Pease, a freight conductor on the Vermont Central train between Concord and Boston, was instantly killed at Concord on Saturday. He was directing the transfer of some cars on to a side track when in the rain and darkness he accidentally stepped into the open work over a travelled road, and in attempting to save himself he fell across one of the rails and was crushed by the approaching engine of his train.

"PUT A HEAD ON HIM."—The story that has been for some time afloat in relation to the origin of the slang phrase, "Put a head on him," is without the slightest doubt, says the Chicago Evening Journal, the false fabrication of an imaginative mind, and it receives its refutation from Shakspeare himself, to whom must the credit be given for having originated that chaste and expressive request. In the second scene of the first act of "Titus Andronicus," the original is used by Marcus Andronicus, but the lapse of time has caused a slight change to be made, and what is now the plain straightforward "Put a head on him," was at that time—

"Be candidatus, then, and put it on,
And help to put a head on headless Rome."

FARM WORK IN AUTUMN.—When the harvests have been secured, the garden put in order, and the surroundings of the house and other buildings scrupulously cared for, is a good time for engaging in some of the permanent improvements. These are various, and always in waiting on most farms.

Where the soil is a stony one, fields are to be cleared of them, and the stones to be taken to places where new walls are to be built, or old ones repaired. Now that we use so much machinery in grass fields, large stones are not only inconvenient but expensive and dangerous. Begin the work of removing them now.

Draining. On very many farms in New England, an expenditure of $100 drainage, properly done, will bring an additional income of $300, in increased crops, in five years. In what stocks can an equal amount be invested, that will bring such a return? In this investment there will be a permanent one, only affected by the "tooth of time" or the providence of God, in the sweeping hurricane or rushing flood. We are constantly more and more impressed with the importance of this work. In all our visits among farmers, we see the evidence of its beneficial results. Still more frequently, the evidence of the great need of its being done. Now is the time to begin the good work. Test it, even if it be but a few rods in length, where the waters of a copious spring can be led away at trifling cost, and allow luxuriant grasses to take the place of worthless herbage.

Swamp Lands. If the ground in September continued as dry as it has been in August, a rare opportunity will be afforded for reclaiming swamp lands. The first object in this work should be to drain off the water. Lay out the line of ditch. When this is done, the water will pass off so that the bushes on the remaining portion can be cut, as they cannot while continually splashing in muddy water. If plowing is feasible, do that; if not, use the boghoe, axe, root-hook, or any other tool that proves useful in the work. One acre of good reclaimed swamp land, well stocked with grass roots, will prove more profitable, for the following eight or ten years, than twice as much up-land that has had the same cost expended upon it. Now is the time to make a beginning, in September.

Collect Muck. We can scarcely urge this with too much zeal. Our early opinions in regard to its value are constantly confirmed by later experience and the opinions of good farmers. All samples of muck are not good. Some of it is impregnated with certain substances which not only do not fertilize plants, but which actually prevent their growth. The farmer must ascertain this fact by careful inquiry and experiments. He can soon ascertain what is good. Highly decomposed, black muck, is in our opinion, and has proved in our practice, a positive manure. It stimulates plants in their early growth, and is faithful to them to the last in perfecting their seeds. Its operations on sandy loams are the most favorable; but is valuable on clays or heavy loams. Now is the time to collect and house it.

—Two fashionable young ladies were holding high conversation over the merits of a certain dress—"And does it fit so well?" asked one. "Fit," said the other, "it fits as if one had been melted and poured into it."

JURUBEBA.

IT IS NOT A PHYSIC—It is NOT what is popularly called a BITTERS, nor is it intended as such. THE

NOVELTY CLOTHES WRINGER.

Nothing, except the Sewing Machine, has ever been invented which so much relieves the labor of the household as the Wringer. But its usefulness does not end here. The saving of clothing is of much greater importance. It is often remarked that articles of fine texture, last twice as long when wrung in a Wringer as when wrung by hand. The NOVELTY has Cog-wheels on both ends. * * The rolls are allowed to separate at either end. These, besides other advantages which it contains, seem to be indispensable to a practical wringer.—New York Independent.

The Novelty Wringer has become an indispensable institution in thousands of families. And we believe its great and increasing popularity is fully merited—for the Novelty evidently possesses all the requisites of a first-class, practical machine. Indeed, after using one for many months in our own family, we are prepared to indorse the Novelty as unsurpassed (the laundress says unequalled,) by any of the several wringers previously tried.—Moore's Rural New Yorker.

Portsmouth, N. H.

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 19, 1871.

IN NEW YORK, Friday, two men named Slater and Walton were arrested for robbing a canal boat. They are leaders of the largest and most formidable gang of river robbers and thieves of that harbor, besides being valuable members of several political clubs. Several influential politicians of that city and Brooklyn hastened to Judge Voorhies, in Williamsburg, and offered large sums for the release of the villains on bail, but the judge would not accept any bail. One of them is wanted on a charge of murdering the captain of a schooner in Hell-Gate a year ago.

THEY ARE TROUBLED in Illinois as to where the Legislature is to meet. It adjourned to reconvene in Chicago on the 15th of November. The Speaker of the House will be in that city on that day to call the House to order. The President of the Senate considers that, under the law, the Legislature cannot meet elsewhere than at the State Capital, which is Springfield. He will be found there, and not at Chicago. Thus there is a prospect, unless the difficulty is harmonized, of the business between the two houses being carried on by telegraph between Chicago and Springfield.

THE PRESENT SECRETARY of the United States Treasury, Mr. Boutwell, used to say, before he had attained to his fortieth year, that he had never tasted ardent spirits, and he should not till he was forty. At forty he should defer beginning the use of liquor till he was forty-five. At forty-five he declared he would never use them till he was fifty. And when fifty came he resolved that he would drink no liquor until he was sixty; and he is now working out that problem of abstinence from all kinds of liquors, and has nearly ten years in which to do it.

THOSE ALLIES OF DEMOCRACY, the ramrod Temperance men of the Barrows-Comings type, propose to help the Democracy carry the next election in this State by running a candidate for Governor in opposition to the regular nominees of the Republican and Democratic parties. They may (and may not) be able to defeat the election of Governor by the people, but they are not sufficiently numerous to elect a Democratic legislature.

ON FRIDAY, at Wakefield, Va., a freight train ran over a negro boy aged 14 years completely severing one of his legs and horribly mangling the other. The boy had been tied on the track with ropes by his step-father to be whipped, and while the man was in the woods gathering switches, the train passed over the boy, who was helpless to avert his fate. The authorities have taken steps to punish the brutal father.

THE RUSSIAN SQUADRON, on the way from Cronstadt to New York as escort to the Grand Duke Alexis, arrived at Plymouth, Eng., where the vessels stop a week to coal, etc. The Grand Duke remains on board the frigate Sweitland, the flagship of the squadron and of Admiral Poisset, who is commander of the fleet.

O'BRIEN'S CIRCUS is getting up an unenviable reputation in the interior of New York. On Thursday night a little orphan boy, in charge of one of the women, died of starvation. On Saturday the treasurer was going round Pawling trying to settle for the violence and robbery done by the men the night before.

THE NEW YORK STANDARD reports that Chas. A. Dana of the New York Sun is implicated in the embezzlements of the Tammany Ring, having received $5000 of the city's money from the Ring for political purposes rendered unto Tammany.

JOHN KELLY, aged 70, employed in the flint-works at Trenton, N. J., fell through a hole in the floor into the flint-cracker below. He was run into the wheels and his body passed out into the water below, literally ground up.

THE RIOT at Pawling, N. Y., created by the men of O'Brine's circus, was not quite so bad as at first reported, no person having been killed. A hotel was cleaned out and a baggage car robbed by the circus men.

MICHAEL GOLDSMITH, who was wounded at the torpedo explosion in Beekman street, New York, on Thursday, died at his residence in Brooklyn. He was one of the proprietors of the torpedo factory.

CONTROLLER CONNOLLY of Tammany infamy has appointed Mr. Andrew H. Green deputy controller, at the request of the more decent wing of the Democratic party.

DEAD LETTERS.—The monthly reports of the Dead Letter Office show the extent of the business which comes under its supervision, as well as the vast amount of letter-writing which comes to nothing but waste paper, through carelessness in properly directing it, or in the migratory character of many of those to whom letters are sent. The report for August shows that there were returned to the office as undeliverable during that month 322,279 letters. Of this number 113,779 were returned to the offices from which they originated, 25,300 were destroyed as non-deliverable and valueless, and 1,439, of which the writers could not be found, were filed for future inquiry; 596 letters and packages, containing property, were received, of which 470 were returned to their owners. The Money Division received 2,882 letters, containing $36,310; of which 2,218 containing $4,546 were mailed to the owners, and 153 containing $672 were filed; 280 letters, containing $1,411, were returned as unmailable from the offices in which they were deposited, and 1,619 receipts for an aggregate amount of $3,321 received from the same source.

OUT ON THE LINE of the Pacific railroad, in the vicinity of Denver bridge, a short time since, a young squaw belonging to a roving band of Indians was taken ill and died. She was the mother of a papoose about four months old, and, according to a custom among the tribe, it was decreed that this child should share the fate of its mother, and be buried in the same grave with her. The live child was placed on the body of its dead parent, and the "clods of the valley" were piled above them both. Persons cognizant of what was to be done with the child, offered twenty dollars for the little one, but were refused; and in an after effort to save it, were too late.

A WRITER in "Our Dumb Animals" speaks of cruelty towards animals in the White Mountain region. The members of the editorial associations who made the tour of the mountains in July had ample opportunities for observing the treatment of the stage horses, and we do not hesitate to say that we never saw so much care displayed for their horses by drivers anywhere as on the route from Whitefield to Mount Washington, the Crawford, Twin Mountain and Profile Houses, and from thence down the Pemigewasset Valley to Plymouth. The kind treatment of the horses was the subject of general remark.

HOW RARELY do we find a man who can tell a straightforward story, omitting no essential details! Here is an account of two gentlemen of the rural districts who, finding the ceiling of their room like unto a carriage—to wit, a little buggy—proceeded to anoint the same with nonexplosive kerosene, to the end of the extermination of the aforesaid specimens of the cimex lectuarius. Of course the compound exploded and launched both of the verminicidal experimentalists into the ineffable bliss of the life beyond. So says the narrator, but he reprehensibly omits to state if the application freed the room from bugs.

—The Wisconsin Radical Convention met at Madison, Wednesday, and nominated Grant's man, Washburne, for Governor, on the first ballot. This is just the easiest nomination for Doolittle to beat that could have been made.—Littleton Republic.

And yet Doolittle can't beat that nomination. Doolittle's ability lies principally in being able as well as willing to sell out his party.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

On the 13th, in Peterborough, Mr. Frederick Livingston was thrown out of his wagon backwards and fell on his neck and head. Luckily, he escaped with only such injuries as confine him to bed.

On the 11th, in Lake Village, Mr. George W. Sanders had a hand badly cut on a circular saw he touched to see if it was heating. His hand was thrown on its edge.

A paragraph about an old lady who lives after having read the Scriptures through thirty two times since 1848, has been going the rounds of the State press. The Nashua Gazette remarks, apropos of this, that their old lady isn't a patch on a man who once lived in Peterborough and whose claim to immortality was that he had read the Bible through two hundred times and bled a barrel at the nose during his life.

From one kernel of rye, Mr. George Thatcher of Moultonborough, raised over three thousand kernels, to say nothing of three hundred and twenty feet of straw.

—David Barker, the poet, was the Republican candidate for Representative to the Legislature from the town of Exeter, Me., at the recent election. He won the day by a majority of 86. While the voting was in progress he wrote the following on the back of his own ballot:

"With bleaching locks and fading sight,
This sage advice I give to you;
Use brains enough to shun a fight.
Or pluck enough to fight it through."

NOTHING BUT GREENS.—While a vender of greens was endeavoring to dispose of his stock in trade, his poor old nag balked, and refused to bulge an inch. The driver finally commenced belaboring the animal with a stick, when an old lady thrust her head out of the window and exclaimed, "Have you no mercy?" "No, ma'am," replied the peddler, "nothing but greens."

BUSINESS NOTICES.

There is no disease flesh is heir to more troublesome to manage than rheumatism. It comes when you least expect it, and generally remains till it gets ready to go away. The most conspicuous remedy for this complaint is Johnson's Anodyne Liniment.

Two or three doses of Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders will cure a horse of any common cold or cough, and the very worst cases may be cured in a few weeks. We know this from experience.

THE ROAR OF CANNONS!

Across the Atlantic affects not Uncle Samuel. He attends to his toilet as usual. Spying a few gray hairs on his venerable caput, what does he do? He resorts at once to the only article of its kind in the wide world, which is at the same time SAFE and PERFECT, in other words, to

Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye,

guaranteed harmless by Professor CHILTON and other distinguished chemists, and the most popular dye in America, because it imparts the most natural shades of color with the greatest certainty and in the shortest space of time. This famous article has

of all its would-be rivals, and is now master of the situation. As a dressing after dyeing, use

CRISTADORO'S HAIR PRESERVATIVE

Over-Doctored!

Without any disrespect to the members of the medical profession, a profession honored by all thinking men, it is only just to say that they are too thick on the ground. The consequence is that the community is doctored over much. When nature needs only the gentle stimulant and alterative, which has become famous throughout the country as a reliable medicine, under the name of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, she is not unfrequently dosed with a dozen prescriptions, all experimental, from the Pharmacopœia. This is in evil, and proves that the practice of medicine is far from being at all times a healing art. At this period of the year, when the fall of the leaf indicates that decay has seized upon the vegetable kingdom, many harassing diseases are prevalent. Chief among these may be mentioned intermittent fever and bilious remittent. The exhalations rising from decomposing vegetation, and the heavy dews and fogs, are very apt to generate these complaints. The wisest policy is to protect the system by a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters at the commencement of the fall. Much suffering may thereby be avoided. But if the disease has already begun, its periodical visitations may readily be checked and broken up by this active, yet harmless, vegetable tonic.

But be on your guard against the charlatans who are attempting to palm off, under various names, unwholesome compounds, which they pretend to compare favorably with the great national elixir, which has long since swept more formidable opposition from the field. Bear in mind that every bottle of genuine Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is authenticated by a splendidly engraved label, and a fac simile of the signature of the firm. Put up in bottles only, and cannot be obtained in bulk.

THE FARE over the Concord and B. & M. Railroads to Dover, and return, including a ticket to the State Fair, is $1.35 from this city.

A RUMOR is current that a "wild man" has been seen on two or three occasions lately, by several persons, in Elwyn's Woods on Lafayette Road. He is described as looking very strange, and if the story is true, is probably an insane person.

JOHN CHRISTIE, ESQ., of this city, is delegate to the triennial convocation of Knights Templar and Royal Arch Masons of the United States, which convened at Baltimore, Md., on Monday. The gathering is very large from all parts of the Union.

THE DECEASE of Mr. James H. K. Downs in this city on Monday was sudden. He had been ill about a week, but his friends had no fears of fatal results until Saturday. Mr. Downs was an estimable companion whose business and intimate friends were numerous.

JAMES E. BESSON, pedestrian, who walked backwards from this city to Boston in 22 hours, two years ago, has recently been calling at houses in Lynn and obtaining garments to cleanse, which he failed to return. Twelve months in the House of Correction is the result.

THEATRE.—Francis & Sawyer's New York company gave a very good entertainment last evening, opening with the drama of "Lucretia Borgia." The acting of Mr. Norton and Miss Norris is praiseworthy and delighted the select audience in attendance. Of course the handsome Miss Dietz won the hearts of Young America. The company close their engagement here this evening, and offer "Othello" to their friends who appreciate standard plays.

SCHOONER DR. KANE, of Bangor, for Boston, loaded with mackerel, was run into by another schooner at the lower harbor, Sunday morning, and sustained loss of bowsprit and headgear. She is last from Charlottetown, P. E. I., and was much damaged by a recent gale off the coast of Nova Scotia, being so much shaken as to leak 1500 strokes an hour. After the collision she was towed up to this city by tug Clara Bateman, and will be repaired at the yard of William H. Martin, Esq.

SHIP ANNIE SISE, Tucker, from Sydney, Australia, with coal for the Central Pacific Railway, went on a reef off Point Keyes, during a dense fog, on the evening of Sept. 15, and soon commenced breaking up. All the crew were saved and reached San Francisco last morning. The vessel and cargo are a total loss. The wreck was sold for $500, but went to pieces before anything could be saved. She was owned in New York, Greenland and Portsmouth, Mr. John Walker being the only owner in this city. She was built here in 1856 by Messrs. George Raynes & Son, and was 1031 tons register, old measurement.

WOOD ISLAND, situated at the entrance to Portsmouth harbor, is about as barren looking a pile of rocks, sand and shingle as there is about here, and we always supposed the name was given it because neither wood nor anything else would grow upon it; but a big turnip from that locality was handed in at our office on Monday, and has quite upset our previous faith. It is thirty inches in circumference, the turnip is—and was raised by Miss Martha Anderson, who we are assured has a really fine garden of beans, corn, potatoes and other vegetables on the apparently sterile island. Any one curious to see what care and attention can make Wood Island produce, may have a look at the big turnip now at our Fair.

THE FISHERMEN belonging to the fleet which was laying in the lower harbor for shelter from Friday until Monday, freely helped themselves—or at least some of them did—to the potatoes, apples and other farm produce of the residents between Kittery Point and the Foreside. Two or three years ago this Fall they did the same thing, and carried off a large share of the crops without asking or paying for them. It was currently reported on Monday that a party of the marauders who were engaged in harvesting the garden produce of a U. S. marine who resides at the Point, were fired upon by him and one of their number fatally wounded; and that the schooner from which they came sailed on Monday with her flag at half-mast.

THE EASTERN RAILROAD CORPORATION is maturing a plan for entering Boston on a different line of track.

MR. LARRABEE, in overhauling the hose burst by the engines while playing on the recent fire in Bridge Street, found that at least one "burst" was occasioned by a clean cut with a knife. Rascality somewhere.

THE PISCATAQUA FAIR opens today, Tuesday, September 19th. The Town Ox Teams will appear Wednesday, the three-mile trot will come off at 3 o'clock P. M. to-day,—the twenty-mile saddle race, (if it fills, as is confidently expected,) on Thursday. The North Hampton troop of about fifty horsemen are expected to be in attendance. It has been usual to close the schools and business places during one day of the Fair, and Wednesday is suggested as the day.

Communicated.

Editors Chronicle:—Believing as I do that the proposition for this city to make an indebtedness to the amount of three, four, five, six to ten hundred thousand dollars at the present rates of interest, 10 to 15 per cent. (i. e. 6 per cent. coupons and the balance "shaving") for the purpose of building a railroad, is a great error and cannot by any amount of argument be shown to be right. I ask the indulgence of space in your columns that I may address my fellow citizens in two articles after this preamble. In order to discuss the nature and character of any given enterprise we are to use, Firstly, the lessons of experience, availing ourselves of any precedents in our own or that of others which have a bearing on the case in hand.

Secondly, To use that keen-sightedness as to the present aspects, indications, and prospects of the thing proposed, by which we may be able, if necessary when pupils of mammon ask the question "why weepeth my Lord?" to give them as much (no more and no less) of the answer of the old prophet as their case may require.

Will any one say to me that this is harsh? then will I reply by putting the question to any person of mature years, "Does not the prospect of an opportunity of getting hold of an investment yielding eight to ten per cent. make the same a dreadful temptation? and in this case for some of our citizens to eat the flesh of their own mother?" Do we not know that if any man allows himself to be allured in this way that for the time being no considerations of benefit to town, nation or the human race, no sanction of heaven, hell or eternity will have any weight?

Why is it that on reaping large returns from actual labor, and plans and enterprises of our own, we feel only the consciousness of legitimate reward, while the thought of the high rates of interest fills us with uneasiness and perhaps feelings allied to guilt? It is because the latter makes too rapid a transfer of the little estates of the many to the pockets of the few rich. I propose in two succeeding articles to give you "experience gained from the Portsmouth and Concord Railroad" and "Dutiful sons who are going to help the old man pay his taxes."

A. J. PENHALLOW.

DEATHS.

In this city, Sept. 28th, after a short illness, Mr. JAMES H. K. DOWNS, aged 29 years, 6 mos., 21 days.

Kind, genial, joyous friend, loving husband, respectful son, and honored acquaintance, he has passed from life in the bloom of manhood, with all life's joys and successes apparently open to his vision. Liberal in his views, generous in his sentiments, with a hand always open to deserving charity, a short week ago he was regarded "the manliest of us all," and from the ranks of stalwart men "few thought Death would have singled him." His early decease creates mourning among a large circle of relatives and friends, and of the many who knew his social virtues,

Few will speak of him but loved him,
None name him but to praise.

☞ Funeral from his late residence, No. 38 Islington St., at half past 1 o'clock P. M., Wednesday.

In York, Sept. 17, very suddenly, Mrs. DANIEL PERKINS, daughter of Mr. Josephus Paul of Kittery, aged about 30 years.

In Great Falls, Sept. 12, MARY GOSSOLIN, aged 3 years.—Sept. 13, MARY E. YOUNG, aged 18 years.

ATMOSPHERIC BRAKES. — The Eastern Railroad horror has caused considerable agitation of the best means to stop a train when going at full speed. We recently spoke of the Atmospheric brake, the application of which enables the engineer, without other assistance, to bring the train to a dead stop in a few seconds. Since writing the article we find that an experiment has been made with it on the Mississipi Pacific Railroad. It was attached to a train three hundred feet long, and tested while going at a speed of thirty four miles per hour. In twenty seconds the train was stopped and at a distance of only a thousand feet from the place where the brake was put on. Afterward an experiment was made with the hand brakes now in general use. It took forty seconds to stop the same train, the cars continuing in motion a distance of seventeen hundred and fifty feet.

The difference in time is considerable. The engineer has the entire charge of these atmospheric brakes, and as they are directly under his eye, can at an instant's warning put on this power with a rapidity and success truly surprising.

The following description will be of interest:—

On the right-hand side of the locomotive, fastened to the running board, and under the inspection of the engineer, is an upright direct air-pump, which is operated by steam supplied from the boiler and pumps air into a reservoir hanging under the cap of the locomotive. This pump is entirely self-acting, and whenever there is a deficiency of pressure in the air reservoir, it commences working until the equilibrium is restored. Under each car of the train is a cylinder firmly bolted in such a position that its piston acts directly on the lever used for the ordinary hand-brake, but does not at all interfere with its use by hand. The pressure of the air is conducted to these cylinders from the reservoir under the locomotive by a line of gas pipe, three quarters of an inch in diameter, running the entire length of the train, and the connection with each cylinder is made from the main line with an elbow one quarter of an inch in diameter. From each end of the car the pipes are extended by three-ply rubber hose, which are connected when the cars are coupled together. Should a car become detached, the valves of the coupling immediately close, the brake continues applied, and the car is prevented from running back on a grade. An air gauge, placed immediately above the steam gauge, indicates to the engineer the quantity of pressure in the reservoir, and the management of the train is placed in the engineer's hands by means of a three-way cock.

We have this week received a large photograph of a train of cars with the Westinghouse Atmospheric Brake attached. It can be seen at the Journal office.

WOMAN JURIES.—An outraged husband at Cheyenne, Wyoming Territory, where female suffrage and the political and social appurtenance thereto appertaining are recognized, denounces the female jury business through the Cheyenne Leader, and in justification offers a pertinent scrap from his domestic history. His wife was summoned and empannelled as a juror in an important case. When night came, the case not being concluded, the husband applied to the court to have his wife sent home, as there were several small children there requiring her attention—the smallest in fact, being in a starving condition, owing to the fact that it had not been habituated to the use of the bottle. But the husband's request was denied. The judge said the jury could not be separated. The husband then requested permission to send the infant to the mother. This was also refused on the ground that the law does not permit a thirteenth person in the jury-room, and there is no statute to show that an infant in arms is not a "person" within the intent and meaning of the law.

The desperate husband then attempted to induce the court to send all the jurors to his house for the night, but the effort was a failure, and the husband was informed that quarters had been provided for his wife at the hotel, and that if he wished to speak to her for a moment he would have to take the place of the cook. The husband went home. How he got through the night is not told; but when he learned the next day that the trial was likely to last a week, he straightway proceeded to employ the best looking housekeeper and cook in the country. At last accounts his wife was still on the jury, but he was becoming resigned to the situation—in fact, it may be said, that he was quite happy. The "brute" concludes his communication to the Leader as follows:

"I don't know how the ladies felt, but I was perfectly satisfied with not only the law of equal rights, but its practical workings, as laid down to me. I most respectfully and cordially invite any and all persons, those in favor of women's suffrage and those opposed, to call at my house and see for themselves the practical workings of woman's suffrage. It is having a fair trial. 'I am lord of all I survey; my right there is none to dispute.' My cook is a perfect success; children are happy, and when asked how they like home without a mother, say, 'It's nice.'

P. S.—A canary bird, which had faithfully and patiently sat on her nest until yesterday, got off and left, with one young one just hatched and another egg pipped, and steadfastly refuses to come for her brood. If any one can suggest any way to arrange canary matters, the cook and ourselves can get along in the domestic business."

All of which is very significant. Should the gentleman's wife ever get off that jury, however, she will make it very troublesome for the cook, with whom he is getting along so well. But perhaps the story is a fiction. Nevertheless, it might all be true under the laws of Wyoming, and the lesson remains.

TARRANT'S SELTZER APERIENT.

A PLACE FOR THE LEAN!

Say, old boy, where shall we meet?
Why, at Garrety's, on Daniel Street,
He's such a jolly fellow;
His LAGER is always fresh and prime,
It never wants a "head" and is
Refreshing, cool and mellow!
You require, my boy, some filling out,
You're thin, and meagre-looking;
Lager would give you the proper size.
Look at the host, he once was scant,
His BEER has made of flesh no want,
Go thou and drink likewise.

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS.

Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,

Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Root and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. lyrdawfsb16

AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT.

It is Cheaper, Handsomer and more durable than the best of other Paints. One Thousand Gallons of it were sold in this City, in the year 1870, and not one complaint has come from those who have used it; but all speak in its favor; it is mixed ready for application, and is much easier put on than any other Paint, making a smooth, glossy surface for years, that can be cleaned with hot suds without injuring it. It is excellent for walls inside, in the place of paper.

I shall keep this season a large stock of Chemical Paints of all shades on hand, to accommodate customers with any amount, without delay in ordering it. Those who want to use the Chemical Paints and have had them misrepresented by those who deal in Lead and Oil, are invited to call and examine my Paints that have been on Buildings two years, and you will find them as fresh as if laid but one month.

SARATOGA BY DIP-CANDLE LIGHT.

"Taw," the correspondent of the New York Advertiser, gets off a capital thing on the gas failure at Saratoga:

On Friday night, while the Committee on pedigree, income, and old maids were sitting in the parlor, the gas suddenly went out. It was Egyptian darkness. The Sun office had only candle. The Saratogian lighted up the old "Wide Awake" lamps. The Chesterfieldian Hathorn, with one candle in a bottle, went around, like Diogenes with his lantern, looking for an honest man. Mr. Hamilton's chief bass singer gave out, and Dr. Strong adjourned his prayer meeting. It was just in this darkness that light came to me all at once at the Clarendon. It was ten o'clock. The stage drove up from the depot. Almost every lady expected her husband on the train. Many young ladies expected their sweethearts; neither the stage, the driver, nor the horses were visible. From force of habit the passengers felt their way to the reception room. I got mixed up with the crowd. Twenty-five married ladies, seven old maids, and four young ladies commenced greeting the passengers in the darkness. "My dear William! why did you stay so long?" she threw her arms around my neck—our lips met. I wasn't going to be a darned fool.

Far different.

Now a dear, sweet, liquid-eyed brunette threw her arms wildly around me. "O, Eugene, why did you not write oftener?" she sobbed, and then she sank sweetly on my bosom. I said, "weep not Julia," and then I kissed her sweetly twenty-two times. It was delicious. It made me think of my first wife and my college days at Yale. A ponderous matron now approached, dressed decollete, hair a la pompadour. She took me in her arms and whispered, "O, Charles, did you bring my beautiful dog—did you?"

"Madame, my name is not Charles, and I hate dogs. I'd kill every d—d—d—," but she fell fainting at my feet.

A sweet, golden-haired blonde now took my hand. She pressed it gently, saying: "Dear Albert, it is you, and I am so glad to see you! Now, do promise me!" I said I wouldn't. Then she held her cheek close to mine. It was hot with love's young hope and pure, sweet affection. We were very happy. None but a wicked man would have brought sadness to this sweet, pure young heart—full of confidence, warm with virgin affection, and beautiful with splendid girlishness.

"Do you still love me, Albert?" she whispered.

"Undoubtedly," I remarked.

"How much, darling?"

"A heap."

"Oh, I am so happy!" she murmured, as she twisted her fingers in my auburn hair and held me in a sweet embrace.

This sort of thing went on for seventeen minutes when C. Leland appeared in the distance with a tallow candle. I quietly withdrew and mingled unobserved in the crowd. As the candle appeared, twenty-seven young gentlemen were seen shaking hands with as many young ladies in the different corners. I have seldom seen such an affecting scene. It was a great display of affection. One married gentlemen was holding the hands of two ladies. The hair of the ladies was generally crimpless, while the young gentlemen did not display a parting place. I reflected, "how can such things be, and overcome us like a summer flower?" I consulted with J. Billings. He says that it kan't. So I resolved to leave the place. I came back to Congress Hall and found the young ladies and young gentlemen having a grand ball by candle light. Each young lady held in her hand a penny dip. They flew through the Lancers like ghosts in "Macbeth." Eight streaks of light made a terrible criss-cross, as the dance went on. When the grand change came, the lights revolved like a gigantic fourth of July pin wheel. It was a great night in Saratoga. The young people liked it. Some prefer darkness to light. Eight young people became engaged at Congress Hall that night.

When people came to go to bed there was a great demand for candles. There were twelve hundred people at Congress Hall—two hundred candles and three hundred bottles—five hundred lights in all. Young gentlemen stood outside of doors while sweethearts undressed and handed the candle over the transoms. Old men slept with their boots on, because they could not find the boot-jack. Married men got into the wrong rooms, and only found out their mistake the next morning. An old lady bathed her face with Harrison's Columbiana ink to cure the toothache. She thought it was pain-killer. She discovered her mistake just before coming to breakfast.

Mr. Saxe borrowed a candle of a beautiful young lady. The next morning she found under her door, these beautiful lines:

You gave me a candle; I give you my thanks,
And add as a compliment justly your due—
There is not a girl in these feminine ranks
Who could, if she would, hold a candle to you.

The Cause and Cure of Consumption.

The primary cause of Consumption is derangement of the digestive organs. The derangement produces deficient nutrition and assimilation. By assimilation I mean that process by which the nutriment of the food is converted into blood, and thence into the solids of the body. Persons with digestion thus impaired, having the slightest predisposition to pulmonary disease, or if they take cold, will be very liable to have Consumption of the Lungs in some of its forms; and I hold that it will be impossible to cure any case of Consumption without first restoring a good digestion and healthy assimilation. The very first thing to be done is to cleanse the stomach and bowels from all diseased mucous secretions which is clogging these organs so that they cannot perform their functions, and then rouse up and restore the liver to a healthy action. For this purpose, the safest and best remedy is SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS. These Pills cleanse the stomach and bowels of all the dead and morbid slime that is causing disease and decay in the whole system. They will clear out the liver of all diseases bile that has accumulated there, and arouse it up to a new and healthy action, by which natural and healthy bile is secreted.

The stomach, bowels and liver are thus cleansed by the use of Schenck's Mandrake Pills; but there remains in the stomach an excess of acid, the organ is torpid, and the appetite is poor. In the bowels, the lacteals are weak, and requiring strength and support. It is in a condition like this that Schenck's Seaweed Tonic proves to be the most valuable remedy ever discovered. It is alkaline, and its use will neutralize all excess of acid, making the stomach sweet and fresh; it will give permanent tone to this important organ, and create a good, hearty appetite, and prepare the system for the first process of a good digestion, and ultimately make good, healthy, living blood. After this preparatory treatment, what remains to cure most cases of consumption is the free and persevering use of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup. The Pulmonic Syrup nourishes the system, purifies the blood, and is readily absorbed into the circulation, and thence distributed to the diseased lungs. There it ripens all morbid matters, whether in the form of abscesses or tubercles, and then assists Nature to expel all the diseased matter in the form of free expectoration, when once it ripens. It is then, by the great healing and purifying properties of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, that all ulcers and cavities are healed up sound, and my patient is cured.

The essential thing to be done in curing Consumption is to get up a good appetite and a good digestion, so that the body will grow in flesh and get strong. If a person has diseased lungs, a cavity or abscess there, the cavity cannot heal, the matter cannot ripen, so long as the system is low pac. What is necessary to cure is a new order of things, a good appetite, a good nutrition, the body to grow in flesh and get fat; then Nature is helped, the cavities will heal, the matter will ripen and be thrown off in large quantities, and the person regains health and strength. This is the true and only plan to cure Consumption, and if a person is very bad, it the lungs are not entirely destroyed, or even if one lung is entirely gone, if there is enough vitality left in the other to heal up, there is hope.

I have seen many persons cured with only one sound lung, live and enjoy life to a good old age. This is what Schenck's medicines will do for Consumption. They will clean out the stomach, sweeten and strengthen it, get up a good digestion, and give Nature the assistance she needs to clear the system of all the disease that is in the lungs, whatever the form may be.

It is important that, while using Schenck's medicines, care should be exercised not to take cold; keep in-doors in cold and damp weather; avoid night air, and take out-door exercise only in a genial and warm sunshine.

I wish it distinctly understood that when I recommend a patient to be careful in regard to taking cold while using my medicines, I do so for a special reason. A man who has but partially recovered from the effects of a bad cold is far more liable to a relapse than one who has been entirely cured, and it is precisely the same in regard to consumption. So long as the lungs are not perfectly healed, just so long is there imminent danger of a full return of the disease. Hence it is that I so strenuously caution pulmonary patients against exposure, the moment, in an atmosphere that is not genial and pleasant. Confirmed consumptives' lungs are a mass of sores, and the slightest change of atmosphere will inflame. The grand secret of my success with my medicines consists in my ability to subdue inflammation instead of provoking it, as many of the faculty do. An inflamed lung cannot with safety to the patient be exposed to the biting blasts of winter or the chilling winds of spring or autumn. It should be carefully shielded from all irritating influence. The utmost caution should be observed in this particular, as without it a cure under almost any circumstances is an impossibility.

The person should be kepton a wholesome and nutricious diet, and all the medicine continued until the body has restored to it the natural capacity of flesh and strength.

I was myself cured by this treatment of the worst kind of Consumption, and have lived to get fat and hearty these many years, with one lung mostly gone. I have cured thousands since, and very many have been cured by this treatment whom I have never seen.

About the first of October I expect to take possession of my new building at the northeast corner of Sixth and Arch Streets, where I shall be pleased to give advice to all who may require it.

Full directions accompany all my remedies, so that a person in any part of the world can be readily cured by a strict observance of the same.

JURUBEBA.
NOVELTY CLOTHES WRINGER.
Nothing, except the Sewing Machine, has ever been invented which so much relieves the labor of the household as the Wringer. But its usefulness does not end here. The saving of clothing is of much greater importance. It is often remarked that articles of fine texture, last twice as long when wrung in a Wringer as when wrung by hand. The NOVELTY has Cog-wheels on both ends. * * The rolls are allowed to separate at either end. These, besides other advantages which it contains, seem to be indispensable to a practical wringer.—New York Independent.
The Novelty Wringer has become an indispensable institution in thousands of families. And we believe its great and increasing popularity is fully merited—for the Novelty evidently possesses all the requisites of a first-class, practical machine. Indeed, after using one for many months in our own family, we are prepared to indorse the Novelty as unsurpassed (the laundress says unequaled,) by any of the several wringers previously tried.—Moore's Rural New Yorker.

It teaches Mesmerism, how to become Trance or Writing Mediums, Divination, Spiritualism, Alchemy, Philosophy of omens and Dreams, Brigham Young's Harem, Guide to Marriage, &c. This is the only book in the English language professing to teach this occult power, and is of immense advantage to the Merchants, Lawyers, Physicians, and especially to Lovers, in securing the affections of the opposite sex, and all seeking riches or happiness. WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 20, 1871.

THE TAMMANY TROUBLES have no end. Gen. McClellan refuses to accept the Controllership and Connolly holds on in spite of the attempt of Mayor Hall to remove him. There is no doubt that what is left of the ring is growing desperate as they see the State central committee with the better class of democrats, as well as Connolly who has turned State's evidence, arrayed against them. Whatever course they adopt their action is likely to be sudden, if not lawless. If the courts cannot be used to help them in their present strait, there is one course left—they may use police force. Mayor Hall refuses to acknowledge Connolly as Controller or Green as Deputy Controller. Connolly is prepared for a raid on the part of the Mayor to take the Controller's office by storm and seize all the books and papers which, it is said, implicate Mr. Connolly's three associates.

The Times says that "in a few days if the papers are not taken away from Mr. Green the public will be forced to believe that Hall, Sweeney, Tweed and Connolly have alike betrayed their trusts and plundered the community, and that there can be no security while they remain in office. No quarter for any of the four must be our watchword now. A band of thieves cannot be permitted to go scot free because they betray a confederate."

The citizens' committee support Connolly. Mr. Green has delivered to the committee of the citizens and aldermen, all the documents in the controller's office which are required in the investigation of municipal accounts.

The Conkling wing of the Republican party approve the appointment of Mr. Green, and it is said to be the intention of the Democratic State Committee to throw Tammany overboard. There are indications of a union between the reform democrats and Conkling republicans for a combined effort, the former to overthrow Tammany and the latter to defeat the Fenton republicans. Many democrats consider the State lost to their party in consequence of the present troubles, and are ready to make any fair terms of peace.

THE MAINE ELECTION.—Official returns of the recent election are in from all but twenty-two towns and plantations. The following is the vote for governor:—

Total vote	105,552
For Perham	58,187
For Kimball	47,365
Majority for Perham	10,822

The vote of last year was as follows:

Total vote	99,801
For Perham	54,019
For Roberts	45,733
Scattering	49
Majority for Perham	8,237

The aggregate vote of the State is 5751 higher than last year, and Governor Perham's majority is increased 2585. The political complexion of the senate will be about the same as last year. Twenty-five republican senators have been elected, and five democratic. The Democrats carry Aroostook county on the railroad question, Waldo on account of local questions that divided the republican party. Knox goes democratic as is her usual practice, and one democratic senator is chosen from Hancock. In York county, there is no choice for one member of the senatorial board. The house will stand one hundred and eleven republicans, thirty-eight democrats, one independent, and one district yet to be heard from.

THE RAGE for printing in newspapers what is termed "original poetry" seems to prevail extremely in some parts of the State. We are surprised that our friend of the Nashua Telegraph is so little acquainted with his namesake Moore's poetry, as to be imposed upon by the "Bower O'Brien" which is palmed off as written for a recent occasion, when the idea and part of the language itself was used by Moore and is recollected by too many of his admirers to have the plagiarism pass unnoticed.

THE HOUSE of John Higgins at Coytesville, N. Y., was discovered to be on fire on Sunday morning by the neighbors, but before the flames were subdued Mr. and Mrs. Higgins, an aged couple, were burned to death.

THE FRENCH DIPLOMATIC REPRESENTATIVE in China has received a despatch from his government, directing him to make a common cause with the Americans in the war with Corea.

THE SAN FRANCISCO BULLETIN, in view of the increase of overland railroad freights, advocates making San Francisco a free port.

THE RUSSIAN PRESS is now generally vigorous in its attacks upon Prussia.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

A few days since a farmer in the town of East Northwood had occasion to change the location of his family burial-place. To his surprise he found the bodies—some of which had been buried over forty years—in an almost perfect state of preservation. Those that had lain longest were hardly discolored and quite petrified. This instance is remarkable, as no other case of the kind has occured heretofore in the State.

AT SELMA, ALA., whipping a husband costs only $25, but whipping a wife costs $50. This is an outrageous discrimination, and the men down there are naturally calling for their "rights."

SIX PERSONS were killed and twenty-nine injured by the powder explosion at Pioche, Nevada, and there is no insurance to cover the damage, which exceeds a quarter of a million.

THE MOBILE REGISTER tells Semmes that "the cause and audacity which eminently qualify a man to act the sailor or the novelist, may equally unfit him for the role of the historian."

GENERAL CROOK has made a treaty with the Coyote Apaches against the rest of the tribe, and is confident of victory "if the peace commissioners let him alone."

TWENTY-NINE PERSONS have escaped from the Nevada State prison, and in doing so six men were wounded, including the lieutenant-governor.

A DUBUQUE FARMER put out a fire in his barn with a deluge of milk. Dubuque is not the only place where milk differs but little from water.

A SERIOUS RAILWAY ACCIDENT occurred Monday at Champigny, France, in which nine persons were killed and a large number wounded.

THE NEW YORK STREET CARS were scenes of outrage upon respectable passengers by ruffins on Sunday.

—Norton, who robbed the New York Post Office, in which he was employed in a confidential capacity has restored the stolen money or secured it to his bondsmen, and gets the start of the authorities by sending in a resignation, in advance of his dismissal. This, of course, in no respect, protects him from prosecution and the appropriate punishment of his offence. But the Herald thinks it a great offence for the defaulter to "settle and resign." Would the Herald have the government refuse the restitution tendered by the defaulter? Would it have the government compel him to remain in the office which he has so criminally abused? Suppose the Democratic thieves should "settle and resign?" Suppose Tweed, Connolly, and Hall, and Sweeney should "settle and resigned?" Wouldn't there be a general rejoicing among the tax-payers? But there is no hope of that. It would be undemocratic.—Prov. Jour.

CRISTADORO'S HAIR PRESERVATIVE

Over-Doctored!

Without any disrespect to the members of the medical profession, a profession honored by all thinking men, it is only just to say that they are too thick on the ground. The consequence is that the community is doctored over much. When nature needs only the gentle stimulant and alterative, which has become famous throughout the country as a reliable medicine, under the name of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, she is not unfrequently dosed with a dozen prescriptions, all experimental, from the Pharmacopœia. This is in evil, and proves that the practice of medicine is far from being at all times a healing art. At this period of the year, when the fall of the leaf indicates that decay has seized upon the vegetable kingdom, many harassing diseases are prevalent. Chief among these may be mentioned intermittent fever and bilious remittent. The exhalations rising from decomposing vegetation, and the heavy dews and fogs, are very apt to generate these complaints. The wisest policy is to protect the system by a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters at the commencement of the fall. Much suffering may thereby be avoided. But if the disease has already begun, its periodical visitations may readily be checked and broken up by this active, yet harmless, vegetable tonic.

But be on your guard against the charlatans who are attempting to palm off, under various names, unwholesome compounds, which they endeavor to compare favorably with the great national elixir, which has long since swept more formidable opposition from the field. Bear in mind that every bottle of genuine Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is authenticated by a splendidly engraved label, and a fac simile of the sign manual of the firm. Put up in bottles only, and cannot be obtained in bulk.

MR. JAMES H. K. DOWNS, recently deceased, had an insurance of $2000 on his life in the Charter Oak Co.

SAMUEL WILSON, of this city, who was committed to the State Prison in October, 1869, for three years, for larceny in this city, lost his left hand on Monday while engaged in adjusting machinery about a planer in the prison shop. Being careless, his fingers were caught and the hand was drawn in to the wrist and cut to pieces. A loose belt saved his arm and perhaps his life.

THE LINGARD COMPANY come this evening and the indications are that a large audience will be in attendance—as the tickets are selling like hot cakes. It's of no use to undertake to give the people any information regarding the company. Everybody has heard of William Horace and Alice and Dickie, and everybody knows that their performances are always first class. There'll be rare fun and frolic at the Temple, to-night, between 8 and 11 o'clock, and our advice to all is to secure tickets if possible, as soon as possible, be early enough to get comfortably seated before 8 o'clock and enjoy the Comedy, Comedietta, the sketches and the music.

HON. JOSEPH B. ADAMS arrived here from the Asylum at Concord on Monday, in good physical health and spirits. He is quite confident that he is wholly free from all traces of insanity and declares that the inmates of the Asylum are all in the same condition. His many friends are glad to see him, and his restoration to health is permanent. He converses rationally and appears as of old, but is especially bitter in condemnation of the managers of the Asylum who refused to let his friends see him, when as he says he was as sane as now. His reception by life long friends who cordially greet him goes far to render his return as pleasing as it is surprising. His condition while at the Asylum must have been deplorable, feeling as he did that he was deprived of his liberty and detained for three months without cause. We join with our citizens generally in heartily welcoming him home to his family and friends.

GARDENING UNDER DIFFICULTIES.—In Tuesday's Chronicle we mentioned a turnip which grew on Wood Island as being remarkable for its size as well as for growing at all in such a place. Tuesday afternoon we were called on by Mr. James Anderson, keeper in charge of the island, (which is the U. S. Quarantine Station,) and from him we learned something of the labor and care necessary to successful gardening there. Last year, (Mr. Anderson's first year on the island,) he determined to raise his own "garden sauce," but the bare rocks and sea sand offered rather poor facilities for that purpose. However, he procured a lot of empty flour-barrels and sank them in the sand until their tops were nearly level with the surface, filled them two-thirds full of kelp from the beach, scraped up enough earth from the interstices of the rocks to put a half-bushel in each barrel, and planted his seeds; and in this unique kitchen garden he raised cucumbers, tomatoes and other vegetables in great abundance. This year he was encouraged to enlarge his area of cultivated ground which he effected by gathering all the soil he could find that had escaped him the year before, bringing a little more from the main land, and forming beds in suitable places. In these beds he has grown onions, beans and corn which eye witnesses assure us would do credit to the best-cultivated garden on shore, the ladies of his family having had most of the care of the growing crops. The flour-barrel garden was also kept going, and Mr. Anderson says he has gathered a half-bushel of tomatoes from the plants in a single barrel. The huge turnip we referred to grew in an onion bed, the seed having found its way there by accident, and is one of the flat English variety.

Communicated.

Lesson of Experience from the Portsmouth & Concord Railroad.

"A burnt child dreads the fire" and it is very remarkable that any person or the son or grandson of any person who had to do with the above named enterprise should not profit by it in cases where like illusions were presented. I do not charge upon myself a full guiltiness for the part I acted for four years because there was the impulse of a good motive and the absence of any warning precedent. But this I feel that now with these operations as a beacon light were I to repeat them or decline to warn others against doing so, I should be guilty of perfect robbery, and I persistently hold the opinion that there cannot be produced one right argument that would warrant the present proposed work as any other basis than a full paid subscription by parties with money and means of their own. They have no right to take the property of even one citizen, or to create an incumbrance upon it.

How many of our citizens would go down to their graves sorrowing that their estates were hopelessly mortgaged for there would be no probability of the redemption for several generations if ever and as to the city's receiving benefits to more than effect the vast outlay I have no faith, for the same illusive idea was indulged in in regard to the Road before mentioned. There are other ways of benefitting and promoting the permanent advancement of our city, and it would be wiser for us to set about some one of them. If we cannot devise any plan by which we can grow rich how would it do to devote our energies to the removal of what makes a people poor and degraded?

Try what can be done to get our people to abandon the use of rum and tobacco. Take more interest in the poor, the laborious, seeing to it that they are well cared for in matters wherein they may be undergoing any privation or extreme hardship. Look more after their religious and moral welfare and we should find, I hope and trust new proof that in reality there is no need of Portsmouth resorting to costly and doubtful enterprises any more.

A. J. PENHALLOW.

THE FAIR.—The first day of the Piscataqua Horse and Cattle Show passed off quietly, very little occurring of sufficient interest to the general reader to warrant an extended report. It should be borne in mind, however, that all "first days" of such shows are consumed in getting the machinery arranged to set in motion, hence we may infer if the weather is good, the success of the present Fair will bear a favorable comparison with that of those held during the past few years. The entries are rather meagre, especially those of fruits and vegetables. The forbidding aspect of the weather has also prevented such an entry of stock as would otherwise have been made, though Wednesday may put a different look on the affair.

In the trot for three minute horses F. Jones entered "Wild Eddie," H. Mann of Greenland entered "Greenland Boy," and G. H. Shannon entered a brown gelding named "Frank," owned in this city. The Judges for the day were Messrs. H. P. Copp and J. L. Jackson of Dover, and Mr. H. R. Stoddard of this city. The trotting between Greenland Boy and Wild Eddie was very close, both keeping to their work well; but Shannon's Frank broke badly. The first heat was won by Wild Eddie in 2:59, the second by a neck by Greenland Boy in 2:55 1-2, and third by Greenland Boy in 2:56, Wild Eddie coming in a length behind, and Frank distanced for running.

The next was a three-mile dash between Lady Franklin, entered by M. Eldredge, and St. Lawrence Maid, entered by Frank Jones. The trotting was remarkably good, both horses keeping to their work handsomely. The heat was won by Lady Franklin in 8:55 3-4.

In consequence of the inevitable and perhaps unavoidable delay which always attends a horse trot, the horses for the stallion trot were not "rung up" until five o'clock. F. Jones entered black stallion Fearnaught Prince, and J. D. Stott entered Kentucky Chief. The former won in three straight heats. Time—2:58, 2:57 and 2:47.

The programme for to-day (Wednesday) may be found in our advertising columns, and includes the procession of Town Teams, exhibition of Stock on the track, Pulling Match for oxen, and two Trots.

The first trot is for 2:50 horses, and F. Jones' "St. Lawrence Maid," G. H. Shannon's "Frank" and H. Mann's "Greenland Boy" will doubtless make a good race.

For the second trot, which is open to all horses, three of the fastest animals in this vicinity have been entered, and will all come to the scratch. Woodbury Locke's white mare "Nellie Locke," M. Eldredge's bay mare "Lady Franklin" and F. Jones' sorrel mare "Lady Emma" will try their speed, and furnish such sport for the lovers of racing as has not been seen hereabouts for a long while; and if the weather is fair a very large attendance may be expected.

On Thursday, the closing day of the Fair, the auction sale of live stock, carriages, &c., will take place at half past 11 o'clock, A. M., and premiums will be announced from the stand at noon. At 2 o'clock, P. M., a double-team race between "Lady Emma and Mate" and "Lady Franklin and Mate" is to come off. At half past 2 o'clock the 2:45 horses will be called up, five having been entered for the race, viz.; St. Lawrence Maid, Topsey, Belle of Portsmouth, Frank and Greenland Boy. The closing event of the Fair is announced for 3 o'clock, a race for running horses, to saddle.

WE DESIRE to add our testimony to the excellence of the Francis & Sawyer Theatrical Company, who have won the respect and close attention of their audiences during their short stay here. We confess to having a sort of horror for tragedies, preferring, as do most people, comedies—but if we must have tragedies to witness we like to see them well presented by actors and actresses, among whom Mr. Norton, Miss Norris and Miss Dietz rank high.

NAVAL.—Lieut. Comdr. McCook has been ordered to this Navy Yard.

Morning Chronicle.

OPEN WINDOWS AT NIGHT.—Very much has been written on this subject, and written unwisely; the facts are that whoever sleeps uncomfortably cool will get sick. To hoist a window sky-high when the mercury is at zero is an absurdity.

The colder a sleeping apartment is, the more unhealthy does it become, because cold condenses the carbonic acid formed by the breathing of the sleeper. It settles near the floor and is rebreathed, and if in a very condensed form, he will die before the morning Hence we must be governed by circumstances; the first thing is, you must be comfortably warm during sleep otherwise you are not refreshed, and inflammation of the lungs may be engendered, and life destroyed within a few days.

An open door and an open fireplace are sufficient for ordinary purposes in cold weather. When outer windows are opened, it is well to have them down at the top two or three inches, and up at the bottom for the same space.

In miasmatic localities—and these are along watercourses, beside millponds, marshes, bayous, river bottoms, flat lands and the like—it is most important, from the first of August until several severe frosts have been noted, to sleep with all external doors and windows closed, because the cool air of sunset causes the condensation of the poisonous emanations which were caused by the heat of the noon-day sun to rise far above the earth; this condensation makes the air 'heavy' at sundown, made heavy by the greater solidification of the emanations by cold; and resting on the surface of the earth in their concentrated and malignant form, they are breathed into the lungs, and swallowed into the stomach, corrupting and poisoning the blood with great rapidity.

By daylight these condensations are made so compact by the protracted coolness of the night, that they are too near the surface of the earth to be breathed into the system; but as the sun begins to ascend, these heavy condensations, miasms, begin to rise again to the height of several feet above the ground, and are freely taken into the system by every breath and swallow; hence the hours of sunrise and sunset are the most unhealthful of all the hours of twenty-four in the localities named; and noontide, when the sun is hottest, is the most healthy portion of the day, because the miasm is so much rarefied that it ascends rapidly to the upper regions.

The general lessons are, 1st. Avoid exposure to outdoor air in miasmatic localities for the hours including sunrise and sunset. 2d. Have a blazing fire on the hearth of the family room at those hours, to rarefy and send the miasm upwards. 3d. Take breakfast before going out of doors in the morning, and take tea before sundown, then being out after sight is not injurious. [illegible]

HENRY WARD BEECHER'S DOG STORY.—A narrow log lay as a bridge over a ravine. From the opposite ends of the log, at the same moment there started to cross it a big Newfoundland and a little Italian greyhound. Of course, they met in the middle; of course, there was not room enough for them to pass; neither could they go back. The height was a dangerous one for the greyhound, and to the water at the bottom he was extremely averse. The Newfoundland could have taken the leap in safety, but evidently did not want to. There was a fix! The little dog sat down on his haunches, stuck his nose straight up in the air and howled. The Newfoundland stood intent, his face solemn with inward workings. Presently he gave a nudge with his nose to the howling greyhound, as if to say, "Be still youngster, and listen." Then there was silence and seeming confabulation for a second or two. Immediately the big dog spread his legs wide apart like a Colossus, bestriding the log on its extreme outer edges, and balancing himself carefully. The little dog sprang through the opening like a flash. When they reached the opposite shores the greyhound broke into frantic gambols of delight, and the Newfoundland, after his more sedate fashion, expressed great complacency in his achievement—as he surely had a right to do.

—The little creature who took a straw and cobbler, and bet and won a basket of champagne on Harper's fastest filly on Saturday, won't lift her pretty eyes to her adorers on Sunday, but continues in the closest companionship with the gospels whenever she is not in church, declaring that she is a miserable sinner. Yesterday she swore a rose-colored silk, which shimmered through muslins and lace, just as her coquetries are visible through her devotions, but she goes to church to-day in pure white lawn, with a spray of myrtle at her throat, and a bonnet upon which only a cluster of marguerites attest her knowledge of beauty. What waltzing like the measure and rhythm of a perfect poem fails to complete in a partial conquest, reading from the same prayer-book is sure to do at Saratoga. Indeed, I have known a proposal of marriage to be made upon the fly-leaf of a Bible, so irrepressible did the tender emotion become under the influence of a pretty, kneeling figure.—Sar. Cor. Chicago Times.

—If man or woman either wishes to realize the full power of personal beauty, it must be by cherishing noble hopes and purposes; by having something to live for which is worthy of humanity, and which, by expanding the capacities of the soul, gives expansion and symmetry to the body which contains it.—Professor Upham.

—New Orleans girls complain that the young men "don't tease them enough."

TARRANT'S SELTZER APERIENT.

Tarrant's Effervescent Seltzer Aperient

is its duplicate. Letters attesting its wonderful Tonic Aperient and Anti-Bilious qualities swarm in from every source. The question has been settled whether artificially medicated waters may not be equal to those which burst sparkling from the earth itself. They can; and the Seltzer Aperient, when undoubtedly pure and genuine, proves the fact.

Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK, Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetisers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Root and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yrdawfeb16

One Thousand Gallons of it were sold in this City, in the year 1870, and not one complaint has come from those who have used it; but all speak in its favor; it is mixed ready for application, and is much easier put on than any other Paint, making a smooth, glossy surface for years, that can be cleaned with hot suds without injuring it. It is excellent for walls inside, in the place of paper.

I shall keep this season a large stock of Chemical Paints of all shades on hand, to accommodate customers with any amount, without delay in ordering it. Those who want to use the Chemical Paints and have had them misrepresented by those who deal in Lead and Oil, are invited to call and examine my Paints that have been on Buildings two years, and you will find them as fresh as if laid but one month.

NEW PUBLICATIONS RECEIVED.

Peters' Musical Monthly for October is at hand, containing fifteen beautiful pieces of music, printed from full size music plates. It can be had for thirty cents. The Publisher offers to send, post-paid, for one dollar, six back numbers, containing from ninety to one hundred pieces of choice new music. Send your order to the Publisher, J. L. Peters, 599 Broadway, New-York, and you will get your money's worth.

The stories, sketches, poetry and illustrations which go to the making of the October number of Our Young Folks are all of a high standard, and yet of such a character that the young folks can appreciate their merit. Among the favorite writers who contribute to the number are J. T. Trowbridge, Mary N. Prescott, Lucy Larcom and Harvey Wilder. The space devoted to young contributors is well occupied.

Godey's Lady's Book for October, fresh and sparkling—a splendid number. Marion Harland's "Nurse Brown's Story" is concluded, and a capital story it is. "The Harcourt Silver" is another of the longer stories, and complete in this number. The "Work Department" is full of valuable instruction and suggestions.

FEEDING HORSES DURING WINTER.—A horse, as most horsemen and farmers know, will eat twenty hours out of twenty-four, if he only has anything to eat; but this winter the plan must be changed, and horses must eat what they have to eat in three hours, resting twenty-one. That they will be in better condition for so doing, no one will deny. And if the light hay crop the present season but teaches farmers the correct mode of feeding horses, it will give something in compensation for what it has withheld. Upon this matter hear the opinion of "an old stager."

Mr. W. F. Blunt of Anson—better known to the staging fraternity of twenty years ago as "Billy Blunt," by which familiar name he is yet called—whose knowledge of horse flesh is second to that of but few men in the State, says that with nine pounds of hay and three quarts of meal per day, he can make a horse gain in flesh all winter; not a horse that is standing still, but one that is worked all the time. Weigh the hay a few times so to take up about three pounds at a time, shake this lightly into a tight box crib, and sprinkle thoroughly with cold water, then throw over it a quart of dry meal three times a day, at regular hours. Any horse put upon this fare and fed uniformly, will gain steadily, and perform an amount of work that will surprise those accustomed to feed large measures of hay and grain. The gresent winter will be a good time to try this plan, especially as most farmers will be forced to some such course on account of the small bulk of hay secured. The exact cost of wintering a horse under this regime can be ascertained in two minutes. It will be found to be much less than many would think. Maine Farmer.

The Cause and Cure of Consumption.

The primary cause of Consumption is derangement of the digestive organs. The derangement produces deficient nutrition and assimilation. By assimilation I mean that process by which the nutriment of the food is converted into blood, and thence into the solids of the body. Persons with digestion thus impaired, having the slightest predisposition to pulmonary disease, or if they take cold, will be very liable to have Consumption of the Lungs in some of its forms; and I hold that it will be impossible to cure any case of Consumption without first restoring a good digestion and healthy assimilation. The very first thing to be done is to cleanse the stomach and bowels from all diseased mucous assimilate which is clogging these organs so that they cannot perform their functions, and then tone and restore the liver to a healthy action. For this purpose, I know of no other but Schenck's Mandrake Pills. These Pills cleanse the stomach and bowels of all the dead and morbid slime that is causing disease and decay in the whole system. They will clear out the liver of all diseased bile that has accumulated there, and arouse it up to a new and healthy action, by which natural and healthy bile is secreted.

The stomach, bowels and liver are thus cleansed by the use of Schenck's Mandrake Pills; but there remains in the stomach an excess of acid, the organ is torpid, and the appetite is poor. In the bowels, the lacteals are weak, and requiring strength and support. It is in a condition like this that Schenck's Seaweed Tonic proves to be the most valuable remedy ever discovered. It is alkaline, and its use will neutralize all excess of acid, making the stomach sweet and fresh; it will give permanent tone to this important organ, and create a good, hearty appetite, and prepare the system for the first process of a healthy digestion, and ultimately make good, healthy, living blood. After this preparatory treatment, what remains to cure most cases of consumption is the free and persevering use of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup. The Pulmonic Syrup nourishes the system, purifies the blood, and is readily absorbed into the circulation, and thence distributed to the diseased lungs. There it ripens all morbid matters, whether in the form of abscesses or tubercles, and then assists Nature to expel all the diseased matter in the form of free expectoration, when once it ripens. It is then, by the great healing and purifying properties of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, that all ulcers and cavities are healed up sound, and my patient is cured.

The essential thing to be done in curing Consumption is to get up a good appetite and a good digestion, so that the body will grow in flesh and get strong. If a person has diseased lungs, a cavity or abscess there, the cavity cannot heal, the matter cannot ripen, so long as the system is below par. What is necessary to cure is a order of things, a good appetite, a good nutrition, the body to grow in flesh and get fat; then Nature is helped, the cavities will heal, the matter will ripen and be thrown off in large quantities, and the person regains health and strength. This is the true and only plan to cure Consumption, and if a person is very bad, if the lungs are not entirely destroyed, or even if one lung is entirely gone, if there is enough vitality left in the other to heal up, there is hope.

I have seen many persons cured with only one sound lung, live and enjoy life to a good old age. This is what Schenck's medicines will do to cure Consumption. They will clean out the stomach, sweeten and strengthen it, get up a good digestion, and give Nature the assistance she needs to clear the system of all the disease that is in the lungs, whatever the form may be.

It is important that, while using Schenck's medicines, care should be exercised not to take cold; keep in-doors in cold and damp weather; avoid night air, and take out-door exercise only in a gentle and warm sunshine.

I wish it distinctly understood that when I recommend a patient to be careful in regard to taking cold while using my medicines, I do so for a special reason. A man who has had partially recovered from the effects of Consumption, is far more liable to take cold than one who has been entirely cured, and it is precisely the same in regard to consumption. So long as the lungs are not perfectly healed, just so long is there imminent danger of a full return of the disease. Hence it is that I so strenuously caution patients against exposing themselves to an atmosphere that is not genial and pleasant. Confirmed consumptives' lungs are a mass of sores, which include cavities of ulceration, and will inflame. The grand secret of my success with my medicines consists in my ability to subdue inflammation instead of promoting it, as many of the faculty do. An inflamed lung cannot with safety to the patient be exposed to the biting blasts of winter or the chilling winds of spring or autumn. It should be carefully shielded from all irritating influence. The utmost caution should be observed in this particular, as without it a cure under almost any circumstances is an impossibility.

The person should be kept on a wholesome and nutricious diet, and all the medicine continued until the body has restored to it the natural quantity of flesh and strength.

I was myself cured by this treatment of the worst kind of Consumption, and have lived to get fat and hearty these many years, with one lung mostly gone. I have cured thousands since, and very many have been cured by this treatment whom I have never seen.

About the first of October I expect to take possession of my new building at the northeast corner of Sixth and Arch Streets, where I shall be pleased to give advice to all who may require it.

Full directions accompany all my remedies, so that a person in any part of the world can be readily cured by a strict observance of the same.

THE NOVELTY CLOTHES WRINGER.

Nothing, except the Sewing Machine, has ever been invented which so much relieves the labor of the household as the Wringer. But its usefulness does not end here. The saving of clothing is of much greater importance. It is often remarked that articles of fine texture, last twice as long when wrung in a Wringer as when wrung by hand. The NOVELTY has Cog-wheels on both ends. The rolls are allowed to separate at either end. These, besides other advantages which it contains, seem to be indispensable to a practical wringer.—New York Independent.

The Novelty Wringer has become an indispensable institution in thousands of families. And we believe its great and increasing popularity is fully merited—for the Novelty evidently possesses all the requisites of a first-class, practical machine. Indeed, after using one for many months in our own family, we are prepared to indorse the Novelty as unsurpassed (the laundress says unequalled,) by any of the several wringers previously tried.—Moore's Rural New Yorker.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 21, 1871.

POLITICAL.

The Boston Herald supports Hon. Alexander H. Rice for Governor of Massachusetts in opposition to Gen. Butler—which is bad for Ben.

The returns from Nebraska show a majority against the proposed new constitution.

Gen. Butler says Jewell had but two delegates elected when he withdrew from the Massachusetts gubernatorial candidacy.

Senator Brownlow is improving and strong hopes are entertained of his recovery.

Senators Sumner and Wilson wish it understood that they desire Gen. Butler to be defeated in the Massachusetts State Convention—which looks a little like an attempt at dictation.

If Gen. Butler is to be the next Governor of Massachusetts, Hon. George B. Loring and Major Ben. Perley Poore propose succeeding him in Congress.

A Democratic paper says that Governor Haight of California was defeated because he "desired to protect the State from extravagant expenditure." The Democrats of New York seem to be pretty well guarded against defeat from that cause.

Gen. Butler still favors the taxation of government bonds—which is worse for the General.

The Haverhill Gazette calls on Senator Wilson to resign and get nominated for Governor of Massachusetts, for the purpose of defeating Gen. Butler. We opine that the latter would like the arrangement.

CERTAIN PERSONS in Seabrook and elsewhere, "instigated" by personal or political hatred or religious or anti-religious prejudice, have persisted in charging Rev. William A. Rand with being the author or "instigator" of the many articles lately published in the newspapers reflecting unfavorably on the character of the people of the Byfield district in South Seabrook. That Mr. Rand had anything to do with those articles was positively denied, notwithstanding which his enemies have reiterated their falsehoods concerning him again and again; but that their calumnies have not injured him in the estimation of the better portion of a special meeting of the Congregational Church of South Seabrook, on Monday, September 18th, when the following preamble and resolutions were passed:—

In view of the many false and injurious reports put in circulation in regard to the people of South Seabrook and in regard to our pastor, Rev. William A. Rand, we deem it a duty which we owe the community and our pastor, to give expression to our opinions and feelings. Therefore

Resolved, That we have entire confidence in the moral and christian character of our pastor, William A. Rand.

Resolved, That in our judgment it does him a great wrong to be held responsible for the may false reports about this community, put in circulation by anonymous newspaper writers.

Resolved, That we will heartily cooperate with our pastor, in his efforts to build up Christ's kingdom among this people.

Resolved, That we earnestly request the prayers and aid of all God's children in our behalf.

A DESPATCH to the Herald from Washington, says that information has been received from Palatka, Fla., to the effect that a large portion of the orange country has been changed into a lake, and that houses and people have been engulphed. The gentleman furnishing the information states that while on his way from Orlando to Millsonville, on horseback, he noticed that his horse commenced bogging, and as he proceeded, from the sounds heard in the rear, he became alarmed. The bogging grew worse as he progressed, until he had to dismount. The sounds in his rear increased more and more and became more and more alarming, and the route in front more boggy. At last, after great exertions, both he and his horse reached solid ground. Turning to examine into the cause of those fearful sounds in his rear he saw terrific and appalling sights.

THE VIRULENCE of cholera increases at Konigsberg. The ratio of deaths has advanced from 50 per cent. to 70 and even 80 per cent. The deaths during the week ending on the 17th were 300.

J. W. JONES of Portland has now sixteen factories in operation, packing corn, and eight packing lobsters, which employ about 1000 hands. He will export a large quantity next season.

—Nine miles were run in seven minutes by a train between Macon and Columbus, Ga.

JEFFERSON DAVIS IN 1858.—In the summer of 1858, Jefferson Davis, in a speech at Faneuil Hall, Boston, uttered the following language: "Among culprits, there is none more odious to my mind than a public officer who takes an oath to support the Constitution—the compact between the States binding each one for the common defense and general welfare of the other—yet retains to himself a mental reservation that he will war upon the principles he has sworn to maintain, and upon the property rights, the protection of which are part of the compact of the Union. [Applause]. It is a crime too low to be named before this assembly. It is one which no man with self-respect would ever commit. To swear that he will support the Constitution—to take an office which belongs in many of its relations to all the States, and to use it as means of injuring a portion of the State of which he is thus the representative, is treason to everything honorable in man. It is the base and cowardly attack of him who gains the confidence of another, in order that he may wound him."

THE LOSS of property at the St. Albans' (Vt.) fire, on Sunday last, will amount to $112,000. The St. Albans Messenger says: "An acre of ground, embracing the entire business portion of the south side of Lake street, is a perfect desolation. Two of the largest stove dealers, two of our heaviest iron men, two of the front rank grocery firms, one of the respectable newspapers, one of two livery stables, one of the the busiest dry-goods houses, one of principal joiners' shops, one of the leading harness and trunk stores, the only tobacconist, one of the jewellers, and one of the hatters and four or five of our indispensible groggeries are turned out of doors, to say nothing of several worthy men occupying less conspicuous positions, and not mentioning the eight or nine poor families suddenly thrown upon the charity of friends. Some twenty-five buildings are destroyed, four of which were among our best blocks. Some thirty-five different interests are turned out of doors."

THE FOLLOWING, from the Lewiston (Maine) Journal, is rather good, when we remember what strange means of transporting are rendered necessary by the "Maine law:" "A woman appeared at a store on Lisbon street yesterday, and wanted to buy a trunk; that this was too high a price—she could buy trunks in Portland for a dollar and a half. The clerk showed her one for a dollar and a half. 'That kind you can get in Portland for a dollar and a quarter,' said the woman. 'What! as large as this?' asked the clerk. 'Yes,' said the woman, 'as large as that; I've got one many a time for a dollar and a quarter, large enough to hold a five-gallon keg.'"

TAMMANY'S DOWNFALL.—Gen. McClellan in declining the office of Controller of New York, said he could see little hope of any explanation being made that will restore confidence in the integrity of any one who has been in any way connected with the city finances.

George Anfibe, under arrest, is said to be the person who stole the vouchers. Connolly says it was a put up job by the "ring," as a desperate resource to force him to resign. Anfibe is one of Mayor Hall's friends. It is said that the members of the Ring are becoming friendly to each other again—for mutual protection.

—It is the general opinion that soft water is the best adapted to the human frame. Recently this has been controverted, and there are those who declare that hard water is preferable, in a purely physiological view. These latter contend, that the earthy matters of hard waters are especially designed to aid the formation of the osseous system, also that the calcareous salts they contain afford essential nutrition to the general tissues. Dr. Letheby of England, is one of the prominent supporters of this theory. As a proof of its correctness, he maintains that the finest specimens of the English race are to be found where hard water is found flowing from calcareous strata. He contends the same is true of cattle and horses, the celebrated Durham cattle and Licesster sheep and the fine horses of Flanders, being produced in hard water regions. Dr. Letheby adduces many facts in support of his views, classifying the towns of England, according to the hardness or softness of their waters and giving the mortuary statistics in connection with such. His figures certainly seems to bear out his theory, for in the hard water districts the death rate is lowest. The subject is an interesting one and affords a wide field for study.

—The baggage-man of a west ward bound express train, at Poughkeepsie, Monday night, observed a very offensive odor arising from a trunk checked for Chicago. A detective was called and the trunk broken open, but instead of finding a ghastly corpse, they found about five pounds of Limburger cheese.

—About two weeks ago, a German family residing four miles from Bath, in Mason county, Ill., partook freely of raw pork and bacon, and soon thereafter one of the children and a young lady was taken sick. A physician was summoned to the bedside of these persons, who pronounced the sickness the result of trichinæ, taken into their system in the raw bacon or pork which they had eaten. The child died in a few days after being taken ill. The young lady is getting better.

—A farmer cured a balky horse in the town of Eden, Fond du Lac county, Wisconsin. He hitched a pair of cattle to a log chain to the horse's neck, and prevailed on 'em to lean a few tons weight on the yoke. The horse didn't start, but his head came out by the roots. The hide, a set of shoes, and a lunch for the crows are all that is left of the indocile steed.

—The New York Evening Post having announced that "Hoyle, the apostle of whist under the old dispensation is said to have died 'full of years and of honors,'" the New York World responds, "This is not true. He has merely fallen asleep waiting for the last trump."

—The La Crosse Democrat reports the water so low in the Mississippi River that steamboats have to keep whistling to keep cows out of the channel. Many captains are having cowcatchers put on their boats. This is about the thinnest river yet discovered.

CRISTADORO'S HAIR PRESERVATIVE

Over-Doctored!

Without any disrespect to the members of the medical profession, a profession honored by all thinking men, it is only just to say that they are too thick on the ground. The consequence is that the community is doctored over much. When nature needs only the gentle stimulant and alterative, which has become famous throughout the country as a reliable medicine, under the name of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, she is not unfrequently dosed with a dozen prescriptions, all experimental, from the Pharmacopœia. This is in evil, and proves that the practice of medicine is far from being at all times a healing art. At this period of the year, when the fall of the leaf indicates that decay has seized upon the vegetable kingdom, many harassing diseases are prevalent. Chief among these may be mentioned intermittent fever and bilious remittent. The exhalations rising from decomposing vegetation, and the heavy dews and fogs, are very apt to generate these complaints. The wisest policy is to protect the system by a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters at the commencement of the fall. Much suffering may thereby be avoided. But if the disease has already begun, its periodical visitations may readily be checked and broken up by this active, yet harmless, vegetable tonic.

But be on your guard against the charlatans who are attempting to palm off, under various names, unwholesome compounds, which they pretend to compare favorably with the great national elixir, which has long since swept more formidable opposition from the field. Bear in mind that every bottle of genuine Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is authenticated by a splendidly engraved label, and a fac simile of the sign manual of the firm. Put up in bottles only, and cannot be obtained in bulk.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

Communicated.

"Dutiful Sons who are going to help the Old Man pay his taxes."

The Great Teacher said that "out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh." Therefore I deduce that from the incidental experiments of the leaders of any great movement we may judge pretty truly as regards their spirit and motives and what will probably be the result of their enterprises as far as benefit to the public is concerned.

The sons are going to "help the old man pay his taxes!" How benevolent! Almost enough to lead anybody to adopt their creed. But on second thought in order to do so they propose that the old man shall increase the mortgage on his homestead—giving them the handling of the money and when the tax gatherer comes round they mean to dodge him if they can. A few days ago I read an article in the papers which I suppose was written by one of these dutiful sons. Unfortunately for him while he wound up his article by such noble promises there was a clause in the first part of it which was rather inconsistent with these promises. His idea of what a city ought to be is extension of area and plenty of trade. One of the most beautiful and flourishing places I ever visited is one where I on entering made the enquiry what was the principal pursuit of the people. The answer was that to such inquiries which were very common perhaps the best reply that could be given would be that the people devoted themselves to writing for the Atlantic Monthly. And should I state my ideal I would not have any money or trading in it. Now have not I as much right to my ideal as he to his?

But that writer classes all persons who dare to exercise their rights in this respect as "Old Women" and these "Old Women" he seems to have left coaxing and urging to give their securities and estates for the benefit of his project and now they are "going to build," that is they are going to take the property by force. This is ill mannered at least, and as "manners make the man" we can make our own estimate of the capabilities for success of these young men. At what age are people to be turned over to the class of "Old Women" and has he a mother and father living in the flesh or have they put into port and thereby escaped this piratical raid? A. J. PENHALLOW.

Messrs. Editors:—As the Dover Railroad question is to be discussed at a meeting of tax-payers, at which my great modesty will prevent me from speaking, allow me to suggest the following idea to the distinguished citizens who control public sentiment, and to the high functionaries who hold the civic purse, and to the patriotic individuals who are willing to sacrifice themselves by building the road:—a wise man when about to build a house, or a railroad, counts the cost, lest he should not be able to finish it, and people should say to him "thou fool," &c. Let the cost of this road be counted. Let the City employ a careful and experienced engineer to survey routes both by Dover Point and Goat Island, and furnish profiles, with complete estimates of the cost of grading in sections, of bridging, and of finishing the road; the City to pay the bills and get the best possible information that human skill can furnish, and then COGITATE.

THE FAIR.—The attendance at the Piscataqua Fair and Cattle Show on the second day was considerably larger than the day previous, and everything passsd off well. The weather was not such as could have been desired, being cold and chilly. Yet everybody seemed in good humor, and general satisfaction prevailed. The principal feature of the day was the horse trotting; in fact the interest seemed to centre in this feature of the Fair. The procession of Town Teams consisted of a cavalcade of fifty horses, with two fine teams of 12 oxen each, attached to a cart, tastefully trimmed, one having for its occupants the Portsmouth Cornet Band. The Fair Ground was plentifully supplied with catchpenny shows of every conceivable character, which were apparently well patronized.

The first regular trot was between St. Lawrence Maid, entered by F. Jones, chestnut mare Lady French, entered by H. McDevitt, and sorrell mare Topsey, entered by H. R. Stoddard. The Judges were Messrs. H. L. Copp, E. M. Perley and H. H. Smith. The first heat was won by Topsey in 2:59, the second by St. Lawrence Maid in 2:58 1-2, the third and fourth by the Maid in 3:00 1-4 and 2:57 1-2, thus winning the race.

The great trot of the day, however, was between the Lady Franklin and the celebrated mare Nellie Locke. The track was in a very unfavorable condition for a good show of speed, consequently the time was not up to the standard that is usually made by these horses. In the first heat Nellie broke badly, but Lady Franklin behaved well and came in several lengths ahead. Time 2:45 1-4. On the second heat both horses did better, although Nellie made several bad breaks, and showed evidence of improper handling. The first half mile was trotted in 1:19 by Lady Franklin, who won the heat in 2:44. The third heat was characterized by some remarkably honest trotting on the part of Lady Franklin, while Nellie made two or three bad breaks from which she failed to recover, and Lady Franklin won the heat and race in 2:43.

The interest of the occasion was somewhat enlivened by the introduction between the trots of about twenty horses in a running race for a purse of $20. Much merriment was occasioned by the manner in which some of the riders acquitted themselves in their zeal to come in ahead, one getting off his horse very suddenly on the last quarter in consequence of a sudden whim of the animal to go no further.

The managers of the Fair much regretted the unavoidable absence of the Band during most of the afternoon, to attend a funeral.

The fine looking Cavalcade of nearly fifty horsemen, Capt. Hobbs, all from North Hampton, was a very creditable display for one small town to make.

On the whole the Fair may be set down as thus far successful, and should the weather be pleasant to-day (Thursday) it will without doubt draw a large crowd to witness the closing attractions.

SAD BEREAVEMENT.—Died in this city, of diphtheria, Sept. 2, JOHN G. HOWARD, aged 6 years; Sept. 18, MARY E. HOWARD, aged 4 years, 7 months; Sept. 20, EDWARD C. HOWARD, aged 2 years, 11 months and 18 days,—children of John L. and Eliza A. Howard. Two other children are dangerously ill with the disease of which the others died, diptheria. [Newburyport Herald please copy.]

Also in the same house, ALMON E. SIMPSON, aged 3 years, 5 months, 27 days, child of Charles L. and Sarah J. Simpson. [Biddeford Journal please copy.]

THE LINGARD COMPANY gave a capital entertainment last evening, the old Temple being crowded as it has not been for months—and the unanimous wish of those present is that the Company will return. Handsome ladies, good acting and an amusing programme are needed to draw large audiences in Portsmouth.

THE FUNERAL of the late James H. K. Downs took place on Wednesday afternoon, under the auspices of the Odd Fellows and the Knights of Pythias, of which orders Mr. Downs was a member. A very large concourse of mourners testified to the position the deceased held in the esteem and friendship of his associates.

THE SPANIARDS once had a king called Philip the Prudent. The Eastern Railroad has a President who should be complimented by the same addition to his name,—he never takes the risk of travelling on the railroad he manages.

CAME BROTHERS of this City made a fine display of Carriages at the Fair yesterday, and will sell a number of new vehicles of various styles on the Grounds this day at noon. A rare chance to make your own prices on first class carriages.

THERE will be Divine Service at the South Ward Room this evening at half past 7 o'clock. All are invited.

Morning Chronicle.

THE GARDEN CISTERN.—Among the lessons which we hope will be taught us by the severe drouth of the present season, is the urgency of providing ample storage for the rain fall on buildings, so as to equalize the distribution of the same over that period, often, as in the present season of several months duration, when little or no rain fall occurs.

It is true that the farms in our State are generally very well supplied with brooks and springs, and that water can be had in wells by digging a reasonable distance; and that the average rain fall, year after year, is very uniform. But it is also true that this season, brooks, springs and wells are completely dry that are very rarely known to fail of furnishing an abundant supply of water, and that at this time there are many farms from which the stock is driven to obtain water.

Now should not this present scarcity quicken farmers everywhere to the absolute necessity of erecting large cisterns, by means of which the copious rain falls of spring and autumn may be held in reserve for just such a contingency as we are now experiencing?

In close connection with these remarks come the inquiries of our correspondent, H. B., of North Livermore, in regard to a cistern for retaining water for garden uses. Such cisterns are by no means a new or untried thing, as they have been suggested or recommended by almost every writer about gardens, from the time of Dr. Dean down to Hepderson. The former advocates the garden cistern "for receiving the water which falls upon the dwelling-house and outbuildings," and says: "rain water is preferable because containing-those gases which are of most benefit to the plants—the application of pond or spring water is sometimes attended with injury."

H. B. asks if common field-stone cannot be used for making the cistern in place of brick, as brick, with him, cannot be had without being hauled a long distance. Most certainly: and such rough stone are, in fact, recommended by Watson in his "Home Garden" for this purpose. Having dug your cistern, make a rough plank frame and place it inside the same, leaving a sufficient space for the eastern walls between the surrounding earth. Then proceed to fill up the space outside the frame, with regular layers of these rocks and hydraulic cement—the bottom having first been covered with the same material, the rocks being pounded compactly together before the cement is put on.

Let the frame remain ten days, then remove it, and plaster the interior with cement mortar. Cover with flag-stone or three thicknesses of sound plank. The cistern may be constructed at a little distance from the buildings to which the water from the roofs may be conducted. Provide with a pump or, if near the garden, a force-pump may be found better for the purpose of watering. Barn cisterns should be more generally made than they are.—Maine Farmer.

HELPING OUT.—As it is now too late to plant fodder corn, turnips, &c., as special forage crop for winter use, we may turn our attention to something that will help us at the spring pinch. We may sow something that will withstand the severity of winter, and furnish an early pasturage for our stock; thus helping out the "wintering." What shall that something be? Rye or some other plant like nature. Ground may be prepared and rye sown any time before the first of October. Grain lands, from which the wheat, oats or barley has been taken, can be fertilized and rye sown at the rate of three or four bushels to the acre—very thick—and it will afford an early and palatable feed as soon as the snow is well off. The land will be benefitted by this process, and the stock will be grateful, and as there is a very poor prospect of a "catch" where land was seeded to grass last spring, it will afford a chance to re-seed another spring with grain or without, as preferred. When farmers are driven to the necessity of felling young trees to give their animals food, as reported in some sections, and with but little stored winter feed, this plan seems worthy of practice. These drouths but teach us the needed lesson of smaller farms, better use of cultivation, thorough tillage and economy of our forces that will give us vantage ground in the time of need.—Cor. Me. Farmer.

WATERING NEWLY SET TREES.—A great mistake is sometimes made by drenching the roots of set trees, when they do not start to grow as soon as the owner desires. The ground becomes sodden, and the roots water-soaked, to their serious injury. Trees never want much water till the leaves open. When covered with foliage, a tree pumps water out of the soil and dissipates it in the air at least twenty times faster than bare branches. Some young trees, and especially pear trees, often remain fresh and alive for several weeks, without opening leaves; and in such a case or when the stem is slightly shrivelled, nothing is better than to tie a little long straw around it, and wet this straw daily. The moisture is absorbed precisely where it is wanted, at the bark; and young trees that appeared hopeless in condition have been thus restored to vigorous growth in a few weeks. As a general rule never water the roots of young trees, but depend on maintaining the moisture of the soil by a clean mellow surface, and if necessary at midsummer, by mulching. Watering gives at best an intermitting supply, hardens or crusts the surface, and commonly does much more harm than good.—Country Gentleman.

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS.

Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK, Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetisers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yrdawfab10

ARE YOU GOING TO PAINT?

—IF SO, USE THE—

AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT.

It is Cheaper, Handsomer and more durable than the best of other Paints. One Thousand Gallons of it were sold in this City, in the year 1870, and not one complaint has come from those who have used it; but all speak in its favor; it is mixed ready for application, and is much easier put on than any other Paint, making a smooth, glossy surface for years, that can be cleaned with hot suds without injuring it. It is excellent for walls inside, in the place of paper.

I shall keep this season a large stock of Chemical Paints of all shades on hand, to accommodate customers with any amount, without delay in ordering it. Those who want to use the Chemical Paints and have had them misrepresented by those who deal in Lead and Oil, are invited to call and examine my Paints that have been on Buildings two years, and you will find them as fresh as if laid but one month.

THAT WICKED JOKER JOHN.

ON THE ROAD, NINTH MONTH.—I behaved myself with decorum while in Boston. I wore my clean clothes, and I constantly carried a tooth-brush and blue cotton umbrella. The tooth-brush was made by Bunker, and the umbrella by Hill. I didn't drink any tea, so as to show a proper degree of patriotism. I know only one man in Boston, and he is spontaneous combustion itself on piety. His pie-eats shows itself at the table, where he asks such long blessings the hash gets cold, causing people to swear. He is rich in this world's blessing. On Sundays he is all goodness; he passes the contribution-box, and lets it pass him, and that part of religion that don't cost anything he is overflowing with. His religious enthusiasm is very weak, week days, and if he sold me a piece of white muslin I wouldn't pay for more thirty-three inches to each yard, and take good care to measure it at that. He made his money by contract—pardon me if I say contact—with the city government of New York. He furnished money-grams for the shirts of the children on Randall's Island, and supplied the Tweed cassimere for their clothing. He didn't have anything to do with that New Court House plastering job. By the by, that is the highest priced court-plaster I ever heard of.

My Boston friend now rides in his coach, and he took good care that I didn't ride in it too. He is a living lesson to the rising generation, that honesty is worth two in a bush. His daughter is named Mary; she dresses in style, and she is "sitting on the style, Mary," most of the time. Her paternal relation when young wore a coat without arms. It was a waistcoat, and he went in his shirt sleeves. Now he has got a coat-of-arms, and it is on everything in his house, from his refrigerator to his paper shirt collar. The field is sable, with two cold boiled hams rampant, two codfish balls reversed. The centre is a crouching lion, chewing a live salt herring; the herring's tail is wiggling, to show that while there's life there's hope. Underneath is the motto in a dead language, everybody in the world being dead that understands it except the owner. He says it reads, "Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty." This wouldn't be a bad motto for the ring just now.

Mary showed me how to play croquet. "Those is the wickets," says she, "Which?" says I. "Them," says she, pointing to some things in the shape of a boy bending over to pick up a marble.

"Mary," says I, "I can't crawl under those things—I'm too fat." She replied, "You don't want to crawl under 'em?" Then I told her, "How do you know I don't want to crawl under 'em?" and I said "You must be a medium, ain't ye?" She said she was a medium—medium size.

She gave me a wooden hammer; the handle was as long as the stick Robinson Crusoe used to hoist his shirt on for a signal. She put a ball on the grass; it had a red waist ribbon around it, and the hammer had one just like it, which was a coincidence. She told me to hit the ball, and I did hit it, and the fellow who found it alone knows how far the ball went. I saw a fellow in a boat two miles up the river duck his head as it passed, and he hauled in his fish-pole and rowed ashore, as if he wanted to get out of range. Mary said, "That ain't the way." "Well," said I, "its one way, anyhow." Says I, "Have you a book of the rules?" and she said "No." Then I told her not to interfere with my style of playing. So I got another ball. Then she told me to put 'em up together, put my foot on 'em and hit 'em just as hard as I could. I wet my hands and swung the hammer aloft, and struck a fearful blow; and instead of croquet it was cornquet. The balls didn't stir, but the way I went around on one foot was a caution to grasshoppers. I struck my sore corn instead of the balls, and she beat. That night I had a game supper. Our bower was the right and left power. We had euchre, whist, dominoes, checkers, billiards, and, in fact, every kind of game of the season.

I rode in a horse-car in Boston, and I made a female maid awful mad because I told her she reminded me of two bundles of kindlingwood. "Why so?" said she, and she didn't look like Venus rising from the sea, or the seat either. Then I told her she reminded me that two bundles of kindling-wood were five cents, and she got two seats for five cents. She said I had insulted her, and never was a muzzle put upon the freedom of speech worse than that muzzle was put upon me. The conductor issued a writ of ejectment, and instead of a sheriff's officer he used his foot, that had a pegged boot on it, made in Lynn, size 12. A stranger might as well try to manure 1000 acres of land with one sardine as to struggle with a car conductor; so I didn't struggle.

After this episode I entered a barber-shop, and I asked the boss "Could he shave a note for me?" He said "No." So I got shaved. He used ice-cream for lather. It's an improvement on the old style, because when you get a dab in the mouth it tastes better than soap. The fellow had a razor that he'd

THE NOVELTY CLOTHES WRINGER.

Is the only one with a SAFETY Machine, the laser of the household as the Wringer. But its usefulness does not end here. The saving of clothing is of much greater importance. It is often remarked that articles of fine texture, last twice as long when wrung in a Wringer as when wrung by hand. The NOVELTY has Cog-wheels on both ends. * * The rolls are allowed to separate at either end. These, besides other advantages which it contains, seem to be indispensable to a practical wringer.—New York Independent.

The Novelty Wringer has become an indispensable institution in thousands of families. And we believe its great and increasing popularity is fully merited—for the Novelty evidently possesses all the requisites of a first-class, practical machine. Indeed, after using one for many months in our own family, we are prepared to indorse the Novelty as unsurpassed (the laundress says unequalled,) by any of the several wringers previously tried.—Moore's Rural New Yorker.

TAMMANY DISCOMFITTED.—The New York Times of Thursday says:—"We are in possession of important information, the nature of which it would not be proper at this time to divulge, which assures a speedy punishment of the plunderers of the city treasury. Before many hours are over, one, if not more of the infamous thieves whom we have exposed and denounced, will be placed in a position where the advice of a better lawyer than Hall will be urgently needed. In the meantime we feel compelled to state that Comptroller Connolly has kept back nothing, and that persons in possession of all the secrets fully exonerate Connolly from all participation in the actual robberies of the papers from his office. In fact, Connolly is making a clean breast of it, and the public will reap the benefit. Such a nest of thieves was never unearthed in this world before, and we earnestly hope that, before the week is out, the State prison will open its doors to receive them."

DISCIPLINE OF THE KU-KLUX.—If it is true, as is affirmed, that there are five hundred thousand members of the KuKlux organization in the South, it is high time that more serious consideration was given to its movements, inasmuch as the most admirable discipline prevails among the members. There are constantly new proofs of the thorough manner in which the movement has been organized. On one occasion, in Western South Carolina, five hundred Ku-Klux assembled on an over-night notice, and many of them had ridden thirty-five miles, over winter roads, from north, south, east and west. In two counties in North Carolina, when the order was vigorous pursued legally by one of the State Judges, so many men ran away to escape legal proceedings that there were actually not enough left to bury the dead. In North and South Carolina and in Tennessee the order seems to be most perfected and the most lawless and reckless. In middle and southern Kentucky, in Louisana, Texas, northern Mississippi and Alabama the organization is also very powerful, well armed and ready for any emergency. During some riots which occurred in a town in South Carolina, if the testimony of a correspondent may be believed, twelve hundred men assembled within twelve hours, and showed evidence of the most perfect system. Most of the unmarried white men in the above mentioned States are and have been, since 1867, members of the order. In North Carolina three-fourths of all the white men between sixteen and sixty are Ku-Klux. The persecution of negroes and so-called "carpet baggers" in the smaller towns throughout the South is well arranged for, since in every town of fifteen hundred inhabitants there are at least two hundred K-Klux. They go constantly armed, and their midnight expeditions carry terror into all the section. Those who doubt the existence of the order must fight against facts which are appalling and astonishing, but incontrovertible.

NEW PUBLICATIONS RECEIVED.

The October number of The Nursery is out promptly, but none too soon for the gratification of the host of impatient little ones who know how much that will delight them is contained between its green covers. Short stories and easy verses printed in large type, and an abundance of entertaining and well-drawn pictures make it an educator of the mind as well as a pleasure to the eyes. There is no doubt that the editors know exactly what will give joy to children between the ages of three and ten years.

Oliver Ditson & Co have just published Emerson's Singing School, designed especially for Singing Schools, by L. O. Emerson, containing a good elementary course, including a number of pretty melodies, a collection of easy glees, and a fair number of anthems and set pieces, suitable for congregations that have dispensed with choirs, and do not need a full-size Church Music book. For sale by E. A. Joy, Pleasant street.

THE MASSACHUSETTS GUBERNATORIAL CONTEST grows exciting. Gen. Butler has 240 of 574 delegates chosen, Boston choosing 54 Rice men and 46 Butler men, and Lowell electing 23 Butler men. Nearly 4500 votes were thrown, at the Boston caucuses, the General leading by several hundred votes. Another bitter enemy of Butler was laid out, Ward 15 choosing Mr. Worthington of the Traveller over Mr. Stockwell of the Journal.

POLITICAL.

The Republicans of Minnesota have nominated Horace Austin for governor.

Republicans of Illinois have nominated General J. C. Beveridge of Cook county, for congressman at large.

Alexander H. Stephens, in one of his last three-column editorial paragraphs, says that "the keynote" which was sounded in Ohio by Vallandigham has lost California to the democracy, and is losing the other States as fast as possible.

S. J. COURT, Dover, Judge Doe, presiding.—Last week, Martin L. Dame, of Farmington, plead guilty to two indictments for liquor selling and was fined $50 and costs on each.

Thomas M. Wentworth, of Great falls, plead guilty to three indictments for liquor selling, and was fined $50 and costs on each.

THE MURDERER of Swett at Portland proves to be Simon Lovett, fish-dealer, who was arrested. He admits striking Swett. They had been gambling, and Swett had won his money, which Lovett had waylaid him to recover. Swett died on the 20th.

BOLD ROBBERY OF A BANK.—Much excitement was occasioned in Wheeling, West Va., at noon on Wednesday week, in consequence of an attempt by armed ruffians to kill George Feeney, a clerk in the People's Bank, and to rob the institution of a large amount of money. The following particulars are given in the Wheeling Register:

"At the hour named, there being no one in the bank but George Feeney, two ordinarily-dressed men entered the institution, leaving one on the outside on the watch. As soon as the strangers got opposite to Mr. Feeney they drew their revolvers and told him they had come to take possession, ordering him to go into a back room without resistance, if he would save his life. George replied, 'You have come to take possession, have you?' and he took a step back toward a drawer where a loaded revolver was lying. No sooner did he move backward than one of the robbers fired his revolver, the ball grazing Feeney's head and ourying itself in the window casing. As Mr. Feeney drew his revolver to return the shot, both rascals blazed away at him, he at the same time shooting at the tallest of the two, who was trying to get behind the counter.

Almost at the same moment that Mr. Feeney got back to the drawer and drew out his revolver the taller of the two men sprang forward and grasped at the packages of money lying in an open drawer. Just at this time the two fired, as stated above. It was thought at first that the robbers had been foiled in their designs on the bank's funds, but the loss of $1,536 was discovered after the bank closed last night. The rapid firing soon drew a crowd to the door, and the robbers saw that their game was up. Holding their pistols against the breasts of those who stopped their egress, they got out on the street, where the cry of 'Stop thief' called out a great number of persons. Alexander Laughlin made an attempt to stop them on Main street, but one of them levelled his pistol and shouted 'Come on!' and Alexander like a sensible man didn't 'come on.' As they turned up Mulberry alley they met Joseph Paull. The taller of the rascals placed the muzzle of his pistol against Joe's breast, shouting 'Let me pass, sir.' Joe instantly removed any obstruction his presence might have been, and said 'Pass on, stranger.' Turning down the alley that runs from Monroe to John street, they ran to Oak alley, up past Luke's stable, and out into East Wheeling, making their escape by the very boldness of the operation, and by opposing their arms against unarmed men.

A TERRIBLE SITUATION. — John Laughton, whose brain had become impaired, and who was being taken on Monday evening from Oil City to Pittsburg, in a sleeping car, is the subject of the following narration by the Pittsburg Commercial:

The unfortunate man had been very quiet for several hours after starting, and at the request of his wife lay down in the berth and apparently fell asleep. About an hour after retiring, Mrs. Laughton was alarmed at a sudden movement of her husband, and on pulling aside the curtain hanging around the section, saw that her husband had raised the car window, and had almost succeeded in dragging his body through the opening. When discovered, the unfortunate man had the upper portion of his body through the window, and as he supported his back on the sill attempted to reach up to the roof of the car. Mrs. Laughton at once caught her husband by the legs and screamed for aid. Strange to say, of the persons in the car at the time no one seemed to comprehend the situation, and, despite the frantic screams of the woman, it was not until an accident happened that relief came to her aid. While hanging out of the window the unfortunate man would reach up toward the top of the car, and obtaining a grasp of some object would hold it a moment until the sudden turning of a curve or the jolting of the car would cause him to loosen his hold, and then he would fall down, his hand dashing against the side of the car.

For fully ten minutes was Mrs. Laughton holding her husband before her terrible condition was discovered, and as we have said this was by accident, in passing the abutment of a bridge, not far from the city the man was caught and dashed to the ground. The train was stopped at once and Mr. Laughton was carried to the car again. He was so violent then that it took the united efforts of three men to hold him down. He was brought to this city, and subsequently conveyed to the residence of a physician, a relative of his, in Allegheny. His injuries, which are quite serious, are confined to his arms and shoulders, which are terribly crushed. His condition, last evening, was favorable to his recovery, yet how he escaped instant death is a mystery.

There is no disease flesh is heir to more troublesome to manage than rheumatism. It comes when you least expect it, and generally remains till it gets ready to go away. The most conspicuous remedy for this complaint is Johnson's Anodyne Liniment.

Two or three doses of Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders will cure a horse of any common cold or cough, and the very worst cases may be cured in a few week. We know this from experience.

CRISTADORO'S HAIR PRESERVATIVE

Over-Doctored!

Without any disrespect to the members of the medical profession, a profession honored by all thinking men, it is only just to say that they are too thick on the ground. The consequence is that the community is doctored over much. When nature needs only the gentle stimulant and alterative, which has become famous throughout the country as a reliable medicine, under the name of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, she is not unfrequently dosed with a dozen prescriptions, all experimental, from the Pharmacopœia. This is in evil, and proves that the practice of medicine is far from being at all times a healing art. At this period of the year, when the fall of the leaf indicates that decay has seized upon the vegetable kingdom, many harassing diseases are prevalent. Chief among these may be mentioned intermittent fever and billous remittent. The exhalations rising from decomposing vegetation, and the heavy dews and fogs, are very apt to generate these complaints. The wisest policy is to protect the system by a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters at the commencement of the fall. Much suffering may thereby be avoided. But if the disease has already begun, its periodical visitations may readily be checked and broken up by this active, yet harmless, vegetable tonic.

But be on your guard against the charlatans who are attempting to palm off, under various names, unwholesome compounds, which they pretend to compare favorably with the great national elixir, which has long since swept more formidable opposition from the field. Bear in mind that every bottle of genuine Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is authenticated by a splendidly engraved label, and a fac simile of the sign manual of the firm. Put up in bottles only, and cannot be obtained in bulk.

The Cause and Cure of Consumption.

The primary cause of Consumption is derangement of the digestive organs. The derangement produces deficient nutrition and assimilation. By assimilation I mean that process by which the nutriment of the food is converted into blood, and thence into the solids of the body. Persons with digestion thus impaired, having the slightest predisposition to pulmonary disease, or if they take cold, will be very liable to have Consumption of the Lungs, in some of its forms; and I hold that it will be impossible to cure any case of Consumption without first restoring a good digestion and healthy assimilation. The very first thing to be done is to cleanse the stomach and bowels from all diseased mucous and slime which is clogging these organs so that they cannot perform their functions, and then rouse up and restore the liver to a healthy action. For this purpose, the surest and best remedy is SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS. These Pills cleanse the stomach and bowels of all the dead and morbid slime that is causing disease and decay in the whole system. They will clear out the liver of all diseased bile that has accumulated there, and arouse it up to a new and healthy action, by which natural and healthy bile is secreted.

The stomach, bowels and liver are thus cleansed by the use of Schenck's Mandrake Pills; but there remains in the stomach an excess of acid, the organ is torpid, and the appetite is poor; in the bowels, the bacteria are weak, and requiring strength and support. It is in a condition like this that Schenck's Seaweed Tonic proves to be the most valuable remedy ever discovered. It is alkaline, and its use will neutralize all excess of acid, making the stomach sweet and fresh; it will give permanent tone to the liver, and create a good, hearty appetite, and prepare the system for the first process of a good digestion, and ultimately make good, healthy, living blood. After this preparatory treatment, what remains to cure most cases of consumption is the free and persevering use of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup. The Pulmonic Syrup nourishes the system, purifies the blood, and is readily absorbed into the circulation, and thence distributed to the diseased lungs, where it ripens all morbid matters, whether in the form of abscesses or tubercles, and then assists Nature to expel all the diseased matter in the form of expectoration, when once it ripens. It is then, by the great healing and purifying properties of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, that all ulcers and cavities are healed up sound, and my patient is cured.

The essential thing to be done in curing Consumption is to get up a good appetite and a good digestion, so that the body will grow in flesh and get strong. If a person has diseased lungs, a cavity or abscess there, the cavity cannot heal, the matter cannot ripen, so long as the system is below par. What is necessary to cure is a new order of things, a good appetite, a good nutrition, the body to grow in flesh and get fat; then Nature is helped, the cavities will heal, the matter will ripen and be thrown off in large quantities, and the person regains health and strength. This is the true and only plan to cure Consumption, and if a person is very bad, if the lungs are not entirely destroyed, or even if one lung is entirely gone, if there is enough vitality left in the other to heal up, there is hope.

I have seen many persons cured with only one sound lung, live and enjoy life to a good old age. This is what Schenck's medicines will do to cure Consumption. They will clean out the stomach, sweeten and strengthen the liver, give good digestion, and give Nature the assistance she needs to clear the system of all the disease that is in the lungs, whatever the form may be.

It is important that, while using Schenck's medicines, care should be exercised not to take cold; keep in-doors in cold and damp weather; avoid night air, and take only gentle exercise only in a genial and warm sunshine.

I wish it distinctly understood that when I recommend a patient to be careful in regard to taking cold while using my medicines, I do so for a special reason. A man who has but partially recovered from the effects of a bad cold is far more liable to a relapse than one who has been entirely cured, and it is precisely the same in regard to consumption. So long as the lungs are not perfectly healed there will be the imminent danger of a full return of the disease. Hence it is that I so strenuously caution pulmonary patients against exposing themselves to an atmosphere that is not genial and pleasant. Confirmed consumptives' lungs are a mass of sores, which the least change of atmosphere will inflame. The great secret of my success with my medicines consists in my ability to subdue inflammation instead of provoking it, as many of the faculty do. An inflamed lung cannot with safety to the patient be exposed to the biting blasts of winter or the chilling winds of spring or autumn. It should be carefully shielded from all irritating influence. The utmost caution should be observed in this particular, as without it a cure under almost any circumstances is an impossibility.

The person should be kept on a wholesome and nutricious diet, and all the medicines continued until the body has restored to it the natural quantity of flesh and strength.

I was myself cured by this treatment of the worst form of Consumption, and have to get fat and hearty these many years, with one lung mostly gone. I have cured thousands since, and very many have been cared by this treatment who I have never seen.

About the first of October I expect to take possession of my new building at the northeast corner of Sixth and Arch Streets, where I shall be pleased to give advice to all who may require it.

Full directions accompany all my remedies, so that a person in any part of the world can be readily cured by a strict observance of the same.

Communicated.

"O, wad some power the giftie gie us,
To see ourselves as others see us!"

Messrs. Editors:—The first series of joint resolutions relating to the P. & D. R. R., drawn by the clerk of that road, were of such a nature that the aroused sense of the community has virtually compelled their withdrawal; those offered at the board of aldermen at its last sitting, and which bear the same earmarks, are almost as objectionable, quite as muddled, and ignore the safety of the City almost as entirely as those first proposed; these last were read once, a public meeting called for their discussion on Saturday evening, the 23d, and pending that meeting the propositions were laid upon the table. Was this meeting called as a tub is thrown to the whale? Why invite discussion of propositions which they (the board of aldermen) as true citizens and safe custodians of the public interests could not adopt, which in their private capacities not one of them would endorse, which as intelligent men they could not sanction, however much they might wish for the building of the road? Each of these propositions now before the board of aldermen utterly ignores the security of the City and is an insult to the common sense of the people; indeed it is difficult to avoid the conclusion that the muddle is designed, and the action of the board in referring it for discussion can only be accounted for, excused it scarcely can be, by the fact that it was read but once and not discussed at all. One alderman, to be sure, did express his doubts as to the constitutionality of any action by the City, but as if sorry for so praiseworthy an opinion, in the next breath said, "the rich men of the City ought to be compelled to build the road!" saying at the same time that the road would pay as well as any road running out of Boston. This was "a palpable hit" at his associates from a chosen director in the road, whose income, with that of his brother directors, aggregates more than ten times that of any other equal number of men to be found in the City; yet, they demand that hundreds shall be taxed, where taxation means deprivation to guarantee their investments.

Look at the schemes, and their name is legion, for raising money for railroads all over the country and point to one (besides this) if you can so barefaced as to offer absolutely no security! Go with its securities naked as they are urged upon us, into the money markets, and if your reception don't hurry you out, you must be brazen indeed; perhaps the "Young America" bank, of which the treasurer of the road is president, will lead off with a liberal subscription, or his new Loan and Trust Company might find a pile of them a permanent investment; it would save a deal of railroad fares and risk of life, to have its capital packed down for a 100 years, no risk of losing the securities either, for no doubt they could be registered. And they surely cannot hesitate at taking what they recommend so strongly to the City; to suppose otherwise, would be to doubt their patriotism, and far be that from us. As these suggestions are answered, as each alderman and common councilman would answer if asked to invest Trust Funds in this road, so should answer every citizen and the City. The aldermen have suffered themselves to be put into a false position in this matter in receiving propositions dictating terms to the City; let them take heed, for a fearful responsibility is theirs, and they will be held to the strictest scrutiny and accountability by their CONSTITUENTS.

THE FAIR.—Thursday, the closing day of the Piscataqua Fair, was marked by fine weather and a very respectable attendance at the Grounds. The impression prevails that this fifth annual Horse and Cattle Show of the Piscataqua Agricultural Society is very far behind any of the preceeding Fairs. This is true to a certain extent, yet we are informed that the receipts compare favorably with those of former years, and it is probable that had the managers offered such premiums for stock, fruits and vegetables as to warrant the expense and trouble attendant upon transportation, their treasury would have been correspondingly rewarded. But they probably know their own business, and we are not inclined to criticise their action. The visitors got their money's worth, if they happened to take a special interest in the only noteworthy feature of the Fair—horse racing. In this department, while there were no celebrated trotters entered, there have been some very interesting exhibitions of the speed and endurance of horse flesh. Had the track been in good condition, some of the horses would have made records that would have been extremely gratifying to their owners.

A serious accident occurred, to the fine running mare owned by Mr. John Scammon of Stratham. Her driver was riding her over the track at a high rate of speed, when she shied against a projecting rail in a fence at the side of the track, plunging a splinter into her breast and making a frightful gash. A few hours later, Messrs. Nathan Jones, M. Eldredge and J. L. Moulton, desiring to put an end to the poor creature's sufferings, and the owner hesitating to kill her, these gentlemen paid him $25 to do so and it was done.

The promised double-team race between Lady Emma and Wild Eddie, and Lady Franklin and Mate did not come off according to the bills, but H. R. Stoddard substituted his Topsy and Fanny for Eldredge's Lady Franklin and Mate. In the first heat Topsy and Mate won the pole and held it throughout, winning the heat in 3:06 1-4. The second heat was won by Lady Emma and Mate in 3:09, and the third in 2:59, Topsey and Mate being distanced for running.

A scrub race then took place between Frank W. Miller's family horse Jack, S. W. Webber's Fearnaught filly, Leonard Cook's horse Balm of Gilead and Burroughs' Shoo Fly, for a purse of $25, —and was won by the Fearnaught filly in 3:06, Jack coming in second.

In consequence of an accident to one of the riders for the twenty mile race announced for the afternoon this race was dispensed with, and a half mile race, best two in three, was substituted, C. H. Hayes' horse Rockingham, and H. R. Stoddard's Jane being the contestants, the former winning the race in two straight heats; time 1:09 and 1:10. During this running race an accident occurred to the wife and daughter of Mr. George W. Lord of this city, who were left alone for a few moments in a carriage in the middle of the trotting park area, the horse taking fright and overturning the vehicle, throwing out the occupants and injuring Mrs. Lord severely. Miss Lord escaped with a few bruises.

In the race for 2:45 horses only two were entered, Belle of Portsmouth and St. Lawrence Maid, the former by M. Eldredge and the latter by F. Jones, The first heat was won in three minutes by St. Lawrence Maid. On the second heat, which was very close, Belle of Portsmouth made a bad break on the home stretch and St. Lawrence Maid came in ahead, winning the heat in 2:58 1-2. The third heat was won by the Maid in 2:55 1-2.

The Fair was not what it should have been, in this rich farming county, but the show of live stock (for which alone premiums were offered) was very fine. To Hon. Frank Jones, Mr. Haven L. Scott, Col. J. W. Peirce and his farm Superintendent Mr. Walter Scott, Messrs. Hayes & Son, and a very few others, is due much praise for what was brought out.

The local democratic oracle does not know who is responsible for the bad management of the Fair. Hon. Frank Jones has long been President of the Society, and has spared neither time, exertion nor money to promote the public interest in this way; and did all second him as they should, these Fairs could not be equalled in the State,—so we hope our cotemporary will be as mild as possible in the matter.

THE GRAND CONCERT.—Again a first class entertainment, this time a carnival of music, is offered our citizens in the appearance of Fisk's famous Ninth Regiment Band from New York, accompanied by the distinguished cornet player, J. Levy, who is world famous, and the celebrated prima donna, Miss Nully Peiris. The programme embraces a choice selection of full band and orchestral music. Tickets for reserved seats may be had at Preston's.

Y. M. C. A. CONVENTION. — The Young Mens Christian Association Convention of New Hampshire will be held in this city Oct. 10th and 11th, having been postponed to that time, instead of the 3d and 4th as previously announced. H. Thane Miller, Hon. J. W. Patterson, Dr. Wallace, H. P. Rowland, and others are expected. On the evening of the 10th, a Praise Meeting will be conducted by Prof. Eben Tourjee, in the North Church.

MAJOR ADAMS notified the Board of Aldermen, at the regular meeting Thursday evening, that he had suspended City Marshal Johnson on various charges, and the matter was referred to the proper Committee.

MR. CHAS. H. PARKER, of the Wolfeboro' News, is so well supported in his efforts to make a good newspaper, that the News appears enlarged to the extent of seven columns. We wish him and it increased success.

been cutting oil-cloth with, and I thought of I scream all the while I sat there. I saw a queer sight out his back window. It was a fellow bobbing up and down. The barber said it was a man who three months before jumped off a six-story building. He had on thick-soled rubber-shoes. He strutted on the pavement, and had been bounding up and down ever since. Book time he went up he went a quarter of an inch less in height, and they calculated that by the 13th of November he would be restored to the bosom of his family. He told me that they fed him by filling rubber balls with hash, and he catches them on the bound. I told him that was a good quality of rubber, and I asked him how many stories his building had; he said "Five." "Well," said I, "you had better add the one you told me, and you will have six." And then said I, "When you have done that, you had better move up into it, and you'll have the biggest shop in the world, for there never was a bigger story made." Then I left, and going by a store I saw a sign by the door, "Job Lot." I entered and asked them did they sell Bibles? and they all laughed, and I told 'em that I saw two Bible names at the door. Job Lot meant a cheap lot. "Well" said I, "Job had patience, and I guess you'll have to exercise some before you sell those goods." Then I asked 'em was any of the firm in? They said "No." Then I told them they were not infirm. Then I went over to a big lunch-room, and found the firm eating porterhouse steaks, and I observed that the principles of their house were at steak, and they roared so they didn't calls for raws. I got in a stew, and told the waiter to tell the cook to wrestle with two fried eggs for me. Says he, "What are wrestled egg?" I told him, "Turned over, of course." And he remarked, "Oh!"

I turned my back on Boston, and took the cars for home. The country looks splendid. All along on the side of the track codfish balls are growing, and that luscious fruit is fall ripe now, and looks rich. On the other side, far as the eye can reach, can be seen vast fields of pork and beans. They are ploughing between the hills now, and the prospect for a good crop never was better. There was a fellow in the cars with two crutches, and his face would have soured milk. We communed; we held smart converse together. I asked him did he want to buy a pair of parlor skates?

I never saw such a pang of unutterable woe light up the features of any human being as he looked at me and said, "No." Then I asked him did they put carmuffs on the ears of corn in cold weather in his section? He said, "No." Then I asked him could he tell why green grass made white milk, or why a red cow gave white milk? He said, "No." Then I told him we were two coincidences, for I couldn't tell either. Then I pointed out a dead dog, and says I, "There's another marine disaster." Says he, "Why?" "Why," said I, "its a bark wrecked." Then I told him how I found a cock-roach struggling in a bowl of water. I took hail of a peanut-shell for a boat. I put him into it and gave him two wooden toothpicks for oars, and left him. The next morning I visited him, and he had put a piece of white cotton thread on to one of the toothpicks, and set the toothpick up on end as a signal of distress. He had a hair on the other toothpick, and there that cockroach sat a fishing. The cockroach, exhausted, had fallen asleep. The sight melted me to tears. I never had to chew leather to get a soul; I was born with one. I took that cockroach out, gave him a spoonful of gospel, and left. That animal never forgets that act of kindness, and now my house is chuck full of cockroaches. You can't keep them away. I believe the old chap would have knocked me down with the leg of a multiplication table, if he had had one with him.

But here we go through Rhode Island. It is just four minutes' ride through the State. It is a capital State. It has two of 'em. The fence around Rhode Island is most finished. It cost $300. The State is so small that Saturdays the children stray into Massachusetts, and after twelve at night it is wicked to hunt stray children in Massachusetts. The law in existence are still so blue that they do without indigo wash days. In Rhode Island it is against the law to fire a gun horizontally for fear of hitting somebody in Massachusetts or Connecticut, and bringing on another war. The people are pious and virtually inclined, patriotic, and exceedingly fond of clambakes. They ain't quite so Fat-riot-ic as they are in New York. The rest I will tell you in my next. Please let the folks know that that watch I lost on the Bleecker street cars was a watch of the first water. It had a spring in it. JOHN.

BROTHERLY LOVE.—Two Michigan brothers, well to do and generally harmonious, had a little falling out recently, and one of them threatened to do some injury to the other. To guard against any fatal result the threatened one thought best to apply to the district official for protection. Accordingly the two rode into town together, put up their teams, drank each other's health, and then together visited a justice of the peace. That official listened to the complaint, issued a warrant for threats, the accused pleaded guilty and the accuser became his surety in the sum of $200 for his good behavior for one year.

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS.

WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK, Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them an unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yrdawf6b16

ARE YOU GOING TO PAINT?

—IF SO, USE THE—

AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT.

It is Cheaper, Handsomer and more durable than the best of other Paints. One Thousand Gallons of it were sold in this City, in the year 1870, and not one complaint has come from those who have used it; but all speak in its favor; it is mixed ready for application, and is much easier put on than any other Paint, making a smooth, glossy surface for years, that can be cleaned with hot suds without injuring it. It is excellent for walls inside, in the place of paper.

I shall keep this season a large stock of Chemical Paints of all shades on hand, to accommodate customers with any amount, without delay in ordering it. Those who want to use the Chemical Paints and have had them misrepresented by those who deal in Lead and Oil, are invited to call and examine my Paints that have been on Buildings two years, and you will find them as fresh as if laid but one month.

I am prepared to do Painting by Contract, or by the day, using the Chemical Paint, or furnishing good experienced workmen by the day at very low wages. B. NORTON, only Agent for selling the AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINTS, in the City. Also Dealer in GROCERIES AND PROVISIONS,

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

Snow fell on Mount Washington on the 20th: temperature 27 degrees.

The present efficient managers of the Concord Railroad have made, and are now making, many and great improvements in the general condition of the road and its rolling stock. Under the present administration there have been added to the equipment of line since the 14th of last January six new passenger-cars, three new locomotives and seventy-one new eight-wheel freight-cars. Thirty more freight-cars will soon be completed, and a further lot of fifty will be construction during the railroad fiscal year ending March 31, 1872. The addition to the rolling-stock of the corporation made from March 31, 1866, to March 31, 1870, a period of four years, were four locomotives, three passenger-cars, one hundred and thirty-nine eight-wheel freight-cars and twenty four-wheel crate-cars.

Mrs. D. A. Mack has been appointed matron of the State Orphans' Home.

A project is now on foot to dam Beaver Brook, about four miles north of of Keene, and make a reservoir, to cover 500 acres. It is also proposed to chang the course of the brook about a mile above the village and run it along the side of Beach Hill to a point three-quarters of a mile east from the centre of the village, where the fall will be sufficient for using the water several times.

The Dover Gazette has been removed to Lowell.

Wesley Fossof Strafford left his home at Rochester on Tuesday morning, and not returning, search was made for him. About ten o'clock that night he was found dead in a field near by, having committed suicide by shooting himself through the head. He was twenty-one years old, and recently married.

The contract for building the White Mountain Railroad extension from Lanter to Northumberland, ten miles in distance, there to connect with the Grand Trunk line, has been awarded to S. S. Thompson of Vermont and John Lindsey of Lancaster. The ground will be broken on Monday, and the road is to be completed by the first of July next.

The people of Marlow held a meeting on the 11th and voted to ask the Selectmen to stop the sale of liquor in town. This was done, the Selectmen visited the liquor men and they agreed to stop. There is now no benzine on tap in Marlow.

—The St. Louis Republican, growling over the late elections, says the Republicans will be caught napping yet, on which occasion, in the future as in the past, the Democracy will not fail to take advantage of the situation. This is true enough; and a general knowledge of this Democratic peculiarity of taking advantage of the slumbers of the people, is what makes the locksmith's business good.—Chicago Post.

WRINGER.
Nothing, except the Sewing Machine, has ever been invented which so much relieves the labor of the household as the Wringer. But its usefulness does not end here. The saving of clothing is of much greater importance. It is often remarked that articles of fine texture, last twice as long when wrung in a Wringer as when wrung by hand. The NOVELTY has Cog-wheels on both ends. The rolls are allowed to separate at either end. These, besides other advantages which it contains, seem to be indispensable to a practical wringer.—New York Independent.
The Novelty Wringer has become an indispensable institution in thousands of families. And we believe its great and increasing popularity is fully merited—for the Novelty evidently possesses all the requisites of a first-class, practical machine. Indeed, after using one for many months in our own family, we are prepared to indorse the Novelty as unsurpassed (the laundress says unequaled.) by any of the several wringers previously tried.—Moore's Rural New Yorker.

Portsmouth, N. H.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 23, 1871.

TAMMANY. — Mayor Hall has unmasked a new battery against Controller Connolly, accusing his son, now absent in Europe, of having stolen several important vouchers. This Connolly denies and brings affidavits to prove. These vouchers were even more damaging to the ring than those which have already been published.

Mary Conway, employed at the New York Court House, has sworn that Charles Baulch and H. M. Haggerty, court house janitor, burned a lot of documents supposed to have been those stolen from the controller's office. Since making the affidavit, the woman has disappeared. Grave fears are entained that she has been put out of the way by the ring, who hope by bringing the case before Judge Dowling and by spiriting away the girl to save not only their tools but themselves from further exposure. Precisely what the issue of the case will be is not known, but the movement is generally regarded as a desperate one on the part of the bold men who have been brought to bay. The revelations are regarded as fixing the responsibility for the voucher theft on Tweed, Hall and Sweeney with a degree of certainty which cannot be questioned. There is a posibility after all that one or both the men will turn State's evidence and swear to the complicity of higher officials who employ them.

It is generally believed that Mayor Hall will be the first of the ring to be arrested, as sufficient evidence, already secured, proves that many of his friends have been placed upon the monthly pay roll of the city.

POLITICAL.

People are settling into the belief that Gen. Butler will be the next Governor of Massachusetts.

A Boston paper nominates Anna E. Dickinson for Lieutenant Governor of Massachusetts.

UNPOPULARITY OF EDITORS.—"Warrington's" defeat at Malden has been followed by a similar incident in Boston. The editor of a "Butler organ" was among those named for the Worcester Convention, and he was ignominiously beaten. The voters of his ward evidently mistook him for one of General Butler's friends. Brothers Stockwell of the Journal and Worthington of the Traveller had a little tilt at the meeting in Ward 15. Mr. Worthington won, and will go to Worcester. This is accounted for by the fact that Mr. W. is not the editor of his paper, while Mr. Stockwell is the editor of his. The editor of the "Butler organ" is in a position to express the warmest sympathy for Brother Stockwell; and would respectfully suggest that after this campaign is over the editors unite in a movement to regain their former position in the confidence of their fellow citizens from which they have been hurled by this Butler crusade.—Boston Times.

REV. HENRY WARD of Buffalo, N. Y., has been elected grand worthy chief templar of the grand lodge of Good Templars for the ensuing year.

RICH TIN MINES have been discovered near Ogden, Utah.

THE STATISTICAL ORACLE whose mission it is to enlighten the Democracy of Portsmouth with "startling" arrays of figures, has a perfect right to "write itself down an ass" as often as it deems necessary, but that it should do so every time it mentions South Seabrook or the CHRONICLE we consider a work of supererogation, as the public long since fully allowed its right to the title.

Months ago several newspapers published articles on Byfield and its people,—some editorial and some from correspondents. These articles created a great deal of stir among the people of that district, and among their neighbors, who felt that the condition of affairs there justly reflected disgrace upon themselves; and the Congregational pastor of South Seabrook, Rev. William A. Rand, was violently and persistently assailed by numerous scribblers who were either totally ignorant concerning him and his parish, or else wilfully belied both. Mr. Rand's responsibility in the premises was distinctly disavowed by the authors of the articles in question, yet his traducers persisted in their slanders, until at length his parishioners felt called upon to endorse his worth and Christian character in a series of resolutions which were passed in a full parish meeting and forwarded to the Newburyport Herald and to this paper for insertion. Thereupon our Democratic cotemporary, acting on the plan of the pickpocket who shouts "stop thief!" when the police are after him, immediately gives mouth to his old cry of "slander," and reprints the resolutions to prove it!

These resolutions stigmatize as false and slanderous the reports of certain "anonymous newspaper writers" and of those who have so wantonly assailed Mr. Rand. We know that the communications to the Springfield Republican, signed "S.," and one to the Boston Advertiser, signed "C.," which latter was adopted and vouched for by the Democratic editor alluded to, were "anonymous" as well as false and slanderous; but it was reserved for the discoverer of wondrous statistics to find out that an editorial in a newspaper is an "anonymous" article. We are pleased that he published the Church resolutions endorsing Rev. Mr. Rand; for in his previous panegyrics on South Seabrook he has gone out of his way to attack that gentleman, and made assertions concerning him which lead us to believe that the editor is as ignorant regarding Mr. Rand and his character as he certainly is concerning the geography, architecture and morals of the Byfield district of South Seabrook; and we take the publication of the resolutions in his columns as an implied promise that any future attempts to injure the Byfield preacher will be by other means than newspaper falsehood and slander in those same columns.

"C.," one of the last righters of Byfields' wrongs, gave "statistics" to prove what the place now is, which were adoped by our Democratic cotemporary, and the correspondent vouched for as a "well informed gentleman" by the editor. That the statistics were widely incorrect we have proved from the official reports of several Democratic officers of Seabrook—but perhaps they are numbered among the "slanderers;" if so we shall not object, though we ourselves think them only men with the real interest of their town too much at heart to gloss over the palpable faults of its citizens. But C. and his editorial backer once more assailed Mr. Rand; and in their zeal to make a point against him they showed themselves to be either wholly unacquainted with the subject they treated of or else wilful perverters of the truth; we don't much care which horn of the dilemma the correspondent and editor choose to hang on. A door-mat thief is meaner, if not more guilty, than a highway robber; and a man who states actual facts so as to convey a false impression is meaner than an open liar, and to our mind fully as much entitled to the epithet as the latter; and if the correspondent and editor knew what they were talking about, they were guilty of just that mean falsification. The editor stated that the people of Byfield have not improved from their former condition, and directly charged Mr. Rand with misrepresenting them; and he and the man he vouched for, to give weight to their assault on the preacher, cited as evidence of the enlightment of that people that a large church was erected there and that a cornet band had paid $1000 for instruments. These statements, true in themselves, as told by the correspondent and vouched for by the editor were but lies with truth's coat on. The writers evidently intended to convey the impression—and did convey the impression to those ignorant of the facts—that the $5,000 church and the $1000 instruments of the band were entirely monuments of Byfield's civilization, and complete refutation of any statements concerning Mr. Rand's labors and their results; whereas the true state of the case is that less than $300 was contributed in Byfield towards building the church, the balance having been raised among some forty other Congregational churches, by Mr. Rand's personal endeavors, and that he was largely instrumental in the formation of the cornet band and pledged himself personally for the payment of the purchase money for the instruments.

We have steadily (and unsolicited) defended Mr. Rand, having known him from his school-boy days, and believing him to be a hard worker for others' good; but personal friendship alone has not induced us to give up a large share of our space on several occasions to the "Byfield question," as we are confident that good must result to the people referred to from the publicity given to them and their surroundings, in the increased endeavors of those whose duty it is to assist them to fulfil that duty. When we commenced this article we did it with an intention of telling "What we know about Byfield," but our history of what we saw and heard there will again have to lay over till a more convenient season.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

MODERN IMPROVMENTS are almost an absolute necessity if a private house is to be sold or leased. Their lack in a hotel incommodes a vast throng of travellers. Every appliance for the comfort of their guests is readily adopted by the proprietors of the AMERICAN HOUSE, Boston, and the popularity of this hotel attests the appreciation in which their efforts are held.

Many valuable horses die from the effects of colic. The best thing to do in a case of this kind, is to pour a bottle of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment into a long-necked jank bottle, add half a pint of molasses and water, then pour the whole down the horse's throat. In ten minutes the horse will begin to eat.

Parson's Purgative Pills will greatly relieve, if not entirely cure, dyspepsia, when everything else fails. These have been tried in some desperate cases, and have given more relief than any other medicine.

Old Things Have Passed Away.

This is at least true of the old method of treating the long abused and much abused human body. It is no longer considered wise to put a patient to torture in order to cure him of a disease in which pain is already undermining the energies of his system. True science ranges itself on the side of nature, and endeavors to assist her in her fight against disease. This is the province of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, the most approved tonic ever advertised in this country. It may be recommended as a fall medicine, par excellence; for it is in the fall that biliousness, dyspepsia and malarious fevers are especially prevalent. The frame, exhausted by the heats of summer, is relaxed and feeble at its close, and requires, we may say demands artificial assistance. Afford it assistance in occasional doses of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, and the evils referred to may be escaped. Throughout the far West, and on the steaming alluvial of the southern rivers, all the varieties of periodical fever are probably rife to-day. Had a course of Hostetter's Bitters been commenced by the sufferers a month ago, i. e., before the unhealthy season set in, seven-eights of them would in all probability be in their usual health at the present time. So much for want of forecast. So much for not keeping in the house, and using daily, the best safeguard against epidemic and endemic fevers.

A flock of imposters and imitators are trying to follow in the wake of the great American remedy, therefore be sure that the article you buy is genuine and verified by the proper trade marks. The true article can only be obtained in bottles. Beware of the spurious bitters sold by the gallon or in bag.

The Cause and Cure of Consumption.

The primary cause of Consumption is derangement of the digestive organs. The derangement produces deficient nutrition and assimilation. By assimilation I mean that process by which the nutriment of the food is converted into blood, and thence into the solids of the body. Persons with digestion thus impaired, having the slightest predisposition to pulmonary disease, or if they take cold, will be very liable to have Consumption of the Lungs in some of its forms; and I hold that it will be impossible to cure any case of Consumption without first restoring good digestion and healthy assimilation. The very first thing to be done is to cleanse the stomach and bowels from all diseased mucous and slime which is clinging about them so that they cannot perform their functions, and then rouse up and restore the liver to a healthy action. For this purpose, the surest and safest medicine is SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS. These Pills cleanse the stomach and bowels of all the dead and morbid slime that is causing disease and decay in the whole system. They will cast out the liver of all diseased bile that has accumulated there, and arouse it up to a new and healthy action, by which natural and healthy bile is created.

The stomach, bowels and liver are thus cleansed by the use of Schenck's Mandrake Pills; but there remains in the stomach an excess of acid, the organ is torpid, and the appetite is poor. In the bowels, the lacteals are weak, and requiring strength and support. It is in a condition like this that Schenck's Seaweed Tonic proves to be the most valuable remedy ever discovered. It is alkaline, and its use will neutralize all excess of acid, making the stomach sweet and healthy; it will give strength to the last important organ, and create a good, hearty appetite, and prepare the system for the first process of a good digestion, and consequently healthy, healthy blood. After this preparatory treatment, what remains to cure most cases of consumption is the free and persevering use of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup. The Pulmonic Syrup nourishes the system, purifies the blood, and is readily absorbed into the circulation, and thence distributed to the diseased lungs. There it ripens all morbid matters, whether in the form of abscesses or tubercles, and then assists Nature to cast all the diseased matter in the form of free expectoration, when once it ripens. It is then, by the great healing and purifying properties of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, that ulcers and cavities are healed up sound, and my patient is cured.

The essential thing to be done in curing Consumption is to get up a good appetite and a good digestion, so that the body will grow in flesh and get strong. If a person has diseased lungs, a cavity or abscess there, the cavity cannot heal, the matter cannot ripen, so long as the system is in a low par. What is necessary to cure is a new order of things, a good appetite, a good nutrition, the body to grow in flesh and get fat; then Nature is helped, the cavities will heal, the matter will ripen and be thrown off in large quantities, and then a person regains health and strength. This is the true and only plan to cure Consumption, and if a person is very bad, if the lungs are not entirely destroyed, or even if one lung is entirely gone, if there is enough vitality left in the other to heal up, there is hope.

I have seen many persons cured with only one sound lung, live and enjoy life to a good old age. This is what Schenck's medicines will do to cure Consumption. They will clean out the stomach, bowels and liver, give a good, healthy blood digestion, and give Nature the assistance she needs to clear the system of all the disease that is in the lungs, whatever the form may be.

It is important that, while using Schenck's medicines, care should be exercised not to take cold; keep in-doors in cold and damp weather; avoid night air, and take out-door exercise only in a genial and warm sunshine.

I wish it distinctly understood that when I recommend a patient to be careful in regard to taking cold while using my medicines, I do so for a special reason. A man who has but partially recovered from the effects of a bad cold is far more liable to a relapse than one who has been entirely cured, and it is precisely the same in regard to consumption. So long as the lungs are but partially healed, just so long is there imminent danger of a full return of the disease. Hence it is that I so strenuously caution pulmonary patients against exposing themselves to an atmosphere that is not genial and pleasant. Confirmed consumptives' lungs are a mass of sores, which the least change of atmosphere will inflame. The grand secret of my success with my medicines consists in my ability to subdue inflammation instead of provoking it, as many of the faculty do. An inflamed lung cannot with safety to the patient be exposed to the biting blasts of winter or the chilling winds of spring or autumn. It should be carefully shielded from all irritating influence. The utmost caution should be observed in this particular, as without it a cure under almost any circumstances is an impossibility.

The person should be kept on a wholesome and nutritious diet, and all the medicines continued until the body has restored to it the natural quantity of flesh and strength.

I was myself cured by this treatment of the worst kind of Consumption, of Consumption of get fat and hearty these many years, with one lung mostly gone. I have cured thousands since, and very many have been cured by this treatment whom I have never seen.

About the first of October I expect to take possession of my new building at the northeast corner of Sixth and Arch Streets, where I shall be pleased to give advice to all who may require it.

Full directions accompany all my remedies, so that a person in any part of the country can be readily cured by a strict observance of the same.

THE PROPOSED RAILROAD AID.—We have opened our columns to the friends and opponents of the Dover & Portsmouth Railroad to discuss the measures now before the Board of Mayor and Aldermen and have allowed perhaps a little too free interchange of opinion, the discussion seeming to be very much one-sided. Let our friends abstain from allusions of a personal nature, and we doubt not the discussion in the papers and at the public meeting will be less warm and more dignified—and the more dignified they become the better they may appeal to the good sense of our voters.

We are not of those who oppose indiscriminately all measures looking towards strengthening the movement for the immediate construction of the proposed Road, but have favored aid from the city from the time the subject of connecting the cities of Dover and Portsmouth by rail was first broached. We do not believe that one fifth of the voters of Portsmouth are opposed to granting aid in a proper way. They have already indicated their wishes by giving a proposition for aid a vote of 1259 yeas to 224 nays, last November, the citizens of Dover indicating the same desire by a vote of 623 yeas to 208 nays. Yet we do not think the guarantee scheme first offered for the consideration of the Aldermen would be similarly supported at the polls. The second proposition is much more likely to receive the assent of our citizens than the first, and we are of the opinion that it should be amended by the insertion of a clause similar to the provisos in the Portland ordinances, providing for an annual payment to the city of a certain per cent. of the receipts after the lapse of a few years. With such protection, much of the opposition might be disarmed and enemies of the scheme become friendly to the extension of proper aid. By all means let us have the Railroad built if it can be done without injury to the prosperity of our City and its citizens.

THE LYCEUM COURSE which is to be opened Thursday evening, Nov. 2d, promises to be one of the best ever given here; judging by the already rapid sale of tickets a "popular" chord has been struck which must be flattering to those having the matter in charge, and as nothing objectionable will enter into these winter evening entertainments they must commend themselves to all. Beside the eight lectures (from such talent as Kilpatrick, Murray, Fields, Curtis, Hall and Mrs. Livermore,) two splendid entertainments are offered ticket holders, that of Jan. 4th, with Prof. Brown in readings which have been pronounced "most beautiful, vivid and artistic presentations of thought and passion," and Dr. Wilcox, whose masterly organ performances need no recommendation. The closing feast will be given by Prof. Hitchcock, the committee receiving positive assurance that he will appear on the date announced. Besides his instructive lecture on the daring experiment of living above the clouds in midwinter on Mount Washington, the Professor is to give stereoscopic illustrations of the beautiful frost work and scenes discovered by his party, exhibited by a powerful calcium light. This entertainment will of itself be worth the price asked for the whole course. Those who propose to attend should secure their season tickets early, as the number to be sold is limited, and no single evening tickets will be issued.

THEATRE.—On Wednesday evening of next week, the colloquial Actor and popular Author, Mr. Albert W. Aiken, supported by a full New York Company, will appear here in his own very successful realistic play of city life, entitled "The Witches of New York." The play will be presented with new scenery, dresses, &c., and a cast of characters. Mr. Aiken is supported by his own company, selected by him expressly for the play, which of course ensures a perfect performance. In the double role of author and actor, Mr. Aiken has won the praise of the metropolitan press; and the bare mention of the fact that he has played "the Witches of New York" over two hundred nights in New York and in the principal cities of the United States and Canada, fully testifies how popular he is with the public.

MESSRS. PEIRCE, of the Rockingham House, are to furnish the banquet for the State Agriculture Society at Dover on Thursday.

STATE FAIR.—The arrangements for the State Fair which opens in Dover on Tuesday next, have been made on a most liberal scale, with a view to a grand exhibition and a tremendous rush of people. Good music and good speaking have been provided, the schools are to be closed for two days, the mills here and in the neighboring villages are to be stopped, railroad fares are to be greatly reduced, and stock carried free. The Town Teams, an important feature, will form a procession on Wednesday, and be dismissed in season to return home the same night. The address by Hon. J. Stanton Gould and others will take place on Thursday, when Gov. Weston and Staff, Senators Patterson and Cragin, ex-Gov. Smyth, Stearns and Harriman, and other distinguished persons will be present. Several good horses have been entered for the races, which promise to be very exciting. Large entries of cattle, horses, swine, sheep and poultry have been been made for exhibition. Those from abroad will find liberal and ample preparations for their entertainment at the hotels and elsewhere. We understand that there are to be no season or family tickets. Exhibitor's tickets will be $2, admitting to grounds at any time. Regular admission fee, 35 cents.—Enquirer.

PORTSMOUTH BAPTIST ASSOCIATION. This is an organization of the Baptist churches in Rockingham County, and of Dover and Great Falls in Strafford County. The last session was held at Chester, on the 20th and 21st insts. Rev. W. H. Alden of this city was chosen Moderator, and Rev. H. O. Walker of Deerfield, Clerk. The annual sermon was given by Rev. W. T. Clark of Dover. The reports from the churches indicated prosperity, although the additions for the past year have been very few. A history of the church in Exeter was given by Rev. N. Hooper, the pastor. The doctrinal sermon was then preached by Rev. W. H. Alden of Portsmouth on the subject of Depravity. In the evening, sermon by Rev. W. H. Eaton, at present supplying the pulpit at Newton. On the second day there were sermons and some business transactions.

KEARSARGE S. F. E. No. 3 had a bountiful clam chowder at their Engine House, Thursday evening, which is the commencement of sociable gatherings by the firemen of this city during the coming winter. Speeches were made by Hon. Marcellus Bufford, Aldermen Thomas E. O. Marvin and John E. Giddings, Chief Engineer Marston and Asst. Engineer Ham and several others. Large delegations from other engine companies were present. The chowder was made in Mr. Robert H. Green's best style and was one of the best ever served in the Department. The Kearsarge boys understand how it is themselves.

THE NORTH HAMPTON TROOP, about fifty strong, which appeared as a cavalcade at the Piscataqua Fair this year and two years ago, is officered as follows: Captain, J. P. Smith; Lieutenant, A. D. Hobbs; Color Bearers, J. L. Smith, J. W. Berry; Banner Bearer, L. H. Leavitt. Mr. Stoddard gave a purse of $20 for them to run for, at the Fair, which race made a good deal of fun, and the money was awarded to the first three who came in, but will be kept as a fund to assist in calling the company together again. To Mr. M. H. Smith is due much credit for getting out the troop.

THE GRAND CONCERT by Fisk's 9th Regiment Band, Friday evening, was grand indeed, as it could not fail to be under the lead of D. L. Downing, the famous Musical Director. Miss Nully Peirs sang brilliantly, is a queen of song and has a voice of immense power and great compass. She was repeatedly encored. Levy, the finest cornet player in the world, electrified the audience and was received with a storm of applause. Every member of the Band is a first-class musician.

THE KEARSARGE base ball club will go to West Epping to-day and play a match game with the Independents of that town. They will leave the Kearsarge Engine House on Court Street in the Ivanhoe, at 9 o'clock.

CITIZENS' MEETING at the Court House this evening, to consider the Railroad Aid question. See adv't.

Morning Chronicle.

STORMS.—A general statement has been received of the effects of the recent storms on the Bahamas. The gale, or succession of gales, was terrific, the storm shifting from northeast to the southeast. The whole coast and islands are strewn with wrecks; much valuable property and many lives have been destroyed. Sweeping through the island of Abaces, the storm completely divided it into two islands, carrying away a large number of the inhabitants who have been victims of its fury. A large amount of property was also carried away and probably buried in the sea. The ripe fruit crop of the various islands comprising the group have been entirely swept away, and it was found impossible to get a cargo. Nothing remains of the banana or orange crop but a very young growth, and the trade in these fruits has been very seriously disturbed.

A SHARP CONDUCTOR.—A prominent legal gentleman of this city procured a pass on one of our street railroad last week, but before he had an opportunity to use it, he discovered that he had lost it. Suspecting that some one had stolen it, he went to the office of the railroad company, informed the officials of his suspicions, and requested them to have any one who should present the pass on the street cars arrested. Orders were accordingly issued to all the conductors on the line to keep a sharp lookout for the missing ticket. A couple of days afterward, while searching through some papers in his office, the legal gentleman found the missing ticket, and while riding home on a car presented it to a conductor who examined it closely. He immediately collared the astonished member of the bar, and, in reply to a question as to what he meant by seizing him, remarked that he had been looking for the man who stole that ticket for some days past. In vain the legal gentleman endeavored to explain that he was the rightful owner of the pass; the conductor would not believe him. He said he had seen a good deal of human nature and knew an honest man when he met him. On the return trip he brought his prisoner back with him and took him to the police station, where he was recognized and released.—St. Louis Republican.

—The Panama Star tells the following story of canine sagacity: "When the dog wishes to cross a river where alligators abound, he goes up the stream a great way and barks with all his might; the alligators go there and wait for him getting in to swim across. The dog knows what he is about; when he sees from the number of snouts above water that his enemies have all gathered to the feast, he runs down the bank as fast as he can and swims across before the alligators are aware of the trick that has been played upon them."

—The Peoria (Illinois) Review of the 7th says: "We are getting disgusted with the Illinois River. A stranger in this country can't find it until he gets his feet wet by stepping in it. If this sort of thing keeps on, they will have to station a policeman at the bridge, or else, the first thing we know, some thirsty cow will come along and drink the raging Illinois up."

—At the sale at Camp Douglas, Utah, of United States ordnance, the Mormon adjutant-general, Clawson, purchased 1000 stand of arms and 150,000 fixed cartridges. Rumors are rife as to the proceedings of the grand jury at Salt Lake City. It is said efforts are making to indict several members of the Mormon priesthood, among them Brigham Young.

Why, at Garrety's, on Daniel Street,
He's such a jolly fellow;
His LAGER is always fresh and prime,
It never wants a "head" and is
Refreshing, cool and mellow!
You require, my boy, some filling out,
You're thin, and meagre-looking;
Lager will give you a proper size.
Look at the host, he once was scant,
His BEER has made of flesh no want,
Go thou and drink likewise.

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS,

WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK, Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetisers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yrdawfeb16

ARE YOU GOING TO PAINT?

—IF SO, USE THE—

AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT.

It is Cheaper, Handsomer and more durable than the best of other Paints. One Thousand Gallons of it were sold in this City, in the year 1870, and not one complaint has come from those who have used it; but all speak in its favor; it is mixed ready for application, and is much easier put on than any other Paint, making a smooth, glossy surface for years, that can be cleaned with hot suds without injuring it. It is excellent for walls inside, in the place of paper.

I shall keep this season a large stock of Chemical Paints of all shades on hand, to accommodate customers with any amount, without delay in ordering it. Those who want to use the Chemical Paints and have had them misrepresented by those who deal in Lead and Oil, are invited to call and examine my Paints that have been on Buildings two years, and you will find them as fresh as if laid but one month.

I am prepared to do Painting by Contract, or by the day, using the Chemical Paint, or furnishing good experienced workmen by the day at very low wages. B. NORTON, only Agent for selling the AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINTS, in the City. Also Dealer in GROCERIES AND PROVISIONS, No. 16 & 18 Cabot Street,

The Chronicle.

SAN DOMINGO.—The recent reports from this island are not of a very satisfactory character, and it is doubtful whether Baez, even if this government should conclude to buy him out, would have anything in his possession to deliver outside of what may be under the protection of our war steamers. The matter of acquisition is now but seldom alluded to. The subject has been suffered to drop out of public discussion by universal consent, showing that the people care very little in fact about it, not regarding it as very likely to be consummated. Dr. Howe, one of the commissioners, who was sent out to report upon the condition of the islands, has thought it expedient to vindicate the action of himself and his associates in the views which they took in favor of annexation. He asserts that their investigation was honestly, earnestly and thoroughly made. He complains because the clamor of party has been allowed to drown the voice of humanity and to discredit it not to render still-born the report of the commissioners. His letter also defends the administration for its maintenance of a naval force in the Dominican waters, and closes with the earnest hope that San Domingo may be saved from becoming a colony of any foreign government, and that its inhabitants may be saved from civil war and subjugation by the Haytians, until such time as the sober second thought of our people shall grant their prayer for the protection of our laws and institutions. On the other hand, Mr. James Redpath, who claims to be pre-eminently the friend of the colored race, and who has spent much time upon the island, deprecates its annexation as fraught with evil to both countries, and considers the examination which was made by the commission as too hasty and superficial to be the groundwork of any well considered opinion.

DOG LAW.—By a law of the State any person injured by a dog, without any fault on his part, is entitled to recover of the owner of the animal damages to double the amount of the injuries which he has received. In the Supreme Judicial Court at Dover last week an action was tried which was brought by a boy seven years old, or by the father in the name of the boy, to recover damages for a bite in the face and nose, received in March, 1870, when he was about five years and a half old, from the dog of the defendant, and by which the face of the boy was somewhat disfigured. The boy, it appeared, had been in the habit of going to the defendant's house for milk. On the occasion of the injury, it appeared by his statement made soon after, he stopped in the entry to play with the dog, laying down upon him, pulling his tail, &c. This story he denied when put upon the stand as a witness, he then stating that he was passing directly out of the house and that in attempting to open the door the dog sprang upon him and bit him. A great deal of testimony was put in as to the character of the dog as well as that of the boy, from which it might be inferred that the former could hardly be called a vicious animal, while the latter, if not mischievous, had a great penchant for riding on their backs, and otherwise making himself familiar with them. The damages in the writ were laid at $2000, the plaintiff, as before stated, being entitled to recover $4000 if he made out his case and convinced the jury that he was damaged to that amount. The case was argued with great ability by Gen. Marston of Exeter for the defendant. The Court (Judge Doe) charged the Jury that if the boy received the injury from no fault, or in the exercise of proper caution, on his part, the defendant was liable, and that if such a verdict was found, the father of the boy was still entitled to recover damages for the medical and other expense incurred during his recovery. The trial occupied the best part of three days, and the Jury, after spending a night in thinking over the matter, failed to agree, ten in favor of the dog and two in favor of the boy. The result may serve as a caution to boys to beware of pulling dogs' tails, and to the owners of dogs to keep their tails cut off just behind their ears. This, it is evident, in the "glorious uncertainty of the law," will be the safest course for both parties to adopt.

—The following anecdote has been associated with the name of a well-known clergyman's helpmate in the north of England. The minister had been entertaining at dinner a clerical friend from some distance. The evening was unpropitious, and the friend was invited by the clergyman to remain during the night, and he accepted the invitation. They walked together for some time in the manse gardens. At dusk the minister asked his friend to step into the manse, while he would give directions to his man servant to get his friend's conveyance ready in the morning. As the stranger entered the manse, the minister's wife mistook him for her husband in the twilight; she raised the pulpit Bible, which chanced to be on the lobby table, and bringing the full weight of it across the stranger's shoulders, exclaimed emphatically; "Take that, for asking that ugly wretch to stay all night!"

NOVELTY CLOTHES WRINGER.

Nothing, except the Sewing Machine, has ever been invented which so much relieves the labor of the household as the Wringer. But its usefulness does not end here. The saving of clothing is of much greater importance. It is often remarked that articles of fine texture, last twice as long when wrung in a Wringer as when wrung by hand. The NOVELTY has Cog-wheels on both ends. * * The rolls are allowed to separate at either end. These, besides other advantages which it contains, seem to be indispensable to a practical wringer.—New York Independent.

The Novelty Wringer has become an indispensable institution in thousands of families. And we believe its great and increasing popularity is fully merited—for the Novelty evidently possesses all the requisites of a first-class, practical machine. Indeed, after using one for many months in our own family, we are prepared to indorse the Novelty as unsurpassed (the laundress says unequaled,) by any of the several wringers previously tried.—Moore's Rural New Yorker.

THE PROPERTY OF THE RING.—The New York Times, continuing its investigations into the operations of the ring, publishes, from the records of the real estate in the city and county, a list of the conveyances to Connolly, Tweed, and Sweeney within three years. They foot up—to Connolly $354,900, to Tweed $2,354,300, to Sweeney $988,000. Some of the transfers are from one member of the ring to another, and made, apparently, for the purpose of equalizing things. These figures, of course, constitute but a very small part of the aggregate stealings which have been invested in property in other public securities, with the exception of the debt of New York city, of which they seem to have had apprehension that no one, in view of the developments, will pronounce unreasonable. The Sun makes this comment on the list of conveyances:

The records in the Register's office show that there has been a good deal done by the Ring in the way of passing property around among the members of that circular institution. They also reveal the singular fact that Mr. Sweeny has probably the most treacherous memory known to man. He forgets that he is married, and conveys real estate as though he was a bachelor and then the purchaser thereof, discovering that Mr. Sweeny is a married man, goes to him and reminds him of the fact, and then Sweeny has his wife execute the proper conveyance to make the title good. In one of the conjugal confirmations of title, which may be found in liber 1,190 of conveyances, at page 1541 it is solemnly recited that Mr. Sweeny was married on the 14th day of February, 1867, "to Sarah A., his wife."

Members of the Ring are offering their real estate at a discount of twenty-five per cent. from the prices which ruled a fortnight ago. This has had a depressing effect upon the real estate market generally, and has thrown things somewhat out of gear.

It is understood that Mr. Connolly has not offered any of his real estate for sale, but will hold it all until his accounts shall have been squared with the city.

POLITICAL.

Of 811 delegates chosen to the Massachusetts Republican State Convention, Gen. Butler has 392; all others, 419. Mr. Loring has 77, and 133 are doubtful. There remained on Saturday 294 to be elected. The convention will meet at Worcester on Wednesday of this week. Springfield has chosen 20 Butler delegates by a vote of 800 to 407, which is bad for the Springfield Republican. Robinson, Stockwell and Sanborn combined are not a match for Butler. Haverhill chose 10 Butler delegates and two antis. New Bedford chose 12 Butler men and 6 antis. Fitchburg chose 7 Butler men. Fall River chose 9 for Butler and 6 opposed.

U. S. S. TICONDEROGA, at Rio Janeiro, 23d ult from this port, reports that on July 2d, lat. 39 39 N. lon., 43 21 W., fell in with wreck of abrig, waterlogged, the sea making clean breaches over her decks. There were no evidences of her cargo remaining on board. From appearances she had been abandoned some time. The only mark visible on her stern was the name "Ida."

THE KU-KLUX TRIALS at Raleigh, N. C., resulted in the conviction of eight persons, and those acquitted will be immediately rearrested on similar charges.

—The Springfield Republican, to the extent of its limited political influence, is daily unjust to Mr. Rice, in intimating that his support is "tainted with Butlerism." Mr. Rice has no personal differences. He has always treated Gen. Butler as a gentleman knows how to treat all men; and has invariably received the same courtesy. His supporters are generally of the same mind. While they have preferences among the candidates, they are loyal to their first choice and don't abuse the others. The only shadow of a foundation for the Republican's false-witnessing is a statement of one of Mr. Rice's friends that, in a certain contingency, remote three or four weeks ago, and now wholly removed by the withdrawal of Mr. Jewell, he should sustain Gen. Butler. Yet the Republican prefers to discredit Mr. Rice rather than pardon any sympathy for Gen. Butler! Does Mr. F. B. Sanborn, who carries on this style of warfare, desire to establish a belief in political, as well as social circles in this vicinity that he can be as causelessly vindictive as he is continuously obsequious?—Boston Commonwealth.

A SCENE IN AN EDITOR'S SANCTUM. The Philadelphia Dispatch condescends to perpetrate the following:

A week or two ago one of our reporters had occasion to refer to a certain woman, whom we will call Hannah Smith, as a denizen of the Eleventh Ward. A day or two afterward a huge man entered the office with his brow clothed with thunder. In his hand he carried a fearful club, and at his side trotted a bull dog whom hunger evidently had made desperate. With that quick appreciation of the situation which is creditable to the superior intelligence of educated men, the editor of this paper and the proprietors darted to the window, climbed outside, slid down the lightning rod, and went across the street to watch the bloody fray through a spy-glass. With the fearlessness of conscious innocence we sat still, merely inserting our legs in two sections of stovepipe, to guard against misapprehensions of facts on the part of the bull dog. The man with the club approached.

"Are you the editor?" he asked, spitting on his hand and grasping his club. We told him that the editor was out; that he had gone to the North Pole with Captain Hall, and that he would not return before 1876, in time for the centennial celebration.

"Are you the proprietor?" asked the man.

We explained to him that we were not, that the proprietors were also out; that they had gone to South America for the purpose of investigating the curative properties of cundurango, and they expected to remain there for several years.

"Well, whoever you are," exclaimed the warrior, "my name is Smith!"

We told him we were glad; because, if there was one thing better than the possession of the name of Smith, it was the privilege of knowing a man of that name. "But, Smith," we said, "why this battle array? It is absurd for a man to put on the panoply of war, and frisk into editors' sanctums trembling a club and accompanied by a disheartening bulldog, simply because his name happens to be Smith."

He said he called in to burst the head of the man who had insulted his sister.

"It is impossible, Smith, that such a thing could have been done by any in this office."

"Is, but it was, though; and her name was published, too. Miss Smith—Miss Hannah Smith."

"May we be permitted to inquire, Mr. Smith, what was the precise character of the affront offered to Hannah?"

"Well, you see," said Smith, "the blackguard said she was a denizen. And I want you to understand," claimed Smith, becoming excited, and brandishing his club in a wild manner over our head, while the bulldog advanced and commenced to sniff up and down our stovepipe; I want you to understand that she is a decent young woman, with a good character, and none of your denizens and such truck. The man who says she is a denizen is a blackguard and thief, and I'll smash him over the nose if I get a chance. They may say what they please about me, but the man who abuses my sister has got to suffer." And Smith struck the table in a violent manner with his club, while the bulldog put his forelegs on the back of the chair.

We pacified Smith with a dictionary. We pointed out to that raging warrior that the Webster definition of the word "denizen" gives such a person an unoffending character, and deprives the term of everything like reproach. Smith said he was satisfied, and he shook hands and kicked the bull dog down stairs. The editor and proprietors, seeing that all was safe, immediately climbed the lightning rod, soon appeared at the window, where they were introduced to Smith, with the remark that they had returned from the North Pole and the clime of the cundarango somewhat unexpectedly, in order to surprise their relations.

And now we suppose Smith will be mad because we have told this story about him, and he will be coming down to interview us again in war's magnificent stern array with a fresh bull dog. But it will be in vain. We have rented an office in the top of the shot-tower, and have planted torpedoes and spring guns all the way up the stairs. We warn this incendiary Smith; beware!

BUSINESS NOTICES.

Many valuable horses die from the effects of colic. The best thing to do in a case of this kind, is to pour a bottle of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment into a long-necked junk bottle, add half a pint of molasses and water, then pour the whole down the horse's throat. In ten minutes the horse will begin to eat.

Parson's Purgative Pills will greatly relieve, if not entirely cure, dyspepsia, when everything else fails. They have been tried in some desperate cases, and have given more relief than any other medicine.

Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye,

Old Things Have Passed Away.

This is at least true of the old method of treating the long abused and much abused human body. It is no longer considered wise to put a patient to torture in order to cure him of a disease in which pain is already undermining the energies of his system. True science ranges itself on the side of nature, and endeavors to assist her in her fight against disease. This is the province of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, the most approved tonic ever advertised in this country. It may be recommended as a fall medicine, par excellence; for if there is one fall that biliousness, dyspepsia and malarious fevers are especially prevalent. The frame, exhausted by the heats of summer, is relaxed and feeble at its close, and requires, we may say demands artificial assistance. Afford it assistance in occasional doses of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, and the evils referred to may be escaped. Throughout the far West, and on the steaming alluvial of the southern rivers, all the varieties of periodical fever are probably rife to-day. Had a course of Hostetter's Bitters been commenced by the sufferers a month ago, i. e., before the unhealthy season set in, seven-eighths of them would in all probability be in their usual health at the present time. So much for want of forecast. So much for not keeping in the house, and using daily, the best safeguard against epidemic and endemic fevers.

As flocks of imposters and imitators are trying to follow in the wake of the great American remedy, therefore be sure that the article you buy is genuine and verified by the proper trade marks. The true article can only be obtained in bottles. Beware of the spurious bitters sold by the gallon or in keg.

The Cause and Cure of Consumption.

The primary cause of Consumption is derangement of the digestive organs. The derangement produces deficient nutrition and assimilation. By assimilation I mean that process by which the nutriment of the food is converted into blood, and distributed to the solids of the body. Persons with digestion thus impaired, bring the slightest predisposition to pulmonary disease, or if they take cold, will be very liable to have Consumption of the Lungs in some form; and I hold that it will be impossible to cure any case of Consumption without first restoring a good digestion and healthy assimilation. The very first thing to be done is to cleanse the stomach and bowels from all diseased mucous and slime which is clogging these organs so that they cannot perform their functions, and then rouse up and restore the liver to a healthy action. For this purpose, the surest and best remedy is SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS. These Pills cleanse the stomach and bowels of all the dead and morbid slime that is causing disease and decay in the whole system. They will clear out the liver of all diseased bile that has accumulated there, and arouse it up to a new and healthy action, by which natural and healthy bile is secreted.

When the stomach, bowels and liver are thus cleansed by the use of Schenck's Mandrake Pills, but there remains in the stomach an excess of acid, the organ is torpid, and the appetite is poor. In this bowels, the intestines are weak, and requiring strength and support. It is in a condition like this that Schenck's Seaweed Tonic proves to be the most valuable remedy ever discovered. It is alkaline, and its use will neutralize all excess of acid, making the stomach sweet and fresh; it will give permanent tone to this important organ, and create a good, healthy appetite, and prepare the system for the first process of a good digestion, and ultimately make good, healthy, living blood. After this preparatory treatment, what remains to cure most cases of consumption is the free and persevering use of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup. The Pulmonic Syrup nourishes the system, purifies the blood, and is readily absorbed into the circulation, and distributed to the diseased lungs. There it ripens all morbid matters, whether in the form of abscesses or tubercles, and then assists Nature to expel all the diseased matter in the form of free expectoration, when once it ripens. It is then, by the great healing and purifying properties of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, that all ulcers and cavities are healed up sound, and my patient is cured.

The essential thing to be done in curing Consumption is to get up a good appetite and a good digestion, so that the body will grow in flesh and get strong. If a person has diseased lungs, a cavity or abscess there, the cavity cannot heal, the matter cannot ripen, so long as the system is below par. What is necessary to cure in a now order of things, a good appetite, a good nutrition, the body to grow in flesh and get fat; then Nature is helped, the cavities will heal, the matter will ripen and be thrown off in large quantities, and the person regains health and strength. This is the true and only plan to cure Consumption, and if a person is very bad, if the lungs are not entirely destroyed, or even if one lung is entirely gone, if there is enough vitality left in the other to heal up, there is hope.

I have seen many persons cured with only one sound lung, live and enjoy life to a good old age. This is what Schenck's medicines will do to cure Consumption. They will clean out the stomach, sweeten and strengthen it, get up a good digestion, and give Nature the second assistance she needs to clear the system of all the disease that is in the lungs, whatever the form may be.

It is important that, while using Schenck's medicines, care should be exercised not to take cold; keep in-doors in cold and damp weather; avoid night air, and take good, moderate exercise only in a genial and warm sunshine.

I wish it distinctly understood that when I recommend a patient to be careful in regard to taking cold while using my medicines, I do so for a special reason. A man who has but partially recovered from the effects of a bad cold is liable to contract a relapse than one who has been entirely cured, and it is precisely the same in regard to consumption. So long as the lungs are not perfectly healed, just so long is there imminent danger of a full return of the disease. Hence it is that I so strenuously caution pulmonary patients against exposing themselves to an atmosphere that is not genial and pleasant. Confirmed consumptives' lungs are a mass of sores, which the least change of atmosphere will inflame. The grand secret of my success with my medicines consists in my ability to subdue inflammation instead of provoking it, as many of the faculty do. An inflamed lung cannot with safety to the patient be exposed to the biting blasts of winter or the chilling winds of spring or autumn. It should be carefully shielded from all irritating influence. The utmost caution should be observed in this particular, as without it a cure under almost any circumstances is an impossibility.

The person should be kept on a wholesome and nutricious diet, and all the medicines continued until the body has restored to it the natural quantity of flesh and strength.

I was myself cured by this treatment of the worst kind of Consumption, and have lived to get fat and nearty three many years. I use no lung mostly gone. I have cured thousands since, and very many have been cured by this treatment whom I have never seen.

About the first of October I expect to take possession of my new building at the northeast corner of Sixth and Arch Streets, where I shall be pleased to give advice to all who may require it.

Full directions accompany all my remedies, so that a person in any part of the world can be readily cured by a strict observance of the same.

PERSONAL.—Mayor Adams is contemplating a trip to the West.

FRANK W. HACKETT, Esq., has given up the practice of law in Boston, and removed to St. Paul, Minnesota, where he intends to settle permanently in the pursuit of his profession.

A PARTY of fishermen paid Newcastle a visit Friday evening and aroused the indignation of the people by their insolence. They were promptly arrested by policeman John E. Yeaton, but not before the rascals had learned that all the Heenans were not yet dead.

—The Portsmouth people are having a bitter quarrel over the question of aid to the Portsmouth & Dover Railroad. We don't know what is best for them to do, but one thing is certain, Portsmouth will not attain any prosperity without the road. To outsiders it seems as if the city could well afford to build the whole road rather then to be without it. —Coos Repub.

PORTSMOUTH is usually represented on almost every worthy occasion, the world over. And she had one son engaged in the battle with the Coreans, in China, recently—Mr. Albert A. Martin, who was formerly employed in the Chronicle Office, son of Mr. Nathan Martin, now of South Berwick. He was on board the U. S. S. Benicia.

SEWING MACHINES are selling quite rapidly this fall. Mr. E. A. Joy, whose advertisement in another column has doubtless been read by almost every body, says it is impossible to supply the demand for the "Domestic," which is rapidly superseding all others. The demand at the factory in Providence is five hundred a day and the supply only fifty. We presume Mr. Joy will not canvass from house to house to sell his machines so long as he can sell them all by remaining in his store. So if you want a "Domestic" you must call on him at No. 9 Pleasant Street, as he will not probably call on you until after you order a machine sent home, when he will be pleased to give you instructions if necessary. He requests us to state that he has a large stock of other kinds (both new and second hand) consisting of the Weed, Singer, Wheeler & Wilson, Elias Howe, A. B. Howe, American, Ætna, Florence, Davis, Grover & Baker and several others that he wishes to sell immediately to close out the stock, and will sell them cheap. They are all the very latest improved, and the best of their kind. This certainly affords a good opportunity to those who wish to save money.

BASE BALL.—The Kearsarge club of this city played a match game on Saturday with the Independent club of West Epping, winning the game by a score of 31 to 18. The Portsmouth boys speak warmly of the courtesies they received at the hands of the Independents, and of the gentlemanly conduct of the players and the large crowd of spectators,—there being many visitors from towns in the vicinity of West Epping to witness the match. After the game was over, there being no hotel convenient, the Epping club extended the hospitality of their homes to the visiting players and their friends; and the Kearsarges draw comparisons between their treatment by the Independents and what the Granite States (which club included some of the Kearsarges) experienced last year in their game with the Sawyer club of Dover, not at all flattering to the latter. The Kearsarges played their best game for the season, and the Independents made a good struggle, as the score shows; the latter club were not thoroughly posted in many of the sharp—though legitimate—points of the game, or they would have made the score closer still. On the Kearsarge side, Gaines (second base) caught five flies; Morrisey (catcher) made a double play at the home base, and Hidden caught a splendid fly at right field. The game was umpired by Mr. Carl Cheney of West Epping, who kept the pitchers squarely down to their work. We append the score:—

MAJ. HACKETT sold the house and lot No. 34 Deer Street to Mr. Edward T. Huntress for $2010 on Saturday.

THE MISSING MAN, Mr. C. E. T. Yeaton, has been heard from by his relatives in this city, through a letter from a friend in Buffalo, N. Y., to which Mr. Yeaton strayed while in a state of partial insanity. He still had on the clothing he wore away, when he arrived there, and managed to give his name correctly when asked it. Mr. Jas. H. Thompson has gone to Buffalo to look after him.

DR. D. J. BABBITT, whose skill in fitting spectacles so as to greatly improve the vision of persons whose sight is defective, without injuring the eyes, is vouched for by numerous certificates from highly respectable persons in this and neighboring cities, (as well as more distant ones,) is now in Portsmouth, where he will remain for some days. That he is a skillful oculist and optician we are satisfied, as we are personally acquainted with several who have worn his glasses for years, and all of them speak in the highest terms of the doctor's spectacles and his skill in selecting exactly such a pair as is needed in each case of defective vision. We recommend all in need of anything of the kind, to Babbitt's try Perfected Spectacles.

Communicated.

Messrs. Editors:—"By all means let us have the railroad (P. & D.) built if it can be done without injury to the prosperity of the city and its citizens." Thus ends your editorial. The writer of this and several articles which have appeared through your courtesy and columns has yet to hear of the first person not approving that. "By all means" let its friends (and with one notable exception they are unanimous, who say it won't pay,) build it themselves if they choose; and if it is not "undignified" and personal to say so, not oblige by force of non tax paying votes, unwilling hands to do it. No vote indicating the views of the voters has yet been had, for no such propositions as those now before the board of aldermen have ever been submitted; and so far as it appears it is not the intention of those having these in charge to submit it; not that we think any vote but that of a decided majority of tax payers should have any influence on this or similar questions.

Silence is the strong point of the friends of the scheme before the board of aldermen; that they should cry "peccavi," when attacked without gloves, by those whose property and rights, aye, and liberty, are threatened is natural but scarcely manly, and only indicates their inability to defend their ground. Gentlemen putting themselves in positions where their actions must of necessity be impugned must not complain if the button is taken off the foils.

One word more; you say "you are of opinion that a clause should be inserted in the second proposition similar to the promise in the Portland ordinance providing for an annual payment to the City of a certain per cent. of the receipts after the lapse of a few years," &c. Considering that the road is to be built almost entirely with the city's money this is very refreshing. Calling things by their right names is a long step to a better morality. W.

THE CITIZENS' MEETING to discuss the Railroad Aid question, Saturday evening, was a rich affair; but our report of it is so long that we are compelled to hold it over until to-morrow.

Morning Chronicle.

THE LAW OF STORMS.—In the fourth meteorological report by Professor J. P. Epsy of Washington, D. C., we find the following instructive generations:—

1. The rain and snow storms, and even the moderate rains and snows, travel from the west toward the east in the United States, during the months of November, December, January, February and March, which these generalizations apply.

2. The storms are accompanied with a depression of the barometer near the central line of the storm, and a rise of the barometer in the front and rear.

3. This central line of minimum pressure is generally of great length from north to south and moves side-foremost toward the east.

4. This line is sometimes nearly straight, but generally curved, and most frequently with its convex side to the east.

5. The velocity of this line is such that it travels from the Mississippi to the Connecticut river in twenty-four hours, and from the Connecticut to St. John, Newfoundland, in nearly the same, or about thirty-six miles an hour.

6. When the barometer falls suddenly in the western part of New England, it rises at the same time in the valley of the Mississippi, and also at St. John, Newfoundland.

7. In great storms the wind for several hundred miles on both sides of the line of minimum pressure blows toward that line directly or obliquely.

8. The force of this wind is in proportion to the suddenness and greatness of the depression of the barometer.

9. In all great and sudden depressions of the barometer there is much rain or snow; and in all sudden great rains or snows there is a great depression of the barometer next the centre of the storm, and rise beyond its borders.

10. Many storms are of great and unknown length from north to south, reaching beyond our observation on the northern lakes, while their east and west diameter is comparatively small. These storms therefore move side foremost.

11. Most storms commence in the "far west," beyond our western observers, but some commence in the United States.

12. When a storm commences in the United States the line of minimum pressure does not come from the "far west," but commences with the storm, and travels with it toward the eastward.

13. There is generally a lull of wind at the line of minimum pressure, sometimes a calm.

14. When this line minimum pressure passes an observer toward the east, the wind generally soon changes to the west and the barometer begins to rise.

15. There is generally but little wind near the line of the maximum pressure, and on each side of that line the winds are irregular, but tend outward from that line.

16. The fluctuations of the barometer are generally geeater in the eastern than in the western part of the United States.

17. The fluctuations of the barometer are generally greater in the northern than in the southern part of the United States.

18. In the northern parts of the United States the wind generally sets in from the north of east and terminates from the north of west.

19. In the southern parts of the United States the wind generally sets in from the south of east, and terminates from the south of west.

20. During the passage of storms the wind generally changes from the eastward to the westward by south, especially in the southern parts of the United States.

21. The northern part of the storm generally travels more rapidly toward the east than the southern part.

22. During the high barometer on the day preceding the storm it is generally clear and mild in temperature, especially if very cold weather preceded.

23. The temperature generally falls suddenly on the passage of the centre of great storms, so that sometimes, when a storm is in the middle of the United States, the lowest temperature of the month will be in the West on the same day that the highest temperature is in the East.

Some of the storms, it is true, are contained entirely, for a time, within the bounds of my observers, and in that case the minimum barometer does not exhibit itself in a line of great length, extending from north and south, but it is confined to a region near the centre of the storm, and travels with that centre towards the eastward.

From these experiments it may be safely inferred, contrary to the general belief of scientific men, that vapor permeates the air from a high to a low dew point with extreme slowness, if, indeed, it permeates at all; and in meteorology, it will hereafter be known that vapor rises into the regions where clouds are forced only by being carried up by ascending currents of air containing it.

A PLACE FOR THE LEAN!

Say, old boy, where shall we meet?
Why, at Garrety's, on Daniel Street,
He's such a jolly fellow;
His LAGER is always fresh and prime,
It never wants a "head" and is
Refreshing, cool and mellow!
You require, my boy, some filling out,
You're thin, and meagre-looking;
Lager would give you the proper size.
Look at the host, he ones was scant,
His BEER has made of flesh no want,
Go thou and drink likewise.

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS, Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects. WHAT ARE THEY! THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK, Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetisers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. Lyrdawfebl6

ARE YOU GOING TO PAINT?

—IF SO, USE THE— AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT.

It is Cheaper, Handsomer and more durable than the best of other Paints. One Thousand Gallons of it were sold in this City, in the year 1870, and not one complaint has come from those who have used it; but all speak in its favor; it is mixed ready for application, and is much easier put on than any other Paint, making a smooth, glossy surface for years, that can be cleaned with hot suds without injuring it. It is excellent for walls inside, in the place of paper.

I shall keep this season a large stock of Chemical Paints of all shades on hand, to accommodate customers with any amount, without delay in ordering it. Those who want to use the Chemical Paints and have had them misrepresented by those who deal in Lead and Oil, are invited to call and examine my Paints that have been on Buildings two years, and you will find them as fresh as if laid but one month.

I am prepared to do Painting by Contract, or by the day, using the Chemical Paint, or furnishing good experienced workmen by the day at very low wages. B. LITTLE FEET.

BY MAGGIE MURDOCK.

In castle halls, or cottage homes
Wherever guileless childhood roams,
O, there is nothing half so sweet
As busy tread of little feet.

The sighing breeze, the ocean's roar,
The purling rill, the organ's power,
All stir the soul, but none so deep
As tiny tread of little feet.

When forth we go at early morn,
To meet the world and brave its scorn,
Adown the garden walk so neat
We see the prints of little feet.

At eve, when homeward we repair,
With aching limbs and brow of care,
The voices ring out clear and sweet—
Then comes the rush of little feet.

The knives are lost, the dishes stray,
The tools are spirited away,
And when we go the lost to seek,
We take the trail of little feet.

But when the angel death hath come
And called the flowrets from our home,
Oppressive silence reigns complete;
We miss the sound of little feet.

Then tools are safe, no dishes stray,
No doors go ming all the day;
But O, 'twould give us pleasure sweet,
To hear again those noisy feet.

Soft night hath come; all are asleep,
Yes, all but me, I vigil keep
Hush! hush! my heart, and cease to beat,
Was that the step of little feet?

Yes, mother, 'tis the softened tread
Of him you miss and mourn as dead,
And often in your sweetest sleep
You'll dream of hearing little feet.

And when this pilgrimage is o'er,
And you approach that blissful shore,
The first to run your soul to greet
Will be your darling's little feet.

THE

NOVELTY CLOTHES WRINGER.

Nothing, except the Sewing Machine, has ever been invented which so much relieves the labor of the household as the Wringer. But its usefulness does not end here. The saving of clothing is of much greater importance. It is often remarked that articles of fine texture, last twice as long when wrung in a Wringer as when wrung by hand. The NOVELTY has Cog-wheels on both ends. * * The rolls are allowed to separate at either end. These, besides other advantages which it contains, seem to be indispensable to a practical wringer.—New York Independent.

The Novelty Wringer has become an indispensable institution in thousands of families. And we believe its great and increasing popularity is fully merited—for the Novelty evidently possesses all the requisites of a first-class, practical machine. Indeed, after using one for many months in our own family, we are prepared to indorse the Novelty as unsurpassed (the hammdress says unequalled,) by any of the several wringers previously tried.—Moore's Rural New Yorker.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

At a meeting of the trustees of the State library on Saturday morning, the resignation of W. A. Kimball, librarian, was accepted, and Michael Gilmore of Concord was appointed librarian in his place.

—The great tidal wave predicted by Agassiz, on the night of the 5th or the morning of the 6th of October, is beginning to excite considerable interest along the southern seaboard.—Ex.

Poor Agassiz. Why is it that he should be obliged to "predict" a tidal wave every year? Why can't the papers make somebody else "predict" once in a while? The unlucky professor last year denied ever making any such absurd prediction, and ridiculed the idea that anybody can in any way foretell anything of the kind, though it's all of no use, for he seems to be the only man who will answer the purpose of the "tidal wavers." But they might allow him a vacation for one year, once in a while, and not keep him always "predicting" against his will.

LOVERS OF MUSIC will be glad to know that Mr. P. S. Gilmore, of Boston Jubilee fame, is meeting with good success in England, and that there can be scarcely any doubt that the British government will generously respond to his demands, and grant him the use of one of its first military bands. The English musical press is most enthusiastic in favor of the jubilee, and speak of it in terms of unqualified praise.

THE SEAL FISHERY of Alaska now yields a revenue of $300,000 a year, and with proper care and a strict observance of the regulations, it can be increased to a million dollars in three years. There has been no trouble thus far in enforcing the regulations. Thus Alaska is likely to pay its cost.

GREAT WIT to madness nearly is allied; and Pentland, the famous clown, has been taken with violent insanity while on a professional tour through Tennessee.

INDIAN AFFAIRS.—The Kiowas are petitioning for the release of Santanta and Big Tree, and General Sherman says they should never be released.

THE EMPLOYES of the Marion Watch Company, at West End, N. J., have stolen over $100,000 worth of watch works, so the company estimates.

THERE was a great fire in San Francisco on Saturday night. Loss a million dollars; and several firemen were injured, some fatally.

IT IS RUMORED that the Indians have compelled a surveying party on the Northern Pacific Railroad to turn back.

IT IS SAID that every Prime Minister in Europe is a Mason.

SOAP SUDS AND SLOPS.—The slops should not be thrown out at the back door window, or near by on the ground, as is the case in a great number of families; for this is very unpleasant and nauseating, and no doubt is often the source of disease to the family. All the greasy slops should be given to the swine every day. If you do not like to give them to your stock, haul two or three hundred bushels of vegetable mould to some convenient place, and put the slops on this pile. As soon as the pile becomes saturated, haul an addition of one hundred bushels, and put evenly over it. This heap may be in a circular or square shape, as you prefer; but it should be hollow on the top, so that all the slops will run to the centre when thrown upon it. If you do not like this, you can greatly improve your gardens by the application of these slops to the vegetables; when the slops are greasy, be careful not to wet the leaves of the plants in the application. The suds from the laundry should be used in the manner above described. By the use of a little plaster occasionally, you will have nothing unpleasant to the eye or smell, which is so often the case on many farms.—N. Y. Democrat.

—Siam is moving forward to a place among the civilized nations of the globe. Slavery will be perpetually abolished in that kingdom on and after Jan. 31, 1872.

—A young Illinoisian, who experimented on himself with aconite for the benefit of science, succeeded only in demonstrating how much it is not safe to take.

—A Louisville negro turned up his nose at a friend, who promptly bit it off.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

Many valuable horses die from the effects of colic. The best thing to do in a case of this kind, is to pour a bottle of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment into a long-necked junk bottle, add half a pint of molasses and water, then pour the whole down the horse's throat. In ten minutes the horse will begin to eat.

Parson's Purgative Pills will greatly relieve, if not entirely cure, dyspepsia, when everything else fails. They have been tried in some desperate cases, and have given more relief than any other medicine.

THE ROAR OF CANNONS!

Across the Atlantic affects not Uncle Samuel. He attends to his toilet as usual. Spying a few gray hairs on his venerable caput, what does he do? He ventures once in the only article of the kind in the wide world, which is at the same time SAFE and PERFECT, in other words, to

Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye,

guaranteed harmless by Professor CHILTON and other distinguished chemists, and the most popular dye in America, because it imparts the most natural shades of color with the greatest certainty and in the shortest space of time. This famous article has

of all its would-be rivals, and is now master of the situation. As a dressing after dyeing, use

CRISTADORO'S HAIR PRESERVATIVE

Old Things Have Passed Away.

This is at least true of the old method of treating the long abused and much abused human body. It is no longer considered wise to put a patient to torture in order to cure him of a disease in which pain is already undermining the energies of his system. True science ranges itself on the side of nature, and endeavors to assist her in her fight against disease. This is the province of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, the most approved tonic ever advertised in this country. It may be recommended as a full medicine, par excellence; for it is in the fall that biliousness, dyspepsia and malarious fevers are especially prevalent. The frame, exhausted by the heats of summer, is relaxed and feeble at its close, and requires, we may say demands artificial assistance. Afford it assistance in occasional doses of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, and the evils referred to may be escaped. Throughout the far West, and on the steaming alluvial of the southern rivers, all the varieties of periodical fever are probably rife to-day. Had a course of Hostetter's Bitters been commenced by the sufferers a month ago, i. e., before the unhealthy season set in, seven-eights of them would in all probability be in their usual health at the present time. So much for want of forecast. So much for not keeping in the house, and using daily, the best safeguard against epidemic and endemic fevers.

As flocks of imposters and imitators are trying to follow in the wake of the great American remedy, therefore be sure that the article you buy is genuine and verified by the proper trade marks. The true article can only be obtained in bottles. Beware of the spurious bitters sold by the gallon or in keg.

The Cause and Cure of Consumption.

The primary cause of Consumption is derangement of the digestive organs. The derangement produces deficient nutrition and assimilation. By assimilation I mean that process by which the nutriment of the food is converted into blood, and thence into the solids of the body. Persons with digestion thus impaired, having the slightest predisposition to pulmonary disease, or if they take cold, will be very liable to have Consumption of the Lungs in some of its forms; and I hold that it will be impossible to cure any case of Consumption without first restoring a good digestion and healthy assimilation. The very first thing to be done is to cleanse the stomach and bowels from all diseased mucous and slime which is clogging these organs so that they cannot perform their functions, and then rouse up and restore the liver to a healthy action. For this purpose, the surest and best remedy is SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS. These Pills cleanse the stomach and bowels of all the dead and morbid slime that is causing disease and decay in the whole system. They will clear out the liver of all diseased bile that has accumulated there, and arouse it up to a new and healthy action, by which natural and healthy bile is secreted.

The stomach, bowels and liver are thus cleansed by the use of Schenck's Mandrake Pills; but there remains in the stomach an excess of acid, the organ is torpid, and the appetite is poor. In the bowels, the lacteals are weak, and requiring strength and support. It is in a condition like this that Schenck's Seaweed Tonic proves to be the most valuable remedy ever discovered. It is alkaline, and its use will neutralize all excess of acid, making the stomach sweet and fresh; it will give permanent tone to this important organ, and create a good, hearty appetite, and prepare the system for the first process of a good digestion, and ultimately make good, healthy, living blood. After this preparatory treatment, what remains but that the cause of consumption is the free and persevering use of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup. The Pulmonic Syrup penetrates the stomach, passes into the blood, and is readily absorbed into the circulation, and thence distributed to the diseased lungs. There it meets the morbid matter, which is in the form of abscesses or tubercles, and then assists Nature to expel all the diseased matter in the form of free expectoration, when once it ripens. It is then, by the great healing and purifying properties of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, that all ulcers and cavities are healed up sound, and my patient is cured.

The essential thing to be done in curing Consumption is to get up a good appetite and a good digestion, so that the body will grow in flesh and get strong. If a person has diseased lungs, a cavity or abscess there, the cavity cannot heal, the matter cannot ripen, so long as the system is below par. What is necessary to cure is a new order of things, a good appetite, a good nutrition, the body to grow in flesh and get fat; then Nature is helped, the cavities will heal, the matter will ripen and be thrown off in large quantities, and the person regains health and strength. This is the true and only plan to cure Consumption, and if a person is very bad, if the lungs are not entirely destroyed, or even if one lung is entirely gone, if there is enough vitality left—in the other to heal up, there is hope.

I have seen many persons cured with only one sound lung, live and enjoy life to a good old age. This is what Schenck's medicines will do to cure Consumption. They will clean out the stomach, sweeten and strengthen it, get up a good digestion, and give Nature the assistance she needs to clear the system of all the disease that is in the lungs, whatever the form may be.

It is important that, while using Schenck's medicine, care should be exercised not to take cold; keep in-doors in cold and damp weather; avoid night air, and take out-door exercise only in a genial and warm sunshine.

I wish it distinctly understood that when I recommend a patient to be careful in regard to taking cold while using my medicines, I do so for good reason. A man who has but partially recovered from the effects of a bad cold is far more liable to a relapse than one who has been entirely cured, and it is precisely the same in regard to consumption. So long as the lungs are not perfectly healed, just so long is there imminent danger of a full return of the disease. Hence it is that I so strenuously caution pulmonary patients against exposing themselves to an atmosphere that is not genial and pleasant. Confirmed consumptive lungs are a mass of sores, which the least change of atmosphere will inflame. The grand secret of my success with my medicines consists in my ability to subdue inflammation instead of provoking it, as many of the faculty do. An inflamed lung cannot with safety to the patient be exposed to the biting blasts of winter or the chilling winds of spring or autumn. It should be carefully shielded from all irritating influence. The utmost caution should be observed in this particular, as without it a cure under almost any circumstances is an impossibility.

The person should be kept on a wholesome and nutritious diet, and all the medicines continued until the body has restored to it the natural quantity of flesh and strength.

I have myself had by this treatment of the worst kind of Consumption, and have lived to get fat and hearty these many years, with one lung entirely gone. I have cured hundreds of cases very many have been cured by this treatment whom I have never seen.

About the first of October I expect to take possession of my new building at the northeast corner of Sixth and Arch Streets, where I shall be pleased to give advice to all who may require it.

Full directions accompany all my remedies, so that a person in any part of the world can be readily cured by a strict observance of the same.

Ashes—Samuel Adams & Co.

The Citizens' Meeting.

In accordance with a vote of the Board of Aldermen at a recent meeting, the taxpayers of this city assembled at the Court House on Saturday evening, to consider the subject of granting city aid in the construction of the Portsmouth and Dover Railroad. The meeting was called to order by His Honor Mayor Adams, and on motion Alderman Fernald was elected chairman. The Court House was crowded, and much interest was manifested by the audience, which included many of our heaviest tax payers. A. J. Penhallow opened the discussion by an allusion to a new proposition relative to governments controlling railroads, questioning the constitutionality of the movements in the direction of aid to such an enterprise. He cited the instance of the sudden reversal of public opinion relative to the management of the Eastern Railroad, asserting that prior to the Revere accident it was claimed that there was no road better managed, but since that sad occurrence many prominent individuals had uttered the opinion that it had never been properly managed. Digressing a little from the subject under discussion, he remarked that he believed that these railroads were mighty engines in the hands of an avenging God to sweep from the earth all those who indulge in rum or beer. He concluded his remarks by saying, "let the citizens of Portsmouth set it down that the rate of interest on these bonds will be no less than ten per cent."

Albert R. Hatch next took the floor, and wished to say in advance that in his belief no one of the present managers had any personal interest in the contemplated road; that they have no selfish motive, but rather have the best interests of the city at heart. The question is, first,— is it worth while to attempt to do anything toward restoring the commercial and other interests of a city whose harbor and general facilities cause it to stand unrivalled as a commercial centre? The speaker claimed that it is our duty to develop the resources that God has given us, and that railroads are well calculated to achieve the desired result. He then proceeded to demonstrate the proposition that no city in the country is better situated geographically to avail itself of railroad connections. A map of the State of New Hampshire was produced, with a diagram of the proposed route and its connections, which were described in detail, the speaker endeavoring to prove that the P. & D. road, in connecting with other roads, shortened the route to the West and would greatly facilitate travel and freight transportation throughout New England and the western country. He made another point which was to the effect that while some roads had been started and sunk much money it was because they were not properly backed. Had they the guarantee of a town or city credit, it would have placed them on a sure basis on the start. Admitting for the sake of argument that the enterprise will be a failure it would cost the citizens of Portsmouth the amount of only two years' taxes, at the present rate of taxation. The chance of loss is no greater than that of any ordinary enterprise that is daily brought before the public. The constitutionality of the scheme was then adverted to, the speaker arguing at length its undoubted legality, and adding that no sudden movement in the direction of voting away the city's credit is intended. It will not be undertaken without proper deliberation and a reasonable amount of discussion. Mr. Hatch spoke upwards of half an hour upon the subject, arguing at length on every objectionable feature respecting it.

John R. Reding had been for 35 years in favor of the Road, but he wished to be furnished with some approximate estimate relative to the cost of said route, &c., before he could lend his influence in favor of it. He wanted some practical scheme whereby the thing could be accomplished. He had looked and listened in vain for such information. He had conversed with the Mayor of Dover, who regarded the scheme as impracticable and hoped it never would succeed. He spoke at considerable length of the so-called extortion practiced by the Concord and Portsmouth road, as illustrative of the tendency of like corporations to take advantage in compelling them to pay exorbitant fares and freights. A formidable obstacle would be found in the construction of the P. & D. Road when it reached Dover, in the form of the Boston & Maine Road, which would prove a lion in the path to Alton Bay, and there would also be found another Lyon at the Wiers. The gentleman spoke with great emphasis in regard to the danger of the task, when taking into account the fact of so many railroad corporations lying in wait to absorb it (the P. & D. Road) as soon as completed. Mr. Reding spoke for nearly an hour, strongly denouncing the expediency of the project.

M. Bozzaris Goodrich doubted the feasibility of the scheme, adducing some eccentric yet forcible arguments to demonstrate his position. His remarks were characteristic and created much amusement.

A. J. Penhallow here arose and remarked that in case of the failure of this project, the city is thus saddled with a debt of about $500,000, and the speaker asked for information relative to the method of procedure in such an event? Or if $20,000 worth of bonds had been purchased by Boston men, what course they could legally take to collect the said bonds or their coupons?

Wm. Sladen contended that he, as a poor man, had no right to go to the polls and vote away other people's money, and that the city had better squander (?) its money in sewerage than to appropriate it to such a purpose as that of building or aiding to build a railroad.

Marcellus Bufford regarded the discussion as of an extraordinary character. Honest men have brought this question before the people, but have not advanced one single convincing argument in its favor. A paid lawyer had been introduced (referring to Mr. Hatch) to the audience to argue the affirmative of the question, while he expressly states that these arguments are not the result of his private opinions. Taking the pointer in his hand he stepped to the hanging map which we have before referred to, and proceeded at considerable length, to show the fallacy of the employed lawyer's arguments. He said that while there was considerable loud talk in regard to the willingness of many to subscribe for stock, he had not heard of more than two or three individuals who had come forward with their names, and these for a very limited amount of subscription. He contended that the city had no right to loan its money or its credit upon such security, when the estates of widows and orphans, and institutions of various character holding funds in trust, must be taxed to meet the contingency of a failure. This city cannot be built up by increased taxation, and a high rate of taxes conflicts seriously with the enterprise of any city.

Mr. Hatch, in reply to Mr. Bufford, indignantly denied the aspersion that he came there as an employed lawyer, and asserted that this charge had been introduced to dodge the argument. He did not wish to commit himself in the expression of any private opinion, owing to his position as an alderman of this city.

A. J. Penhallow said he would take the gloss off Mr. Hatch's argument, and proceeded to prove that Hatch's reasoning was specious.

Hon. Frank Jones spoke at some length, repeating the charges made whereby his motives were impugned in the statement that he occupied a position in a ring for the purpose of crowding this upon the people. His interests were in Portsmouth, and his desire was to enhance its welfare and for one he was ready to relinquish his position in the matter and let some of the croakers step in and try their hand at it. For one he wished the people of Portsmouth to understand that he did not intend to soil his fingers with a dirty job, or tarnish his reputation and leave behind him an ignominious record by having anything to do with a scheme that was likely to entail upon the city a debt for future generations to feel.

Gideon H. Rundlett was called up at the solicitation of Charles W. Bailey. Mr. Rundlett introduced numerous arguments to prove that the Road can never be made to pay the interest on the money invested, but aside from all other considerations he opposed it on the ground of principle, believing it to be a bad precedent to vote away the city's credit in aid of a corporation. He predicted that in less than ten years the Boston & Maine and the Eastern Roads would be a consolidated corporation, and then where would be the Portsmouth and Dover Road?

Frank Jones rose in reply, and in the course of his remarks in endeavoring to prove that he had the interest of the laboring man at heart, stated that he built the Rockingham house not with the expectation of making anything out of it, but for the benefit of the city and thus indirectly of the laborer. He also said that he probably paid out more money for labor than any other man in the city, and that while he often had men in his employ who at times experienced attacks of sickness, he never docked a man a day while off sick,—altho' some had been on the sick list for four months at a time, the pay continuing in the meantime.

M. Bozzaris Goodrich said it had been stated that Frank Jones came to this city barefoot and was now worth thousands; the speaker, too, came to this city barefoot,—and is barefoot still! But he had never owned a dollar that he had not honestly earned, never produced anything to injure anybody, nor ever laid out a dollar to others' harm. [The speaker was called to order by Mr. Hatch.] Mr. Goodrich, continuing, said that with the labor of his hands he had produced what really added to the wealth of the city, but you (indicating Mr. Hatch) never produced anything, except a few barren ideas; and he also expressed the opinion that if there had been a few pettifogging lawyers among the children of Israel during their captivity in Egypt, that Pharoah, so far from throwing obstacles in the way of their leaving, would have been very glad to have got rid of them. He argued that the city has no more right to help build the railroad to increase business, than it has to help establish rum-mills or even worse places, for the same reason; and that if it was urged that the business of the rum-mills and other places was not desirable and the business of the railroad was, he would answer that perhaps many did not care for a railroad who did care for the other branches of industry spoken of, and that the friends of either one could demand assistance from the city with as much show of reason as the advocates of any other.

One or two other speakers followed, but our reporter did not feel enough impressed by their speeches to transcribe any part of them; and at five minutes before 11 o'clock the meeting adjourned, having been in session four hours. Personalities were not altogether wanting, and we have heard many persons assent that the Citizens' Meeting was the best entertainment ever gotten up here or that ever visited the city.

THE LYRE'S EDITOR says he was greatly amused by our last essay on the great "Byfield question." We are glad to hear it; for there is no human being so low in the moral and social scale but that we are willing to contribute to his innocent pleasures, and the more discontented and fault-finding he is by nature the better are we pleased if we can add anything to the small sum total of his happiness. After acknowledging his indebtedness to us in that line, and trotting out a few of the big adjectives and endearing terms which he inherited from the former occupant of his editorial chair, (which adjectives and endearing terms he has used about six times a week, on an average, ever since they came into his posession,) he charges us with falsehood in intimating that he ever slandered or traduced Rev. Mr. Rand in his columns.

We know that it savors of presumption in us to question the correctness of our cotemporary's decision as to what is a falsehood, for a manufacturer of and wholesale dealer in any article must know more about it than one who has never been in any way engaged in the business, and we acknowledge that if any man in Portsmouth should be able to recognize a falsehood at sight, the editor referred to is the man. But that the judgment of the most skillful experts will sometimes be at fault is susceptible of proof. In his Saturday's issue he says:—

> It is also a falsehood to intimate that this paper has traduced or slandered Mr. Rand. The worst we ever did say of him was what we now repeat, that many of the Seabrook people charge him with being directly or indirectly the cause of the trouble and gossip.

The statement contained in the above paragraph is explicit enough, but it only proves the correctness of the old adage that good memories are indispensable to persons of a certain class. Perhaps the editor referred to does not regard it as traducing or slandering a clergyman to falsely charge him with slandering and misrepresenting others—in other words, with being a malicious liar; but if so we are not of his opinion. That the Lyre's editor made this charge (the above denial to the contrary notwithstanding) he will find by looking over his issue of Sept. 2, and reading the following paragraph:

> We thought we had disposed of the cruel slanders upon the people of Seabrook, but our cotemporaries in this city have been repeating them and the people of that much abused town request us to reiterate the facts which prove how Mr. Rand and his friends have misrepresented the condition of that people. They furnish us with certain facts to publish in relation to the "Algerines" of Byfield and the "Seabrook Heathen" which are conclusive.

These "facts" in relation to the "Algerines" of Byfield and the "Seabrook Heathen" we have already shown to be incorrect, by extracts from the official report of a Democratic officer of Seabrook; yet the editor plainly asserts that these unsupported and unsupportable "facts" prove how Mr. Rand has misrepresented affairs. And now, having forgotten that he ever made that statement, he boldly avers that the worst he ever said was that Mr. Rand was charged by others with what the editor said his "facts" proved. It is well to use plain language, and to be as explicit as circumstances will warrant; but our cotemporary would save himself a vast amount of squirming and wriggling by accepting Davy Crockett's advice, "Be always sure you're right, then go ahead."

PROBABLE SUICIDE.—Mrs. Eunice Aiken, widow of Mr. Luther Aiken, has been missing from her residence on Sheafe Street since four o'clock, Monday morning, and has probably committed suicide by drowning. Mrs. Aiken was about 42 years of age, and was above reproach. She was a member of the Universalist Society and a teacher in the Sabbath school, and had been at her usual post of duty in the afternoon, conversing cheerfully and showing no signs of mental aberration.

She retired about ten o'clock, Sunday night, after conversing with members of a family occupying another portion of the house. About four o'clock in the morning her only child, a son of ten years of age, awoke and went to his mother's bedside. Not finding her there, he alarmed the neighbors and a search was immediately instituted which has proved unavailing. The boy states that his mother went up to Church Hill, on Bow Street, Sunday afternoon, and looked over into the water.

Several watchmen at the Navy Yard state that at ten minutes before four o'clock, they heard a splash in the water and the scream of a woman, which seemed to come from Spring Hill, and a man on board of a schooner lying at the wharf of the Gas company states that he heard a woman scream "Save me! Save me." She seemed to be some distance from the wharf, between the schooner and Pier wharf, but owing to the darkness he could not see her. There seems to be no doubt that the unfortunate lady jumped into the river with the intention of committing suicide. Nothing is missing from her wardrobe but a black dress and shawl. We hear that her husband formerly lived in Manchester.

MESSRS. G. B. & S. W. CAME of this city have entered for exhibition at the State Fair, which opens at Dover today, thirteen specimens of their superior handiwork, consisting of a 3-spring Phaeton, one 2-spring Phaeton, two Grant open Buggies, one Ivers open Buggy, one double seat Wagon, one cut-under top Buggy, two similar Buggies unpainted, a Goddard top Buggy, an extension Carryall and two Portsmouth Wagons. All are especially attractive, and are tall specimens of the work turned out at the establishment of the Cames. They formed quite a procession as they proceeded to Dover, Monday afternoon, via South Berwick—it being impossible to transport them all by rail, owing to a scarcity of cars.

We venture to state that they will stand unrivalled at the Fair. The extension top cut-under Carryall is a model of comfort, capacious, stylish and elegantly finished. The makers have introduced all the new improvements to furnish a family carriage that has no defects.

The cut-under top buggy is a beautiful affair, combining strength, lightness and safety. It can be upset in no ordinary way, the body being totally removed from contact with the front wheels, which are made to strike the perch in a manner to slide the hind wheels sidewise instead of tipping. The value of this improvement would be appreciated in case a horse attached to the buggy should become frightened and turn suddenly. The carriage is furnished with a pole which is worthy of especial attention and adds materially to the finish of the carriage. The hubs are Kenny's patent, and the seat and dasher have heavy silver plated rails. The model of the equipage was designed by the Came brothers, who have the credit of getting out the finest carriage ever built in the State. Every citizen of Portsmouth should be proud of the enterprise which reflects credit alike to the builders of these fine carriages and the city of their adoption. The cut-under buggy may be seen at the Salesroom at No. 10 High Street, this morning between seven and eight o'clock.

The reputation which Came brothers have of slighting no detail and neglecting no portion of their work will be greatly enhanced by their samples on exhibition at the Fair, and being desirous to conceal no defect by paint and putty they are to have one of the Came cut-under top buggies, described above, and an Ivers buggy, on exhibition, the running parts of which are unpainted, allowing the curious to inspect the materials of which they are made. Cames' improved Goddard cut-under is roomy and runs easy, and we think will divide the honors with the other carriages we have described.

PRACTICAL JOKERS, as a general rule, depend for what amusement they can get from their tricks, on a selfish pleasure derived from the troubles of others; but once in a while a prank is played which has genuine humor and good natured fun at its bottom, and which the victim, if blessed with any sense of the ludicrous at all, can enjoy quite as well as the joker. A case of the latter kind came under our notice on Monday. A gentleman who is well known as an inveterate smoker was walking briskly down State street, blowing a cloud from his loved meerschaum, and when near Whitcomb's saloon heard a clattering of feet behind him, followed by a touch on his arm to attract attention, and an apologetic "I beg your pardon, sir,—but are you Governor Goodwin?" "Am I who?" asked the astonished smoker. The querist was a bare-headed lad, whom the gentleman thought he recognized as a bellboy at the Rockingham House; and he proceeded: "Gov. Goodwin, sir. The ladies sent me to ask you—there are two of 'em, sir, and one said you was Gov. Goodwin and t'other said you wasn't! They sent me to find out—will you please tell me, sir?" "Certainly, my lad," was the answer; "give my compliments to the ladies, and inform them that to the best of my belief I am not Gov. Goodwin,"—and away he went with his message, leaving the momentary representative of the honored and venerable Ex-Governor in a state of the greatest hilarity. If the two lady seekers after information enjoyed their joke half as much as their victim did, it was the most brilliant success of the season.

A RELIABLE PROPHET.—Most people consider that any statements which appear in the columns of the Portsmouth Democratic organ are already refuted, and that its prophecies are invariably wrong and foremost; but this is not always the case (concerning the prophecies) as we undertake to prove. Just before the recent elections, after a preface of its usual hifalutin buncombe, it said: "California votes on the 5th, Maine on the 11th, and Nebraska speaks on the 17th. Though scarcely a ripple can be seen on the political wave, yet the people were never more thoroughly versed in the motives and principles of both political parties. Never have they been more deeply convinced of the necessity of a change of their political government." Can any one doubt its occasional correctness after this? That the people of California "were never more thoroughly versed in the motives and principles of both political parties," and "deeply convinced of the necessity of a change of their political government," was proved at the polls by their giving a large Republican majority and overthrowing the copperhead State government. And the people of Maine showed that they too were well posted "in the motives and principles of both political parties" by rolling up an increased Republican majority, though the prophet certainly did make a little mistake concerning what action such political knowledge would induce;—but then you can't expect anybody to be always right.

SUPERINTENDENT JERE. PRESCOTT, of the Eastern Railroad, has been induced to remain at his old post of duty, much to the gratification of the travelling public and the stockholders of the corporation. It is well known that he has been hampered by the interference of other officials until now, and we trust that his decision to remain is caused by the assurance that in the future the duties of Superintendent will not be usurped by other parties. Mr. Prescott has grown up with the road, is clear-headed, practical and sagacious, and has the respect and confidence of the public.

FROM CALCUTTA it is reported that the ship Jean Ingelow, Capt. Jacobs, which arrived there from Boston, August 5th, with a cargo of ice, and grounded on a sand bank while going up the river on the 4th, was badly strained when she floated off and will be docked.

Morning Chronicle.

—Some ten years or more ago, an aged citizen, of African descent, lived in a small cabin near Salem, New Jersey. He was known in and about Salem as old Lummis. One evening a young man returning home from a day's hunt heard the old man at his prayers, the subject of which was: "O! Lord! send one of your bressed angels down and take old Lummis' soul away from this sinful world." On the following evening at the same hour our young friend, with several companions, was on hand, when the same petition was offered up. A gentle knock was given at the door and the reply was, "Who's dar?" "The angel of the Lord," was the answer. "What does the angel of de Lord want?" "Why, old Lummis' soul." "Why bress your soul, honey, old Lummis moved away three weeks ago!"

A PLACE FOR THE LEAN!

Say, old boy, where shall we meet?
Why, at Garrety's, on Daniel Street,
He's such a jolly fellow;
His LAGER is always fresh and prime,
It never wants a "head" and is
Refreshing, cool and mellow!
You require, my boy, some filling out,
You're thin, and meagre-looking;
Lager would give you the proper size.
Look at the host, he once was scant,
His BEER has made of flesh no want,
Go thou and drink likewise.

Lager furnished for excursion parties by the Keg. M. GARRETY.

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS,

Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,

Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetisers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to Direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. lyrdawfeb16

ARE YOU GOING TO PAINT?

—IF SO, USE THE—

AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT.

It is Cheaper, Handsomer and more durable than the best of other Paints. One Thousand Gallons of it were sold in this City, in the year 1870, and not one complaint has come from those who have used it; but all speak in its favor; it is mixed ready for application, and is much easier put on than any other Paint, making a smooth, glossy surface for years, that can be cleaned with hot suds without injuring it. It is excellent for walls inside, in the place of paper.

I shall keep this season a large stock of Chemical Paints of all shades on hand, to accommodate customers with any amount, without delay in ordering it. Those who want to use the Chemical Paints and have had them misrepresented by those who deal in Lead and Oil, are invited to call and examine my Paints that have been on Buildings two years, and you will find them as fresh as if laid but one month.

I am prepared to do Painting by Contract, or by the day, using the Chemical Paint, or furnishing good experienced workmen by the day at very low wages. B. NORTON, only Agent for selling the

BILL WAINWRIGHT.

BY ISAAC A. POOL.

You fellers are tellin' some whappers, to-night,
But the best, you hev bin puttin' thro',
Ain't nothin, to what happen'd Billy Wainwright,
And the best of all, it is true.

You see, Bill was on guard, in the fust Tennessee,
With a heat about twenty feet long,
On a Mexican ranche whar the greasers could see
That the show on our front wasn't strong.

'Twas a ticklish post and that jord was the spot
Whar the enemy wanted to cross,
And the kurnil had said, "at the sound of a shot
Let ev'ry man make for his horse."

So Bill mounted guard, and the order was strick',
"Don't fire 'till the greasers advance;
Keep a sharpish lookout, with your eye on the crick,
And don't give the red devils a chance."

All to wunst he seed su'thin' cum outen the wet,
That inclined him to get up and put;
'Twas a derned alligator, a pooty, old pet,
And the critter was full fawty foot.

He dussent to shoot, and he dussent desart,
So the chances looked scaly fur him,
For all he could do was to jab fur his heart,
And he charged him with desperate vim.

But his hide was as hard as a coating of mail,
And the bag-o-nat busted in two;
Then the 'gator he fetched him a wipe with his tail,
And he know'd he had suthin' to do.

Just then the relief on the brink made a pause,
And he knew Bill was gulped in a wink,
Fur the butt of Bill's musket stuck out of his jaws,
As the critter duv into the drink.

"I hav'n't a doubt but the story is true!
But how could you know it so well?
Were you the relief?" "No! but sesin' it's you,
Stand treat for the crowd and I'll tell."

"Why surely, my friend, mister clerk, set 'em up,
And give these good fellows their fill."
"Well, yere's your good health! that's sarchin,' my pup.
So, stranger, the fact is, I'm Bill!"

Chicago Mail.

How They Part.

Nothing is so pretty as to see the engaged folks part on Monday morning, the fowler to go back to business for a whole week, the ensnared to stay at the Cape, counting the days of his absence. To see this scene you must get up at six of the clock, for it is to catch the early train that the young man in his duster, a little dragged out, slips down with his valise, and at the foot of the stairs, spying the inexorable omnibus, halts a minute to let the bird catch up to him. Also a little worn with early rising and late last evening the bird hops down stairs in her yellow morning plumage, and formally shakes the young man by the hand; and as he recedes, and turns once at the threshold to look back with that glance which is the respectful yearning of all that he know or hopes for, it meets, already fixed, the bird's farewell, poured out of her eyes like a note of melody. That look is the loving solace of the week, the one ration on which love must march for six days, till Saturday brings another rendezvous. It is the pledge better than oath or affirmation, that neither is to be forgotten by the other, although the true parting, as we all know, took place elsewhere, above stairs—perhaps in the room of the old bird, who graciously assented, and lived back thirty years in the sound of her daughter's kiss.

The three fond periods of life are the first consciousness of love returned, the summer last before marriage, when all the course is smooth, and next, the early months of the first baby, when the man feels a little queer and the woman is perfectly self-possessed again.

The woman engaged fully and distinctly in love is the highest type of human fidelity. See this one, abandoned to a week of the ennui possible to her nature, by the absence of her affianced; a man would perhaps balance it by the violence of his pleasures, and smother expectation in gayety; like a vestal who knows not the day nor the hour when her Master cometh, the engaged woman becomes for her sake, the subject of her own exalted respect. Her body and soul, her walk and conversation are firmer in her eyes because they have been promised away. She draws around herself the circle of the solemn church and all society falls beyond the line; but one can cross it. The beach, the ball, the promenade etherealize and no longer partaken in romp and volatility, find her still higher above reproach each Saturday successively, till at last, when the end comes, and with it the last campaign of her beauty, she abdicates, like Zenobia, without an accusation, a secret or a lament. A woman in love knows when her mind is made up; a man thinks he does.—From Cape May Letter by George Alfred Townsend.

—Rochester is full of guilty people. One day last week one of the city papers made some charges against an individual without giving his name or residence. The office of the paper has been full of men since then, asking if anything was insinuated against them.

—An exchange wanting to compliment a live-stock journal, says it is edited by a man whose head is chuck full of live stock. Doubtful compliment.

ROMANISM AS IT IS. This Book, an elegant Octavo Volume, containing 750 pages, and 105 first-class engravings, is an exhaustive and Standard work, eminently adapted to the times. It fully uncovers the Roman system from its origin to the present time, exposes its baseless pretences, its frauds, its persecutions, its gross immoralities, its opposition to our public schools, and civil and religious liberty; it shows its insidious workings which strongly tend to bring this country under full Romish control. Prospectus and Books ready on application. CONN. PUBLISHING CO., Hartford, Conn. 4ws5

THE NOVELTY CLOTHES WRINGER.

Nothing, except the Sewing Machine, has ever been invented which so much relieves the labor of the household as the Wringer. But its usefulness does not end here. The wring of clothing is of much greater importance. It is often remarked that articles of fine texture, last twice as long when wrung in a Wringer as when wrung by hand. The NOVELTY has Cog-wheels on both ends. * * The rolls are allowed to separate at either end. These, besides other advantages which it contains, seem to be indispensable to a practical wringer.—New York Independent.

The Novelty Wringer has become an indispensable institution in thousands of families. And we believe its great and increasing popularity is fully merited—for the Novelty evidently possesses all the requisites of a first-class, practic' machine. Indeed, after using one for many months in our own family, we are prepared to indorse the Novelty as unsurpassed (the laundress says unequalled,) by any of the several wringers previously tried.—Moore's Rural New Yorker.

WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 27, 1871.

MASSACHUSETTS.

The contest for the gubernatorial nomination is about to close and it is with no regret that Republicans throughout the country look for a speedy settlement. The Butler and anti-Butler men have alike disgraced themselves before the people—the former by violence and undignified action, and the latter by gross misrepresentation and trickery. The abuse heaped upon Gen. Butler seems to react on the abusers and the people rally to his support because he is maligned by certain leading newspapers. The Boston Post has the following resume of the situation:—

The metropolitan party papers keep adding up their figures, and the General keeps gaining delegates. He is clearly too much for them. They find even the boiting threat a blade with a double edge. The General has concluded his personal canvass of the State in twenty-two racy political interviews with the party itself, preferring to see the people rather than the managers. In fact, he was determined from the first to be his own manager. The Ward Six event proves a crusher, for there the very cream of the party cream held court, and supposed the colored vote of some four hundred citizens was its own particular property. But Henry Jackson, Esquire Ruffin and Dr. Miller tell a vastly different story.

And then observe how the flood rolls in from everywhere, bearing up the hopes and fortunes of the great agitator, the "judge and executioner." Springfield has discharged a whole armory of loaded guns at the opponents of Butler, and he carries the republican part of the city by storm. The Republican newspapers must feel like rising personally in meeting and reading another protest. Springfield will do to string next to Malden on the bead roll worn around the disorganizer's neck. Was there ever such a shrinkage in the local influence of the "leading" party journals?

"Action" really begins to look blue. He is sturdily disputed in Cambridge, and allowed no more than a respectable share of the spoils of the Convention. Quincy comes up roaring mad for Butler. Where Washburn carries the delegates, Butler follows close behind like an ominous shadow, implying that he means to make up at the polls what he may fall short in the Convention. Even the outright loss of the delegates does not deter his friends from organizing active clubs to work for him during the campaign. Chelsea is not going to rest satisfied with the style of caucus imposed upon it. Charlestown is crammed full with Butler combustibles. Haverhill is Butler from cuticle to backbone. The smaller towns sprinkled across the back of the commonwealth swarm with Bs of the most buzzing kind. The ring is all at sea, without cotton or conscience, some gone, all dumb and in despair.

From this to the day of the Convention the General will concentrate himself in Pemberton Square. He has been spreading like the eagle bird all over the State, now he will hint out his game like a sleuth hound. Meanwhile a big bolt is the topic of discussion, and whether the party or Butler will do the bolting, or whether it will be no bolt, but the widest kind of a split, is a matter of perplexing doubt. Things are in such a muddle that, in case of a bolt, neither side can charge a great amount of falsity upon the other, for each holds the contingency in closest contemplation. The element that declares however useful Butler may have been to the organization hitherto, that he shall not now unblushingly claim his reward, is loudly demonstrative. But this is just what he means to see about, that's what's the matter with all the political Hannahs.

The Convention meets at Worcester to-day. Of 1061 delegates reported elected, Gen. Butler claims 522, and there are 52 doubtful.

THE TAMMANY ROBBERS.—Garvey was busy all last week transferring his property and putting it in the hands of his friends. Some reports were that he had gone to Europe, while others had it that he had drowned himself. Ingersoll has not been seen since Friday, and the general belief is that he and Garvey sailed for Europe under fictitious names.

THE STATE FAIR opened at the Cocheco Riding Park, Dover, on Tuesday. There are 130 pens for sheep and swine, and 125 stalls for horses. In the central enclosure formed by the track, commencing at the east end, are the tents of Pres. Natt Head, Chief Marshal Frank W. Miller, Chief of Police J. P. Baker and other officers, with the music stand in the centre. The Shaw oxen from Dexter, Me., seven years old and weighing 6580 pounds, are on exhibition. The entries of live stock thus far exceed the expectation. Notwithstanding the rain quite a large crowd was in attendance. This is the 17th exhibition of the State Agricultural Society, and will be continued through Friday.

A DESPATCH from Calcutta announces the wreck of a steamer on the coast of India, and that 138 natives lost their lives.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

A bee-tree in Bow yielded, a few days since, 189 pounds of comb and honey.

A young lady of this State who has been reading law for the past year has applied for admission to the law school of Harvard University. This is the first application of the kind that has ever been made in this department of the university, and it is receiving due consideration.

On the 23d, in Manchester, a Frenchman, whose name is given as Joseph La Fond by the Mirror, and La Fontaine by the Union, was grinding a tool in the axe factory upon a rapidly revolving stone, when it burst, by reason of centrifugal force. The unlucky man was thrown up to the ceiling and had his jaw and several ribs broken, and other injuries inflicted by flying pieces. His recovery is doubtful.

A hen owned by Mr. W. M. Cushing of Lancaster, herself born in March, now scratches for chicks of her own.

On the 21st, in Nashua, a gentleman at the Worcester depot had his watch snatched from his hands, chased the thief, mauled him and left on the starting train.

Seventy-four horses are entered for the State Fair races.

The new enlargement of the Profile House will enable it to accommodate seven hundred persons.

Mr. J. E. Chesley of Rochester has a five and a half months' calf girting four and a half feet.

Farmington is to be supplied with water from a large reservoir a third of a mile from the village. The elevation is sufficient for a stream seventy feet high.

The Israelites of Dover openend the year 5362 on the 16th.

The Supreme Judical Court sitting in Dover, Judge Doe presiding, has decreed the following divorces: Mary J. Hayes, vs. Seth Hayes, Dora Johnson vs. Wm. H. Johnson, Charles A. Sampson vs. Alice V. Sampson, Folsom C. Lang vs. Addie A. Lang and Susan A. Willey vs. Charles W. Willey.

Mr. George Stackpole, of Rochester, has a crab apple tree that has gone to blooming a third time.

On the 17th, in New Durham, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Chamberlain were on their way to church and their horse stumbled upon a stone. Mrs. C. was thrown out and had a shoulder dislocated.

On the 18th, in Enfield, Mr. William H. Dorothy badly mangled his left hand, losing the thumb, on a circular saw.

THE AMOSKEAG CO. have their annual meeting at Manchester on Wednesday, Oct. 4th. Formerly the good dinners of the Amoskeag Co. were washed down with Heidsick and similar fluids that stockholders of mills that run by water are apt to indulge in, but these occasions were like Christmas that "comes but once a year," Of late the sober second thought has prevailed and nothing but a few appetizers before dinner are indulged in. However, this year, we see by the Boston papers that Mr. Straw has called the stockholders together at 11 o'clock, P. M., from which we infer that the Amoskeag Boys will "make a night of it."

INTELLIGENCE from North Carolina is to the effect that the recent conviction and sentence of thirteen of the Ku-Klux by the United States court at Raleigh has produced a deep impression among the people of that State, and the result will unquestionably be apparent soon in the breaking up of the organization.

THE EASTERN RAILROAD COMPANY have given notice that they will apply to the Massachusetts legislature for authority to construct a double track on their Saugus Branch, and for a repeal of the clause in the statutes prohibiting the same.

THE NORWICH ADVERTISER, speaking of the folly of newspapers in Massachusetts who sustain Anti, says—"The printing press is a power to accelerate a popular current, but has no more power to oppose it than a cheese press."

ON and after Sunday, Oct. 1st, the Sunday night trips over the Narragansett Line between New York and Boston will be discontinued for the season.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

Many valuable horses die from the effects of colic. The best thing to do in a case of this kind, is to pour a bottle of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment into a long-necked junk bottle, add half a pint of molasses and water, then pour the whole down the horse's throat. In ten minutes the horse will begin to eat.

Parson's Purgative Pills will greatly relieve, if not entirely cure, dyspepsia, when everything else fails. They have been tried in some desperate cases, and have given more relief than any other medicine.

THE EUROPEAN QUESTION.

What is the European question to us? Let the crowned heads fight it out while we supply their armies with provisions.

THE AMERICAN QUESTION

as to the best method of clothing gray heads with glossy brown or raven black is, however, a matter of vast importance to millions of both sexes in this country. It

SEEMS TO BE DECIDED,

if popularity is a fair test in the case, in favor of

Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye,

the sales of which have been advancing during the past twelve months with rapidity astonishing. As a dressing, after dyeing, use

CRISTADORO'S HAIR PRESERVATIVE.

Old Things Have Passed Away.

This is at least true of the old method of treating the long abused and much abused human body. It is no longer considered wise to put a patient to torture in order to cure him of a disease in which pain is already undermining the energies of his system. True science ranges itself on the side of nature, and endeavors to assist her in her fight against disease. This is the province of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, the most approved tonic ever advertised in this country. It may be recommended as a fall medicine, par excellence; for it is in the fall that biliousness, dyspepsia and malarious fevers are especially prevalent. The frame, exhausted by the heats of summer, is relaxed and feeble at its close, and requires, we may say demands artificial assistance. Afford it assistance in occasional doses of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, and the evils referred to may be escaped. Throughout the far West, and on the steaming alluvial of the southern rivers, all the varieties of periodical fever are probably rife to-day. Had a course of Hostetter's Bitters been commenced by the sufferers a month ago, i. e., before the unhealthy season set in, seven-eights of them would in all probability be in their usual health at the present time. So much for want of forecast. So much for not keeping in the house, and using daily, the best safeguard against epidemic and endemic fevers.

As flocks of imposters and imitators are trying to follow in the wake of the great American remedy, therefore be sure that the article you buy is genuine and verified by the proper trade marks. The true article can only be obtained in bottles. Beware of the spurious bitters sold by the gallon or in keg.

FOR SALE! FOR SALE!

THAT DELIGHTFUL SEASIDE retreat known as the WOODMAN FARM, containing forty acres of land, a commodious, new and imposing house and convenient outbuildings, situated on the easterly side of Great Island, (Newcastle,) within a stone's throw of the ocean, and in full view of the "Isles of Shoals."

Also adjoining the same, "POINT JERRY," embracing ten acres of arable land extending far out into the sea, being the nearest point of land to the "Isles of Shoals," and forming the outside boundary of what is known as Little Harbor.

This is the most desirable spot on the seacoast for summer residences, possessing all the advantages of the world renowned "Isles of Shoals," in bracing atmosphere, good sea fishing and surf-bathing on one side, while on the other is a smooth, hard beach and still water. There is also upon it a never failing pond of fresh water, an old battery, and a light-house beacon. Roads always good and scenery unsurpassable.

The Cause and Cure of Consumption.

The primary cause of Consumption is derangement of the digestive organs. The derangement produces deficient nutrition and assimilation. By assimilation I mean that process by which the nutriment of the food is converted into blood, and thence into the solids of the body. Persons with digestion thus impaired, having the slightest predisposition to pulmonary disease, or if they take cold, will be very likely to have Consumption of the Lungs in some of its forms; and I hold that it will be impossible to cure any case of Consumption without first restoring a good digestion and healthy assimilation. The very first thing to be done is to cleanse the stomach and bowels from all diseased mucous and slime which is clogging these organs so that they cannot perform their functions, and then rouse up and restore the liver to a healthy action. For this purpose, the surest and best remedy is SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS. These Pills cleanse the stomach and bowels of all the dead and morbid slime that is causing disease and decay in the whole system. They will clear out the liver of all diseased bile that has accumulated there, and arouse it up to a new and healthy action, by which natural and healthy bile is secreted.

The stomach, bowels and liver are thus cleansed by the use of Schenck's Mandrake Pills; but there remains in the stomach an excess of acid, the organ is torpid, and the appetite is poor. In the bowels, the lacteals are weak, and requiring strength and support. It is in a condition like this that Schenck's Seaweed Tonic proves to be the most valuable remedy ever discovered. It is alkaline, and its use will neutralize all excess of acid, making the stomach sweet and fresh; it will give permanent tone to the important organ, and create a good, hearty appetite, and prepare the system for the first process of a good digestion, and ultimately make good, healthy, living blood. After this preparatory treatment, what remains to cure most cases of consumption is the free and persevering use of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup. The Pulmonic Syrup nourishes the system, purifies the blood, and when digested and absorbed into the circulation, and thence distributed to the diseased lungs. There it ripens all morbid matters, whether in the form of abscesses or tubercles, and then assists Nature to expel all the diseased matter in the form of free expectoration, when once it ripens. It is then, by its great healing and purifying properties of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, that all ulcers and cavities are healed up sound, and my patient is cured.

The essential thing to be done in curing Consumption is to get up a good appetite and a good digestion, so that the body will grow in flesh and get strong. If a person has diseased lungs, a cavity or abscess there, the cavity cannot heal, the matter cannot ripen, so long as the system is below par. What is necessary to cure is a new order of things, a good appetite, a good nutrition, the body to grow in flesh and get fat; when nature is helped, the cavities will heal, the matter will ripen and be thrown off in large quantities, and the person regains health and strength. This is the true and only plan to cure Consumption, and if a person is very bad, if the lungs are not entirely destroyed, or even if one lung is entirely gone, if there is enough vitality left in the other to heal up, there is hope.

I have seen many persons cured with only one sound lung, live and enjoy life to a good old age. This is what Schenck's medicines will do to cure Consumption. They will clean out the stomach, sweeten and strengthen it, get up a good digestion, and give Nature the assistance she needs to clear the system of all the disease that is in the lungs, whatever the form may be.

It is important that, while using Schenck's medicines, care should be exercised not to take cold; keep in-doors in cold and rainy weather; avoid night air, and take out-door exercise only in a genial and warm sunshine.

I wish it distinctly understood that when I recommend a patient to be careful in regard to taking cold while using my medicines, I do so for a special reason. A man who has but partially recovered from the effects of a bad cold is far more liable to a relapse than one who has been entirely cured, and it is precisely the same in regard to consumption. So long as the lungs are not perfectly healed, just so long is there imminent danger of a full return of the disease. Hence it is that I so strenuously caution pulmonary patients against exposing themselves to an atmosphere that is not genial and pleasant. Confirmed consumptives' lungs are a mass of sores, which the least change of atmosphere will inflame. The grand secret of my success with my medicines consists in my ability to subdue inflammation instead of provoking it, as many of the faculty do. An inflamed lung cannot with safety to the patient be exposed to the biting blasts of winter or the chilling winds of spring or autumn. It should be carefully shielded from all irritating influence. The utmost caution should be observed in this particular, as without it a cure under almost any circumstances is an impossibility.

The person should be kept on a wholesome and nutricious diet, and all the medicines continued until the body has restored to it the usual quantity of flesh and strength.

I was asked by one of this treatment of the worst kind of Consumption, and have lived to get fat and hearty these many years, with one lung mostly gone. I have cured thousands since, and very many have been cured by this treatment whom I have never seen.

About the first of October I expect to take possession of my new building on the northeast corner of Sixth and Arch Streets, where I shall be pleased to give advice to all who may require it.

Full directions accompany all my remedies, so that a person in any part of the world can be readily cured by a strict observance of the same.

MR. ALBERT W. AIKEN with his New York company will bring out his famous realistic play, "The Witches of New York," at the Temple this evening. The Albany Argus says "the piece is one of the best we ever saw," and the Newark Courier says the company is "the best we have seen in Newark since Lester Wallack's." Mr. Aiken's success has been great. In three fields he has won laurels; first, as the founder of a new school of acting, natural and effective; second, as the author of a series of realistic stories; third, as the skillful playright. Reserved seats may be secured at the Temple.

OF ALL THE HEADS that ever man had accidentally put on him, Jerry Murphy showed the worst ever seen at police headquarters on Monday. Jerry is a "wild Irish," who imbibed too much corn juice and failed to steer straight among the rocks on Cabot Street. He thought he was a first class stone crusher and bumped them vigorously, rolling into the mud by way of relief after each rebound. When the police found him Jerry was a rare specimen of ludicrosity and couldn't find a hat big enough to accommodate his swelled cranium. In contradistinction to "Red Dick," who occupied the next cell, Jerry appeared as a brunette, his disfigured countenance on the region of the right optic giving rise to the suspicion that he had robbed a charcoal cart of its dust.

MR. H. M. FAY AND WIFE have opened a series of parlor seances in this city, which furnish a fund of entertainment for the curious. Mrs. Fay is tied with her hands behind her to a staple in the wall, court plaster being pasted over the cloth upon the flesh and wrists. While in this position, a knot is tied in a cloth around her neck in 4 seconds; a gold ring carried from her lap to her nose instantly; a harmonicon conveyed to her mouth and played; bells rung; violins and guitars played; a nail driven firmly in a board; a hoop placed over her head; paper cut with scissors; a glass of water on a dry plate conveyed to her mouth and drank, and a number of other experiments of a startling nature, claimed to be scientific. Mr. Fay also sits in the dark, during which some very wonderful experiments are made in a short time, which many credulously inclined people insist cannot be done without the aid of "the spirits."

RICHARD KINGSLEY was in quod, Tuesday, for making a demonstration which proved too successful. David Berry spied two pigs that Richard was persuading suspiciously about town. David recognized them as his own and intimated that "Red Dick" was stealing them. The latter says David was about to sling a pebble at him in the shape of a paving stone, and that he smote David on the head thrice with a loaded whip and then battered his face with his fist. David appeared at the Police Station, bleeding and sore, and sank to the ground, rolling his eyes and declaring he could not live. Solicitor Howard took his affidavit and will await the recovery or death of Berry, to determine whether the blonde Irishman shall be arraigned for assault or manslaughter. Dr. Parsons examined the wounds of Berry and thinks he will recover. Dick had built a ravine in the left side of his head—a serious one, although the skull is not fractured.

CONSIDERABLE QUESTION having been made as to whether the Lake Shore Railroad will be built if the Portsmouth & Dover Road is constructed, we have permission to lay before our readers the following extracts from letters.

Hon John C. Moulton of Laconia, the wealthiest man in that section of the country and at the head of the Ranlett Manufacturing Company, writes under date of Sept. 17th, "if you build the Portsmouth and Dover Road we certainly shall the Lake Shore;" and again in the same letter he says, "I repeat, if your Road is built we shall build the Shore Line." He also enumerates the local business of Laconia and Lake Village which will be done over this line, and pledges it to this Road.

Hon. Joseph A. Wing of Montpelier, Vt., writes: "Your city is the nearest to the West of any seaport city in New England. It is from Montpelier to Portsmouth 142 miles, to Portland 185 miles and to Boston 202 miles. * * * By building (this Road and the Lake Shore) it will make your city the nearest to the West and the easiest route to any seaport in New England. We want a road to reach your city."

We understand, also, that other letters of the same tenor have been received by citizens of this place, which have not been shown us.

Editors Chronicle:—In your report of the discussion of the Portsmouth & Dover Railroad question at the citizens' meeting on Saturday evening, you say that I was "called up at the solicitation of Charles W. Bailey." Now although it is of but little consequence by whom I was solicited to speak, yet when an editor or reporter assumes unnecessarily to be precisely accurate in such a matter his statement should accord with the truth in the case; else there is room to suspect motive in the omission or variation. My name was first distinctly pronounced by Capt. J. G. Moses, and repeated by William R. Preston, Esq., M. H. Wentworth, Esq., and others, Mr. Bailey very likely joining in the call, but of this I am not aware except from your report. Therefore you will perceive that your statement that I was called up at the solicitation of Mr. Bailey (alone, as is implied) is an error. By giving this correction an insertion in your columns you will oblige G. H. RUNDLETT.

AUCTION SALES.—A substantial company of merchants, ship masters and financiers gathered in front of Major Hackett on Market Square, on Tuesday, some to buy shipping and others bank stock. The exercises commenced with the sale of one-sixteenth of ship Gov. Langdon, concerning which a statement was read of the earnings and expenses, after which the one-sixteenth was knocked down to Hon. John H. Bailey for $1020. Next, one thirty-second of Brig Sally Brown was offered; competition seemed healthy, and the share was gallantly captured by her former Capt. Mathews, at the rate of $12,480 for the vessel.

The auctioneer then offered 12 shares of National Mechanics & Traders' bank stock, sold subject to a tax of $27.42. The bidding for this stock shew its high estimation by investors, and it was finally knocked off to G. F. Melcher at $139.75 per share.

THE CONDUCTORS, baggage masters and brakemen on the Eastern Railroad are about adopting a uniform in order that they may be known as officers of the road. The law in some of the States requires that this shall be done by railroads officials, but in the case of the Eastern road they have found it expedient, as many persons inquiring of people about the stations and receiving wrong answers or none at all, blame the officers of the road.

MR. JOSEPH KEEN, of Kittery, Me., formerly a member of Co. G., 10th Regt. N. H. Volunters, dropped dead at the Navy Yard, Tuesday afternoon, while engaged in moving a hydraulic. He was a member of Post 14, G. A. R., of Kittery, and about 35 years of age.

THE gentleman who went to Buffalo, N. Y., to identify Mr. Charles E. T. Yeaton, did so readily and telegraphed home that Mr. Yeaton still remains in a deranged condition.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.'

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure them the early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

"MR. R. H. EDDY has acted for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. Morning Chronicle.

NEW PUBLICATIONS RECEIVED.

"An Island on Fire" is the title of a graphic article on the great volcanoes of Hawaii, by Dr. T. M. Coan, in Scribner's for October. The illustrations include pictures of The Lake of Fire, Mauna Loa, Coast formed by Volcanic Action, Lava Stream Pouring into the Sea, the Falling Mountain, and a Volcanic Wave Breaking on the Shore of Hawaii. The "Last of the Pequods" is an interesting account (with a fine portrait engraving) of Eunice Mahwee, the last of a powerful New England tribe of Indians, by Benson J. Lossing. In "Water, Its Ways and Uses," we have a piece of popular science, set off by appropriate illustrations. The most important essay in the number, however, is Mr. Fancher's "Was Adam the First Man?" It is here contended that the Mosaic record itself furnishes "strong intimations that other nations than the descendants of Adam dwelt on the earth." There is a capital paper by Edward Spencer, on "The Philosophy of Good Health;" a pleasant sketch of a "Summer Trip to Newfoundland," by S. G. W. Benjamin; and a strange story, entitled "The Eleventh Cot," by Albert Webster, Jr. Wilfrid Cumbermede grows in interest as the story advances. Dr. Holland, in "Topics of the Time," pays a deserved tribute to the late Charles Scribner, in honor of whom the Monthly was named.

With the first number of the third volume (November), Scribner's Monthly will be enlarged, and greatly increased in popular interest. The price will hereafter be the same as that of the other leading magazines, $4 per year, and the publishers promise to spare no pains or expense to make it the best magazine in the world.

The Monthly Novelette for October, full of variety. In the list of the contents are: Gracceless Harry Creighton, The Sunny South, English Snakes, The Fatal Mistake, Our Supercargo, Spectres of our Time, What an Old Maid Should Be, and many other articles. $2 per year. Thomes & Talbot, 63 Congress Street, Boston.

Oliver Optic's Magazine for October is especially rich in its continued stories by Oliver Optic, Elijah Kellogg, and Sophie May; it has another chapter of the capital sketch "Vacation in Petrolia;" also one of Genevieve's popular "Proverb Poems," a poem by Mary N. Prescott, "Pigeon Hole Papers" on various topics, Head Work, Letter Bag, an original "Nutting Song," and stories, items, instruction, and entertainment in great variety. Lee & Shepard, 149 Washington St., Boston; $2.50 a year.

The Aldine for October fairly eclipses all the preceding issues in illustration—both as regards quantity and quality, the subjects being more varied and more fully described than has been usual, which is an agreeable feature. The literary department is up to the standard and is filled with amusing and entaining articles. The most perfect and superb publication issued from any press. $2.50 per annum. James Sutton & Co., 23 Liberty Street, N. Y.

MARSHAL MCMAHON has been heard by a committee of investigation on his conduct in the late war. The marshal is reported to have said that he assumed sole responsibility for the disastrous results of his march from Chalons to Sedan. He declared that he did not act by the orders of the Emperor Napoleon, who had exercised no influence whatever upon his resolution. The plan adopted by him (McMahon) which was opposed to that of concentration of the army under the walls of Paris, he said ought not to be wholly condemned, as it had equal chances of success. But two days had been lost because the troops were too fatigued to continue their march, and because he was ignorant of the movements of the other commanders-in-chief, which was the principal cause of the the disaster. The declaration has produced a profound sensation, and the Bonapartist journals express great joy over it.

PRESIDENT GRANT, with the members of his Cabinet, will arrive in Boston on Sunday, October 15, and the ceremony of laying the corner-stone of the new post-office will take place on Monday. Immediately after, the President will leave to join in the festivities incident to the opening of the European and North American Railway, which will continue three days.

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY! DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS. Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects. WHAT ARE THEY! THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK, Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetisers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Root and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. lyrdawf6b16

ARE YOU GOING TO PAINT? —IF SO, USE THE— AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT. It is Cheaper, Handsomer and more durable than the best of other Paints. One Thousand Gallons of it were sold in this City, in the year 1870, and not one complaint has come from those who have used it; but all speak in its favor; it is mixed ready for application, and is much easier put on than any other Paint, making a smooth, glossy surface for years, that can be cleaned with hot suds without injuring it. It is excellent for walls inside, in the place of paper.

I shall keep this season a large stock of Chemical Paints of all shades on hand, to accommodate customers with any amount, without delay in ordering it. Those who want to use the Chemical Paints and have had them misrepresented by those who deal in Lead and Oil, are invited to call and examine my Paints that have been on Buildings two years, and you will find them as fresh as if laid but one month.

I am prepared to do Painting by Contract, or by the day, using the Chemical Paint, or furnishing good experienced workmen by the day at very low wages. B. SCULPINS.—There is a fish called a sculpin. Nine-tenths of it are mouth, and one-tenth body, as I recollect it when a boy. Its chief business, apparently, consists in eating everything, and after it has eaten nothing comes of it. It has a big tail to propel itself with, a head, a big mouth, and a very active stomach with which to do the work of digestion quickly. It is a do-nothing, gourmandizing fish.

There are many men who are said to have the power of making wealth. They have; and they are sculpin men. They have an enormous maw, which they open and shut quick and often, devouring all that comes in their way. Nobody can surpass them in acquiring property. And what purpose does this wealth serve? Do they use it as a means for benefiting society? Is it employed as a sword to defend the weak? Is it an architect that builds? Is it a seed sower that distributes? Or is this quality merely the capacity to take in—to ingurgitate, ingurgitate, ingurgitate? If so, when misfortune comes, and a man loses all his wealth, what is left of him? Nothing—literally nothing.—Henry Ward Beecher.

BEEN TO TELL HIS WIFE.—A gentleman was once dining with a friend, when a most dreadful storm arose. In hopes of an abatement, the entertainment was prolonged to the latest possible hour. At length it was over, still the storm showed no signs of ceasing, but, on the contrary, grew worse and worse. The host insisted on his guest's accepting of a lodging for the night, in view of the impossibility of reaching his home. The guest complied, but in a few minutes was missed from the parlor. In half an hour he reappeared, drenched with rain.

"Where in heaven's name have you been?" asked the host, viewing the singular object, which looked like a dog around the paws and a weeping willow around the head.

"I!" said he, quietly shaking off the water, "I have been at home to tell my wife that, as it was such a night, I shall not return."

SKIP THAT.—After the capture of Mobile by Farragut's fleet, Honorable Secretary of the Navy, Gideon Welles wrote to the Admiral a letter of thanks. The Admiral was in the cabin when the despatch from Washington came on board, and, as his sight was not very good, he handed the letter to his private secretary asking him to read it. The secretary commenced reading: "Sir, the Department has heard with great pleasure of the capture of Mobile by the fleet under your command, and I take the occasion to thank you in the name of the Government of which you are so noble a servant. Your name, sir, will go down to posterity among"—"Stop, stop, sir! Stop all that flourish of trumpets. Skip all that, sir, and let us know what they want us to do next," said the noble old fellow.—Grand Army Jour.

—A party of gentlemen in a saloon, disputing over the question whether the American system of treating, or the European system of not treating, was preferable, couldn't settle the matter by talking, so they went to work, testing it by practice. First, each man took a drink by himself. Then each man invited a single friend to drink. After that each single friend returned the compliment. And finally each man in the party—there were six of them—asked all the rest to drink. When all that was accomplished, not a soul in the room could tell where the discussion orginated or what it was about.—Lake City Press.

—Persecution never rooted out a truth, nor did it ever build up permanently a lie. It has often made the attempt to do both, but in every instance it has failed; and by a strange law—they that use the sword shall fall by the sword. You can never do an injury to another without feeling sooner or later that injury rebound and strike yourself. Wind a chain around the wrist of the poor and down-trodden, and you will find ere long the other end gradually tightening around your own. You are fated evermore to drink the bitterness of the cup you have mingled for a brother.

—The Hartford police make a practice of shooting the pigeons which flock around the grain in the freight station, and kill a promising boy now and then in the discharge of duty. The parents are naturally rather indignant, and desire the police to refrain, but the court sustains them.

—Prof. D. H. Mahan, of West Point, who has educated the great majority of the able milliary men of the country, committed suicide last week, by drowning himself, having jumped from a steamer for that purpose.

—The "little Mortara boy" seems to have turned out badly. No longer a little Mortara boy, he has developed into a very bad man, and is now under arrest on a charge of murdering one of his servants.

—People who are always fishing for compliments do not need very long lines. They will get their best bites in shallow water.

THE

NOVELTY CLOTHES WRINGER.

Nothing, except the Sewing-Machine, has ever been invented which so much relieves the labor of the household as the Wringer. But its usefulness does not end here. The saving of clothing is of much greater importance. It is often remarked that articles of fine texture, last twice as long when wrung in a Wringer as when wrung by hand. The NOVELTY has Cog-wheels on both ends. * * The rolls are allowed to separate at either end. These, besides other advantages which it contains, seem to be indispensable to a practical wringer.—New York Independent.

The Novelty Wringer has become an indispensable institution in thousands of families. And we believe its great and increasing popularity is fully merited—for the Novelty evidently possesses all the requisites of a first-class, practical machine. Indeed, after using one for many months in our own family, we are prepared to indorse the Novelty as unsurpassed (the laundress says unequalled,) by any of the several wringers previously tried.—Moore's Rural New Yorker.

THURSDAY, SEPT. 28, 1871.

MASSACHUSETTS.

The Republican State Convention organized on Wednesday at Worcester. Before the Convention assembled, Messrs. Claflin, Rice and Loring withdrew as candidates for Governor. Dr. George B. Loring was elected temporary President and in his speech favored the re-election of President Grant. Gen. Butler, who is a delegate, moved that the galleries be thrown open for the people. Carried, 524 to 437. Congressman Dawes offered a resolution admitting to seats in the convention all persons, the validity of whose election is vouched for by the ward and city or town committees at the time of the call of the respective meetings, until on the report of the Committee on Credentials it be otherwise. He spoke in its favor, stating that it was the intention to prevent the Republican party being overruled by outsiders. Gen. Butler ascended the platform and was greeted with great applause. He spoke urgently in opposition to the resolution. He wished to include as Republicans all persons who would vote for Gen. Grant. The resolution was referred to the Committee on Credentials.

The convention was permanently organized with Hon. George F. Hoar as President. The preliminary proceedings were regarded as favorable to Gen. Butler.

POLITICAL.

John M. Coghlan's gratification at his election for Congressman in the Third District of California was heightened by the receipt of a telegram from George Pierce, his Democratic rival, which read; "I move to make the election unanimous!"

Texas votes on the 3d of October.

The Cincinnati Gazette objects to Horace Greeley "sowing seeds of discord among the Republicans."

The Cincinnati Commercial urges Greeley for the Presidency as a means of stopping his mouth on the tariff question.

A careful calculation foots the number of colored voters in the Union at 879,110.

"Is there a single thing the Democratic party ever held to that they haven't departed from?" asked Judge Ambler, in his speech at Marietta. "Yes, whiskey!" answered a voice in the crowd, amid roars of laughter.

BRAZIL AND SLAVERY.—Brazil has lately been conspicuous as the only great Christian country which retains the institution of slavery. The empire contains of these people a million and a half or two millions. The government lately initiated measures in the Chamber of Deputies for emancipating the slaves, and, despite much opposition, we shall probably soon see the scheme in full operation. This measure provides, according to the Pall Mall Gazette, freedom to all children of slaves born after the enactment of the law, their nurture during their infancy being thrown on the masters of their parents in return for a moderate pecuniary compensation from the state. The bill further provides pecuniary aid to the societies which now exist in every province to purchase emancipation, increased facilities to slaves to buy their own freedom, a registration of slaves and the prohibition of separation of husbands and wives and the breaking up of families. "Thus, in another generation, slavery will, on the enactment of the law, be terminated in Brazil." Brazil, in this measure, only keeps step to the march of modern civilization.

DEFAULTING PAYMASTER HODGE has been arraigned before a court-martial, and pleaded guilty to all the charges against him. His sentence will be promulgated by the War Department. The exact amount which Hodge is officially charged with embezzling is $445,406.60, at various times from September, 1869, to September, 1871, in sums from $5000 to $50,000. Jackson and Polhemus, Paymaster Hodge's New York brokers, have been arrested for complicity in his thefts from the government.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

Many valuable horses die from the effects of colic. The best thing to do in a case of this kind, is to pour a bottle of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment into a long-necked junk bottle, add half a pint of molasses and water, then pour the whole down the horse's throat. In ten minutes the horse will begin to eat.

THE EUROPEAN QUESTION.

THE AMERICAN QUESTION

as to the best method of clothing gray hairs with glossy brown or raven black is, however, a matter of vast importance to millions of both sexes in this country. It

SEEMS TO BE DECIDED,

if popularity is a fair test in the case, in favor of Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye, the sales of which have been advancing during the past twelve months with rapidity astonishing. As a dressing, after dyeing, use

CRISTADORO'S HAIR PRESERVATIVE.

Old Things Have Passed Away.

This is at least true of the old method of treating the long abused and much abused human body. It is no longer considered wise to put a patient to torture in order to cure him of a disease in which pain is already undermining the energies of his system. True science ranges itself on the side of nature, and endeavors to assist her in her fight against disease. This is the province of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, the most approved tonic ever advertised in this country. It may be recommended as a fall medicine, par excellence; for it is in the fall that biliousness, dyspepsia and malarious fevers are especially prevalent. The frame, exhausted by the heats of summer, is relaxed and feeble at its close, and requires, we may say demands artificial assistance. Afford it assistance in occasional doses of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, and the evils referred to may be escaped. Throughout the far West, and on the steaming alluvial of the southern rivers, all the varieties of periodical fever are probably rife to-day. Had a course of Hostetter's Bitters been commenced by the sufferers a month ago, i. e., before the unhealthy season set in, seven-eights of them would in all probability be in their usual health at the present time. So much for want of forecast. So much for not keeping in the house, and using daily, the best safeguard against epidemic and endemic fevers.

As flocks of imposters and imitators are trying to follow in the wake of the great American remedy, therefore be sure that the article you buy is genuine and verified by the proper trade marks. The true article can only be obtained in bottles. Beware of the spurious bitters sold by the gallon or in keg.

The Cause and Cure of Consumption.

The primary cause of Consumption is derangement of the digestive organs. The derangement produces deficient nutrition and assimilation. By assimilation I mean that process by which the nutriment of the food is converted into blood, and thence into the solids of the body. Persons with digestion thus impaired, having the slightest predisposition to pulmonary disease, or if they take cold, will be very liable to have Consumption of the Lungs in some of its forms; and I hold that it will be impossible to cure any case of Consumption without first restoring a good digestion and healthy assimilation. The very first thing to be done is to cleanse the stomach and bowels from all diseased mucous and slime which is clogging these organs so that they cannot perform their functions, and then rouse up and restore the liver to a healthy action. For this purpose the most and best remedy is SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS. These Pills cleanse the stomach and bowels of all the dead and morbid slime that is causing disease and decay in the whole system. They will clear out the liver of all diseased bile that has accumulated there, and arouse it up to a new and healthy action, by which natural and healthy bile is secreted.

The stomach, bowels and liver are thus cleansed by the use of Schenck's Mandrake Pills; but there remains in the stomach an excess of acid, the organ is torpid, and the appetite is poor. In the bowels, the lacteals are weak, and requiring strength and support. It is in a condition like this that Schenck's Seaweed Tonic proves to be the most valuable remedy ever discovered. It is alkaline, and its use will neutralize all excess of acid, make the stomach sweet and fresh; it will give permanent tone to this important organ, and create a good, hearty appetite, and prepare the system for the first process of a good digestion, and ultimately make good, healthy, living blood. After this preparatory treatment, what remains to cure most cases of consumption is the free and perseverring use of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup. The Pulmonic Syrup nourishes the system, purifies the blood, and is readily absorbed into the circulation, and thence distributed to the diseased lungs. There it ripens all morbid matters, whether in the form of abscesses or tubercles, and assists Nature to expel all the diseased matter in the form of free expectoration, when once it ripens. It is then, by the great healing and purifying properties of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, that all ulcers and cavities are healed up sound, and my patient is cured.

The essential thing to be done in curing Consumption is to get up a good appetite and a good digestion, so that the body will grow in flesh and get strong. If a person has diseased lungs, a cavity or abscess there, the cavity cannot heal, the matter cannot ripen, so long as the system is below par. What is necessary to cure is a new order of things, a good appetite, a good nutrition, the body to grow in flesh and get fat; then Nature is helped, the cavities will heal, the matter will ripen and be thrown off in large quantities, and the person regains health and strength. This is the true and only plan to cure Consumption, and if a person is very bad, if the lungs are not entirely destroyed, or one lung is entirely gone, if there is enough vitality left in the other to heal up, there is hope.

I have seen many persons cured with only one sound lung, live and enjoy life to a good old age. This is what Schenck's medicines will do to cure Consumption. They will clean out the stomach, sweeten and strengthen it, get up a good digestion, and give Nature the assistance she needs to clear the system of all the diseases that is in the lungs, whatever the form may be.

It is important that, while using Schenck's medicines, care should be exercised not to take cold; keep in-doors in cold and rainy weather, avoid night air, and take out-door exercise only in a genial and warm sunshine.

I wish it distinctly understood that when I recommend a patient to be careful in regard to taking cold while using my medicines, I do so for a special reason. A man who has but partially recovered from the effects of a cold is far more liable to a relapse than one who has been entirely cured, and it is precisely the same in regard to consumption. So long as the lungs are not perfectly healed, just so long is there imminent danger of a full return of the disease. Hence it is that I so strenuously caution pulmonary patients against exposing themselves to an atmosphere that is not genial and pleasant. Consumptives' lungs are a mass of sores, which the least change of atmosphere will inflame. The grand secret of my success with my medicines consists in my ability to subdue inflammation in the particular, as without it the faculty do. An inflamed lung cannot with safety to the patient be exposed to the biting blast of winter or the chilling winds of spring or autumn. It should be carefully shielded from all irritating influence. The utmost caution should be observed in this particular, as without it a cure under almost any circumstances is an impossibility.

The person should be kept on a wholesome and nutritious diet, and the medicines continued until the body has restored to it the natural quantity of flesh and strength.

I was myself cured by this treatment of the worst kind of Consumption, and have lived to get fat and hearty these many years, with one lung mostly gone. I have cured thousands since, and very many have been cured by this treatment whom I have never seen.

About the first of October I expect to take possession of my new building at the northeast corner of Sixth and Arch Streets, where I shall be pleased to give advice to all who may require it.

Full directions accompany all my remedies, so that a person in any part of the world can be readily cured by a strict observance of the same.

THE BEST JOKE of the season happened at Rye on Saturday. The correspondent of the Portsmouth Democratic organ, the proprietor of the Washington House and another gentleman were quietly at work near the house of the former, unloading a load of hay, when they were suddenly startled by very loud cries, as if of some one in distress, from a piece of woods about a quarter of a mile distant. They listened for a few moments and all were thoroughly convinced that somebody needed assistance the prolonged sound of "Oh!" reaching them at very brief intervals. "Somebody is hurt," said the hotel man; "let's go for him." No sooner said than all three "peeled" off their coats, and started upon the dead run for the supposed scene of disaster. They made very rapid time over fences and ditches, into mudholes and through underbrush, an occasional "Oh!" and a few unearthly groans inciting them to redoubled speed. Presently a man's bare head was discernable through the bushes, just as another groan induced the Washington House man to make two or three extra leaps which landed him squarely in front of the man who was supposed to be dying. "Are you hurt much?" was the first salutation, as soon as he could breathe; "We thought you were about dead. "I am dead to this world, young man, and I wish you all were," was the somewhat unexpected reply. By this time "Harry" and the other heavy weight had arrived, puffing and thoroughly "blown." It then began to dawn upon their beclouded intellects that they had been pretty badly "sold," and they had unwittingly interrupted a Second Advent minister, who had arrived the day before, and was out in the woods having a quiet (?) prayer all to himself and all persons not deaf who lived within half a mile. The thunderstruck trio realized that their good motives were not appreciated and immediately emptied that spot of their presence, retiring to their pitchforks sadder and wiser men.

ONE ALE DEALER of Lowell has for an evening sign a light shining through a red glass, on which are the well known letters XXX, representing the brand of Frank Jones' best ale. The advent of the Board of Health's red lanterns caused the Irishman who was passing the ale house to exclaim. "Be jabers, here's the headquarters of the small-pox; Thirty cases."

ONE of the most humorous things connected with the small-pox excitement in Lowell is told by the Courier, which received a letter from a man in New Hampshire, desiring his paper discontinued till the disease should abate. The Courier is afraid to telegraph him for fear that boys will climb the telegraph poles and become infected.

ONE MAN has been killed and seven horses shot in the pursuit of the convicts who escaped from the Nevada State prison.

CARRIAGES OLD AND NEW.

In The Hub, for March, I was greatly interested in the life-like picture of the Deacon's Masterpiece—the wonderful "One-hoss Shay," (by the way, did anybody ever see a two-horse chaise?) with a letter from the author of the well-known poem, Dr. O. W. Holmes, in reference to the circumstances which induced him to write it. The whole team—horse, harness, carriage and driver—is in keeping, and a correct representation of fifty years ago; and there are still a few specimens left, as relics, of similar rigging, though most of them have been laid by from use, excepting a few wheels and axles, and even shafts, of horse carts. One such cart I know to have carried a weight of thirty-five hundred pounds! I recollect that the late Rev. T. H. Miller drove many a thousand miles, about thirty years ago, in a chaise which weighed six hundred and six (606) pounds, while a horse-cart, used on his farm at the same time, weighed six pounds less. But the great size of the wheels of those old chaises—some of them being more than five feet high—helped, very materially, to overcome the heavy weight of the carriages, as compared with the construction of modern times. The old-fashioned chaise, too, was easy to enter without soiling one's garments—as the body hung low between the wooden springs, on leather thorough-braces, each capable of sustaining two tons weight or more; and the length of the body gave ample space between the dasher and seat. On the other hand, the neater, lighter and more compact modern chaise is rather more difficult of access than many four-wheeled covered carriages.

When the old two-wheeled chaise was most in vogue, as Mr. Thomas Goddard, the well-known Boston carriage-builder, says in his letter to The Hub, there were no four-wheeled carriages of any kind except farm wagons. At first, many of these chaises were for one person only, like the doctor's Sulky of later days, but both are now generally discarded. An old gentleman, of this city, has more than once told me how the young men of his day used to take their drives solus in these one-passenger as well as one-horse shays, but this, be it remembered, was in the days when almost all the beaus stopped so often to drink that it would not have been safe or agreeable for the belles to accompany them. One instance I especially remember—when a party of gay bucks (who had spent most of the night at Rye beach, and were coming home toward morning), mistaking a brilliant display of Northern lights for a fire, raised an alarm, which turned the dwellers of the whole town and suburbs out of their beds. Mr. Stacy Hall, a former noted stable-keeper here, had in his livery stock, about the year 1825, no less than seven of these single-seat chaises or sulkies, besides full chaises. On buying a chaise in those days, it was the custom to furnish a harness with it (just as the price of a piano a few years ago included a cloth cover and stool), and the cost for a good chaise and harness was from $150 upwards.

Col. A. J. Beck, the veteran carriage-builder of this city—and who was formerly one of the proprietors of the largest carriage-shop ever established in this city up to the present time of Came Brothers—informs us that oftentimes, if not generally, there was a little seat attached in front of the dasher of these chaises—an iron frame supporting crossed straps of leather, on which a boy or man was to be seated to drive, resting his feet upon the ample double cross-bar, or on the shafts, by straddling wide. And we are quite sure that there was formerly an old chaise driven into this city, from Rye Beach or that direction, which was wont to accommodate four persons to church, on its two seats inside the dasher; but the second seat might have been an interpolation after building, and I, myself, never saw one of the little front projections.

Col. Beck says, however, that the picture of the old shay in The Hub, is considerably refined and modernized from those of his first remembrance—there was then no sunken bottom, and the brackets supporting the dasher were straight, without any sweep. There was usually a rack behind for a trunk, and on one or two trunks or boxes could also be carried in front of the dasher, beside the driver's perch. The first tops were also built flat across, from side to side, and with but little swell from front to back. They were built both standing and to drop, at different periods, and the side curtains were at first stationary, afterwards made to roll up, and they have alternated half a dozen different times since.

Among the carriages made by Beck Brothers in their day, was a stunning two-wheeler, called a cabriolet, for the President of Hayti, about 1835—which weighed 1,150 pounds, and would accommodate but two persons inside, with a footman standing behind. This was hung on two pairs of thorough-braces, and was drawn by three horses, one in the shafts, and one hitched on at either side—the off horse a little ahead, and the near one (on which rode the driver of all, with the only reins to the three) a little in the rear of the shaft horse, so that he could control his steeds handily. This carriage had a projecting top, and was furnished with an immense hinged wooden boot, covered with leather, and had two large hostlers for pistols, and a sword case. It was gaudily painted, vermillion and gold, and made quite a sensation at the time, both in this city and in Hayti. It was ordered by Daniel R. Rogers, Esq., then a resident of this city, and extensively engaged in the West India business; and was a duplicate of a model made in France, sent here from Hayti. The cost of the new carriage was $600, a large price in those days; and so much was it liked in Hayti, that another was ordered and built like it, but this being lost with the vessel in which it was shipped hence, put an end to their manufacture here. Col. Beck has also among his collection of curiosities, which have been accumulating for nearly half a century, both a wooden and an iron C-spring, with leather thorough-brace connection—exactly similar to the well-known patent Brown buggy—which has been in his possession for forty years. Also, several white pine felloes and spokes, painted and striped, which were removed a few years since from a broken wheel in repairing, and the like of which I think was rarely if ever seen before. Among the greatest modern improvements in carriages, is making them so much lighter than formerly—probably now averaging about one-half the weight of thirty years ago. And, although chaises are but little used of late years, we can show no greater contrast than between the Deacon's wonderful go-cart, which finally came all together, like Cesar's sled, and the almost gossamer four-wheeled chaises built within a few years by the Kimballs of Portland, which, although made to carry two persons, yet many of them weighed only 225 or 250 pounds. Mr. J. M. Kimball informs me that the lightest he ever made for two persons weighed 198 pounds. Road wagons have been built by the Brewsters, Kimballs and others, that came considerably under 100 pounds, but they were only to carry one person.

I have this week seen and examined one of the old-time chaises, which was built for the late William Pickering, Esq., formerly of Greenland, near this city, who was for several years State Treasurer of New Hampshire. This was an elegant carriage, costing $250, and is still sound in all its parts, except the lining which is moth-eaten. The wheels and all the wood-work are firm, and the heavy silver plating is as good as when new. I find the wheels to be 5 ft. 2 in. in height, tires, 1 3-4 by 1-2 in. with iron axle 2 in., on round wooden bed. There is a bolster in the middle of the drop of the seat, but no front seat or baggage rack behind. This carriage was probably built about forty years ago, and the thorough-braces would undoubtedly have sustained a weight of two tons each in their day. The wooden pole springs and the shafts are apparently the lightest and weakest parts, and the shafts have both been broken and mended.

Morning Chronicle.

JOHN ON THE RAIL.

A Bohemian of the most reckless type sends his experience in Rochester to a New York City paper:

I did not find the luxuriant cuss who stole my watch on the Bleecker street cars in Syracuse, and hearing that an awful mean looking fellow had been seen in Rochester, I went there. The watch was one of Juggernaut's make, and I wanted it. On the way to the depot in Syracuse a real nice little lap dog jumped over a fence and sprang at me.

He weighed more than $10 worth of gold at June prices, and as I gazed down his mouth, I thought of Jonah. He remarked to me: "Bow, wow," and I said to him in a pacifying way, "Nice Teaser, pretty little Teaser;" but a lady shouted, "Rover, Rover, here, Rover!" and he left me. Then she quietly informed me that I needn't be frightened; the dog had got his dinner and wasn't hungry.

I got into the cars and took a seat in juxtaposition to a female. That female's face was a perfect insurance company for her—it insured her against ever getting married to anything but a blind man. Her mouth looked like a crack in a dried lemon, and there was no more expression in her face than there is in a spinal column of a cup of cold custard. She appeared as if she had been through one famine and had got about two-thirds through another. She was old enough to be great-grandmother to Mary that had the little lamb. She was chewing prize pop corn, and carried in her hand a yellow rose, while a band-box and a cotton umbrella nestled swetly by her side. I couldn't guess whether she was on a mission of charity or going west to start a saw mill. I was full of curiosity to hear her speak, and so I said:

"The exigencies of the times require great circumspection in a person who is traveling."

Says she, "What?"

Says I, "The orb of day shines resplendent in the blue vault above."

She hitched around uneasy-like—then she raised her umbrella and said, "I don't want none of your sass; git out," and I got out.

Then I took a seat alongside of a male fellow who looked like the ghost of Hamlet lengthened out. He was a stately cuss, and he was reading!

Said I, "Mister, did you ever see a camel leopard?" I said camel leopard because it is a pious animal, and it never eats any grass without getting down on its knees. He said he hadn't seen a camel leopard.

Then I said, "Do you chew?" He said "No sir."

Then I said "How sweet is nature." He took this for a conundrum, and said he didn't know.

Then he said he was deeply interested in the history of great men. Alas!" he exclaimed, "we have but a few." I told him I knew one; the man that made my cooking stove was a grate man.

Then he asked me if I would read. Says I, "What have you got?" He replied "Waits' Hymns, Reveries by Moonlight, and How to Spend the Sabbath."

I said, "None of them for Hannah," but if he had got an unabridged business directory of New York I would take a little read.

Then he said, "Young man, look at these gray hairs." I told him I saw them, and when a man got as old as he was he ought'n to dye. Said I, "You needn't think those hairs are any sign of wisdom; its only a sign that your system lacks iron;" and I advised him to go home and swallow a crowbar.

He took this for irony, and what little entente cordiale there was between us was spoiled. It turned out that he was chaplain to a base ball club.

When we got to Rochester I called for a bowl of bean soup. It ought to be called lean soup. I send you the recipe for making it: "Take a lot of water, wash it well, and let it boil until it is brown on both sides; then very carefully pour one bean into it and let it simmer. If it won't simmer, pour in water until it does simmer. When the bean begins to get restless, sweeten it with a little salt, then put it up in air-tight cans, hitch each to a brick, and chuck them overboard, and the soup is done."

Genesse Falls are at Rochester. Sam Patch made his last jump there. His jump down was a success, but his jump up was a failure, because he has never riz. I bet a fellow that I could tell how much water fell over the falls in a year. He bet, and I said two pints to a quart. I won the bet. They settle coffee with codfish skins, but they settled Rochester with men and women. The only original settler who is living died a few days ago. Rochester is famous in turnouts. I saw a very fine turnout today; a wagon upset and spilled a lot of women. Next Sunday will be very generally observed here as the Sabbath. It is not kept wholly. Remember me to the piece makers. No cards.

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!
DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA
VINEGAR BITTERS.
Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.
WHAT ARE THEY!
THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,
Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.
For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.
DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.
They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.
FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.
Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.
PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.
FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. Send for a circular.
They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yrdawf&b16

ARE YOU GOING TO PAINT?
—IF SO, USE THE—
AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT.
It is Cheaper, Handsomer and more durable than the best of other Paints. One Thousand Gallons of it were sold in this City, in the year 1870, and not one complaint has come from those who have used it; but all speak in its favor; it is mixed ready for application, and is much easier put on than any other Paint, making a smooth, glossy surface for years, that can be cleaned with hot suds without injuring it. It is excellent for walls inside, in the place of paper.
I shall keep this season a large stock of Chemical Paints of all shades on hand, to accommodate customers with any amount, without delay in ordering it. Those who want to use the Chemical Paints and have had them misrepresented by those who deal in Lead and Oil, are invited to call and examine my Paints that have been on Buildings two years, and you will find them as fresh as if laid but one month.
I am prepared to do Painting by Contract, or by the day, using the Chemical Paint, or furnishing good experienced workmen by the day at very low wages. B. NORTON, only Agent for selling the WEARY.

There are depths of Ocean not down on the chart,
There are fathomless depths of the strange human heart,
There are tales which no pen and no tongue can unfold,
There are histories dark which may not be told;
We may suffer till hope and ambition are gone,
With but half an existence still dragging along,
Till life hath no pleasure and death strikes no dread,
Though we curse not the living and fear not the dead,—
Yet strange thoughts in wild tumult will rush on the brain,
As the miseries we've borne we remember again;
As like spectres they come from the grave of the past,
And around us their soul-chilling shadows they cast,
Methinks it were better t'have died in our youth,
Or gone mad in our young faith in virtue and truth,
Than thus to inhale this pestiferous breath,
Ever living, yet dying this lingering death.
